EXPLANATIONS.

A consecutive paging being impossible in catalogues supplied by so many different houses, a practical device has been adopted, by which is given, in the index, the actual paging which each list would have had the volume been printed as one book and paged consecutively. The paging is as correct as it is possible to make it.

For the body of the work, from pages 1 to within 5000, printed sheets are supplied by the contributors, and are arranged alphabetically by the firm-name. If these pages are renumbered, making sure at least that the paging of the first page of each list accurately corresponds with that given in the index (a small job for a blank-book maker with a paging machine, or for any one with a blue pencil during unemployed time), it will add to the convenience of the volume for reference, and will amply repay for the trouble. As the supplementary pages are numbered and printed before all the lists are received, they are begun with 5001, a figure easily remembered and not likely to be exceeded by the preceding matter.

☞Booksellers and librarians who may be annoyed and inconvenienced by the unexpected absence of certain lists must not hold this office responsible. All that could be done in the way of argument has been done, and there is no publisher known to this office who has not been addressed several times on his own behalf as well as in the interest of the trade and the "Annual." Nor would it be proper for us to make explanations that the absentee alone can give satisfactorily.

The index record of new books (by author, title, and subject, as well as full titles and descriptive notes) for the year 1897, will be found in the ANNUAL CATALOGUE FOR 1897, published by the Office of The Publishers' Weekly at $3.50 half leather, $3.00 in sheets. The record for previous years will be found in the AMERICAN CATALOGUE, of which the volume for 1890-95 has recently been published by the same office, and can be had at $15.00 half leather, $12.50 in sheets. The alphabetical list of school text-books will be found in the AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE, 18[illegible]8, supplied by the same office, bound in leatherette, at 50 cents.

ALPHABETIC CATALOGUE OF PUBLICATIONS

BY

TITLES AND AUTHORS.

Adaption of Society to Its Environment. LEWIS, DR. WM. DRAPER, Dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law School. Price, 25 cents.

An attempt to develop the theory of national prosperity, and to bring it into closer relations with the other parts of economic theory. The author maintains that the work of the economist is to point out the laws which effect the prosperity of a people. He classifies all the possible ways in which a society can be supposed to adapt itself to its environment.

Administration of Prussian Railroads. MEYER, DR. B. H., University of Wisconsin. Price, 25 cents.

A study of the Prussian railway system under these heads: The relation of the Federal Government to the railroads, important provisions of Prussian railroad law, advisory councils and similar bodies, their organization and proceedings, conclusion and bibliography.

Administrative Centralization and Decentralization in England. YOUNG, DR. JAMES T., Instructor in Political Science in the University of Pennsylvania. Price, 25 cents.

England has felt the trend toward a larger governmental activity, and has found its ancient machinery inadequate to newer demands. It has quietly shorn the justice of the peace of his administrative functions and transferred them to the central government. The successive steps of these changes are shown in an instructive way.

Administrative Centralization and Decentralization in France. YOUNG, DR. JAMES T. Price, 25 cents.

The author shows how the tendency towards centralization dates from the earliest times, how it made France the greatest nation in Europe, and why a movement toward decentralization is now necessary and consequently is under way.

Advantages of the Nicaragua Route. MILLER, J. W., New York. Price, 15 cents.

An argument in favor of the canal route mapped out by the Nicaragua Canal Co., as being the cheapest of construction as well as the most available.

Alcohol Question in Switzerland. MILLIET, HON. W., Berne, Switzerland. Price, 15 cents.

The paper shows what has been done in Switzerland toward preventing the misuse of intoxicating drinks. This effort has not been along the lines of prohibition, owing to the hostile attitude of public opinion to it, but rather in the way of substituting wine and beer for strong drinks and in the improvement in quality of the latter.

Amendments to the Italian Constitution. RUIZ, PROF. G. A., of the University of Naples. Price, 25 cents.

The work is supplementary to the translation of the Italian Constitution (No. 135). Professor Ruiz shows that the Constitution no longer consists simply of the statute of Charles Albert, that many institutions have been transformed by laws, decrees, usages and neglect, by which the Italian Constitution has become cumulative, consisting of an organism of law grouped about a primary kernel which is the statute.

American Banking and the Money Supply of the Future. HARTER, HON. M. D. Price, 15 cents.

A sketch of American banking history, together with an outlook into the banking future, and followed by a plan for reorganizing the national banking system.

American Life Insurance Methods. DAWSON, MILES M., of New York. Price, 15 cents.

An explanation of the methods in vogue in life insurance companies for collecting premiums, apportioning death losses, assessing expenses and governing the companies.

ANDREWS, CHARLES M. See Origin of Connecticut Towns.

ASHLEY, W. J. See Character of Villein Tenure.

Australian System of Voting in Massachusetts. DANA, RICHARD H., ESQ., of Boston. Price, 25 cents.

Massachusetts was the first state in the Union to adopt this system, and adopted it in its most complete and best form. Mr. Dana shows how much the system has done towards purifying state politics by preventing the bribing of voters, the stuffing of ballot boxes and the falsifying of election returns. It has enabled voters to vote for the best man irrespective of party, since under this system there can be no intimidation of voters.

Austrian Economists. v. BOEHM-BAWERK, E., Ministry of Finance, Vienna. Price, 25 cents.

An account of the achievements and methods of the Austrian School, by one of its most eminent representatives.

Austrian Theory of Value. MACVANE, SILAS M., Professor of History at Harvard University. Price, 25 cents.

In the nature of a reply to Prof. von Wieser's "Theory of Value" (q. v.), being a review of the points at issue between the Austrian and the classical theories.

Banking System—Old and New. WALKER, HON. J. H., Worcester, Mass. Price, 15 cents.

An explanation of a plan for reorganizing the banking system of the United States.

Basis of the Demand for the Public Regulation of Industries. DABNEY, HON. W. D. Price, 25 cents.

The author explains why a large and increasing number of conservative persons are urging stringent public regulation of many industries, as a remedy for the evils of private monopolies.

Basis of Interest. LOWREY, DWIGHT M., ESQ. Price, 25 cents.

A criticism of Henry George's Theory of Interest. Mr. Lowrey takes up Mr. George's argument in defence of interest and, point by point, shows that if his theory of rent is true, his theory of interest must be false.

Basis of Security for National Bank Notes. BACON, HON. HENRY, Goshen, N. Y. Price, 15 cents.

A plan for perpetuating the national bank-note system, by permitting notes to be issued, when national, state, county or municipal bonds have been deposited as security.

Break-up of the English Party System. PORRITT, EDW. Price, 25 cents.

The author discusses one of the most interesting and significant features which have developed in English politics since 1885. He shows how the last House did not contain as formerly only two distinct parties, but was made up of no less than eight groups, six of which, if taken together, constitute what was formerly the Liberal Party, and the remaining two, the Opposition. He then explains how this system developed and what a great influence it has upon legislation.

BROOKS, JOHN G. See Future Problem of Charity and the Unemployed.

BROWNELL, J. L. See Significance of a Decreasing Birth-Rate.

Bryce's American Commonwealth, An Examination of. JAMES, E. J., Ph. D., Professor of Public Administration in the University of Chicago. Price, 25 cents.

A critical essay on the last edition of Bryce's great work, containing at the same time an elaborate discussion of certain of the fundamental principles of American Constitutional Law, in regard to which Mr. Bryce's exposition is incorrect. Among the subjects discussed at length are the relation between the federal government and the states, the nature of the federal judiciary, the responsibility of officials, the distribution of powers, the location of ultimate sovereignty, etc.

BUCKLEY, E. R. See Custody of State Funds.

BUCKSTAFF, F. G. See Married Women's Property.

New Series—No. 5. Price, 15 cents.

Cabinet Government in the United States. SNOW, DR. FREEMAN, formerly Instructor in International Law in Harvard University. Price, 15 cents.

It is a reply to the arguments which have been advanced by certain writers in favor of adopting in the United States a form of cabinet government as known abroad. Such a government would not only be unconstitutional, but also, as Dr. Snow proves, highly undesirable. In this paper he points out the leading objections to the English form of government.

Canada and the United States. BOURINOT, SIR JOHN, K. C. M. G., House of Commons, Ottawa. Price, 35 cents.

A careful analysis of the Canadian constitutional system, and a comparison between it and the American polity.

CARVER, T. N. See Ethical Basis of Distribution.

Causes Affecting Railway Rates and Fares. WEYL, DR. WALTER E., Philadelphia. Price, 25 cents.

Dr. Weyl explains why passenger fares have not declined as rapidly as freight rates, how much they actually have declined and what the prospects are for a future lowering of rates. The paper is a most interesting contribution to transportation literature.

Character of Villein Tenure. ASHLEY, W. J., Professor of Economic History in Harvard University. Price, 15 cents.

An explanation of the position of the English farm laborer during the time of the Tudors, when the great change was taking place from the old intermixed or open-field system of tillage to that of convertible husbandry.

Compulsory Voting. HOLLS, F. W., of the New York Bar. Price, 25 cents.

The author proposes to compel every voter to exercise his right of suffrage under certain penalties provided by law, and fully discussed in this monograph.

Concentration of Industry, and Machinery in the United States. LEVASSEUR, E., Professor in the Free School of Political Science, Paris. Price, 25 cents.

The essay gives the views of one of the leading French economists upon the efficiency of the American laborer and on the extensive use of mechanical processes in the United States. Such a large use of machinery involves an intensity of labor unknown upon the European continent. It bring with it a concentration of industry peculiar to the United States. While it brings attendant evils, the wheels of progress do not move backwards, and the advantages outweigh in large part the inconveniences.

Concept of Wealth. TUTTLE, C. A., Ph. D., Professor of History and Sociology in Wabash College. Price, 25 cents.

A scientific definition of that which Mill called "the universal popular notion of wealth," and a careful analysis of the concept underlying it.

Conception of Sovereignty. RITCHIE, D. G., of Oxford University, England. Price, 25 cents.

The author of this paper plants himself squarely on the doctrine of sovereignty of the people, an idea first advanced in modern times by American jurists.

Congress and the Cabinet. BRADFORD, GAMALIEL, ESQ., Boston.
Price, 15 cents.

The essay discusses the advisability of giving the Cabinet officers seats in Congress, for the purpose of furnishing information and giving advice.

Congress and the Cabinet. II. BRADFORD, GAMALIEL. Price, 25 cents.

A reply to Professor Snow's "Cabinet Government in the United States," (q. v.) containing additional arguments in favor of adopting in the United States the system of Cabinet Government.

Constitution of Belgium. VINCENT, JOHN M., Associate Professor of History in the Johns Hopkins University, and VINCENT, ADA S.
Price, 50 cents.

Translation of the text of the present Constitution, with an historical introduction and explanatory notes.

Constitution of Colombia. MOSES, BERNARD, Professor of History and Political Economy in the University of California. Price, 50 cents.

Translation of the text of the Constitution adopted in 1886, with an historical introduction.

Constitution of Italy. LINDSAY, S. M. Assistant Professor of Sociology in the University of Penna., and ROWE, LEO S., Assistant Professor of Political Science in the University of Penna. Price, 50 cents.

Translation of the text of the present Constitution promulgated March 4, 1848, with an historical introduction and explanatory notes.

Constitution of Mexico. MOSES, BERNARD. Price, 35 cents.

Translation of the text of the Republican Constitution, with an historical introduction.

Constitution of Prussia. ROBINSON, JAMES HARVEY, Professor of European History in Columbia University. Price, 50 cents.

Translation of the text, with an historical introduction and very complete explanatory notes.

Constitutional and Organic Laws of France, 1875–1889. CURRIER, C. F. A., A. M., Assistant Professor of History in Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Price, 50 cents.

Translation of the text, with an historical introduction and notes.

Cost and Expense. PATTEN, SIMON N., Ph. D., Professor of Political Economy in the University of Pennsylvania. Price, 25 cents.

A continuation of and completion of the argument in "Cost and Utility" (q. v.) by contrasting the terms "cost" and "expense," which are frequently confused in a theory of value, and by explaining the ideas they should convey.

Cost and Utility. PATTEN, SIMON N. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose of this paper is to make the student more conscious of the contrasts involved in the development of the two radically different ways of investigating economic phenomena, whether as a theory of prosperity or as a theory of distribution and value.

Courses in Politics and Journalism at Lille. OBERHOLTZER, ELLIS P., Ph. D., Philadelphia. Price, 15 cents.

An outline of the work which is being done by the great Catholic University, at Lille, in the political, economic and legal sciences. This publication also contains "New Academic Degrees at Paris" (q.v.).

CRIME. See R. P. Falkner, C. H. Reeve, C. D. Wright.

Crime and the Census. FALKNER, ROLAND P., Ph. D., Associate Professor of Statistics in the University of Pennsylvania. Price, 25 cents.

An analysis of the census data in regard to the increase of crime and the distribution of crime among the different elements of society.

Critique of Wages Theories. WOOD, STUART, Ph. D. Price, 35 cents.

The author of this monograph traces the continuously progressive movement in the teachings of the economists shown in the development and in the downfall of the wages fund theory.

CUBA. See Hershey.

CUNNINGHAM, WM. See Why Had Roscher so Little Influence in England?

Current Transportation Topics. I. JOHNSON, EMORY R., Assistant Professor of Transportation in the University of Pennsylvania. Price, 15 cents.

A description of the recent rate wars, reorganizations and other prominent events in the railway world, explaining the principles involved.

Current Transportation Topics. II. JOHNSON, E. R. Price, 15 cents.

The general subjects discussed are the power of the states to tax the transportation companies, the extent to which competing railways can co-operate by forming traffic associations and the like, and the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate railway rates

CURRIER, C. F. A. See Constitutional Laws of France.

CURTIS, RUSSELL H. See Classification of Law.

Custody of State Funds. BUCKLEY, E. R., Madison, Wis. Price, 15 cents.

The author discusses the method of taking care of the moneys which belong to the various state governments. He shows how the different states have gradually given up the independent treasury system, and deposited their money in banks, and also where interest is paid on such deposits in bank, and, if so, for whose benefit.

Decade of Mortgages. HOLMES, GEORGE K., Department of Agriculture, Washington. Price, 15 cents.

An analysis of the statistics about mortgages which have been gathered by the Census Department, pointing out what they really indicate as to the prosperity of the country.

Decay of State and Local Government. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

An historical survey of the causes which have led to the loss of vitality in local government in this country. Dr. Patten advocates the erection of natural state boundaries and the giving of an autonomy to our great cities equal to that of the states.

DE GARMO, CHARLES. See Ethical Training in the Public Schools.

Development of the Present Constitution of France. SALEILLES, PROF. R., Faculty of Law, University of Dijon. Price, 50 cents.

A discussion of the French Constitution, showing how it has developed permanence and stability, although its authors scarce expected it to live seven years. Professor Saleilles explains both the weak points and the advantages in the French system. He also outlines what further development would be desirable or seems to be apparent.

Early Essay on Proportional Representation. JAMES, EDMUND J. Price, 25 cents.

In 1844, Thomas Gilpin read before the American Philosophical Society a paper on the "Representation of Minorities of Electors." This paper is remarkable as being one of the earliest systematic discussions of the plan now known as Minority or Proportional Representation. The paper antedates Thomas Hare's earliest essays on the subject of Minority Representation by thirteen years; and that of James Garth Marshall by almost ten years. It is reprinted entire in the present monograph, being preceded by a short sketch of Mr. Gilpin and a critical analysis of the paper.

Economic Basis of Prohibition. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 15 cents.

The author shows that the temperance agitation is based on economic and social conditions rather than on moral or religious sentiment. Invaluable to those who wish to act intelligently on questions involving prohibitory or restrictive legislation.

Economic Causes of Moral Progress. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose of the author is to examine the principles of ethics from an economic standpoint, and to modify them by the new doctrines that have arisen from investigations which are purely economic in character. The author also shows how the principles he has deduced may be applied to the ethical training of children.

Economic Effects of Ship Canals. FAIRLIE, J. A., New York City. Price, 25 cents.

The author devotes especial attention to the St. Mary's Falls Canal, between Lake Michigan and Lake Superior, and to the Suez Canal. He gives figures showing the traffic through these canals, and explains their economic effects on America in the one case and on Europe and Asia in the other.

Economic Function of Woman DEVINE, EDWARD T., Ph. D. Price, 15 cents.

Treats in a fresh manner, and from a new point of view, one of the most important aspects of the many-sided woman question in modern society.

Economic Relation of Life Insurance to Society and State. FOUSE, L. G., Philadelphia; and DAWSON, MILES M., New York City. Price, 35 cents.

Contains first a brief history of insurance and an outline of its enormous growth and magnitude. Then its place as a factor in economics and its economic relation to society are shown. The concluding portion bears upon the relation of life insurance to the state and treats of taxation of insurance companies, state supervision and compulsory insurance.

Economics in Elementary Schools. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

An argument in favor of teaching the leading principles of economics in the public elementary schools, with a note of what these principles are and an explanation of how they may best be taught.

Economics in German Technical Schools. Price, 15 cents.

An account of the instruction in economics in the higher technical schools, with a list of instructors and of subjects taught.

Economics in Italy. LORIA, ACHILLE, Professor of Political Economy in the University of Padua. Price, 25 cents.

A survey of the development of economic theory, as held by the rival economic schools of Italy, and a short discussion of its present tendencies. Professor Loria is a radical representative of the Orthodox Political Economy, and is without sympathy for the deviations of the optimistic and socialistic schools. He is especially severe upon the "retrogression" proposed by the Austrian economists.

ECONOMIC THEORY. See E. v. Boehm-Bawerk, M. Block, J. B. Clark, W. Cunningham, D. I. Green, R. P. Falkner, A. T. Hadley, J. A. Hobson, J. H. Hollander, E. R. Johnson, A. Loria, D. M. Lowrey, C. W. Macfarlane, S. M. Macvane, L. S. Merriam, S. N. Patten, E. A. Ross, G. Schmoller, S. Sherwood, William Smart, C. Stroever, W. G. L. Taylor, C. A. Tuttle, L. Walras, F. v. Wieser, Stuart Wood.

EDUCATION. See E. W. Bemis, F. W. Blackmar, C. DeGarmo, L. R. Harley, E. J. James, S. N. Patten, D. G. Ritchie, Isaac Sharpless.

Effects of the Consumption of Wealth on Distribution. SMART, PROF. WILLIAM, University of Glasgow. Price, 25 cents.

The paper explains the effect of the consumption of wealth, and concludes with an argument for the socializing of consumption and throwing wide the doors of wealth, that humanity may enter in and enjoy much of what the individual now consumes in solitude.

Elected or Appointed Officials? BOURINOT, SIR JOHN. Price, 25 cents.

In Canada the custom has been to appoint all officials having executive or ministerial functions to perform —apart, of course, from the political heads. The only officers elected by the people are those who are to legislate for them. There has started, however, a movement to change this system by adopting the United States plan of electing all officers, no matter whether they be legislative, executive or judicial. Dr. Bourinot's paper is a strong argument against making such a change. He shows the bad results which follow the American system of election, and contrasts them with the advantages of the Canadian method.

Electric Street Lighting in Chicago. MIKKELSEN, M. A., Ph. D. Price, 10 cents.

An explanation of Chicago's excellent but cheap system of lighting her streets.

ENGLAND. See E. Porritt, I. Sharpless, J. T. Young.

Ethical Basis of Distribution and Its Application to Taxation. CARVER, THOMAS N., Ph. D., Associate Professor of Economics in Oberlin College. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose of this paper is to show: (1) that the true criterion of justice in the distribution of the burdens of taxation is the least evil to the least number; (2) that the evils of taxation are twofold—the sacrifice to those who pay the taxes, and the repression of industry and enterprise which they occasion; (3) that the minimum of repression is secured by equality of sacrifice and the minimum of total sacrifice by an extreme form of progressive taxation resulting in great inequality of sacrifice; (4) that neither repression alone nor sacrifice alone, but both, are to be considered; and (5) that the probabilities are that a consideration of both forms of evil would lead to the adoption of a moderately progressive system of taxation.

Ethical Training in the Public Schools. DE GARMO, CHARLES, Professor of Pedagogy in Cornell University. Price, 25 cents.

It is an argument to show that the public school can be made a profitable factor in the moral development of the scholars, not necessarily by religious instruction in the schools, but by the daily discipline of the school and the careful instruction in literature, history, economics and social and political science.

Exploitation of Theories of Value in the Discussion of the Standard of Deferred Payments. FETTER, FRANK, Ph. D., Professor of Political Economy at the University of Indiana. Price, 15 cents.

In the present paper, Professor Fetter comes to the conclusion that a standard of deferred payments which shall never work hardship to any individual is unattainable.

Failure of Biologic Sociology. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

A review of the work of the Biologic School of Sociologists, pointing out why they have failed.

Federal Revenues and the Income Tax. HOWE, FREDERIC C., Ph. D. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose of the paper is to suggest some way for the government to raise money other than by tariff duties. Dr. Howe gives first a careful account of the workings of the former tax on incomes, and shows how bad it was. He concludes with the plan of increasing the internal revenue duties on liquors and tobacco as the best way of raising revenue.

FIAMINGO, G. See Individual Determinism and Social Science.

Financial Procedure in the State Legislatures. BOGART, E. L., Princeton, N. J. Price, 25 cents.

The essay explains the general features of the executive and legislative process by which money is raised and expended for state purposes throughout the United States. The plan adopted is to trace the course of financial legislation in New York as a typical state, and note wherein the others differ from or resemble it.

FINANCE. See E. L. Bogart, E. R. Buckley.

First Apportionment of Federal Representatives in the United States. JAMES, EDMUND J. Price, 35 cents.

A history of the first attempt to apportion representatives among the several states on the basis of population, according to the constitutional requirement. The passage of this bill gave occasion to the first real constitutional debate under the constitution and called forth the first presidential veto.

First State Constitutions. MOREY, WM. C., Professor of History and Political Science in Rochester University. Price, 25 cents.

The paper shows how the organic laws of the colonies were translated into the constitutions of the original states, which process was the second stage in the growth of American constitutional law. The first stage of this growth was discussed by Professor Morey in his paper on the "Genesis of a Written Constitution."

Formulation of Normal Laws. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

An analysis of the changes which the theory of marginal utility has brought about in economic science, with especial reference to the old idea of a normal man and of normal laws. The essay contains a discussion of the difference between justice and equity, and gives Bentham's classification of utilities and his formulation of the law of final utility.

Fusion of Political Parties. REMSEN, D. S., ESQ., New York. Price, 15 cents.

An explanation of the system of voting which allows the voter to indicate his first and second choice, so that the successful candidate is always elected by a majority of votes and there are no votes wasted. The appendix contains provisions from the proposed New York law.

Future Problem of Charity and the Unemployed. BROOKS, REV. JOHN GRAHAM, Ph. D. Price, 25 cents.

A study of the ways to relieve the unemployed, particularly the methods used in Boston in 1893–94, with suggestions as to how they can be improved upon.

Genesis of a Written Constitution. MOREY, WM. C. Price, 25 cents.

The Constitution of the United States is shown to have been a legitimate development of the colonial constitutions, which in turn had grown out of the original charters.

Genius, Fame and the Comparison of Races. COOLEY, CHARLES H., Ph. D., University of Michigan. Price, 35 cents.

The author fixes what is meant by the term genius, the intellectual and social conditions under which it arises, and endeavors to ascertain whether the production of great men is a proper criterion of the excellence of various races.

Geometrical Theory of the Determination of Prices. WALRAS, LEON, Lausanne. Price, 25 cents.

This is the first of Prof. Walras' writings to appear in English. In this monograph Prof. Walras presents a geometric picture of the causation of the prices of all commodities, recognizing the fact that these prices are mutually dependent. A number of diagrams aid in making the theory clear.

George Junior Republic, The. HULL, WILLIAM I., Ph. D., Professor of Political Science in Swarthmore College. Price, 15 cents.

Growth of the French-Canadian Race in America. DAVIDSON, PROF. JOHN, University of New Brunswick. Price, 25 cents.
The author examines into the truth of the statement of Malthus, that population, when unchecked, doubles itself every twenty-five years. The French-Canadian race is taken to illustrate this rule because it is an isolated, homogeneous body, of which it is possible to observe the whole true increase. As the result of his study, Professor Davidson finds that the average rate of increase per decade from 1765 to 1891 has been 29.7 per cent, which would cause the population to double every twenty-seven years.

"It is a strong argument against the creation and constant amendment of city charters by state legislatures. In lieu of this it is proposed to have cities control themselves under a general constitutional clause permitting them to adopt and amend their own charters by popular election."—News, Galveston, Texas.

How to Save Bimetallism. DE NOAILLES, DUC: translated by JOSEPH G. ROSENGARTEN, ESQ. Price, 15 cents.

The remedy suggested is to adopt a parallel and independent bimetallism. Let each metal have its own value based on the weight of the coins either in gold or in silver without any proportion or ratio. One result of the supression of the existing ratio would be to reduce by one-half the value of the stock of silver. But as silver is now occupying a fictitious position, to which it is not entitled, sooner or later it must fall to its natural place, and the sooner it is put there the sooner we will arrive at a solution of the problem.

Idea of Justice in Political Economy. SCHMOLLER, GUSTAV, Professor of Statistics in the University of Berlin: translated by E. L. VON HALLE and CARL L. SCHURZ. Price, 35 cents.

This paper first appeared in Schmoller's Jahrbuch. As it expresses the matured views of the leader of the Historical School in Germany upon a most important topic it seems worth while to present it in an English dress.

Immigration Question, The. SENNER, DR. JOSEPH H., former U. S. Commissioner of Immigration at New York. Price, 25 cents.

The author maintains that there is no longer such a question, since the present laws keep out all undesirable immigrants. The only farther restriction which might be added would be an educational qualification. He explains the present law and its mode of operation.

Income Tax Decisions as an Object Lesson in Constitutional Construction. TIEDEMAN, C. G., Professor of Law in the University of the City of New York. Price, 15 cents.

The author argues that the decision against the income tax was not based so much on the fundamental rule of construction that the intention and meaning of the framers of the Constitution must necessarily govern the interpretation of that instrument, as on the idea that the prevalent sense of right must be ascertained in all its bearings and applied to the determination of the question. In the course of his argument, Professor Tiedeman gives a careful explanation of what constitutes a direct tax.

Indian Currency. MOLESWORTH, SIR GUILFORD L., Bexley, Kent, England. Price, 35 cents.

This paper explains the position of India on the money question, why she was forced to close her mints to the coinage of silver, and what harm must result from this act not only to India, but to England. The whole paper is a strong plea for the adoption of an international bimetallic agreement.

Indian Education. BLACKMAR, FRANK W., Professor of History and Sociology in the University of Kansas. Price, 25 cents.

Prof. Blackmar shows that the only salvation for the Indian is to educate all the Indian children, teaching each some particular trade or profession, and after they are educated to keep them, if possible, inside the pale of civilization and not send them back to the reservation.

Individual Determinism and Social Science. FIAMINGO, G., Rome. Price, 15 cents.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS. See W. D. Dabney, J. A. Fairlie, S. B. Harding, D. Kinley, E. Levasseur.

Industrial Services of the Railways. JOHNSON, EMORY R. Price, 25 cents.

In this paper Dr. Johnson concisely states what the industrial services of the railways are, refers to the problems that confront the public in their connection, and gives his views of the best methods of solving them. The paper is a brief general survey of the whole question of transportation by rail.

Influence on Business of the Independent Treasury. KINLEY, DAVID, Assistant Professor of Political and Social Science in the University of Illinois. Price, 25 cents.

The author shows the great dangers to the financial stability of the country that are inherent in the "Sub-treasury" system. These evils, which the Sub-treasury might naturally be expected to produce, have in the past been largely neutralized by a series of lucky accidents, as it were. To trust to accident is, however, a dangerous way; as Mr. Kinley says, "It would be unscientific and dangerous to rely on mere contingencies for the prevention of financial evils, if we can see the defects in our system and provide a remedy."

Inland Waterways: Their Relation to Transportation. JOHNSON, EMORY R. Price, paper, $1.00; half-leather, $2.00.

A plea for the re-adoption of canals as a means of transportation, both on account of the cheap rates of freight which they allow and because they will help to lower railway rates; also because they will permit of a great extension of our inland commerce. For the same reasons, the author advocates the improvement of our natural waterways and connecting them together.

Instruction in French Universities. ROWE, LEO S. Price, 25 cents.

The essay gives an explanation of the system of Faculties in vogue in France, together with a brief history of the higher educational system from the time of Napoleon. It also explains the new system of universities which is being advocated. Dr. Rowe then discusses the courses in political science, etc., which are offered by the law faculties and other institutions. The monograph concludes with some valuable university statistics and a complete list of the instructors in political science and public law in the various institutions of higher education in France.

Instruction in Political and Economic Science in Italy. FALKNER, ROLAND P. Price, 25 cents.

Dr. Falkner has had the co-operation of the officials and professors of Italian universities, and has prepared a very full exhibit of the work done in economics in Italian universities.

INSURANCE. See M. M. Dawson, L. G. Fouse.

Interest and Profits. HADLEY, ARTHUR T., Professor of Political Economy in Yale University. Price, 15 cents.

The aim of the paper is to show that the justification of interest, as an institution, is not to be sought either in the interest productivity of capital, or in the difference of value between present and future goods; but in the fact that it furnishes a means of natural selection of employers whereby the productive forces of the community are better utilized than by any other method hitherto devised.

International Arbitration. LORD, ELEANOR L. Price, 25 cents.

A plea for this mode of settling international disputes. An appendix contains a list of all the treaties and conventions between the United States and foreign powers, which contain provisions for the settlement of international questions by arbitration.

International Criminal Law Association. FALKNER, R. P. Price, 15 cents.

An account of the purposes of the society, with a brief résumé of the meetings it has held.

International Liability for Mob Injuries. HUFFCUT, E. W., LL. B., Professor of Law at Cornell University. Price, 25 cents.

An explanation of the cases when a government has a just cause for complaint and intervention, on account of the treatment of its citizens, visiting or domiciled within the offending country, as illustrated by the various cases of mob violence to foreigners in the United States, and particularly by the lynching at New Orleans on March 14, 1892.

Minimum Principle in the Tariff of 1828 and Its Recent Revival. HARDING, S. B. Price, 25 cents.

The Act of 1828, for the first time in the history of our tariff legislation, established a series of duties graduated according to the value of a group of goods—the evident purpose of this was to retain some thing of the elasticity of ad valorem rates while gaining the immunity from undervaluation which goes with specific duties. This series of duties rests upon what is known as the "graduated minimums" of the woolen schedules of the act of that year; the principle of which was revived and largely extended in the act of 1890, and the traces of which have not been entirely banished from the tariff of 1894. Mr. Harding's paper traces the origin and operation of these provisions of the earlier act, and sketches briefly their later revival.

Multiple Money Standard. SMITH, PROF. J. ALLEN, Marietta College, Ohio. Price, 50 cents.

Professor Smith discusses the relation of money to industrial society, the two conceptions of a standard of value and the unstability of gold as a commodity. He then shows the advantages and disadvantages of a composite gold and silver standard, and advocates the adoption of a multiple money standard. Under which plan a considerable number of leading commodities are combined together in the ratio of their importance and form the permanent standard of value, which standard would be practically invariable.

Municipality and the Gas Supply. ROWE, LEO S. Price, 25 cents.

To increase the number of quasi-public functions which our cities exert, has been the usual rule of late. Philadelphia, however, has just taken a step in the other direction, and has leased its gas-works to a private corporation for a term of thirty years. What this step signifies and why it is a step backward is discussed in this paper.

Neglected Chapter in the Life of Comte. SCHOFF, W. H., A.M., Philadelphia. Price, 25 cents.

A sketch of Comte's life and an analysis of his works, dwelling particularly on his early career and the cause for the lack of harmony between his philosophy and religion, with some discussion of the effect on himself of his insanity.

Neglected Points in the Theory of Socialism. VEBLEN, T. B., Ph. D., Instructor in Political Economy, University of Chicago. Price, 25 cents.

The work is a criticism of Mr. Spencer's essay, "From Freedom to Bondage." The author shows how, under our present system, there is a constant effort even at the expense of real physical comforts and even necessities to make a greater display of one's ability to pay, than one's neighbor's. This "Economic Emulation" he regards as the chief underlying cause of the present socialistic agitation. The doing away with private property as we know it would perhaps direct our emulation into more desirable channels. Mr. Veblen further makes a comparison between the introduction of constitutional government and the possible nationalization of industry.

Neglected Socialist, A. CLARK, F. C., Ph. D. Price, 25 cents.

An attempt to give William Weitling his proper position in the history of socialism. Weitling, says Dr. Clark "forms the bridge between French and German socialism." "He is the only German Socialist that constructed a system and had the courage to carry it out. Judged by his writings his place is by the side of Fourier and Engels; judged by his services and his agitation, Lassalle alone outranks him."

Nicaragua Canal and the Economic Development of the United States. JOHNSON, E. R. Price, 10 cents.

The paper shows what great commercial benefits the canal will bring to the United States, both by shortening the route of domestic commerce between the east and the west, and by bringing us nearer to South America, Asia and Australia. It shows also how it will serve to develop our industries, and why the canal itself should prove a paying investment for American capital.

Nicaragua Canal and the Monroe Doctrine. KEASBEY, L. M., Associate Professor of Political Science in Bryn Mawr College. Price, 25 cents.

The author gives a full outline of the diplomatic controversy between the United States and England as to who should control the canal across the Isthmus, dwelling particularly on the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and on Great Britain's efforts to obtain and keep control over the eastern end of any proposed canal. He also shows how the United States by indirect influence, has at last forced England off that part of Central America. This controversy constitutes, as Prof. Keasbey says, but the narrower issue of that larger struggle, which has been going on between Great Britain and the United States ever since the days of our political independence, for dominion on the American Continent. In conclusion, therefore, he places this more or less detailed dispute in its proper diplomatic environment, and shows its relation to the larger issues involved.

Oscillations in Politics. LOWELL, A. LAWRENCE, ESQ., of the Boston Bar. Price, 25 cents.

The author shows that there is an increasing tendency in England and American politics to oscillation between the parties, so that each is alternately in power. He also explains the causes of this phenomenon.

Our Failures in Municipal Government BRADFORD, GAMALIEL. Price, 15 cents.

A discussion of the question whether reform in city affairs is to be sought through improved machinery for bringing public opinion to bear, just as we should do with the force of steam or electricity, or whether we are to accept as final the methods which have come down to us in the last hundred years, and limit ourselves to manipulation of the methods of voting.

Over-Nutrition and Its Social Consequences. PATTEN, SIMON N. Price, 25 cents.

An explanation of the origin of pleasure and pain, and of their effect on the process of social evolution.

Pacific Railway Debts. COLBURN, R. T. Price, 25 cents.

The thirty years' term of the original loan of the United States to the Pacific Railroads has expired. Not only have the companies failed to pay off the principal, but even a great part of the annual interest, so that now the Central and Union Companies owe the government about $125,000,000, or twice the original loan. Several methods of solving this problem have been advanced in Congress. Mr. Colburn takes them up in turn, showing the advantages and disadvantages of each, and finally explains the method which seems to him the best.

Parliamentary Procedure. MACY, JESSE, A. M., Professor of Constitutional Law and Political Economy in Iowa College. Price, 25 cents.

An examination of the advantages and disadvantages of a cabinet system of government as found in England and Canada, and of the American system. Professor Macy takes as the basis for his paper two recent works on government, one by Dr. J. G. Bourinot, on "Parliamentary Procedure," and the other by Mr. T. H. McKee, on "Congressional Practice."

Party Government. RICHARDSON, CHARLES. Price, 25 cents.

The principal evil of party government, according to Mr. Richardson's views, is the permitting of political parties to nominate candidates for office. For, as he shows, these candidates are almost invariably men who, if elected, will obey the dictates of the bosses rather than the voice of the people. As a remedy for this, he suggests that the Australian system as used in Australia, be adopted, and all candidates be nominated by papers signed by a specified number of qualified voters.

Patten's Dynamic Economics. CLARK, JOHN B. Price, 15 cents.

Dynamic political economy is the latest development of that science. Professor Clark takes Professor S. N. Patten's recent book as a basis for his essay, and in explaining and criticising Dr. Patten's theories, he brings out most clearly what dynamic political economy is.

PATTERSON, C. STUART. See Original Package Case.

Peaceable Boycotting. REED, CHESTER A., of the Boston Bar. Price, 25 cents.

Mr. Reed discusses the attitude of the United States Courts in the recent railway strike cases, and endeavors to show that their almost uniform decisions against the employes do not always rest on a good legal basis.

Pennsylvania Paper Money. MACFARLANE, C. W. Price, 50 cents.

A history of the experience of the Province of Pennsylvania in issuing paper money, from the first crude bill of 1723 to the final collapse of all paper money during the Revolution, with an examination of the prices of staple commodities from 1720 to 1770, in order to determine its success or failure.

Peons of the South. HOLMES, GEO. K. Price, 15 cents.

Shows how the Southern farmer is held in a form of bondage by the merchant, by which the latter forces him to devote his energies to raising cotton instead of other crops which would be more advantageous for the farmer.

Philadelphia Social Science Association. ROSENGARTEN, J. G., of the Philadelphia Bar. Price, 15 cents.

The Philadelphia branch of the American Association for the Promotion of Social Science was organized in 1869, and existed for twenty years. This report of its efficient service during that time in numerous local and general reforms, will be of great service to other organizations.

Philosophical Basis of Economics. SHERWOOD, DR. SIDNEY, Associate in Political Economy at the Johns Hopkins University. Price, 35 cents.

Which is fundamental, sociology or economics? The author supports the claims of economics. The activity by which human life is supported and through which society exists is individual activity. It proceeds from the will of the individual and in this is fundamental. Economics is the study of the manifestations of this will, and takes precedence therefore of sociology whose unit, the social group, is derived and not original.

Place of Party in the Political System. MORSE, ANSON D., Professor of History and Political Economy in Amherst College. Price, 15 cents.

A treatise on the philosophy of party, a subject which has been generally neglected by political scientists. After showing by what other means the state has sought to hold the government in due subordination to itself, he proves that the institution of party is the best device for accomplishing this end. He shows how party carries out its two chief functions, namely, to educate and organize public opinion, and to administer government.

Place of the Political and Social Sciences in Modern Education. JAMES, EDMUND J. Price, 25 cents.

An earnest plea for a more systematic instruction in the various branches of science, which may have a bearing upon the better training for citizenship. We are proceeding, in our government to-day, upon the assumption that the average man is not only a patriot, is not only upright and honest, is not only desirous of doing the best he can, but that he is also an expert in the business of governing, or at least, in a position to pass upon the work and proposals of those who are actually doing the governing. How can our government succeed unless we realize this assumption by training each individual for his duty as a citizen?

Political Ethics of Herbert Spencer. WARD, LESTER F., Ph. D., Washington, D. C. Price, 35 cents.

Professor Ward goes through Mr. Spencer's various works and, taking together those parts in which his political views are expressed, analyzes these doctrines and thus discovers Mr. Spencer's views on political science. He finds that Mr. Spencer, having begun as a revolutionist, has now, like so many other great thinkers at the close of their careers, become a reactionist.

Price, 25 cents.

Political and Municipal Legislation in 1896. DURAND, E. DANA.
Price, 15 cents.

Political and Municipal Legislation in 1897. DURAND, E. DANA.
Price, 15 cents.

These three publications give an analysis of the laws which were passed by the various states in 1895. 1896 and 1897 on the suffrage, ballot reform, voting machines, corrupt practices, nominations, officers, counties, and municipalities.

Political Organization of a Modern Municipality. LEWIS, WM. DRAPER.
Price, 15 cents.

The main thought in the pamphlet is that the only way to improve city politics is to separate them from national politics. A city, Dr. Lewis claims, is in reality a state by itself, that is, in many respects it has questions to settle which are vital to its existence and which are of interest to it alone. In the settlement of these questions, therefore, national parties should have no voice. Just as there are national parties to settle national questions, so there should be local parties to settle purely local questions.

Political Philosophy of Aristotle. LOOS, ISAAC, Professor of Political Science at Iowa State University. Price, 25 cents.

An analysis of Aristotle's discussion of the state as organized for purposes of government, and showing the influence of the Greek Philosopher upon political science and political life to-day.

Postal Savings Banks. HEYN, EDW. T., New York City. Price, 25 cents.

An argument for the establishment of postal banks in the United States, accompanied by an account of the operation and results of such banks in England, France, Italy, Austria, Russia, Holland, Sweden, Belgium, etc.

POWERS, H. H. See Terminology and the Sociological Conference.

Present Condition of the Peasants in the Russian Empire. DE LESTRADE, VICOMTE COMBES. Price, 15 cents.

"The extent to which the mir controls the action of its members is shown to be such as to amount to real tyranny, and the reader will readily see that the mir is by no means the idyllic institution it has sometimes been represented to be."—Critic, New York City.

Preventive Legislation in Relation to Crime. REEVE, C. H. Price, 15 cents.

Mr. Reeve shows how great has been the increase, not only in crime, but also in the savagery attendant upon the commission of crime, as well as in the reckless boldness displayed by criminals. To remedy this he advocates the removal of the source from which the criminal comes, by preventing marriages between those who are unfit for the relation, and by removing the children of criminals, etc., from their parents. For such as are now criminals he advocates imprisonment with no right to return to freedom until a complete reformation has taken place.

PRICHARD, FRANK P. See Study of the Science of Municipal Government.

Principles of Sociology. WARD, L. F. Price, 25 cents.

A critical review of Professor Giddings' work on Sociology.

Problem of Sociology. SIMMEL, GEORG, University of Berlin. Price, 15 cents.

This essay attracted wide attention when it first appeared in German, and afterwards when translated into French. The present pamphlet contains both the English translation of the original and a supplementary essay in which Dr. Simmel replies to some criticisms brought against his views. The purpose of the paper is to tell the scope of the science of sociology, and to enumerate, in a general way, the problems with which it has to deal. Dr. Simmel gives at the same time a definition of the science itself.

Problems of Municipal Government. GODKIN, E. L., Editor of the New York Nation. Price, 25 cents.

Taking New York as the typical American city, he shows the dangers which she has had to face and is facing, and points out the way to solve these problems.

Problems of Political Science. ROWE, LEO S. Price, 25 cents.

Professor Rowe deplores the absence in political speculation of the evolutionary element which in other fields of science has been so fruitful. Viewed from the standpoint of evolution, the problems of government and the state appear in quite a different aspect which as yet has received little attention from English writers.

Progress of Economic Ideas in France. BLOCK, MAURICE, of the Journal des Economistes. Price, 25 cents.

An account of the development in France of the science of political economy, treating in turn the Physiocrats, the Classical School, the Socialists, the Protectionists, the school of Le Play and the modern economists, especially Gide and Jannet.

Proportional Representation. COMMONS, JOHN R., Ph. D., Professor of Sociology and Civics in Syracuse University. Price, 15 cents.

A plan to modify the present plan of district elections by a system of proportional representation. Under such a system the minority party would secure representatives as well as the majority party in proportion to the number of votes it had cast.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION. See J. R. Commons, E. J. James, J. W. Jenks.

Proposed Reforms of the Monetary System. JOHNSON, PROF. JOS. F., University of Pennsylvania. Price, 25 cents.

A statement of the principles which must be observed in any sound reconstruction of the currency system; with a criticism of the monetary commission and Gage plans.

Province of Sociology. GIDDINGS, F. H., Ph. D., Professor of Sociology in Columbia University. Price, 25 cents.

Explains what the province of this science is, what the underlying conceptions of sociological theory are, and what is the spirit of sociological investigation.

PRYOR, JAMES W. See Greater New York Charter.

Psychologic Basis of Social Economics. WARD, LESTER F. Price, 25 cents.

The object of this paper is to emphasize the distinction between that system of political economy which is based upon the actions of the human animal and that system which is based upon the actions of the rational man. The former is the prevailing system of the schools as taught under the varying aspects by the Physiocrats, Adam Smith, Ricardo and Malthus. Its underlying principles are set forth in the writings of Herbert Spencer, and constitute the warp of modern individualism. The latter has, from time to time, been dimly foreshadowed by certain writers, but has never taken any scientific form except in a work by Mr. Ward.

Public Health and Municipal Government. BILLINGS, DR. J. S., New York City. Price, 25 cents.

Science, New York, says: "The author sets forth in a clear way the proper municipal organization of health. Every city council in the country, as well as every citizen, should read this paper."

Quantity Theory of Money. SCOTT, WM. A., Ph. D., Professor of Economic History and Theory in the University of Wisconsin. Price, 15 cents.

An attack on the classical quantity theory of money. "It is, however, a thoroughly calm and scholarly investigation, which appeals not to passion or prejudice, but to scientific judgment."

Railroad Passenger Fares in Hungary. WETHERELL, JANE J. Price, 25 cents.

A translation of a document issued by the Hungarian government on the zone tariff, together with an abstract of a paper on this subject read by Professor Edmund J. James, of the University of Chicago, before the Academy.

Railroad Passenger Tariffs in Austria. WETHERELL, JANE J. Price, 15 cents.

Containing the more important provisions of the law introducing the zone system of passenger fares on the Austrian State Railways, June 16, 1890.

Railway Departments for the Relief and Insurance of Employes. JOHNSON, E. R. Price, 35 cents.

An exhaustive study of these departments as they exist in the United States, showing their mode of operation, their uses and advantages, and their defects. In these departments, it is claimed, there has been found a solution of some of the vexed problems of the labor situation.

Railway Pooling. KNAPP, HON. MARTIN A., of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Price, 25 cents.

An argument in favor of permitting the railways to form pools, explaining the advantages which they would bring both to commerce and the railways, and a statement of the conditions which should be placed upon such pools.

Reasonable Railway Rates. NEWCOMB, H. T. Price, 25 cents.

The rate question is one of such general interest that this paper should attract wide attention. The author summarizes the latest information on the subject contained in government reports, and discusses the principles underlying the policy of fixing rates on the part of the railways.

Recent Constitution Making in the United States. THORPE, F. N. Price, 35 cents.

The paper is a review of the work accomplished by the Constitutional Conventions of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington. The author describes the personnel of the conventions as to politics, education, occupation and nativity, and draws conclusions from the data given. The prominent features of the constitutions as finally adopted are pointed out and compared with corresponding features of older state constitutions for the purpose of discovering the source of the ideas which are embodied in the provisions of the new constitutions.

Recent Political Experiments in the Swiss Democracy. WUARIN, PROF. LOUIS, of the University of Geneva. Price, 25 cents.

A discussion of proportional representation, the initiative, the referendum and compulsory voting, showing how they are carried out and advantages that have followed their adoption.

Recent Tendencies in the Reform of Land Tenure. CHEYNEY, EDW. P. Price, 15 cents.

The monograph shows what influence the law forbidding the entail of property, which was a part of the Code Napoléon, had in starting a revolution in Europe in regard to land tenures. This movement toward the individualistic conception of land was very steady up to 1870. Since then there has been a reaction away from individualism, and we are coming to recognize that land is not like other property, but has intrinsic peculiarities which necessitate a certain degree of communistic control.

Recognition of Cuban Belligerency. HERSHEY, A. S., Assistant Professor of Political Science in the Indiana State University. Price, 10 cents.

An explanation of the advantages such recognition would have brought both to Spain and to Cuba, and the restrictions it would have put upon the United States.

Reform of Our State Governments. BRADFORD, GAMALIEL. Price, 25 cents.

In this paper Mr. Bradford first discusses the defects in our state governments generally, and then taking up the last constitution of New York, points out where it should have been changed, and what changes in it should have been made.

Relation of the Colonial Fee-System to Political Liberty. URDAHL, T. K., Berlin. Price, 25 cents.

Mr. Urdahl gives the fee-system and the opposition it evoked a large share of credit for the inculcation and development of the ideas on political liberty held by the American colonists.

Relation of Economic Conditions to the Causes of Crime. WRIGHT, HON. CARROLL D., U. S. Commissioner of Labor. Price, 25 cents.

An explanation of the relation that economic environment has to crime in order to show that improvements in present conditions, such as division of profits, justice to labor, trade instruction, the application of the great moral law to business relations and the more enlightened treatment of criminals when apprehended, will lead to a great reduction in the volume of crime.

Relation of Economic Study to Public and Private Charity. MAVOR, JAS., Professor of Political Economy and Constitutional History in the University of Toronto. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose is to show how the study of economics may be made of use in the practical work of dealing with the problems of poverty. In doing this the author gives an account of the leading methods that have been used to study poverty, and of the plans suggested to help abolish poverty.

Relation of Labor Organizations to the American Boy and to Trade Instruction. BEMIS, PROF. EDW. W. Price, 25 cents.

A careful investigation, first, as to whether American labor organizations are opposed to trade instruction, either through the apprenticeship system or by trade schools; and, second, whether they are controlled by the foreign-born element.

Relation of Postal Savings Banks to Commercial Banks. HAMILTON, DR. J. H., Syracuse University. Price, 15 cents.

The United States is almost the only civilized nation which has no system of postal savings banks. Among the opponents of such banks are the private banking institutions, who fear that postal banks will injure their business, by cutting down deposits. Mr. J. H. Hamilton discusses this subject in his paper.

Relation of Sociology to Psychology. PATTEN, S. N. Price, 25 cents.

An analysis of social phenomena to ascertain the connection between sociology and psychology. The author decides that sociology is not a psychologic science, as some of the leading sociologists have asserted.

Relation of State to Education in England and America. SHARPLESS, ISAAC, President of Haverford College. Price, 25 cents.

The paper shows the difference in the systems of state education in the two countries, treating especially the following: (1) The guarantee which the state receives that its money will be properly expended by the schools; (2) the provisions for secondary education; (3) compulsory education; (4) religious and biblical training in the schools.

Relation of Taxation to Monopolies. JOHNSON, E. R. Price, 25 cents.

An enunciation of the laws of distribution, together with a classification of monopolies and an explanation of the different kinds of taxes, followed by an elaboration of so much of the general theory of taxation as pertains to taxes levied with the purpose of producing no other effect than that of yielding the state a revenue. The purpose of the essay as a whole is to make clearer the relation of taxation to monopolies.

Relief Work Carried on in the Wells Memorial Institute. DUDLEY, HELENA S. Price, 25 cents.

"In relieving the unemployed last winter, one of the most successful experiments was that tried by the Boston College Settlement (Denison House). A complete report of this work has been prepared by Miss Helena S. Dudley. . . . Miss Dudley explains their plans and methods, and draws some interesting and valuable conclusions from the results of their experiment. This monograph should be in the hands of every person interested in social questions and charitable work."—Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

REMSEN, D. S. See Fusion of Political Parties.

Rent and Profit. MACFARLANE, C. W. Price, 15 cents.

An explanation of the difference between rent and profit, showing that the first is a "price determined," and the latter a "price-determining" surplus.

Representation in New England Legislatures. HAYNES, GEO. H., Professor of History and Economics in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Price, 15 cents.

Taking the six New England States, Professor Haynes shows (1) who may vote for members of the legislature, (2) who are the legislators, (3) what is the basis of representation, (4) to what extent each state's system of representation makes the political complexion of the legislature vary from that of the body of voters, and (5) to what extent the representative system limits the political influence of the cities.

SCOTT, WM. A. See Quantity Theory of Money.

Seligman's Shifting and Incidence of Taxation. ROSS, EDWARD ALSWORTH, Ph. D., Professor of Finance and Administration in Stanford University. Price, 25 cents.

A résumé of the subject of taxation, taking Professor Seligman's recent book as a basis for the discussion. Professor Ross first takes up taxes in general and shows where they fall and where they finally rest after being shifted as much as possible. He then discusses the shifting and final incidence of particular taxes, such as the land tax, license taxes, taxes on wages, etc.

Shiftless and Floating City Population. DEVINE, E. T. Price, 15 cents.

A striking picture of the mode of life of this unfortunate class, showing how destitute and precarious is their condition. They are dangerous subjects given over to petty crime and liable to swell the ranks of more serious criminals, whose reclamation is a grave problem of city life.

Sidgwick's Elements of Politics. ROBINSON, JAS. HARVEY. Price, 15 cents.

A discussion of the science of politics and the theories current in that science. Professor Sidgwick's recent work on politics is taken as a basis for the discussion.

SIGEL, F. See Sociology Applied to Politics.

Significance of a Decreasing Birth-Rate. BROWNELL, J. L., formerly Fellow of Political Science in Bryn Mawr College. Price, 35 cents.

A study of the causes which have led the birth-rate to decline in many countries of high civilization, especially in France and the United States. One of the conclusions which is brought out is that the Malthusian theory is not true of the United States to-day. In the regions where wealth accumulates most rapidly, the population increases most slowly.

Silver Free Coinage and the Legal Tender Decisions. TIEDEMAN, C. G. Price, 15 cents.

A review of the legal tender decisions and the recent tendencies of the Supreme Court convinces the author that a free coinage measure upon review by that body would be declared incompatible with the Constitution of the United States. The argument is ingenious and brings strong reasoning in support of its position.

Silver in China. WILLIAMS, TALCOTT, LL. D., L. H. D., Philadelphia. Price, 25 cents.

The author combats the prevalent notion that silver has, in China, an undiminished and unvarying purchasing power. He shows, moreover, that silver is by no means to be considered the standard of values in China, that this function belongs rather to the copper cash which are universally used. They too have had their ups and downs. The evidence reveals, as the author states, "that monetary laws act in the same way in China as elsewhere."

SIMMEL, G. See Problem of Sociology.

Sir William Temple on the Origin and Nature of Government. HERRIOTT, FRANK I., Ph. D. Price, 25 cents.

A criticism and digest of Temple's works on government, and showing how far in advance of his contemporaries this seventeenth century statesman was, and in how many respects he agreed with the writers of to-day. The monograph also explains briefly the generally accepted theories of that day.

Sociology Applied to Politics. Social Theories and Russian Conditions. SIGEL, PROFESSOR DR. F., University of Warsaw. Price, 25 cents.

Russia from the standpoint of a Russian. The author explains how Russia has developed particularly on political, social and religious lines, and draws a comparison between her civilization and that of Western Europe and America. It presents the Russian's defence of himself.

Sociology and Philanthropy. WINES, DR. F. H., Springfield, Ill. Price, 15 cents.

An earnest plea, not for the identification of sociology and philanthropy, but for the mutual recognition on the part of students and workers of the aid which each group can render to the other through intimate and friendly relations.

Sources of American Federalism. MOREY, WM. C. Price, 25 cents.

The purpose of the essay is to show the beginning of the federal system on American soil and to suggest the historical principles upon which its origin must be explained.

Standard of Deferred Payments. ROSS, EDWARD A. Price, 15 cents.

Professor Ross shows how the debtor class have been robbed through the present monetary system of the United States, and maintains that there is an absolute necessity for more money in order to prevent further injury of that class. In order to obtain more money, he advocates the adoption of a gold and silver standard in place of the present gold standard.

State and National Bank Circulation. HEPBURN, HON. A. B., Ex-Comptroller of the Currency. Price, 15 cents.

An argument against issuing circulating notes without United States bonds or other choice securities as their basis of issue.

State Constitutions of the American Revolution. WEBSTER, W. C., ESQ., New York City. Price, 35 cents.

The author probes into the beginnings of organized independent government in the United States. He presents a painstaking and scholarly summary of the first state constitutions. They were adaptations of the previous colonial charters, but the strong common sense of our ancestors led them to eschew political experiment and proceed in their constructive work with remarkable practical wisdom.

State Supervision for Cities. COMMONS, JOHN R. Price, 15 cents.

An argument in favor of establishing a State Municipal Board, to be composed of the governor, attorney-general, auditor, and from six to ten unsalaried citizens. The duties of this board would include the recommending the suspension or removal of officers, the auditing of the books of the city officers, the approval of financial measures, the investigation of complaints and abuses, and the conducting of the civil service examinations.

Statistical Publications of the United States Government. WILLOUGHBY, WM. F., of the Department of Labor. Price, 15 cents.

Of value to all who have occasion to use the statistical publications of any department of the United States Government. The Federal Census, Statistics of Commerce, Statistics of Production, Statistics of Education, Finance Statistics, Railroad Statistics, and Statistics of Labor are discussed briefly in turn, and the work of the different bureaus which issue statistical publications of any description is in so far described.

Study of the Negro Problems. DU BOIS, DR. W. E. B., Professor of Social Science at Atlanta University. Price, 25 cents.

"A paper of especial interest to every American citizen is Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois' 'Study of the Negro Problems.' Dr. Du Bois has recently had charge of an investigation by the University of Pennsylvania of the condition of the negro population of the Seventh Ward in the city of Philadelphia, and has thus been brought into personal contact with many of the most practical sides with the negro question."

Study of the Science of Municipal Government. PRICHARD, FRANK P. Price, 15 cents.

The author advocates the establishment of colleges for the training of men for the public service, just as the government schools at West Point and Annapolis train officers for the army and navy. Under such a method as this our offices would be held by men who had a thorough knowledge of political and administrative science.

Study and Teaching of Sociology. LINDSAY, S. M. Price, 35 cents.

At the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, held in Philadelphia in April last, the general subject was "The Study and Teaching of Sociology." Papers were submitted by the leading American sociologists. A full and excellent report of this meeting has been prepared by Dr. S. M. Lindsay.

Subjective and Objective View of Distribution. HOBSON, JOHN A, Price, 25 cents.

As stated by the author, his purpose is "to show the wide divergence which the theory of distribution presents according as we regard it to deal with objective or with subjective costs and utilities, and to indicate the nature of the connection which exists between the objective and the subjective dividend or surplus."

Supplement to the Handbook of the Academy. Price, 50 cents; with Handbook, $2.00.

Contains a list of the accessions to membership in the Academy from April 15, 1891, to August 10, 1891.

Surplus Gains of Labor. CLARK, J. B. Price, 15 cents.

An examination into the question of whether the laborer realizes a surplus of gain from the last labor performed in a natural working day.

SWITZERLAND. See F. Milliet, L. Wuarin.

TAXATION. See T. N. Carver, R. T. Colburn, F. C. Howe, E. R. Johnson, E. A. Ross.

Taxation of Large Estates. COLBURN, R. T. Price 15 cents.

A plan to prevent rich men from escaping taxes during life or to make them pay up at death; and to create a special board or council whose duty it shall be to devote the proceeds of all inheritance taxes to the work of making society better and happier.

TEMPERANCE. See S. N. Patten, C. S. Patterson, F. Milliet.

Terminology and the Sociological Conference. POWERS, H. H., Professor of Economics in the Leland Stanford Jr. University. Price, 15 cents.

In this paper Professor Powers explains the results which were arrived at by the recent conference of sociologists held in New York City. One of the purposes of this conference was to obtain a general definition for the term "sociology," and to define its field.

Theory of Social Forces. PATTEN, S. N. Price, paper, $1.00; cloth, $1.50.

A new study of the various steps in social evolution. Briefly outlined, Dr. Patten's social theories rest upon the assumption that the progressive development of organic life on this planet has been in its later phases the result of the development of a more and more refined mental organism, the parts of which have been in turn the "requisites for survival," as the organism adapted itself to increasingly complex environments. The monograph is divided into four parts, which treat respectively of "The Influence of the Environment," "Race Psychology," "Knowledge and Belief," and "A Social Commonwealth."

Theory of Final Utility in its Relation to Money and the Standard of Deferred Payments. MERRIAM, L. S. Price, 25 cents.

Consists of a study of the relation of a theory of final utility to money in general and the standard of deferred payments in particular, followed by a criticism of Professor Ross's paper, No. 70, in the light of those results.

Theory of Sociology. GIDDINGS, F. H. Price, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

In this treatise he discusses the following subjects: The Sociological Idea; The Province of Sociology; The Problems of Sociology; Social Growth and Structure; Social Process; Law and Cause; The Methods of Sociology. This work marks a new stage in the development of sociology.

Theory of Value. v. WIESER, F. R., Professor of Political Economy in the German University of Prague. Price, 25 cents.

This monograph contains a scientific explanation of the theory of value as held by the Austrian School, of which Professor von Wieser is one of the leaders.

Third Revolution. CHEYNEY, EDWARD P. Price, 15 cents.

This third revolution of which Professor Cheyney writes is the economic revolution. He first compares the period prior to the intellectual revolution of 400 years ago with the period just before the political revolution of 100 years ago, and shows that these periods were very similar. He then shows that the present time is in many respects similar with these periods, and from this he draws the inference that we are about to undergo a third revolution, which, as he shows, will be an economic revolution.

Total Utility Standard of Deferred Payments. ROSS, E. A. Price, 25 cents.

An inquiry into the question as to what course of prices will do justice to a time contract calling for a money payment, and the question as to what is the just standard of deferred payments to which the money paid should conform. The question of bimetallism or monometallism comes up in the course of the argument and is decided in favor of the double standard.

Ultimate Standard of Value. v. BOEHM-BAWERK, E. Translated by C. W. MACFARLANE. Price, 50 cents.

The views of the Austrian School on this leading question in theoretical economics made clear by one of its principal members.

"The new notions as to value are a very great and significant development in the classical economy."—Journal of Education, Boston.

Uncertainty as a Factor in Production. ROSS, EDW. A. Price, 25 cents.

Taking up in turn mining, farming, manufacturing, fishing, transportation and the like, the author shows the irregularity in the product of like exertions or identical processes, and the irregularity in the exchange value of equal volumes of products. He explains how this variability results in uncertainty, which causes such extensive derangements in economic production.

Uniform State Legislation. STIMSON, FREDERIC J., ESQ., of Boston. Price, 35 cents.

The paper contains an explanation of the causes of diversity in state laws; an account of the movement to secure uniformity; uniform legislation concerning deeds and seals; concerning wills; concerning weights and measures; concerning bills, notes and days of grace; a uniform commercial code; uniform legislation concerning conveyancing; concerning charitable bequests; concerning mortgages; concerning frauds; concerning interest; concerning corporations; criminal law, diversity and inequality of punishment; uniform laws on marriage and divorce.

This movement to secure uniformity of legislation has been spoken of by an eminent authority as "the most important juristic work undertaken in the United States since the adoption of the Federal Constitution."

Union Pacific Railway. DAVIS, J. P., Ph. D. Price, 35 cents.

A discussion by one of the foremost authorities on this subject of the Pacific Railway question in all its bearings, explaining in particular the advantages and disadvantages of the various proposed plans of settlement.

Units of Investigation in the Social Sciences. BENTLEY, A. F., Ph. D. Price, 25 cents.

An attempt to discover what facts are to be taken as the units of investigation in the study of the phenomena of society.

URDAHL, T. K. See Relation of the Colonial Fee-System to Liberty.

Use of Silver as Money in the United States. WOODFORD, A. B., Ph. D., New York. Price, 35 cents.

A history of American coinage, with especial reference to silver, from the date of the first coin, 1783, to the passage of the so-called Sherman Act in 1890. A number of charts and tables are appended to give information not given in detail in the paper itself.

Utility and Cost as Determinants of Value. STROEVER, CARL, Chicago. Price, 25 cents.

Mr. Stroever attacks the Austrian theory that marginal utility is the final determinant of value. He maintains that the really final determinants of value, if there are any, are beyond our vision; but that as far as we can see both utility and cost, or rather pleasure and pain, determine value.

Values, Positive and Relative. TAYLOR, W. G. L., Professor of Political and Economic Science in the University of Nebraska. Price, 35 cents.

An attempt to harmonize with the older theories the more recent doctrines of Austrian and American economists.

SCRIPTURES.

The Society publishes only a few editions of the Bible and New Testament; but it keeps constantly in stock a very full line of Bibles and New Testaments of all sizes, styles, and prices, selected from the lists of the American Bible Society, the British and Foreign Bible Society, and from the great Bible publishers in America and Europe. The Teachers' Bibles of the Oxford and International Editions are made a specialty. The sale of Bibles of all kinds constitutes a large part of our business.

King James Version.

New Testament and Psalms. 8vo, 514 pp. Cloth, price, 35 cents; postpaid, 47 cents. Roan, 45 cents; postpaid, 57 cents. Imitation morocco, gilt edges, 75 cents; postpaid, 87 cents. 16mo, 544 pp., 30 cents; postpaid, 39 cents.

Canterbury American Revision.

New Testament of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. American Revised Edition. 518 pp. Long primer, crown octavo, cloth, red edges, price, 50 cents; 24mo, cloth, limp, flush, 20 cents; postpaid, 25 cents.

This is the new Revision into which have been incorporated the readings which the American Revisers desired to insert in the Canterbury Edition, but which the English Revisers unwisely declined to adopt. It is not a new Baptist Revision, but is simply a Revision such as the American Revisers desired to send forth to the world, as most truly giving the mind of the Spirit.

No alterations have been made except in spelling a few words differently from the English edition. We prefer "cloak" to "cloke," for this is American usage.—Christian Secretary.

This is one of the best red-edged editions we have seen, and doubtless it will have a large and immediate sale.—Herald of Truth.

American Bible Union Revision.

Book of Genesis, The. American Bible Union. With Explanatory Notes by T. J. Conant, D. D. Octavo, 209 pp. Price, 75 cents.

Books of Joshua, Judges, Ruth, 1 and 2 Samuel, and 1 and 2 Kings, The. With an Introduction and Occasional Notes. By T. J. Conant, D. D. 8vo, 384 pp. Price, $2.00.

Job. Hebrew and English. 16mo, 198 pp. Price, 50 cents.

Job. Revised version. 16mo, 100 pp. Price, 40 cents.

John. Quarto, 157 pp. Price, 80 cents.

Proverbs. Quarto, 276 pp. Price, $2.00.

Psalms. 8vo, 222 pp. Price, 75 cents.

New Testament. American Bible Union Revision. 8vo, 488 pp. Price, $1.00.

New Testament. American Bible Union Revision. 18mo, 488 pp. Price, 50 cents.

New Testament. American Bible Union Revision. 32mo, 488 pp. Price, 20 cents.

New Testament and Psalms. American Bible Union Revision. 8vo, 722 pp. Price, $1.50.

Bible Union New Testament. 18mo, 590 pp. [Edition with Baptize.] Price, cloth, 30 cents; postpaid, 37 cents; morocco, $2.00.

Bible Union New Testament. 18mo, 590 pp. [Edition with Immerse.] Price, cloth, 30 cents; postpaid, 37 cents; morocco, $2.00.

This work is an improved edition of that published by the American Bible Union, being carefully edited and revised by Drs. John A. Broadus, Henry G. Weston, and Alvah Hovey. The exact meaning of the inspired text is translated by corresponding words and phrases, as far as they can be found in the present state of the English language. The editors have freely availed themselves of the earlier and later English versions and revisions, as well as the original text. Inasmuch as differences of opinion exist as to the displacing of words used in the commonly received version relating to ordinances of baptism, two editions of this revised version are published; the one retaining the words "immerse," etc., employed in the Bible Union version, and the other the words "baptize," etc., found in the commonly received version, but in all other respects the two editions are alike.

The Annotated Paragraph Bible. Bible and Commentary Combined. 8vo, 1498 pp. Price, half morocco, $5.00; full sheep, $8.00.

Gives in a small compass, in a condensed, but at the same time convenient and popular form, the substance of what the learning and piety of successive ages have contributed to the elucidation of the word of God. An entirely new edition of this Bible has been prepared by the Religious Tract Society of London, and is being placed on the American market by the Publication Society.

New Testament and Psalms. Sq. 16mo, 544 pp. Price, 30 cents.

COMMENTARIES.

An American Commentary on the New Testament.

Edited by ALVAH HOVEY, D. D., LL. D.

Volume I.

Matthew. By John A. Broadus, D. D., LL. D. 8vo, 664 pp. Price, $2.25.

The exposition advances steadily, from beginning to end, never skipping a hard place nor dodging a difficulty, but explaining whatever the learning of the present day furnishes the means of explaining, and pointing out the reason why other difficult passages are left still in uncertainty.

Take it all in all, this is much the best Commentary on the First Gospel that I have ever read. Its learning is ample and exact, placing it beside the works of Meyer, Weiss, and Godet; while its sobriety of judgment, its reverence of tone, and its clear beauty of diction, will commend it to all. Equally adapted to plain men and to scholars.—Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D.

For general use it is second to none. Others may excel in their own peculiar lines, but for universal use, and thorough practical instruction, we award the palm to this work.—Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, in Sword and Trowel.

Volume II.

Mark and Luke. 8vo, 653 pp. Price, $2.75.

Mark. By W. N. Clarke, D. D.

The author traces the gradual unfolding of the work which the Lord came to establish, as shown in this Gospel which is especially fitted to show him as the earnest and indefatigable worker.

The commentary is well-nigh perfect. Its exegesis is exact, trustworthy, and just. Its notes are clear and comprehensive.—Herald of Truth.

Luke. By Geo. R. Bliss, D. D., LL. D.

Taking the work as a whole, it seems to us remarkable for the care and judgment shown, for the scholarly accuracy of its exegesis, and for its clear and chaste English style.—The Standard.

The notes are conservative, comprehensive, wise, edifying.—The Examiner.

Volume III.

John. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 8vo, 423 pp. Price, $2.25.

This volume bears evident marks of deep, patient, reverent study, both of the letter and spirit of the Gospel that sets forth Jesus as the Son of God.

The introduction is a paper of especial merit. Here in about fifty solid pages we have a lucid and learned discussion of (1) the authorship of the Gospel according to John; (2) its trustworthiness as a historical record, especially as a record of the discourses of Jesus; (3) the time and place of its composition; and (4) the occasion, object, and plan of it. This introduction alone is worth more than the price of the whole work.—Baptist Review.

The explanations and comments are lucid, painstaking, and full, and the whole work is pervaded with a tender, loving, Johannic spirit.—Religious Herald.

Dr. Hovey's introduction to his commentary, in this volume, fills some fifty pages, and is almost a treatise in itself. The commentary is no less a careful, judicious, and exhaustive piece of work than the introduction.—The Standard.

There is nothing greater in the New Testament than the Gospel of John, and we have no scholar better qualified to expound it.—The Examiner.

The comments are clear and full, and free from exegetical technicalities. The most recent authorities have been consulted, alike for the introduction and notes.—Sunday School Times.

Volume IV.

Acts and Romans. 8vo, 673 pp. Price, $3.25.

Acts. By Horatio B. Hackett, D. D. With Editorial Notes by Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D., in consultation with Ezra Abbott, LL. D.

This commentary of Dr. Hackett has been regarded, both in this country and in Europe, as a standard work. The second edition was carefully revised and much enlarged by the author. The work now issued is edited by Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D., with Notes bringing to bear all the light thrown upon the book by the most recent researches.

The value of the volume is greatly enhanced by many critical, exegetical, historical, and homiletical notes from the careful pen of Dr. Hovey.—Christian Secretary.

Romans. By Albert N. Arnold, D. D., and Rev. D. B. Ford.

This commentary was begun by Dr. A. N. Arnold, but left unfinished at his death. It was afterward taken up by Rev. D. B. Ford, and completed. The joint labor of these two distinguished and able brethren has given us an exceedingly valuable contribution to the interpretation of this great epistle. It presents not merely a rapid analysis of the various profound and important doctrines which the apostle discusses, but affords a real help to those who may wish to make a thorough study of the divine teachings embodied in this great treasury of revealed truth.

Volume V.

Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, and Thessalonians. 8vo, 638 pp. Price, $2.50

Corinthians. By E. P. Gould, D. D.

Its plan is both critical and exegetical, and will prove a valuable aid to the student in coming to a full understanding of these epistles of the apostle. The running commentary on each chapter is closed with critical notes and an analysis, showing most careful and learned research among the various existing manuscripts, which the biblical student will appreciate and value as they deserve.—The Christian at Work.

We think the commentary will take rank with the best works as an aid to the thoughtful students of these epistles.—Christian Secretary.

This work is the best commentary on the Corinthians which has yet appeared. It is sound, judicious, luminous, and can never be consulted in vain. The supplemental notes, by Dr. Alvah Hovey, are of priceless value. They go straight to the heart of the subject, and are always scholarly, persuasive, and edifying.—Geo. A. Young, D. D., in Oldham Chronicle, England.

Galatians. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D.

This commentary, from the pen of Dr. Hovey, the General Editor of the American Commentary, bears all the well-known characteristics of the author.

Ephesians. By Justin A. Smith, D. D.

The author has grasped the conception of the glory of Christ and the divine dignity of his work as delineated by the apostle.

Philippians. By J. B. Gough Pidge, D. D.

The commentary is brief, clear, comprehensive, ever developing the views of the Lord that the apostle presents.

Colossians. By Edwin C. Dargan, D. D.

The epistle to the church at Colosse has both attractions and difficulties for the interpreter, of which the author of this commentary appears to have been fully aware. He has dealt with keen relish on the attractive portions, which he has presented in a manner to arrest and to hold the attention of the reader; in regard to the difficulties, he has discussed them with candor and caution.

Thessalonians. By Prof. William A. Stevens.

The author gives evidence in this work that he possesses, in an eminent degree, the spirit of interpretation, that he is quick to perceive the apostle's meaning, and apt in his expression of that meaning in good English for the benefit of his readers.

Volume VI.

Timothy, Titus, Philemon, Hebrews, James, Peter. 8vo, 557 pp. Price, $2.75.

Timothy, Titus, Philemon. By H. H. Harvey, D. D.

The author of these commentaries has sought to develop the pastoral lesson embodied in the epistles, and has made a work that will exert an important influence in guiding the pastoral labor of both the present and of future generations. His book bears striking evidence of earnest and scholarly research, while his style is marked with great precision and perfect lucidness.

Hebrews. By A. C. Kendrick, D. D., LL. D.

The author has left on each page of his thoroughly studied work passages that will no doubt cause the hearts of his readers to burn within them.

To our mind, the author has solved the problem of making a commentary suited to both scholar and plain people as completely as it can be solved. This must be pronounced one of the very best additions to the series.—The Examiner.

James. By E. T. Winkler, D. D.

Dr. Winkler expounds the Epistle of James with singular felicity and force. Its fervor and fearlessness must strike every reader. The doctor has a pungent, pithy, and pointed pen, and so he drives home the permanent lessons of all the texts as he expounds them.—The Bury Free Press, England.

It is scholarly and clear, and sound and juicy.—Western Recorder.

Peter. By N. M. Williams, D. D.

Dr. Williams' work is worthy of a place in the great series of commentaries. He has not shunned, as do many writers, the difficult texts, but gives a clear statement of what seems to be the true interpretation.—Baltimore Baptist.

Volume VII.

John, Jude, and Revelation. 8vo, 425 pp. Price, $2.25.

John. By H. A. Sawtelle, D. D.

Pregnant, suggestive, and reverent, this last work of Dr. Sawtelle will be reverently cherished as a valuable aid in the deeply interesting study of this portion of the New Testament.—Baltimore Baptist.

Jude. By N. M. Williams, D. D.

Dr. N. M. Williams' exposition of Jude is masterly, robust, and learned.—The Bury Free Press.

Revelation. By Justin A. Smith, D. D., in consultation with James Robinson Boise, Ph. D., D. D., LL. D.

The author has given an exceptionally good and satisfactory interpretation of this wonderful book. He aims to indicate the great currents of Christian and world history, which the symbolical language of the Revelation presents. He has succeeded in producing a work which the devout Christian can read and study with deep satisfaction.

The work in this whole series is done with good sense and ability. The series comes perhaps nearer the ideal commentary than any other. It is not embarrassed with ostentatious, useless, or fastidious scholarship. The type of scholarship engaged on it has been excellent, both from the scholarly and religious point of view. Though projected and carried out by Baptist collaborators under Baptist editorship, and fairly representative of the denominational position, it is broad, catholic, and fair; a very satisfactory illustration of the new ideas and conceptions of Christian people as to the nature, limits, and obligations of denominational fidelity.

Complete Set of Seven Volumes. Price, $16.00.

A PEOPLE'S COMMENTARY,

By Geo. W. Clark, D. D.

Matthew. 12mo, 420 pp. Price, $1.25.

Mark. 12mo, 394 pp. Price, $1.25.

Luke. 12mo, 504 pp. Price, $1.25.

John. 12mo, 336 pp. Price, $1.25.

The merits of the excellent commentaries by Dr. Clark have been widely recognized. The accurate scholarship of the author, his careful study, his candid and courteous spirit, and his experience in the work of a pastor eminently fit him for the work he has so successfully prosecuted—the preparation of "a popular commentary on a critical basis."—Henry G. Weston, D. D., President of Crozer Theological Seminary.

They are, in my judgment, more valuable than those of Ripley, Barnes, Abbot, etc. While they are "explanatory and practical," they rest on a "critical basis," and may be profitably read by the learned and unlearned. I know of no exposition of the Gospels better suited to the wants of the masses of the people.—J. M. Pendleton, D. D., Upland, Pa.

The Acts. Explanatory and Practical. 12mo, 416 pp. Price, $1.25.

This volume is prepared on a critical basis, with scriptural references of great value, and expository notes enriched from the latest and best authorities. Its practical remarks stimulate thought, and are suited alike to teachers' meetings, Sunday-school classes, and the lecture room. The notes give prominence to the living questions of the day, the bearing of the book of Acts upon church polity, practice, Christian faith and life, missions, and evangelistic work. It is especially suited to cultivate in our membership, and especially among our young people, the great fundamental doctrines and practices of our denomination.

NEW AND REVISED EDITIONS OF THE ABOVE HAVE BEEN ISSUED.

The commentary will be completed in NINE volumes. The volume containing Romans and 1 and 2 Corinthians is in preparation. Hebrews, by Dr. O. P. Eaches, in conjunction with Dr. Clark, will appear shortly. The remaining volumes will be issued as soon as practicable.

The volumes will be bound in uniform and attractive style, and will be sold at the very low price of $1.25 per volume, or $9.00 for the set. The work will form one of the cheapest and best commentaries for the average Bible student issued.

Romans, I. and II. Corinthians. By Geo. W. Clark, D. D. 12mo, 425 pp. Price, $1.25.

Dr. Geo. W. Clark has been long and familiarly known as a commentator. His "Notes," now incorporated in "A People's Commentary," have been of very great service to plain students of the New Testament. The above volume is an addition to this work. It has all the elements that have made its predecessors so popular. It shows acquaintance with the best scholarship, but in form and method it puts its material within the reach of all.

English Harmony of the Gospels. By Geo. W. Clark, D. D. 12mo, 302 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is an old friend in a new form. Some few errors have been corrected, and the book has been brought out to conform in general style to "A People's Commentary," under which heading are now grouped all of Dr. Clark's Notes on the Gospels. The Harmony has done good service and attained a recognized position among scholars and Bible students.

Harmony of the Acts of the Apostles. By George W. Clark, D. D. 12mo, 408 pp. Price, $1.25.

This work was first issued in 1884. Its design, the author says, was "to help intelligent Sunday-school teachers and others to study fundamentally and independently this very important and central book of the New Testament." The aim of Dr. Clark was attained, and the book has proven of great service. The publication of a new edition has afforded opportunity for the correction of a few errors and the addition of considerable new matter. The most important portion of the latter is the chronological arrangement of the Epistles, reprinted from the Improved Version. The book should be in the hands of all students of the New Testament.

Brief Notes on the New Testament. The Gospels, by Geo. W. Clark, D. D.; the Acts, Epistles, and Revelation, by J. M. Pendleton, D. D. One volume. 16mo, 748 pp. Price, $1.00.

The design of this work is to furnish a brief commentary on the New Testament that would present the results of the most careful study without the various processes by which these results are reached.

The maps and the harmony of the Gospels that precede the notes, as well as the varied matter embraced in the appendix, will be found of interest and utility.

Gospel According to Matthew. By Henry G. Weston, D. D. 16mo, 48 pp. Price, 15 cents.

Dr. Weston has written the most original and powerful essays on the Gospels that have ever appeared in America from an American.—Dr. Howard Crosby.

DENOMINATIONAL WORKS.

Act of Baptism in the History of the Christian Church. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. 16mo, 252 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The author of this volume has collected from all available sources testimony in regard to the act of baptism, from the time of the Lord until the present day.

Adoniram Judson. A biography by his son, Edward Judson, D. D. 12mo, 190 pp. Price, 90 cents.

In the procuring of material, Dr. Judson has made use of his former book, but the story has been entirely rewritten. It can never be an old one, any more than can the Acts of the Apostles. The heroism of it, the sublime daring that would lead a few men and women single-handed, but for God, to cast themselves against the blank darkness of heathenism, and immure themselves in it away from home and all the delights of Christian civilization, as dear to them as to any, can never lose its power unless men shall lose their admiration for the heroic and their love for God and men.

American Baptist Missions in Africa. By Rev. H. A. Tupper. 16mo. Leatherette. 48 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This is a brief, but comprehensive and clear account of Baptist mission work in the dark continent.

American Baptist Year-Book for 1898, The. J. G. Walker, D. D., Editor. Octavo, 224 pp. Price, 25 cents.

This valuable compendium of information appears in an entirely new form. It is now octavo, with a decorative and symbolic cover. It contains additional information and in every way is an indispensable adjunct to any minister's and intelligent layman's outfit for denominational information. Its low price of twenty-five cents puts it within the reach of all, and no one can afford to be without it.

Anabaptists of Switzerland, The. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. 12mo, 231 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work shows that Greble, Mantz, Reublin, Blaurock, Hetzer, Hübmeier, Stumpf, were all persecuted, and many of them slain, for holding and teaching some of the distinctive truths which are now the common heritage of evangelical Christians.

Bible Societies and the Baptists. By C. C. Bitting, D. D. 12mo, 95 pp. Price, paper, 15 cents; cloth, 25 cents.

This pamphlet will be of great value to any one wishing to be informed of the connection of Baptists with the course of Bible Society work. Nowhere else can the same documents be found brought together, and nowhere will the theme be found more fairly treated. Dr. Bitting has done a much needed work, and one that will be appreciated by all who desire the facts.

Baptism, Christian. By Andreas Wiberg, A. M. With a likeness of the author. 16mo, 311 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This work is adapted to biblical scholars, as well as to devout Christians. Its compass is sufficient to comprehend the entire subject of inquiry, to exhaust the evidence on both sides, and to conduct the reader to a satisfactory conclusion by putting him in possession of the whole argument, and disposing of all objections, whether from Scripture or from history.

Baptism in its Mode and Subjects. By Alexander Carson, LL.D. With a sketch of his life. 8vo, 552 pp. Price, $1.75.

This work has been universally admitted to be a masterpiece of criticism, logic, and learning—the most formidable attack on the strongholds of Pedobaptism which this or any other age has produced.

Baptism of the Ages and of the Nations. By Rev. W. Cathcart, D. D. 16mo, 222 pp. Price, $1.00.

In this work the author has furnished some very interesting and important chapters on the history of baptism, showing what baptism has been in different centuries and nations.

Much that this book contains will be new to all save those who have read somewhat widely upon this subject.—The Standard.

Baptism, Pengilly's Scripture Guide to. 18mo, 180 pp. Price, 40 cents.

If any book of human origin can be properly denominated a Scripture Guide to Baptism, this certainly deserves this title.

Few books have been more useful. It has been translated into French, German, and Swedish. More than 30,000 copies have been sold in this country.

Baptist History; from Foundation of Christian Church to close of Eighteenth Century. By J. M. Cramp, D. D. 12mo, 598 pp. Price, $1.25.

It has been generally acknowledged that this is the best history of the Baptists that has ever been written. The author has studied each period with special care, and with a calm, critical judgment.

Baptist Hymn Writers and Their Hymns. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. Illustrated, 8vo, 682 pp. Price, $1.50.

Baptist Layman's Book. A Compendium of Baptist History, Principles, Practices, and Institutions. By W. W. Everts, D. D. 12mo, 180 pp. Price, cloth, 75 cents; paper, 25 cents.

There are eight chapters in this work, setting forth (1) "Compend of Baptist History." (2) "Baptist Theses." (3) "Baptist Faith." (4) "Ethics in Catechism." (5) "Baptist Usages." (6) "Baptist Institutions." (7) "Objections to Baptists." (8) "Rules of Order and Forms." There will, no doubt, be many pastors who will use this brief, compact, and comprehensive manual as a text book for the instruction of the young of their flocks.

Baptist Martyrs. By Joseph Belcher, D. D. Three historical engravings. 12mo, 309 pp. Price, $1.25.

The book is adapted to make a powerful impression, and will have many readers. It is worthy of being studied by all who love and reverence the truth.—Religious Herald.

Baptismal Balance. By J. Newton Brown, D. D.

Baptism in History in the East and the West. By J. C. Long, D. D.

Baptism Discovered Plainly and Faithfully according to the Word of God. By John Norcott.

Reasons for Becoming a Baptist. By Rev. S. Remington.

Pedobaptist Church no Home for a Baptist. By Robert T. Middleditch.

Baptists. Their Origin, Continuity, Principles, Spirit, Polity, Position, and Influence. By T. G. Jones, D. D. 16mo, 228 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A brief volume, in which the seven points specified in the title-page in relation to the Baptists are discussed with great clearness and force.

Baptist Short Method. By Rev. Edward T. Hiscox, D. D. 18mo, 216 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The object of this book is to give a clear, condensed, but comprehensive view of those points of difference which distinguish Baptists from other denominations, and to furnish the best arguments in the fewest words for those who wish to know and to defend our views. It is the result of careful and extended study; it culls truths and the best arguments from all reliable sources, and presents the subject in the strongest light and most effective form.

The Baptist Principle. By W. C. Wilkinson, D. D. 12mo, 368 pp. Price, $1.25.

The publishers' note prefacing this book calls it "One of the most important discussions of the theme ever published for our denomination." A study of the volume will convince one of the truth of these words. Its argument is keen, its reasoning logical, its language luminous. So inexorably does it lay down the Baptist principle of obedience to Scripture that evasion is scarcely possible, and that, accepted, the pathway can hardly be mistaken.

Baptists in Sweden. By Mrs. M. F. Anderson. Four engravings and a colored map of Sweden. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 80 cents.

The volume is full of extraordinary interest. It abounds with examples of holy zeal and patient suffering, worthy of the days of the early Christian martyrs.

Baptizein, the Meaning and Use of. Philologically and Historically Investigated. By T. J. Conant, D. D. 8vo, 163 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This work is designed for English readers, as well as for those familiar with the Greek language. It quotes passages in which the word baptizein occurs, "from every period of Greek literature," and "exhausts the use of the word in Greek literature." Every quotation is given accurately in the original. Below this is a translation "made as literal as possible."

Century of Baptist Foreign Missions, A. An outline sketch. By Sophie Bronson Titterington. 12mo, 297 pp. Price, $1.25.

Among the interesting signs of the times is the appearance of this volume. The author modestly calls it "An Outline Sketch." Of course, treating of a Century of Baptist Foreign Missions, nothing but a sketch could be compressed into three hundred 16mo pages; but it is a graphic and interesting sketch.

The reader will obtain a good bird's eye view of the extended missionary work, and of the happy results that have been attained.

Chaplain Smith and the Baptists. By R. A. Guild, LL. D. 12mo, 429 pp. Price, $2.00.

The life of Chaplain Hezekiah Smith extended over a very important period of the history of this country and of the Baptists. It is a standard work of great valne.

Church Manual. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 18mo, 180 pp. Price, 40 cents.

This work briefly treats of the nature, the offices, the doctrines, the ordinances, the government, the discipline, the duties of a church. There are appended rules for business meetings of churches or associations, forms of minutes and letters, marriage ceremony, remarks on the province of associations and councils. As a brief manual it is invaluable.

Church Order. By J. L. Dagg, D. D. 8vo, 300 pp. Price, $1.50.

A valuable treatise upon all points of church order.

Concise Manual of Baptism, A. By J. Hunt Cooke. 12mo, 128 pp. Price, 50 cents.

There is no lack of books on baptism, but there are few as good as this. In thoroughness of discussion and in range of topics, we know of no book that embodies so much in so brief a space. It is a capital little volume to put into the hands of any one desiring the latest and best information on the subject of which it treats.

Constitution and Polity of the New Testament Church. By Henry G. Weston, D. D. 8vo, 76 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This is the "ecclesiology" of Dr. Johnson's "Theology" in a separate and independent form. It is clear, strong, and unanswerable in its positions.

Diary of John Comer. Edited with Notes by C. Edwin Barrows, D. D., with an Introduction and a Few Additional Notes by James W. Willmarth, D. D., LL. D. 8vo, 132 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work is of historical value and interest to the general public, the citizens of Rhode Island, and to the Baptist denomination. The diary is of an antique pattern. As we read it we are carried back to days that in some respects seem to belong to remote antiquity. The author reveals himself as a man of thought, of decision, and of piety, but his expressions often appear to us quaint. Surely we may learn something of wisdom and reverence from men like him, even though their quaintness and simplicity create a smile.

Distinctive Baptist Principles. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 12mo, 238 pp. Price, $1.25.

A clear and satisfactory presentation of the principles which make necessary the separation of Baptists from other denominations on certain points. It is written with distinctness and force.

Early Protestants of the East. By L. P. Brockett, M. D. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This little book gives us a new link that carries us far back of the Reformation to find Baptist churches.

History of the Baptists in New England, A. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. 12mo, 318 pp. Price, $1.25.

"It is the first serious attempt to write the history of New England Baptists 'up to date,' and no second attempt is likely to be made for many years, so satisfactorily does this book cover the field."—The Examiner.

"Dr. Burrage has produced a book that will be found almost invaluable for purposes of reference, and has furthermore, told his story with most commendable fairness and accuracy."—The Watchman.

History of the Baptists in the Middle States, A. By Henry C. Vedder. 12mo, 355 pp. Price, $1.25.

This volume is No. 2 in the District Baptist History Series, and is a worthy addition thereto. Prof. Vedder has brought to his task his historic instinct, and a determination to search out and be true to all facts within his reach. As he says in his preface, he has been compelled to a very large degree to go to original sources for these facts. His work therefore becomes doubly valuable, and no one who desires to be informed as to the Baptists of the Middle States can afford to be without it.

History of the Baptist Churches in the United States, A. By A. H. Newman, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 514 pp. Price, $1.75.

By special arrangement with the Christian Literature Company the Society has been enabled to offer a special edition of the above work, uniform in style with the author's "History of Anti-Pedobaptism." It is a worthy companion of that. As one of the series of denominational histories issued by the Christian Literature Company, the work has secured great commendation. It is said to be one of the very best books of its class.

History of Baptists in Western States East of the Mississippi. By Justin A. Smith, D. D. 12mo. Price, $1.25.

This is Dr. Smith's last work and will rank among his best. The three other volumes of this series will follow as speedily as possible.

History of the Telugu Mission, The. The Lone Star. By David Downie, D. D. 12mo, 232 pp. Price, $1.00.

No mission in existence has had a more romantic interest attaching to it than has our Baptist mission among the Telugus. Its unpromising beginning, its struggle for continuance, its awful famine, its wonderful ingathering, its "Lone Star," its magic name of Clough, have all combined to give it a place in the hearts of American Baptists unsurpassed by that of any other. No one who wants to be posted in regard to our missionary work can afford to be without this book. Two good maps, one a language map of India, several new illustrations, copious tables of contents, and a full index accompany the work.

Howell on Communion. The Terms of Communion at the Lord's Table. By Robert Boyle C. Howell, D. D. 16mo, 271 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This work has acquired an established reputation, both in this country and England, where it has been republished.

History of Anti-Pedobaptism, A. From the Rise of Pedobaptism to A. D. 1609. By Albert Henry Newman, D. D., LL. D. 12mo. 414 pp. Price, $2.00.

This is the history of Anti-Pedobaptist dissent from its beginning in the third century to 1609. Prof. Newman has had access to original sources and has done most thorough work. It is calm, fair, discriminating, and any one wanting an accurate representation of the period cannot afford to be without it.

Heroes and Hierarchs; or, Biblical Principles as Held by Baptists in the Contention for Religious Liberty. By Samuel Haskell, D. D. 12mo, 302 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work by Dr. Haskell gives most thrilling instances through all the Christian centuries of the struggle between heroes of the faith and worldly oppressors. Among the chapter headings are such as "From the Apostolic Period to the Imperial," "The Continental and Colonial Congresses," and "The Story of the Haldanes." It is worthy of careful perusal.

Lectures on Baptist History. By William R. Williams, D. D. 12mo, 360 pp. Price, $1.25.

"This work is a treasure of which any household may well be proud."—Zion's Advocate.

"It will at once take the first rank, both for its literary merits and its historic authority and value."—Canadian Baptist.

Lord's One Baptism, The. By Rev. B. J. Savage. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The design of this volume is to present in simple style the teaching of the New Testament on the subject of baptism, and to indicate the need of faithfulness in fulfilling the directions of our Lord in this ordinance; and also to suggest a basis of Christian union.

Manual of Baptism. By Rev. G. S. Bailey, D. D. 16mo, 346 pp. Price, $1.00.

Dr. Bailey's Manual is one of the best books on the much-discussed question of Baptism. It is clear, terse, and abundantly enforced by apt quotations from eminent Pedobaptist scholars conceding all that we affirm.

Mould of Doctrine, The. Study of Romans 6 : 17 as bearing on the Meaning and Value of the Specific Form of Baptism as appointed by our Lord. By Jesse B. Thomas, D. D. 16mo, 191 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The author maintains, with great force and clearness, that the question of baptism is not a question as to "a few drops of water more or less," but one of deeper significance and more vital importance. "Baptism is the Mould of Doctrine;" it was designed to set forth, in symbol, the resurrection of the Lord, the new birth, and subjection of the whole life as the central idea of Christianity.

Mother Church, The. By Henry M. King, D. D. 16mo, 85 pp. Leatherette, 15 cents; cloth, 50 cents; uncut edges, gilt top, 60 cents.

This is the history of the old First Baptist Church of Providence. Incidentally it treats of the baptism of Roger Williams.

Negro Baptist Pulpit, The. A collection of sermons and papers on Baptist doctrine and missionary and educational work. By colored Baptist ministers. Edited by E. M. Brawley, D. D. 12mo, 300 pp. Price, $1.25.

This volume is a commentary on the past twenty-five years of the negro race. Men and women expended money and labor on them, and this volume shows that it was not in vain. All who have an interest in the race will want to see what their leaders can do. Rev. E. M. Brawley, D. D., with whom the idea of the volume originated, collected and edited the addresses. He wrote several of them himself, and deserves great credit for his success.

New Baptist Church Manual, A. Paper. 66 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A capital little pamphlet to put into the hands of our church-members; will inform them of our history and ways. Includes baptismal certificate.

New Directory for Baptist Churches, The. By Edward T. Hiscox, D. D. 12mo, 604 pp. Price, $1.50.

This "New Church Directory for Baptist Churches," prepared by Dr. Hiscox, is exhaustive in its method, complete in its information, clear in its statements, conservative and careful in its positions, and contains within the covers of one book all that is needed for correct knowledge and guidance in reference to our faith and practice. Indeed, so complete is it in its discussions, and so intelligent in its treatment, that it is likely to be a standard authority for many years. It should find a place in the libraries of all our ministers, and of our intelligent members.

New Testament Church, The. By Rev. W. H. H. Marsh. 12mo, 544 pp. Price, $2.00.

Dr. Marsh has, for a long time to come, said the last word on this important subject. In fullness of treatment, in industrious gleaning of facts, in skillful argument, in calm, fair, dispassionate discussion, and in almost exhaustless copiousness of reference, this work has few superiors. We know of nothing that can take its place along the line of the subject treated. It will be a mine of information and help to many a Baptist minister and give an added confidence in the soundness of the foundation on which our denomination stands. No more important work than this on church polity has been published for a long time.

Pedobaptism: Is it from Heaven or of Men? By J. M. Frost, D. D. 16mo, 199 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This book may be earnestly recommended for wide, for general circulation, because in its very first line it assails what has justly been called the stronghold of Pedobaptism, their underlying feeling that it is not of any special importance to do just that and only that which our Master has commanded. In addition to this, it is a clear, strong, courteous argument to show that Pedobaptism is not from God, but of men.

Short History of the Baptists, A. (A new and revised edition.) By Henry C. Vedder. 12mo. 246 pp. Price, 60 cents.

A history of the Baptists written in an interesting style, yet with scholarly accuracy, not so voluminous as to repel readers, and cheap enough to be owned by the poorest, has long seemed to be a greatly needed book.

Southern Baptist Pulpit, The. Edited by Rev. J. F. Love. 12mo, 433 pp. Price, $1.50.

This volume contains sermons by some of the most prominent men of the South. Many of them were preached at the session of the Southern Baptist Convention held at Washington, 1895. Each sermon has a picture of the preacher, and a brief description of his life. This is a unique feature.

Spicy Breezes from Minnesota Prairies. By Boston W. Smith (Uncle Boston). Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This interesting work is designed to give sketches of Missionary and Sunday-school work in Minnesota, during the different seasons of the year.

Standard Manual for Baptist Churches, The. By Edward T. Hiscox, D. D. 18mo, 174 pp. Price, 40 cents.

No one is greater authority on questions of Baptist polity, and no one has had greater influence in making it uniform in its working, than the author of this book. Years ago the "Baptist Church Directory" (old) was published, and was followed some years after by the "Star Book." Both of these had a large circulation. Some time since a desire was expressed by the Calvary Church of New York for something larger than the one of these books and smaller than the other. The Standard Manual was thus prepared, which seemed so much superior to what had preceded it, that it was deemed not best to confine it to a single church, but offer it for general circulation. It can heartily be commended to our churches as an authority on all matters pertaining to our doctrine and a guide in all matters connected with the transaction of business.

Studies on the Baptismal Question. Including a review of Dr. Dale's "Inquiry into the Usage of Baptizo." By Rev. David B. Ford. 8vo, 416 pp. Price, $2.00.

In this work the author, while defending the ground on which the Baptists have so strongly intrenched themselves, has subjected to severe critical examination various works designed to show that something else than immersion is "The Baptism" commanded by the Lord, and designed by him to be faithfully observed until he comes again. His refutation of Dr. Dale's arguments on "intusposition" are strong and conclusive.

STANDARD RELIGIOUS.

Abstract of Systematic Theology. By James P. Boyce, D. D., LL. D. 8vo, 506 pp. Price, $3.00.

This is an admirable piece of work—compact, well arranged, and with a good, critical statement of the various forms of doctrinal opinion under each topic. The whole is done in a clear, strong, and manly way, with no evasion of difficulties, no sentimental coloring or softening, but everywhere bold, honest thinking expressed in plain, vigorous, and excellent English.

Along the Pilgrimage. By Wayland Hoyt, D. D. 18mo, 167 pp. Price, 50 cents.

We have presented in this attractive little volume a series of forty topics distinctly Christian, discussed briefly, in a way always clear and forcible, and often exceedingly striking and suggestive.

Ancient British and Irish Churches, The. Including the Life and Labors of St. Patrick. By William Cathcart, D. D. 8vo, 347 pp. Price, $1.50.

History is being re-written. Many questions supposed to be settled are being re-discussed, and the verdict hitherto pronounced is undergoing reversal. So misconceptions regarding our Puritan ancestors are in process of correction, and the pre-founders of our Baptist churches, the Anabaptists, are emerging from the unjust aspersions cast upon them by their unchristian enemies, and revealing themselves to us as the true men they knew themselves to be.

It was time that some one should do the same work for our Christian ancestors of the British Islands. It is worth much to have this work done. Dr. Cathcart has devoted years of his life to the task. He has gone to the original sources of information, and hosts of authorities substantiate the statements made. Copious indexes have been prepared, putting the material of the volume at complete control. The work is a credit to the author and publishers, and will remain a standard on the theme of which it treats.

Angels. By Rev. T. T. Eaton. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 50 cents.

We have here the result of much careful study and earnest thought upon such subjects as Gradations in the Ranks of Beings; the Nature, Occupations, and Functions of Angels; Angels as Spectators; the Fall of the Angels; and the Work of Evil Angels.

Angels and Demons. By Mrs. Geo. C. Needham. 12mo, 133 pp. Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This work is most opportune, since the standard book on this subject, Dean Trench's, is now hard to procure. Mrs. Needham has given a great deal of study to the subject and has furnished a handbook which will be of genuine service to those desiring to know what can be known of this perplexing but scriptural topic.

Apostolic Ministry, The. A Sermon. By Francis Wayland, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 64 pp. Cloth, red edges. Price, 15 cents.

This sermon, by the eminent President Wayland, appeared in a volume of "Sermons to the Churches," published in 1858, but which is now out of print. Whatever attitude one may sustain as to the current dispute regarding theological training, he cannot be otherwise than interested in these words from one who was an acknowledged prince among the educators of our denomination. Their loyalty to Bible teaching and the old-time ring which pervades them, will make their message one of unusual weight and influence. The pamphlet is neatly bound in cloth, with red edges, and should have the large circulation it deserves.

Argument for Christianity, The. By Geo. C. Lorimer, D. D. 12mo, 480 pp. Price, $1.50.

The contents of the chapters will give some idea of the scope of the book: Christianity and its Argument; The Argument from History; The Argument from Christ; from Testimony; from Miracles; from Prophecy; from Humanity; from Achievement; from Concession; from Comparison. These are the headings of the chapters in which the discussion is embodied. With a fullness of treatment, a fairness of view, a wealth of illustration, and copiousness of reference to requisite authorities, at once admirable and convincing, Dr. Lorimer proceeds under these heads to marshall all his forces for the exposition and defense of the faith whose disciple he is. Copious indexes put one at once in command of its contents, and will render it as valuable for a book of reference as otherwise it will be for perusal.

Atonement of Christ, The. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 12mo, 176 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The work is marked by the author's well-known lucidness of expression and deep reverence for the word, the work, and the person of the Lord. He discusses the nature of the atonement; the necessity of the atonement; the value of the atonement; the extent of the atonement; the result of the atonement; and ends with concluding addresses: (1) To ministers; (2) to Christians; (3) to awakened sinners; (4) to impenitent sinners.

"The statements of the author are lucid, candid, instructive, and well adapted to convince and rouse to action. Saints and sinners alike should be benefited by the discussion and by the appeals."—Pulpit Treasury.

Attractive Christ, and Other Sermons, The. By Robert Stuart MacArthur. 12mo, 327 pp. Price, $1.25.

This book is made up of sermons preached in connection with Dr. MacArthur's ordinary work in Calvary Church, New York. As will be seen by examination, the general standard is high and the volume cannot fail both to stimulate and to help. One unique feature in Dr. MacArthur's pulpit work is that in considering the text of his sermon in any given case he goes to the original, and hence secures meanings oftentimes that do not appear in the translation. The book can be earnestly commended to those who desire biblical information as well as spiritual profit.

Benjamin Griffith, D. D. Biographical sketches contributed by friends. Edited by Charles H. Banes, A. M. 12mo, 296 pp. Price, $1.00.

"Each sketch is laconic, but comprehensive and well written. Taken together they give us a complete picture, a correct likeness of the man, physically, mentally, socially, and religiously. A model which all, especially the young, would do well to study and imitate."—The Baptist, Baltimore.

Bremen Lectures on Great Religious Questions of To-day, The. By various eminent European divines. Translated from the original German by David Heagle, D. D. 12mo, 406 pp. Price, $1.50.

The "Bremen Lectures," by German scholars of the first class, first appeared in 1868. Shortly afterward an English translation was prepared and the book attracted wide notice, both for its ability and evangelical tone. It seemed so strong, and likewise so timely, that this "New and Improved Edition" has been prepared. It has been made additionally valuable in that it has portraits of the writers and likewise biographical sketches. It should find a place in every minister's library.

Biblical Eschatology. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The work which the author has undertaken is comprehensive, sweeping over the wide field embraced within the scope of the subject, and it is characterized by the author's well-known thoroughness and lucidity. An idea of its full scope may be obtained by the presentation of the mere titles of the parts into which the book is divided: 1. Natural Death. 2. Resurrection of the Dead. 3. Condition of Human Souls Between Death and the Resurrection. 4. The Last Judgment. 5. The Final State of Believers. 6. The Final State of Unbelievers. Conclusion: The vast preponderance of good over evil in the moral government of God.

Blood of Jesus. 18mo, 122 pp. Price, 30 cents.

This is one of those small works which the Lord sometimes puts it into the hearts of his servants to write, and which he crowns with an abundant blessing. The Society has issued 100,000 copies, and they have been spread far and wide.

Booth's Reign of Grace. From its Rise to its Consummation. 16mo, 315 pp. Price, 75 cents.

Booth's "Reign of Grace" has long been a standard work in our theological literature, and is highly esteemed by all evangelical Christians.

Bunyan's Holy War. The Holy War, made by Shaddai upon Diabolus, for the Regaining of the Metropolis of the World; or, The Losing and Taking Again of the Town of Mansoul. By John Bunyan. Illustrated by six engravings. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, 50 cents.

Bunyan was himself in his early life a soldier. He had thus acquired that familiar experience with the details of military life which is so skillfully displayed throughout the "Holy War."

Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. New edition. Forty illustrations. 12mo, 431 pp. Price, 75 cents. Gilt edition, $1.00.

This is a beautiful edition in large type, on good paper, with illustrations that are inserted because they really do illustrate. There is no edition superior to this one. "Pilgrim's Progress" is one of the few books that are more and more in demand as the years roll on. Every boy and girl ought to be sure and read it. The "Biographical Sketch" has been prepared expressly for this edition. It was deemed necessary, because recent researches have been made that throw light on the ancestry of the author, on the worldly position of the family from which he sprang, and on the place of his confinement. The price is remarkably low.

Bunyan's Sinner's Progress; or, The Life and Death of Mr. Badman. 12mo, 324 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This volume is classed among Bunyan's Allegorical Works, though in several respects it differs from them. It is not delivered under the similitude of a dream, nor does it abound in picturesque scenery and diversified character; but it is the story of a man who represents a whole class of the wicked, in life and death. It is thus the counterpart of the "Pilgrim's Progress."

Carey, the Pioneer Missionary. William Carey. By James Culross, D. D. 16mo, 214 pp. Price, cloth, 50 cents; leatherette, 25 cents.

There is no more fascinating chapter of missionary history than that which deals with Carey and his times. Dr. Culross' story of this period and its principal actor ranks among the very best. We have in his pages, in strong, vivid, condensed form, a most interesting picture of Carey as man, missionary, and scholar. All ought to read and own some life of him. No one will regret possessing this. Its very low price should bring it into very general circulation.

Centenary Missionary Addresses. Delivered at missionary conferences and elsewhere, under the auspices of the American Baptist Missionary Union, in the years 1892 and 1893. 12mo, 228 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book is worthy of the occasion and purpose it is meant to serve. The names of Drs. Broadus, Moxom, Gordon, Moss, Strong, Robins, and Hovey, names of those whom our denomination delights to honor, are among those appearing, and their utterances are worthy of them and the cause on behalf of which they speak. The volume is neat in its appearance, cheap in price, historic in its occasion, noteworthy in its contributors, and most valuable in its contents, its appearance fittingly rounds out the centennial celebration, and it ought to be found in the hands of all our Baptist people. An appropriate and suggestive introduction has been prepared for the volume by Dr. Mabie, to whom the conferences owed so much in their inception and results.

Christian Doctrines: A Compendium of Theology. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 12mo, 426 pp. Price, $1.50.

This work presents briefly, but in a remarkably clear manner, the doctrines of the sacred Scriptures, and the organization and the ordinances of a Christian church.

"For a clear, concise, and scriptural treatise on systematic theology, this work has not an equal."—Battle Flag.

"In our opinion, it is the best book the Society has ever printed."—Biblical Recorder.

"The right book for our people, both ministers and laymen."—Central Baptist.

Christianity and Property: An Interpretation. By Rev. Albert E. Waffle. 12mo, 106 pp. Price, paper, 25 cents. Cloth, 50 cents.

In this pamphlet of one hundred pages Dr. Waffle starts with the New Testament presentation of the theme and carries it out into the acquirement, the consecration, and distribution of property. The underlying principle in the discussion is that of stewardship. The reading of the pamphlet cannot be otherwise than helpful.

Conservative Principle in our Literature, The. By William R. Williams, D. D. 12mo, 91 pp. Price, paper, 25 cents. Cloth, 50 cents.

This is a re-print of an anniversary address given at Hamilton in Dr. Williams' early career. Its strength of argument and its applicability to the present day make its re-publishing eminently appropriate.

Christian Experience: An Inquiry into its Character and its Contents. By D. W. Faunce, D. D. 16mo, 220 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The reality and value of a Christian experience are well set forth by the author, who has handled the subject in a masterly way, and with a reverent and devout spirit. This is an admirable book.

Christian's Pocket-Book. Counsels, comforts, and cautions, conveyed in short, striking sentences. 32mo, 128 pp. Extra cloth, gilt edges. Price, 25 cents.

"This is a neat miniature volume, and is well styled by the American editor a 'Casket of Gems.'"—Watchman and Reflector.

Christian Manhood. In memory of Col. Charles H. Banes. A Sermon. By W. T. Chase, D. D. 12mo, 45 pp. Price, cloth, 35 cents; paper, 15 cents.

The many friends of Col. Chas. H. Banes throughout the country will be glad of this little memorial of him. In the appreciative words of his pastor, we have a view of the man and his career, and in the letters published can see how others regarded him. Every young man especially should read this monograph.

Christian Teaching and Life. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 286 pp. Price, $1.25.

One of Dr. Hovey's most thorough works. There is no other book which along this line embraces so much.

Christ our Life, in its Origin, Law, and End. By Joseph Angus, D. D., Member of the Royal Asiatic Society, and President of the Baptist Theological College in London. 12mo, 336 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is a work of fundamental and permanent value. It was called forth by the offer of a premium of a thousand dollars. All the adjudicators appointed were leading evangelical members of the Church of England; but, among sixty-four manuscripts presented, this was unanimously judged worthy of the prize. The work itself is a classic. Such is the unanimous verdict of the American press, as well as of the English adjudicators.

"We think there are few works directed to the same object that can rival it for perspicuity and skill of construction."—Episcopal Recorder.

Christ's Acted Parables. A study of the miracles. By N. S. Burton, D. D. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

The author has conceived of the miracles of Christ as acted parables, as his title indicates. The miracle, according to his thought, contains moral, spiritual truth no less than the parable. It is conveyed in a different way. It appeals to the eye. Dr. Burton has given us a thoroughly good book. Its style is clear, its thought evangelical and strong, and its tone devotional throughout. It is not for scholars in the sense that the "Notes" of Dean Trench are, since it was prepared with a different purpose. It will be welcomed, however, we believe, by many of our pastors, by Sunday-school teachers, and by the average members of our churches.

Church, The; its Polity and Ordinances. By H. H. Harvey, D. D., 12mo, 248 pp. Price, $1.00.

"A brief, clear, concise answer to all who wish to know why Baptists are congregational in their church order, and why they maintain their well-known position in regard to the ordinances."—The Standard.

Conflict and Conquest; the Experiences of Father Flynn. By Rev. Geo. C. Needham. 12mo, 123 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The lively Irish character is here well shown in its struggles with convictions.

Current Questions for Thinking Men. By Robert Stuart MacArthur, D. D. 12mo, 422 pp. Price, $1.50.

As the preface states, this is a series of addresses delivered at various times and on different important occasions. They are characterized by all the directness, earnestness, and force of Dr. MacArthur's popular style. They comprise the discussion of such topics as "The Scholar in the World," "Christianity and the Secular Spirit," "Greater Baptist Efficiency," "The Development of the Church," "The True Function of the Minister," etc. They cannot do otherwise than interest and instruct all who read, and they will add to the already high reputation of their author. The volume is bound in uniform style with "Quick Truths," a volume of sermons by the same author.

Daily Help. A Scripture text for every day in the year. 32mo, 134 pp. Price, postpaid, only 15 cents.

This is a convenient pocket companion, neatly bound in cloth, with a gilt side stamp and red edges.

Dawn of Christianity, The; or, Studies of the Apostolic Church. By Prof. Henry C. Vedder. 16mo, 208 pp. Price, 90 cents.

Plain, clear, concise. It takes us right back into the midst of the men and events of the first century, and as nearly as we can we see them as they were. The work is divided into four parts: The Founding of the Church; The Gospel in Asia; the Gospel in Europe; and Establishing the Churches. We trust that the book will find a wide circle of students and readers among our young people especially, that by its aid they may be the better able to give a reason for the faith they hold.

Development of Doctrine in the Epistles, The. By Rev. C. R. Henderson, D. D. One of the Bible Handbook series. In press. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 50 cents.

Will be found invaluable for class-room work and for general information. Summaries accompany the several chapters, and a good index has been prepared.

Encyclopædia of Religious Knowledge. Edited by J. Newton Brown, D. D. Revised and Corrected by Rev. Geo. P. Tyler. Illustrated with Wood-cuts, Maps, and Engravings on Copper and Steel. Quarto, 1275 pp. Price, $4.00.

Fuller's Complete Works. The complete Works of Rev. Andrew Fuller. With a Memoir of his Life. By Andrew Gunton Fuller. 3 vols. With a portrait on steel. Price, $9.00.

"Fuller's Works might, without any very remarkable impropriety, be designated an encyclopedia of polemic, doctrinal, and practical theology. With giant steps he traverses the whole empire of revelation, and of reason as its handmaid. He is the Bacon of Scripture. It is a library in itself. The Bible and these works will suffice to make any man a firstrate theologian." —Rev. Dr. Campbell, in the London Christian Witness.

Facts and Fancies in Modern Science. By J. W. Dawson, LL. D., F. R. S. Six lectures delivered before the Crozer Theological Seminary, on the Samuel A. Crozer Lecture Fund. 12mo, with illustrations, 240 pp. Price, $1.25.

These lectures make a spirited and thorough examination of the "fancies" of that very busy class of "agnostic evolutionists" now so earnest in their efforts to sap the foundations of Christian faith and banish a personal God from the universe.

From Earth to Heaven; as viewed in the sermons, Bible readings, and reform papers, of Rev. A. R. Graves, Evangelist. 12mo, 341 pp. Price, $1.25.

Great Poets and Their Theology, The. By Augustus Hopkins Strong, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 549 pp. Price, $2.50.

Dr. Strong discourses in a masterly way in this book of Homer, Virgil, Dante, Shakespeare, Goethe, Milton, Wordsworth, Browning, and Tennyson. He first considers the poet in himself and times and work, and then carefully analyzes and estimates his theological opinions. The book gives evidence of the years of study it has cost, and cannot fail to give a new meaning to the poets discussed. It is a book that ought to have a wide circulation and careful study.

Gladstone, and Other Addresses. By Kerr Boyce Tupper, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 266 pp. Price, $1.00.

We believe that any who take this volume in their hands and with any degree of care scan its contents will agree with us that these papers deserve the permanent form in which they are here embodied. The addresses are on Gladstone, as the title indicates; on the contributions of Baptists to literature, on the Supremacy of Baptists, on John Knox, Martin Luther, and others of kindred interest. They are well expressed and are marked by the earnestness and force characteristic of Dr. Tupper's style. The form of the book is that of "Heroic Stature," and we believe that in its attractiveness it will commend itself to all lovers of well bound books.

Historical Books of the Old Testament, The. By Prof. Barnard C. Taylor, D. D. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 50 cents.

An admirably written treatise on the subject discussed, and will be found not only to be good reading, but also an excellent text book. Each chapter is supplied with a summary, and there is a carefully prepared index appended. Second in series of Bible Handbooks.

History of the English Bible, The. By Prof. T. Harwood Pattison, D. D. 12mo, 281 pp. Price, $1.25.

We cannot know too much about the Bible, and certainly not the English Bible, the one book which in its English dress has had such a wonderful career. It is of this English Bible that Prof. Pattison tells us the story, in a manner as fascinating as that of a romance, and with a style which it is a delight to read. It is popular in style, and at the same time scholarly and accurate. It is illustrated, and has a good index.

Hours with a Sceptic. By Rev. D. W. Faunce, D. D. 12mo, 240 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a book of Christian evidences. It purports to be a series of conversations with a sceptic, but the arguments of a lifetime are crowded into it. It is strong, vigorous, and up to the times. It will be found especially helpful to all who are desirous of increased knowledge of their faith and of the arguments by which to defend it.

How Christ Came to Church. The Pastor's Dream. A Spiritual Autobiography by A. J. Gordon, D. D., with The Life-story and the Dream as Interpreting the Man, by A. T. Pierson, D. D. 12mo, 147 pp. Price, 75 cents.

All know of the uniqueness of Dr. A. J. Gordon's ministry. It was far above the average in consecration and in results. The beginning of this fruitful ministry is attributed to the dream related in this book, and the results growing out of it constitute the biographical material gathered therein. All who know Dr. Gordon will want this book and others will, that they may know him.

Dr. A. T. Pierson, for long the friend of Dr. Gordon, gives a brief life-story and tells how the dream interprets the man.

Howell on the Deaconship. The Deaconship: its Nature, Qualifications, Relations, and Duties. By R. B. C. Howell, D. D. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 40 cents.

The most complete and comprehensive treatise extant upon this subject.

Heroic Stature. Five Addresses. By Nathan Sheppard. 12mo, 233 pp. Price, $1.00.

This volume comprises addresses on Luther, Latimer, Finney, Wesley, and Norman Macleod. They are characterized by that vivaciousness which was such an attractive element in Prof. Sheppard's style, and are full of information concerning the great men with whom they deal. The book is fine in its mechanical appearance and is worthy of a wide circulation.

Half-Hours with the Christ. By Thomas Moses. 12mo, 260 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book is the account of a series of studies of the life and work of Christ. An intelligent, educated woman, who had been a foreign missionary and had taught a Chinese class, followed with a group of young people the same plan in the study of the New Testament with especial reference to Christ. The study itself is full of interest and is presented in such a way that the book cannot fail to win favor among our young people. There is the thread of a story running through it sufficient to add to the interest. The book ought to find a place in every Sunday-school library.

Ideas from Nature. By William Elder, A. M., Sc. D., Professor of Chemistry, Colby University. 12mo, 202 pp. Price, 75 cents.

Professor Elder, in the preparation of this little book, has rendered a very great service not only to the Christian church, but also to those who, for one reason or another, have had their faith weakened. It is a capital discussion of some of the fundamental principles of Christian evidence. Some of the striking marks of design in nature are adduced, and therefrom arguments are drawn to prove the existence and the immanence of the Divine Being. We know of no better little book than this to put into the hands of any thoughtful young Christian.

Inspiration Considered as a Trend. By D. W. Faunce, D. D. 12mo, 351 pp. Price, $1.00.

A new view of an old topic. Timely and strong.

Indian Chief Journeycake, The. By Rev. S. H. Mitchell. 12mo, 108 pp. Price, 75 cents.

An interesting memoir, and shows well the influence of Christianity on semi-barbarous peoples.

Isle That is Called Patmos, The. By William Edgar Geil. Square 8vo, 195 pp. Profusely illustrated. Price, $1.50.

The book is very handsomely made. The pictures alone are more than worth the price of the book. Interspersed with descriptions of the country and its inhabitants are many accounts of Armenian atrocities. The book is a good one to catch up at odd moments.

Life of Jesus, The. By Rev. O. C. S. Wallace. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 60 cents.

It has been the thought of the writer to present a manual that might lead up to the larger and more exhaustive works of Farrar, Geikie, Edersheim, and others. In this purpose Mr. Wallace has succeeded in a way to win great praise. The matter of the book appeared in a series of studies in the Baptist Union, the organ of the National Young People's Society. It is commended by that society to its constituency, and has been catalogued as a volume in the "Christian Culture Courses," recently established.

Life of John P. Crozer. By J. Wheaton Smith, D. D. 12mo, 264 pp. Price, $1.50.

In this work we have a fitting memorial of one who was worthy to be held in everlasting remembrance.

Light for the Journey from Rutherford's Lamp. By Robert G. Seymour, D. D. 18mo, 132 pp. Price, 25 cents.

The author has here presented a large number of choice thoughts arranged under appropriate headings. They are taken from the rich treasure house of Rutherford's Letters.

Leaves from the Life of Lyman Jewett. By Finette Jewett. 12mo, 70 pp. Price, 50 cents.

Most people acquainted with missionary work at all know of Dr. Lyman Jewett's relationship to the early mission among the Telugus. Few, however, know of the sweet, pure, faithful life which he lived and the eminent service which he rendered. This little book tells of this in a style in which the daughter's love makes more eloquent, but not less truthful, the simple record. The mechanical appearance of the book should aid in giving it favorable reception.

Madison Avenue Lectures. 12mo, 454 pp. Price, $1.50.

This volume contains a series of eighteen lectures by some of the ablest Baptist ministers in the United States. It is said by judicious brethren that they know of no single volume which can at all compare with this in the variety of denominational topics, the able handling of the subjects, and the Christian spirit which pervades it.

Manual of Bible Readings. By Rev. E. T. Hiscox, D. D. 16mo, 148 pp. Price, 60 cents.

A very helpful selection of Bible readings on special topics.

Manual of Systematic Theology and Christian Ethics. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 8vo, 437 pp. Price, $2.50.

Among all the text-books on theology, Dr. Hovey's Manual will stand pre-eminent for its clear and terse statements and scriptural enforcement.

Manual of Theology. By J. L. Dagg, D. D. 8vo, 379 pp. Price, $2.00.

Uniform in binding and general appearance with "Church Order," by the same author. It is designed for the use of those who have not time and opportunity to study larger works on theology.

Married Life. A Blessing to the Truly Married. Arranged by Mrs. Dora E. W. Spratt. 16mo, 64 pp. Price, 50 cents.

In every way a gem. It consists of a collection of passages, poetical and prose, from a wide range of authors, bearing upon the blessings of married life. The book is divided into six portions, with an ornamental sub-title page prefacing each, and suited to the pages following. Each page has an ornamental initial letter. It contains a new engraved marriage certificate of exceptional beauty. At the close of the book is space for a record of wedding guests. The book is printed on fine plate paper. It is bound in pure white with side stamp—title and spray of orange blossoms in silver. Pastors will find it superior to anything of the kind now in the market at the same price, and equal to any of the higher-priced books. Its cheapness, its beauty, its choice contents, will make it a prized and popular wedding souvenir, where it is desired to give more than the ordinary marriage certificate.

Martin B. Anderson, LL. D. A biography. By A. C. Kendrick, D. D., LL. D. With personal portraiture by some of the most prominent graduates of Rochester University. Illustrated. 12mo, 295 pp. Price, $1.50.

A biography written by a master hand, and presenting in a brief compass the salient facts and forces connected with the life of one of our greatest educators.

Ministry of the Spirit, The. By A. J. Gordon, D. D. 12mo, 233 pp. Price, $1.00. More than 20,000 copies sold.

To all who may read and ponder the book, its rich scripturalness, its fervid spirit, its single-eyed spiritual devotion, and its broad, masterly exposition of the nature and privileges and power of a life in the Spirit, cannot be otherwise than suggestive and full of a genuine impulse toward a fuller life in Jesus Christ. It is well printed with good type and paper, and with scriptural and general index. It is a book that will form a real contribution to Christian literature, and ought to be promotive of permanent good to the church.

Moral Conflict of Humanity and Other Papers, The. By A. C. Kendrick, D. D., LL. D. 12mo, 270 pp. Price, $1.00.

It is a pleasure to the publishers that they are enabled to gather up in this volume papers of permanent value written by so thorough a scholar and student as Dr. Kendrick. They must make for themselves a large place in the thought and estimation of the denomination.

Messages of To-day to the Men of To-morrow. By Geo. C. Lorimer, D. D. 12mo, about 476 pages. Price, $1.50.

A series of papers by the eloquent pastor of Tremont Temple, especially adapted to young men.

New England's Struggles for Religious Liberty. By Rev. D. B. Ford. 12mo, about 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

Largely written from manuscript authorities and contains much new matter. Will be found of great value.

Notes of a Forty-one Years' Pastorate. By George Colfax Baldwin, D. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 287 pp. Price, $1.00.

Dr. Baldwin was pastor of the First Baptist Church at Troy, New York, from 1844 to 1885. This volume cannot fail to interest and profit young pastors and those who are looking forward to the pastoral office. It has also a variety, a freshness, and a spiciness that will be fully appreciated by any intelligent Christian reader. The work is appropriately illustrated by a portrait of the author.

Notes of Sermons. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 12mo, 227 pp. Price, $1.00.

This volume contains outlines of seventy-five sermons, and affords a good view of the manner in which the author has been accustomed to analyze his subjects. The selection covers a variety of topics—some of the notes are more full, some merely outlines of his plan. They will be helpful to such young preachers as may know how to use them aright. If they are studied as examples of the mode of analyzing and presenting scriptural themes,—examples to aid in the development and presentation of themes of their own selection,—then their usefulness cannot be doubted.

Old Theology Restated in Sermons. By Henry H. Tucker, D. D. 12mo, 452 pp. Price, $2.00.

These twenty-five sermons, preached at intervals during a ministry of thirty-six years by one of the most eminent of our Southern divines, are no less remarkable for clear, incisive reasoning, than for vigor of thought and depth of spiritual insight.

Outline Analysis of the Books of the Bible. By Prof. Barnard C. Taylor. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This is, as its name indicates, an outline of certain features pertaining to the books of the Bible. It tells us of the author, the date, the historical occasion, the leading topic or topics, the chief purpose, points of especial interest, relation to other books of the Bible, topics for special study, and general analyses of the several books of God's word. It is clear, comprehensive, and yet brought into brief compass.

Outline of Systematic Theology. By E. H. Johnson, D. D., and of Ecclesiology, by Henry G. Weston, D. D. 8vo, 410 pp. Price, $2.00.

"This book is precisely what its title suggests, an outline. At the same time, it is an outline so complete in its analysis, so specific and full in its statement as to be considerably more in effect than the word might seem to imply. It is really a masterpiece of condensation. Any minister may to great advantage use it as a basis in personal study and in a careful and studious going over once more the whole ground of biblical theology, however familiar all such subjects may even now seem to be."—The Standard.

Papal System, The: From its Origin to the Present Time. A historical sketch of every doctrine, claim, and practice of the Church of Rome. By William Cathcart, D. D. Octavo, 478 pp. Popular Edition. Price, reduced from $3.00 to $1.00.

In this handsome volume the author has compressed a vast amount of information in regard to the Papal System in all of its centuries and in its varied aspects. Those who wish to study that system will find here the help that they need in a clear, concise, and handsome form.

Papers and Addresses of Martin B. Anderson, LL. D. In two volumes. Edited by Wm. C. Morey, Ph. D. 12mo, Vol. I., 297 pp., Vol. II., 294 pp. Price per volume, $1.25.

In these two volumes, most tasteful and complete in their appearance, we have a few of the productions left by the great president of Rochester University. They cause one to regret that amid the drudgery of his office he could find so little time for the productions of his pen. Prof. Morey has done his work well, and has been the means of producing volumes which all the friends of Dr. Anderson will desire to possess.

Parchments of the Faith, The. By Rev. Geo. E. Merrill. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

In a singularly luminous and direct style Mr. Merrill tells us of the manuscripts of the Old and New Testaments from which our present perfect copies of the Scriptures are made. The work is quite full, and is scholarly as to the scope and nature of textual criticism. Mr. Merrill is fully qualified for this work, having given attention for years to this branch of study. A few years since he issued a book entitled "The Story of the Manuscripts." The present work, however, is entirely new, and presents all information respecting the manuscripts of the two Testaments up to the present date. It forms a splendid companion treatise to Prof. Pattison's "History of the English Bible," and is the pioneer along the line which that follows. Together they give a better and more intelligent treatment of the sources of knowledge and the various processes by which we have our present Bible than can be found in any other works now on the market.

Pastor, The: His Qualifications and Duties. By H. H. Harvey, D. D. 12mo, 180 pp. Price, 90 cents.

"Among the few manuals upon the subject, we regard Dr. Harvey's as entitled to the highest place."—Alabama Baptist.

Pentateuch, The. By Rev. A. J. Rowland, D. D. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This is the first of the series of Bible handbooks for which provision has been made by the Society. In an introduction, Dr. Rowland deals in a very just and scholarly way with the question of the higher criticism. He is appreciative of the scholarship arrayed under its banner, but holds to the "old paths" nevertheless, and moreover successfully defends his position. In analysis, in the citation of authorities, in the meeting of difficult questions, the book will be found of great value to our young people, and others who want to understand the matters with which it deals.

Perfect in Christ. By William Mason. 18mo, 136 pp. Price, 25 cents.

We have here the need of putting on Christ, who should, what it means, how, why, when, and the happy results of accepting him.

Plain Theology for Plain People. By C. O. Boothe, D. D. 12mo, 206 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This book came from a desire of the author to make plain for others what in current treatises had not been explained simply enough for himself. He felt that they are as far beyond their comprehension as they had been beyond his. With intelligence and industry, therefore, he has grouped the principal doctrines of our faith, and collated the Scripture proof-texts by which they are sustained. This volume does not profess to be complete, but the author does hope by its plain treatment of primary truths to influence some unreached by profounder treatises. It is the work of a colored minister, prepared for his own people especially; but others than they will be benefited by its study.

Preaching: its Ideal and Inner Life. By Thomas Armitage, D. D. 12mo, 264 pp. Price, $1.25.

The author treats of the origin of preaching; of Christ as the model. It is worthy of the profound and devout study of those now in the ministry, and of all expecting to enter it.

"In its scope and thought, style and thoroughness of treatment, this volume is fully worthy to stand beside any of the Yale series of lectures on preaching."—Christian Secretary.

The Problem of Jesus. By George Dana Boardman, D. D. Revised and enlarged. 12mo, 62 pp. Price, 50 cents.

Dr. Boardman is noted, among other things, for the preciseness with which he selects his words, and for the skill with which he can put into a phrase the meaning of a paragraph. This characteristic will be found in this work perhaps to a greater degree than in any other that has emanated from Dr. Boardman's pen. In addition, and chief of all, the same power of compression is found in the argument, and in this brief work will be found a volume of Christian evidence far beyond the proportion of its size.

The Prophetical Books of the Old Testament. By John B. Gough Pidge, D. D. Bible Handbook Series. 16mo, 128 pp. Price, 50 cents.

This is one of the best of the series of Bible Handbooks for young people thus far published. Dr. Pidge shows a wide acquaintance with his theme and a thorough and deep sympathy therewith. Those who shall study this handbook cannot fail to be helped to a clearer apprehension of the prophets in their setting and their mission. Dr. Pidge is strongly conservative in his opinions where they touch the question of the higher criticism, but he is not so conservative as to be hindered from carefully looking at the arguments and conclusions of those who differ from him, and learning from them such lessons as they may have to teach. The book ought to have a wide circulation.

Quick Truths in Quaint Texts. By Robert Stuart MacArthur, D. D. Cloth, 12mo, 336 pp. Price, $1.25.

"Grand sermons, full of ringing, rousing utterances."—New York Observer.
"Mentally and morally stimulating and suggestive."—Lutheran Observer.

Quotations of the New Testament from the Old, The. By Franklin Johnson, D. D. Cloth. 12mo, 428 pp. Price, $2.00.

This is one of the handsomest books published by the Society, and the contents are worthy of the dress. It shows by numerous citations that the method of New Testament quotations is precisely that of general literature. It contains a fresh treatment of this subject and is scholarly from beginning to end.

Representative Men of the New Testament. By the Rev. G. C. Baldwin, D. D. 16mo, 338 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book contains thirteen eloquent chapters, setting forth the characters and doings of some of the most noted men of the Bible

Representative Women of the Bible. By Rev. G. C. Baldwin, D. D. Illustrated. 16mo, 333 pp. Price, $1.00.

The author has happily seized the prominent traits of character in these different women of the Bible, and makes each one stand out in its own individuality.

Responsive Readings from the Old and New Testaments. Compiled by Rev. O. J. White; edited by Prof. O. S. Stearns, D. D. 12mo, 180 pp. Price, 35 cents.

This will be found helpful in any congregation desiring to introduce some features of a liturgical service. Many congregations have adopted it, and it will be found adequate to all wants along the line for which it is designed.

Saturday Afternoon; or, Conversations for the Culture of the Christian Life. By Wayland Hoyt, D. D. 16mo, 302 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a new volume, composed of those pithy, practical talks of the author that have been so widely scattered and eminently useful.

Scriptural Law of Divorce. By Alvah Hovey, D. D. 16mo, 82 pp. Price, 60 cents.

This work is a very able discussion of an important subject.

Sermons. By B. H. Carroll, D. D. 12mo, 466 pp. Price, $1.50.

"Dr. Carroll is one of the great preachers of our denomination, and his sermons are logical, reverent, thoughtful, and utterly devoid of modern sensationalism, so-called."—The Evangel.

Spurgeon, Charles H.: His Faith and Works. By H. L. Wayland, D. D. 12mo, 317 pp. Price, $1.25.

The author was long a personal friend of the great Baptist preacher, and presents his life as seen in the pulpit, in the orphanage, in the college, and in his home. Mr. Spurgeon was pre-eminently a Baptist, a strong defender of the faith, which fact is not ignored in this biography. The author, the low price, and the superior mechanical features of the book, all commend it, and a large sale should be the result.

Spiritual Life, The. By Rev. Geo. C. Needham. 12mo, 262 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book comprises a series of Bible readings. The portion on the Psalms is especially valuable.

Stories About Jesus, Our Lord and Saviour. His Wonderful Words and Works. With 389 pictorial illustrations. By C. R. Blackall, D. D., and Mrs. Emily L. Blackall. Quarto, 276 pp. Price, $1.00.

Notwithstanding the many books of this class in the market, we unhesitatingly pronounce "Stories About Jesus" in all points the equal of any, and in many features their superior.

Shadow and Substance. By Rev. Geo. C. Needham. 12mo, 199 pp. Price, 75 cents.

The author has condensed much study on the tabernacle and its typical meanings into this compact and clear little volume.

Talks about Dr. William Carey. By Mrs. Maria F. Anderson. 16mo, 88 pp. Price, cloth, 30 cents; leatherette, 15 cents.

This booklet, in a series of talks on seven successive evenings to a class of young boys, gives the salient facts connected with the life of William Carey. Many of these facts are unfamiliar to the majority of our Christian people, and all of them are of the utmost importance, especially at the present time. The booklet will be found entertaining and helpful to our young people.

Ten Commandments. A course of lectures delivered before the University of Pennsylvania. By George Dana Boardman, D. D. 12mo, 378 pp. Price, $1.50.

The author develops each commandment with an admirable fullness and in chaste and lucid style, and groups together a large number of those ways in which individuals, corporations, and nations violate the commands in letter, in spirit, or in both.

Three Lectures on Missions. By H. H. Harris, D. D. 16mo, 108 pp. Leatherette. Price, 20 cents.

A capital discussion. Deals with principles and their application.

True Womanhood. By Franklin Johnson, D. D. 16mo, 139 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The design of this volume is to give hints on the formation of womanly character. It is interesting, sensible, true.

Twenty-five Letters to a Young Lady. By A. P. Graves, D. D. 16mo, 135 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The author in his preface says: "Desiring to answer some important and practical questions which are daily asked by many young ladies, I have prepared this series of letters. Varied and large experience in my profession as an evangelist has urged the importance of such a suggestive volume."

Wealth; its Acquisition, Investment, and Use. By Franklin Wilson, D. D. 16mo, 82 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The flattering reception which this book has met well shows that the author in preparing it, and the Society in publishing it, have done a good work.

Word and Works of God, The. By Gilbert S. Bailey, D. D. 12mo 255 pp. Price, leatherette, 30 cents; cloth, $1.00.

The author gives an admirable argument for the divine authority of the Bible; showing first the character of evidence that is required to establish a fact, and then following with different classes of proof, internal and external. The harmony of science and the Bible is abundantly shown.

Young Man's Difficulties with His Bible, A. By D. W. Faunce, D. D. 12mo, 196 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a new and corrected edition of a work which when first published met with a very warm and friendly reception. Its merits have been established, and in this improved form it is a work which can be placed in the hands of any of our thoughtful young people with the full confidence that they will be helped thereby.

STANDARD STORIES FOR THE HOME AND LIBRARY.

This class will be added to from time to time as our opportunities may permit. It is our purpose to procure and offer a line of Christian stories that shall be equal in tone and style to any on the market.

Dolly French's Household. By Jennie M. Drinkwater. Frontispiece. 12mo, 308 pp. Price, $1.25.

This author's many popular works are sufficient guarantee of the lively, practical, and spiritual interest of this story of air-castles, gardens, love, and careers.

For the Other Boy's Sake, and Other Stories. By Marshall Saunders. Author of "Beautiful Joe." 12mo, 374 pp. Price, $1.00. Fully illustrated.

With a true artist's touch Miss Saunders here draws spicy, humorous, and pathetic situations of wide variety. Her success with her little human heroes and heroines exceeds that with her famous animal story.

Judith's Journal. By Janie Prichard Duggan, author of "A Mexican Ranch." Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo, 364 pp. Price, $1.25.

A dainty narrative, somewhat in the manner of "Stepping Heavenward," of the quiet but charming life of Judith, a delicate, motherless girl. In it she confesses her naughty deeds and her falling in love, and tells of two comical and irrepressible small boys.

Saxenhurst. A Story of the Old World and the New. By D. C. Eddy, D. D. In press.

A charming story well written. In it the historic characters of Milton and Cromwell rise before us. A sweet, wholesome love story runs through the book and few more delightful creations are met than Beatrice and Belle.

Temptation of Katharine Gray, The. By Mary Lowe Dickinson. 12mo, 380 pp. Price, $1.50.

The name of the author of this work is a guarantee of its literary merit, and of its insight into real life. Into a complex web she weaves a husband's unworthiness, a mother's love, pride, faith and unfaith, treachery and devotion. It is a powerful work, going far into great social needs.

"The work is remarkable for its originality, its intense interest, its clear setting forth of facts, . . . and its high moral tone."—Woman's Voice.

"The moral standard of this story is very high."—The Evangelist.

"There is much ingenuity in development of the plot, fine individualization of characters, and excellent literary work throughout."—New York World.

"This is an intensely interesting story of willfulness, want, weakness, wrong, wealth, remorse, repentance, and restitution."—Right and Reason.

THE CROWN SERIES.

Stories of wide interest and superior literary quality.

Charlotte's Revenge. By Caroline Starr Morgan. Illustrated. Cloth. 12mo, 423 pp. Price, $1.25. Crown Series, No. 5.

The original trouble and Charlotte's revenge—double revenge, in fact—have such a thoroughly natural atmosphere, that the reader becomes greatly exercised and awaits with impatience the gradual development through Washington society, the church settlement, the Oak Grove teachers, Blind Bessie, and other influences, which finally solves the chief problem, though others remain.

Eunice; or, As ye Would. By Clara Elizabeth Ward. Illustrated. 12mo, 336 pp. Price, $1.25. Crown Series, No. 2.

It is a well-told story of the influence of a wholesome Christian life upon those with whom it comes in contact. The setting of the characters is well given, and they appeal to the reader because they seem so real. The style is easy, flowing, and bright.

In Editha's Days. By Mary E. Bamford. Illustrated. 12mo, 351 pp. Price, $1.25. Crown Series, No. 3.

The story is placed in England in the reign of Henry VIII., and in the Low Countries when they were under the rule of Charles V. and his son, Philip II. "In Editha's Days" is sure to charm, not only for the attractive quaintness of its style, but for the interesting information with which it is full and running over.

Master of Deeplawn, The. By Mrs. Hattie E. Colter. Illustrated. 12mo, 352 pp. Cloth. Price, $1.25. Crown Series, No. 4.

This is the story of a resolute lad who faces peculiar difficulties so bravely that he finds great usefulness and plenty of happiness as a reward. With wealth, talents, and personal attractions, he carries an uncompromising Christianity to college, and makes it popular there. He finds many adventures by land and by sea, and has a most charming love affair. With all the excitements of his career are mingled many striking and helpful suggestions on religious and social problems.

Mexican Ranch, A; or, Beauty for Ashes. A $500 prize story. By Janie Prichard Duggan. Illustrated. 12mo, 377 pp. Price, $1.25. Crown Series, No. 1.

This book is the result of the offer of a prize of five hundred dollars for the best story along certain lines made by the Society last year. It deals especially with the thought of Christian indebtedness; the obligation of those who have Christian light and privileges to impart to others. In working out this thought it presents the picture of home life and missionary work in Mexico. It is full of interest.

Saved to Serve. By Harriet Cecil Magee. 12mo, 378 pp. Crown Series, No. 6.

A charming story of rural life in the Massachusetts Berkshire Hills. It contains a romantic war episode, and follows out the experiences of two bright young heroines.

12-mo. Averaging 375 pp. each. Handsomely bound. Illustrated. $1.25 each; complete set in box, $5.00.

PHŒNIX EDITION.

Beautiful Joe. By Marshall Saunders. 16mo, 360 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

The Ministry of the Spirit. By A. J. Gordon, D. D. 16mo, 230 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

How Christ Came to Church. By A. J. Gordon, D. D. 16mo, 150 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress. 16mo, 416 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

A Short History of the Baptists. Revised Edition. By Henry C. Vedder, Professor in Crozer Theological Seminary. 16mo, 327 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

The popularity of this history of the Baptists has been beyond even the expectation of the publishers and author, and perhaps has exceeded that of any Baptist history published of late years. In order to give it a still wider circulation it has been put into the Phœnix Edition, and is sold at the nominal price of twenty-five cents. The type is excellent, page open and clear, and the binding good. The book should now find its way into the hands of every Baptist in the land, and is thoroughly worthy of such a circulation.

Life of Jesus, The. By Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, M. A. 16mo, 294 pp. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 30 cents.

The popularity of the above and the desire to disseminate good literature in opposition to the trashy, have led us to prepare this CHEAP EDITION. It is cheap only in price, however. The books are well printed on good paper, and neatly bound in CLOTH. They will be on sale on all newsstands and on the cars. Other volumes will be added to this edition as occasion may demand.

HOLIDAY AND GIFT BOOKS.

Illuminated binding. Illustrated. Fine paper. Suitable gifts at any season.

Candid Critic, A, and Other Stories. By Maud Rittenhouse Mayne. Twenty-four photo-line illustrations. 12mo, 245 pp. Price, $1.00.

Natural and sparkling bits of life and incident. Mrs. Mayne has filled these bright stories with wholesome helpfulness and humorous insight into the interests of young people.

Christmas Week at Bigler's Mills. By Mrs. D. E. W. Spratt. Illustrated. Sq. 12mo. 78 pp. Price 75 cents.

"Contains a bit of romance that is very realistic, or of realism that is very romantic."—New York Observer.

Coronation of Love, The. By George Dana Boardman, D. D. Illustrated. Cloth. Square 8vo, 58 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This is one of Dr. Boardman's richest productions, and is bound in fitting ornamental style. In strength of grasp, in clearness of vision, in felicity of tone, and in exaltation of spirit, Dr. Boardman has left little to be desired in his treatment of the great "Charity chapter."

"Most attractively garbed in two shades of blue and gold, embodying a fragrant little tale, . . . through which purity of sentiment flows like a silver stream.—The Call, Philadelphia.

Daisy. By Marshall Saunders. Illustrated. Author of "Beautiful Joe." 12mo, 57 pp. Price, 60 cents.

This is a very sweet little story and one that will be read by the older folks as well as by the children. Miss Saunders has written a charming little household idyl, and it has been put into a beautiful dress.

From Hollow to Hilltop. By Mary Lowe Dickinson. 12mo. 52 pp. Illustrated. Illuminated cover. Price, 50 cents.

This is a short story, but with meaningfulness to which many a long one is a stranger. It has an illuminated cover, and is suitable for a gift book.

Niram. By Laisdell Mitchell, author of "Tony." Illuminated binding. Illustrated. Sq. 16mo, 75 pp. Price, 60 cents.

Very like Tony in his general characteristics. The hero, a crippled colored boy, sings his way into the heart of the kindly doctor, and will unquestionably touch a similar chord in the hearts of many readers.

Ruth the Gleaner. By May Field McKean. 16mo, 60 pp. Price, 25 cents.

This is a versified description of the attractive Moabitess of sacred story. Miss McKean has entered thoroughly into the spirit of the beautiful pastoral, and has well rendered it into verse. The book is at once attractive and interesting.

Spring Blossoms. By Mary Lowe Dickinson. Illuminated binding. Illustrated. 12mo, 54 pp. Price, 60 cents.

"Spring Blossoms" is illustrative of the way a little child's winsome influence can unlock a hardened heart. Mrs. Dickinson's name is familiar to the women of the land. Her work as editor of the "Silver Cross," the organ of the "King's Daughters," has given her a reading constituency that is only limited by the number of the members of that organization.

Tony: The Story of a Waif. By Laisdell Mitchell. Sq. 16mo, 58 pp. Price, 60 cents.

"A very pretty and artistic sketch of newsboy life."—Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

"It is a quaint story, very attractively printed and illustrated."—The Call, Philadelphia.

The Hero of Start Point. A Collection of Short Stories for Boys. By J. Macdonald Oxley. 12mo, 254 pp. Price, $1.00.

Ghost stories, rescues, and adventures of all the kinds that delfght a boy's heart are recounted in this book by the well-known author in a wholesome, racy style.

The Quiet King. A Story of Christ. By Caroline Atwater Mason. Ten illustrations from masterpieces. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.50.

A thoroughly devotional and yet realistic story of the daily life of Christ and his friends, together with powerful views of the greatest events. Fascinating as a story and illuminating the ancient scenes.

Colonel. By Laisdell Mitchell. 12mo, 203 pp. Copiously illustrated. Price, 90 cents.

This is another charming story from the pen of the author of "Tony" and "Niram," and the scene of it is laid on the island to which "Niram" has given interest.

HYMN AND TUNE BOOKS.

A Book of Chants. For use in the church and home. Arranged by E. H. Johnson, D. D. 8vo, 36 pp. Price, 10 cents.

Baptist Hymnal. 8vo. 726 hymns and chants, and 731 tunes. Extra English cloth, red edges. Price, 75 cents net; postpaid, 87 cents. Persian goat, round corners, red under gold, $2.50. Turkey, full gilt, $4.00.

This book is believed to be the richest selection, both as to words and music, of sacred songs ever issued. All the rich treasures of psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs have been tested and culled, and those proved most precious by experience and critical test are gathered in this volume. The book will need no better commendation than an inspection of its own pages.

Baptist Hymnal. Without music. Square 12mo, 252 pp. Cloth, red edges. Price, 40 cents net, postpaid, 48 cents. Persian goat, $2.00.

Baptist Hymn and Tune Book. (Cheap edition, complete.) 12mo, 438 pp. Price, 75 cents. Imitation morocco, $2.50.

The 12mo edition contains the same as the large one, and is sold at 75 cents—a marvel of cheapness.

Baptist Hymn Book. 18mo. Pew edition, plain sheep. Price, $1.00. Plain roan, $1.25. Imitation gilt, $2.50.

Baptist Hymn Book. 24mo. Pocket edition, sheep. Price, 65 cents. Roan, 85 cents. Morocco, $1.75.

Baptist Hymn Book. Square 18mo. Cheap edition. Price, 50 cents.

Coronation Hymnal. By A. J. Gordon, D. D., and Arthur T. Pierson, D. D. 400 hymns with music. 8vo, board covers, 60 cents net. Cloth covers, 75 cents net. By mail, 10 cents extra.

For those churches that want an alternative book at a cheaper price than the Baptist Hymnal, there can hardly be found a more serviceable work. It is the fruit of Dr. A. J. Gordon's long and remarkably successful pastorate, the product of the ripe experience of an unusually godly man fully abreast of his age.

Gems for the Little Ones. By C. R. Blackall, D. D. 8vo, sq., 64 pp. Price, 15 cents.

Hymns of Praise. 24mo, 96 pp. Boards. Price, 10 cents; paper, 5 cents.

These hymns are intended for public worship, prayer meetings, and Sunday-schools. In looking over the selections, we notice they are deeply scriptural and devotional.

Our Sunday-school Songs. With music. Edited by E. H. Johnson, D. D. 128 pp. Price, 25 cents.

This is an admirable collection for Sunday-schools, and has been warmly welcomed by those who aim to elevate this important part of Sunday-school services.

Select Gems. By W. Howard Doane and Robert Lowry. 12mo, 224 pages, 251 hymns, 250 tunes. Price, cloth, 35 cents; postpaid, 40 cents. Boards, 25 cents; postpaid, 30 cents. Morocco, $2.00. Word edition, 12 cents; postpaid, 14 cents. A new book for the prayer meeting.

This book contains the very cream of hymnody and music. Every piece of music will be found thoroughly enjoyable. The aim has been to use such music and hymns as best express the devotional emotions of Christian hearts. The material of this book is of a quality rarely brought together in one volume. A sample copy will be sent to any pastor or chorister desiring to introduce the book, with the privilege of returning it, if not adopted.

Songs of the Kingdom. Edited by W. Howard Doane, Mus. Doc. Board cover. 12mo, 235 hymns and tunes. Price, single copies, 30 cents; by mail, 35 cents. In lots of twenty or more, 25 cents per copy, express not prepaid.

Prepared for the use of young people's societies, and adapted for prayer meetings, Sunday-schools, and the home.

Sursum Corda. A Book of Praise. E. H. Johnson, Editor; E. E. Ayres, Associate Editor. 8vo, 654 pp. Price, $1.50.

Sursum Corda is the result of years of thought and of special preparation. In the selection of music and the collection of hymns it is believed that it has no superior in the market. In the adaptation of hymns to a number of different airs it surpasses all others. Copious indexes of authors, topics, etc., make the book serviceable and informing. It is believed that in its contents and general make-up the book has no superior, if it has an equal. Our Baptist churches can certainly do no better than to adopt this latest production of musical information and taste and skill.

Tried and Proved. Edited by Russell H. Conwell, D. D., and T. E. Perkins, Mus. Doc. Board cover. 12mo, 192 hymns and tunes. Price, single copies, 30 cents; by mail, 35 cents. In lots of twenty or more, 25 cents per copy, express not prepaid.

Especially designed for use in Sunday-schools. Many of the hymns and tunes have been practically tested in Grace Temple, Philadelphia.

CHURCH RECORDS.

Complete Church Record, The. Folio. Muslin sides, leather backs and corners. Price, $4.00.

The Complete Church Record has been prepared for use of Baptist churches, and is arranged for the entire statistical records of twenty years, including Official Register of Pastors, Clerks, Treasurers, Deacons, Trustees, and Sunday-school Superintendents; Alphabetical Register of Members, Chronological Register of Members; also, Annual Summaries of Membership, Disbursements, and Sunday-school Statistics, and Blanks for Preserving Copy of Church Letters to the Association.

Complete Church Record and Minute Book, The. Folio. Muslin sides, leather backs and corners. Price, $4.75.

The Complete Church Record and Minute Book is precisely the same as the first named, excepting that 160 pages have been added of best quality of paper, specially ruled for keeping the minutes of church meetings, thus enabling the church clerk to keep the entire records of the church for twenty years in one book.

Powell Revenue System, for the use of Churches, Sabbath-schools, etc. To Raise Revenues by Weekly Payments in Numbered Envelopes. Record, for 100 names, 52 spaces, $1.00. Record, for 500 names, with 52 spaces in which to enter the amount paid each Sunday, price, $1.50, postpaid. Soliciting Cards, 50 cents per 100. Numbered envelopes to accompany this system are furnished at the lowest market price.

A committee of the "New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Ministers" made the following report as to the best way to raise church revenues: 1. FACTS. (a) A small proportion of our churches are strictly self-supporting. (b) A radical wrong is that the pulpit popularity of the preacher is so fully relied on to increase the revenue. (c) Unchristian and spiritually unprofitable methods are often resorted to, to eke out revenue (fairs, etc.). 2. PRINCIPLES. (a) Money should be raised before it is expended. (b) The church is a morally responsible body to this end. (c) Individual ability is the measure of duty. 3. METHODS. (a) The principle of weekly offering, in some form, is by far the best method of realizing these ideas. (b) It has been historically the most successful. (c) Among all the systems to this end, which have obtained to any considerable acceptance, the Committee have examined FOURTEEN of the most excellent, and consider the weekly revenue system the best. It combines the advantages of all, with none of the usual disadvantages.

This book contains 525 hymns, of which the greater number have never before been translated or sung in the Swedish language.

Wiberg on Baptists. Price, 90 cents.

NOTE.—The Society has the exclusive agency for the Publications of P. Palmquist, Stockholm, Sweden. A separate catalogue of these publications will be furnished free on application.

Danish-Norwegian.

Salme og Sangbog. Danish and Norwegian Hymn and Song Book. Music, 8vo, 514 pp. Price, $1.00. Word edition, 18mo, 532 pp. Price, 40 cents.

This is the first church hymn book with music ever published in the Danish-Norwegian language. It therefore deserves special notice as marking a new epoch in Danish-Norwegian church literature. It contains six hundred and forty-five hymns and sacred songs and about four hundred and fifty different tunes. The book is a handsome one, and will be a treasure to the churches for whose use it has been prepared.

Polish.

Podrecznik Dla Uzytku Polsko-Baptyskiego Kosciola. A Handbook for use in Polish Baptist Churches. 18mo, 89 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This is a compilation from Dr. J. Newton Brown's "Church Manual" and other sources, and will very materially aid our Polish brethren.

THE SELECTION

OF

Sunday-school Libraries.

The Society calls special attention to its catalogue of SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOOKS. Its own list now numbers about four hundred. These books are of superior excellence, are bound in a neat and substantial manner, printed on fine white paper, illustrated by numerous well-executed pictures, and are sold at as low prices as are any books of like quality. In addition to our own large and increasing list of publications, we are receiving the very latest and freshest books from about thirty other Sunday-school publishers.

It is no uncommon thing for schools to find, in selections made at bookstores, many books that teach Pedobaptism and kindred errors. This arises from the fact that it is impossible for committees to spend sufficient time, in selecting a library, to detect such books ; for often the error does not occupy more than a single paragraph—frequently only a line. Thousands of such books are now in Baptist Sunday-schools.

THE DANGER AVOIDED.

By sending to either of the Society's Depositories, schools are certainly guarded against the liability of getting Pedobaptist books, as the Society for many years has had all the books of other Sunday-school publishers carefully examined.

SELECTING LIBRARIES.

We give especial attention to the selection of Libraries. Sunday-school workers of large experience devote their time to this work. They are better prepared to make a good selection than is a committee, from catalogues, or even from a hasty examination of the books at stores.

With your money, send an alphabetical list of the books now in your library, and indicate the kind of books you wish ; and we will make a selection and GUARANTEE IT IN ALL RESPECTS SATISFACTORY.

No books conflicting with our principles as Baptists will be received by schools entrusting the Society with the selection of their libraries. This protection is worth more than money.

LABELS AND NUMBERS.

When desired, we will furnish, without charge, for each book, a neatly printed label and number.

AIDS FOR TEACHERS.

Bible, The. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 192 pp. Price, 20 cents. Leatherette.

The first part of "Normal Class Manual." By the division the book has been reduced in price and made more convenient in form.

How to Teach the Bible. By J. M. Gregory, LL. D. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 15 cents. Leatherette.

This is the second part of "Normal Class Manual" put into a more convenient form.

Our Sunday-school Work, and how to Do It. By Rev. C. R. Blackall. 18mo, 50 pp. Paper. Price, 5 cents. New Edition, revised and enlarged.

A vast amount of very excellent suggestions is here found, of which every Sunday-school worker should avail himself.

LIBRARY BOOKS.

Alden Church. By Sophie Bronson Titterington. Illustrated. 12mo, 268 pp. Price, $1.00.

There are churches running in unprogressive grooves, just as Alden Church was when John Whitcomb came to it. This book ought to be in the hands of all those having the responsibility for such. It will give them a longing for a more excellent way, and will help them to it. Indeed, no one can read it without a higher conception of Christian service. It is not for the young alone, but for all who are thoughtful for the church of Christ, or ought to be so.

Amal, a Prince of the Amalekites. A story of Sinai during the Exodus. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. Illustrated. 12mo, 315 pp. Price, $1.25.

The scene of this story is Egypt and the Peninsula of Sinai; the time, that immediately preceding the return of Moses with Aaron to Egypt, and the subsequent exodus and sojourn of the Israelites in the neighborhood of Mount Sinai. The whole narrative is well adapted to make the reader familiar with the history of the period, and with the Egyptians, the Israelites, the Amalekites, and the Midianites, the nations which were the actors in that memorable series of events.

Ansons in Asiatic Temples, The. By Rev. F. S. Dobbins. Illustrated. 12mo, 284 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is an interesting narrative, with many handsome illustrations, and is well adapted to give the young readers distinct ideas in regard to the great field open to Christian labor.

Ashmeads, The; or, Scenes in Northern Europe. By E. P. A. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

There is in this narrative a great variety of character, incident, and scenery depicted, with great accuracy and peculiar sprightliness. The author saw the fields and the work which are here described, and many doubtless will learn, from what is herein presented, to look on the countries, the people, and the work of the Baptists there with a deeper and more intelligent interest.

Aunt Clara's School. By Mrs. M. Jeanie Mallary. Illustrated. 12mo, 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

The history of the school is well told, and full of interest. It was emphatically a Christian school, and its fruits were its best advertisement.

Beautiful Joe. An Autobiography. By Marshall Saunders. 12mo, 304 pp., illustrated. Price, 60 cents. 60,000 COPIES SOLD.

The story took one of the prizes recently offered by the American Humane Society for the best treatment of the wrongs of animals,—Mr. Hezekiah Butterworth, Rev. Philip S. Moxom, D. D., and Dr. Edward Everett Hale, being the committee of examiners. The prize itself was declined by the author, and the American Baptist Publication Society secured the work for publication. It is written in the most delightful style, showing on every page the intensest sympathy and love for the animal kingdom. Many incidents are introduced that will make it of absorbing interest to the boys. It will delight as well as instruct, and its influence will be most salutary in securing more thoughtful and humane treatment for dumb animals.

Beautiful Ladder, The; or, The Two Students. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 348 pp. Price, $1.50.

"In this age of trashy stories, it is refreshing to get hold of a book so full of wisdom, and yet so engaging."—Christian Secretary.

Ben Ammi: The Armorer's Son. A story of the days of Ahaz and Hezekiah. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. Illustrated. 12mo, 315 pp. Price, $1.25.

The author has made a readable and interesting book that will bring that long-past age impressively near to the minds of the young people and quicken their interest in Old Testament History.

Bert Lloyd's Boyhood. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 347 pp. Price, $1.50.

This is an exceedingly well-written story. Bert, the hero of the story, is a real, live boy. He is a good boy too, and lives; thus disproving the adage that "good boys all die young." The story carries him through two preparatory schools, leads him naturally into the church and religious work, and leaves him a matriculate in the provincial university. The book presents an excellent ideal to our boys.

Between Earth and Sky. By Edward William Thomson. 12mo, 295 pp. Price, $1.25.

A series of thrilling stories as fascinating as the most sensational, while devoid of their vicious features. A strong temperance sermon is preached by the book, and the moral tone is strong and bracing.

Black Diamonds; or, The Curiosities of Coal. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.50.

The book is a treasure house of pleasing information concerning that department of science which has to do with every-day life. Profusely illustrated and illuminated.

Black Forge Mills, The; or, Up the King's Highway. By Rev. W. P. Chipman. Illustrated. 12mo, 368 pp. Price, $1.50.

The principal character of this story, Ray Branford, grew out of the unfavorable conditions of factory life into an honored position in the ministry of Jesus Christ. Amid all the experiences of growth and active service, he is a strong, true, manly Christian. This is not a book for children alone. It is for the mature as well; and to old and young alike, it ought to be an inspiration.

Block House on the Shore. Translated from the German of W. T. Henninges. By Mary E. Ireland. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is the story of the life and influence of a German who was wrecked on one of our great lakes, and was rescued by a family, to the members of which he became of great help. The story is well told. It is thoroughly evangelical in tone and practical in its teachings. The unfolding of the various incidents too is well brought out.

Boys and Birds; or, Miss Truat's Mission. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 414 pp. Price, $1.75.

This is another of that attractive and useful series of books which the Society has been making special effort to prepare—books which will lead the young to look out with intelligent interest upon the works of God, to recognize in them his wisdom and goodness and glory. It is profusely and elegantly illustrated.

Breaker-Boy of Lansford, The. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

The life of the miner is well depicted, and the progress of the boy, who began life as one of the lads who pick the slate from the coal as it comes from the breakers, is full of interesting incidents.

Bushkill Social. By Rev. Edward McMinn. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

A capital story for boys; one of the best.

Cape Ann Chronicle, A; or Lily's Garden. By Mildred Scarborough. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A canny and natural child, some cultured summer boarders, and a vivid picture of the delights of this noted region, are found in this book for girls. The style makes it delightful reading for older people, and the illustrations are real views of Cape Ann.

Carol Olmsted. By Mrs. M. E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 237 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is one of those bright and cheery books which interest, instruct, and benefit the reader.

Carrie Hamilton; or, The Beauty of True Religion. By Mrs. C. W. Denison. Illustrated. 12mo, 296 pp. Price, $1.00.

A story crowded with all the forms of interest, pathos, and instructive example. It is a gem.

'We pronounce this an admirable book. We cannot have too many of such books."—Christian Times.

Charlotte's Friend; or, Evil Communications Corrupt Good Manners. By Mrs. M. E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 255 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work shows how "evil communications corrupt good manners," and will, no doubt, lead many to be careful to guard against the influence of associates who would lead them away from paths of truth and righteousness.

Changed Life, A. By Mary A. Denison. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Cloth. Price, 90 cents.

"A very interesting story concerning a little girl who grows up to womanhood in the story. The title, 'A Changed Life,' is the key to the book."—Journal and Messenger.

Charles Montgomery. By Mary A. Denison. Illustrated. 12mo, 184 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This book is a fresh telling of an old story. It is that of the efficacy and power of an earnest Christian life and example. The action of the story is quite varied. No one can peruse it without being made more thoughtful and the better for it, and to feel that belief is better than doubt, and the service of God than worldly gain.

Chester Girls. By Rose Hartwick Thorpe. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

Nina Bruce and a cousin about her own age are the Chester Girls whose subsequent history this pleasing narrative gives to us. Nina was a devout and steadfast Christian, and we see how her Christian influence gradually made itself felt in the family until even the skeptical grandfather was made to feel its power.

Children of Cloverly. Illustrated. 12mo, 277 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a very sweet, touching narrative, abounding in incident, and depicting a great variety of characters with a very graphic pen.

Christ's Cadets. By Mrs. Ada C. Chaplin. A prize book. Illustrated. 12mo, 437 pp. Price, $1.50.

This narrative traces the course of a number of young believers from their entrance on their Christian course. It points out helps and hindrances, and shows how some advance, and why some fall away. It is an excellent book for young Christians. It not only took the prize of three hundred dollars, but really is a prize.

Chryssie. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 287 pp. Price, $1.25.

Her progress, from satisfaction to disgust with some phases of city life, and at length to faith in Christ and rest in him, is well told, and will prove instructive to others in similar circumstances.

Clarence and Corinne; or, God's Way. By Mrs. A. E. Johnson. 12mo, 187 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This book follows two poor orphans through their struggles until they emerge from discouragements, and are united in the home of kind friends who adopt them. At more than one point in the recital, as well as in the conclusion, we learn that God's ways are not as our ways, but are far better.

Company A, Kent's Brigade. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 208 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is the story of a company of boys in and about a country town. The story of all they did is well told in this volume, and the influence upon those who read it cannot well be otherwise than good. Other boys, whether organized as these or not, can do as these did.

Coster Grew; or, The Young Machinist. By Rev. George B. Taylor, D. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 220 pp. Price, $1.00.

A book for boys, which will be certain to interest and profit them. The narrative is true to the life, the style perfectly transparent.

Cosy's Resolve; or, My Brother's Keeper. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

The events in this spirited narrative all center around the Watson children. Two of them, Albert and Aleck, young men, twins, are first introduced to us after finishing their studies at a distant college. The third was Cora, or, as she was generally called, Cosy, somewhat younger than her two brothers; and a firm Christian resolve that she made, and the happy results that followed, make a narrative that is full of interest and abounding in useful suggestions.

Cousin Mercy's Idea; or, The Heavenly Wardrobe. By Mrs. Ada C. Chaplin. Illustrated. 12mo, 416 pp. Price, $1.50.

It is an interesting story of a New England manufacturing town, and is especially noticeable for the aptness of the author in linking lessons for the Christian life with the common incidents of ordinary life.

Crystal Club, The. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. 12mo, 300 pp. Price, $1.25.

This volume has been published as an effort in the direction of teaching something worth remembering. It aims to put some of the facts of science into a readable form. It gives a glimpse of "world building" in these annals of the Crystal Club, whose members are introduced to us as boys, and bid us farewell as men. Mr. McMinn has given us a readable book.

Cullworth: A Story of the Rocky Mountains. By Miss L. Bates. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

In Cullworth, one of the towns that sprang up in a night, the scene of this story is laid. It centers around the pastor of the Baptist church and his few co-laborers.

Curiosities of Heat. By Rev. Lyman B. Tefft, A. M. Illustrated. 12mo, 336 pp. Price, $1.25.

The numerous scientific expositions throughout the book are blended with records of prayerful and successful endeavor to check infidelity and to turn souls to righteousness.

Chore Boy of Camp Kippewa, The, and The Wreckers of Sable Island. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 252 pp. Price, $1.00.

We have here two stories. One of them tells of the trials and triumph of a Christian boy in a lumber camp, and the other of the adventures of a lad who had been stolen by the unprincipled wreckers of Sable Island. Both are picturesque and vivid, and will be of interest to boys.

Centa—The Child Violinist. By Anne Kendrick Benedict. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

Few sights are calculated to more quickly arouse the sympathy of the beholders than that of young children thrown out into life and compelled to fight its battles, deprived of the care of father and mother. There are few sadder words than "orphan." It is this fact in part which arouses the attention of the reader to Mrs. Benedict's story of "Centa," an attention, however, which is held and increased by the bright, interesting way in which the story is told.

Council of Three, A. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This council of three was composed of two young men and a young woman who, for the time being, have in charge apparently the welfare and future of a companion. What is accomplished by the council forms a series of interesting chapters. Through them all runs a current of Christian influence and character.

Carmio—The Little Mexican-Indian Captive. By Miss A. M. Barnes. 12mo, 104 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This true story of life among the Indians ought to hold a child's absorbed interest by its valuable picture of the tribes of the plains. It is told with delicate art, and belongs to the series "For Little Readers." See "On Grandfather's Farm."

Clare's Problem; or, Was It Her Duty? By Adelaide Fuller Bell. 12mo, 266 pp. Price, $1.25.

Clare leaves a romantic foreign home for a large family of bright American children whose adventures make lively reading. They are all told in a bright style interesting for young people. There is a steady progress of success throughout which to older readers will seem to solve the problem.

Day Light; or, a Daughter's Duty. By Mrs. Dora E. W. Spratt. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

Day was the daughter of Mr. Light, a minister, and was marked from her earliest years by great energy of character. She was for a long time made averse to Christian instruction or counsel by the rebellion of her heart against the dispensation of the Lord by which he removed her father. The story is exceedingly well told, and the means that finally led Day to recognize the great goodness of God, to acquiesce in his will, and to trust in his salvation, are full of interest.

Delaune, the English Baptist Martyr. By Rev. Charles Thompson. Illustrated. 12mo, 457 pp. Price, $1.50.

In this work we have presented a faithful picture of what the Baptists in England had to suffer from the State and the Established Church under the Second Charles, in the days of Knollys and Kiffin.

Donald Grant's Development. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This story is the record of Donald Grant's development in the district school, in the academy, and in the college. It also sketches his growth in religious life. The book is strong and healthful in its religious tone, and yet breezy and bright.

Doris Selwyn; or, A Girl's Influence. By Kate Neely Hill. Illustrated. 12mo, 335 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is an interesting story, full of wise and wholesome suggestions. Mothers and daughters alike may be profited by the plain, unartificial, but attractive picture that the author draws.

Dorothy. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This is a story of the New Hampshire hills, and of the way in which a young girl was led from a life of careless ease to spiritual things and to a life in Christ. Its descriptions are good and also its general tone.

Down Grade. A book to save tempted young men. By A. P. Graves, D. D. 12mo, 180 pp. Price, 60 cents.

There is reason to believe that in all our large cities, and the rural districts of our land, there are not a few young men whose sun goes down in darkness and whose end resembles that of the hero in the following narrative. To change the course and save such as are threatened with the same dangers, this little book is given to the public.

Drawn Together: A Story of the Green Mountains. By Miss L. Bates. Illustrated. 12mo, 313 pp. Price, $1.25.

The scene of this interesting story is laid in Vermont, in the mountain region. The work will be a favorite with the young, and also with those of riper years.

Eaglesmere Trio. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. 12mo, 255 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work depicts the career of three young men who were thrown together when just approaching manhood. The lessons of the three lives are well set forth.

Earle Armstrong. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 312 pp. Price, $1.25.

The book teaches, and teaches well, the advantages of looking carefully after boys, and giving them the help and sympathy and affection that tend to keep them in the midst of new temptations, and lead them into the ways of the Lord.

Elksville Girls, The. By Mrs. Susan M. Griffith. Illustrated. 12mo, 239 pp. Price, $1.00.

This story is the record of five young friends who became converted about the same time, and determined to become "fishers" for the Master, and work with all their strength in his vineyard. There are many incidents of general interest, and some helpful hints for other girls who are striving to do their best. The book is not alone interesting to the girls, but will hold the attention of the boys as well, for there are two or three very boyish boys found within its pages.

Elmdale Lyceum; or, God's Mighty Workers. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.50.

This book discusses, in a lucid and very attractive manner, gravitation, light, electricity, chemical affinity, the atmosphere, water, and vegetation, and traces the power and goodness of God as developed in the operation of these his agents.

Eric the Scandinavian; or, Life with the Norsemen of the West. By Miss L. Bates. Illustrated. 12mo, 314 pp. Price, $1.25.

An interesting story illustrative of life in one of the lumber regions of the Northwest.

Esther Lawrence. By Caroline Starr Morgan, author of "Ways that Win." Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

All who read "Ways that Win" will be glad to welcome another volume from the pen of the same author. This time we have a book for readers of a somewhat maturer class. It is a book whose trend is toward a very lofty ideal, and should be found in every Sunday-school library. Esther Lawrence, the heroine of the story, is the product of stern experience. Reared in ease, by misfortune she was cast upon her own resources. She splendidly met the emergency. Whether as teacher, or as mistress of the home of Judge Lindsey, whose wife she became, she was her own true, strong, bright self, forgetful of herself and devoted to others.

Eunice and Laura; or, The Right Use of Prayer. By Kate Neely Hill. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

Eunice is a real child, good and sensible, but easily influenced. The lesson in regard to prayer comes out clear and distinct.

Eunice Erskine, Homemaker: The Story of a Young Girl. By Mrs. Belle V. Chisholm. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The purpose of this story is to teach duty in the home. It emphasizes the power of a Christly life, especially in little things, as, for example, pleasantness. It is a line of thought often followed, but needing constant repetition. This story will present it afresh to those desiring to honor the Master in a sphere usually regarded as restricted.

Evangel Wiseman; or, The Mother's Question. By Sally Rochester Ford. Illustrated. 12mo, 507 pp. Price, $1.50.

It commences with the anxiety of a mother to know whether or not her infant child should be christened. It furnishes another of those works which, in an interesting form, present our views on this important subject.

Erna Stark; A Story of Conscience. Translated from the German of Elsie von Fernhain. By Mary E. Ireland. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A story of domestic life in Germany. The heroine is an earnest, devout and wealthy Christian, who from fidelity to her convictions feels it her duty to assist the weak and suffering, and lift up the fallen.

Evenings at Shadycroft. By Howard B. Hall. 12mo, 168 pp. Price, 90 cents.

Shadycroft was an old farmhouse which had a great barn. Here a little group of youngsters gathered and one of their number told the others stories. There are ten of them, and brighter, more interesting, more wholesome stories it were hard to find. Its fault is that it is too short.

Family of the Black Forest, The. A tale of the Peasants' War. By the author of "Old Bristol." Illustrated. 12mo, 406 pp. Price, $1.50.

The story begins in the year 1524—a time when the Reformation was spreading rapidly in Germany, Switzerland, and Southern Europe. The book describes the persecution and sufferings the Baptists endured, and weaves in much real history.

Farm's Little People, The. By Annie Howells Frechette. 12mo, 107 pp. Price, 75 cents.

This is the sequel to "On Grandfather's Farm" and completes the story of the delightful summer spent at the old homestead. The readers will make the acquaintance of Toosie and other charming beings. The form of the book corresponds to that of the other volumes "For Little Readers."

Fergus MacTavish; or, Portage and Prairie. A story of the Hudson's Bay Company. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 345 pp. Price, $1.25.

The story of a good but thoroughly human and wholesome boy, with his development amid his primitive but healthful surroundings of a Hudson's Bay trading post, into the self-denying missionary rather than the prosperous trader, ought to be read more widely than it is likely to be.

Fisherman's Daughter, The. By Anne Kendrick Benedict. Illustrated. Cloth. 12mo, 219 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is the story of a picturesque character who lives on the same quaint island described in "An Island Story." Ernestine finds her way through overwhelming difficulties to a happy victory, by the narrow path of duty.

Florry Forrester; or, Three Dreadful Days. By Kate Neely Hill. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

The "Three Dreadful Days" were days made dark and unhappy by Florry's heedlessness. The third day was so peculiarly dreadful that she arose from the sick-bed, on which it laid her, with new resolutions and a humble reliance on the Lord for his daily help in her efforts to be steady, careful, and orderly.

Floy's Reward. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.25.

A story of a young girl who, in consequence of the fact that her mother needs her, refrains from accepting an invitation to go to Europe. She is rewarded, however, by having a very pleasant summer at the seaside, and then more recently, a trip abroad in the company of two friends. This book gives a very pleasing and instructive account of their journeyings in France, Holland, Switzerland, England, etc.

From Post to Pillar. By Mrs. Kate Neely Festetits. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is an admirable story of the drifting of a friendless waif into a final haven of peace and friendliness. Her name was Belinda, which two of her loving friends, with whom the narrative leaves her, changed into Bee. Mrs. Festetits has given us a bright and wholesome little book, and one we are quite sure that will become a favorite with our young friends.

From the Heart of England; A Story of the Dawn of Modern Missions. By the author of "Old Bristol," etc. 12mo, 416 pp. Price, $1.50.

This volume introduces many characters and incidents, and gives an exceedingly interesting view of the brightening dawn of modern missions in Northamptonshire, and in India during the years from 1793 until after the great fire at Serampore in 1812. By that time the mission work had outlived the contempt and sneers of the scoffers, and had impressed multitudes in India and the mother country with a lively sense of the importance and grandeur of the work that had its humble origin in "The Heart of England."

Fortune Gulch. A story of the mines. By Sophie Bronson Tittington. Illustrated. 12mo, 176 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The comparative freshness of the scenes described, the grandeur of the mountain scenery forming the setting of most of the story, the pathetic interest of many of its incidents, the wondrous influence of purity amid viciousness, and the power of Jesus Christ to reach and raise the most godless, will combine to give this story more than an average place amid our Sunday-school literature.

George Austin. By Mrs. James Hine. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

A good book for young men just entering the church.

Glen Burnie; or, Daisy's Triumph. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 308 pp. Price, $1.25.

We have here a pleasing narrative that opens with the arrival of Daisy Wallace at New York. The narrative, the characters, the literary style, and the wholesome lessons it conveys will make this a popular work with readers, whether young or of riper years.

Goldenrod Farm. By Jennie M. Drinkwater. 12mo, 272 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is a charming story of the growth and spiritual development of an original girl. A rest cottage, an abandoned farm in New England, and several delightful people, give color to the tale.

Good Ship Gryphon, The; or, On the Right Tack. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 248 pp. Price, $1.00.

As a writer of books for boys, Macdonald Oxley occupies a very high place. In the present work the author has struck out on a new track. He has given us a sea story which is as correct in its use of nautical terms as it is breezy in its descriptions. In the hero we have a thoroughly healthy and natural boy. He is loyal to his flag, true to his duty, and reverent toward God, and no boy can keep company with him under the guidance of Mr. Oxley and not be helped as well as interested. A good map of the West Indies will aid our boys in fixing the locations mentioned.

Grace Lealand; or, Life Scenes in a Christian Family. By Henrietta M. Coon. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

This book treats of the "unassuming commonplace" of life.

Grandfather's Farm, On. By Annie Howells Frechette. 12mo, 85 pp. Price, 75 cents.

A charming story of the vacation experiences of two little people, by the sister of William Dean Howells. Her style is vivacious and full of humor, and her characters are thoroughly sweet and noble minded. This book with its sequel, "The Farm's Little People," and others of the same series, has been especially adapted for children just beginning to read. With plain print, numerous marginal illustrations, full color frontispiece, and unique covers, they should attract any child, and tempt him to try to read.

Grandfather Grey's Quartette. By Sophie Bronson Titterington. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00

This is a capital story for our younger young people. The scene of it is in the West, at Greyfriars, the home of Grandfather Grey, a worthy clergyman. His "Quartette" was formed by his grandchildren, with whose doings and sayings, and especially in connection with the boy waif, "Ben," the book is concerned. It is bright in style, healthful in tone, and thoroughly interesting.

Great Wonders in Little Things. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. 12mo, 333 pp. Price, $2.00.

A beautifully illustrated and illuminated volume, designed to bring minute objects as vividly as possible before the minds of young and old alike.

Halford's Luck; or, Which is the Better? By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

Under this title we have the story of two young men who had completed their college course, and were about to start in life for themselves. Parker Willis was a Christian. Harry Halford was not. The home life of the two college friends is portrayed, as well as the motive actuating each. The book shows how it is possible to enjoy life and succeed in business, and at the same time be a Christian.

Hannah. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 284 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is the story of the trials and struggles of a young girl in her pathway to womanhood and final settlement in life. Her lover proved unworthy; her mother died, and she was compelled to yield her position in the city store to which she had become so much attached. But with it all she is a brave, noble girl, and a Christian. She nerves herself for her duty, and she prays herself into peace.

Harold's Helps; or, The Pearl of Prayers. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 248 pp. Price, $1.00.

These children were early taught to study carefully, one by one, the petitions of the Lord's Prayer. They found it was much easier to say the various petitions that are embraced in the prayer than to do them. The methods by which the prayer was explained, and the steps by which the import of its different parts was made plain to the understanding and the heart deeply interested in them, are traced in a very interesting manner.

Hathaways' Sister, The. By Anne Kendrick Benedict. Illustrated. 12mo. In press. Price, $1.00.

A vivid presentation of an orphan girl's experience.

Hazeley Family, The; or, Hard but Wholesome Lessons. By Mrs. A. E. Johnson. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The trend of this book is such as should strengthen the love and trust of the reader in the Heavenly Father, remembering that he "doeth all things well."

Hearts and Hands; or, Maggie's and Ruby's Way. By Ellen A Whilden. Illustrated. 12mo, 173 pp. Price,90 cents.

This story is based upon a series of sermons which greatly influenced the lives of two young girls, and which were the means of the organization of a young people's society. The tone of the story is most excellent; and every home and community would be the better for the observance of the principles of the "Whatsoever" society of Mr. Archer's young people.

Helen and Marguerite. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 207 pp. Price, $1.00.

A story of sweet friendliness between two families, and the frolics and real adventures of the children in their winter sports.

Hidden Foes; or, Roy Hastings' Battles. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. 12mo, 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

The hidden foe of this story is a love of intoxicating drink. Mr. Hastings, the father of Roy, had inherited a taste for it, and by giving to his boy a taste from a glass of sherry, the same hidden foe is aroused in him. The story of Roy's struggle with his foe, catching pathetic interest from the linking of his fortunes with those of his little wife, Ruth, is told in this book. But at length he is regenerated, and his shackles are thrown off.

His Choice. By May F. McKean. Illustrated. 12mo. 244 pp. Price, $1.00.

The main object of the story is to show that the choice that is made in early life will, in all probability, influence the whole of the future career.

Home and Abroad; or, The Wonders of Familiar Objects. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph.D. Illustrated. 12mo, 319 pp. Price, $1.50.

This admirably written and illustrated story will clearly convince the reader that in his home surroundings he may find as many objects to arrest attention and furnish information, as in those places and countries where the masses rush after novelties which they have little capacity to enjoy, and in which they take so brief an interest.

Hoofs and Claws; or, Mrs. Burton's Policy. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph.D. 12mo, 363 pp. Price, $1.50.

"To boys and girls of intelligent and inquiring mind, this book will be of more benefit than a dozen trashy stories."—Canadian Baptist.

Horace Wilde. Illustrated. By Mrs. M. Jeanie Mallary. 12mo, 295 pp. Price, $1.25.

Mrs. Mallary has written a work which embodies, in a narrative form, the arguments for the faith and practice of the Baptists. She has conceived of them with great clearness, and presents them in an interesting and convincing story.

Hospital Rose, The; Flora's Copy-Book. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 251 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book is very happily illustrative of the words of the Psalmist: "Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving kindness of the Lord."

House of Armour, The. By Marshall Saunders. 12mo, 543 pp. Price, $1.50.

The delightful influence of Vivien, the brave, vivacious little French girl, upon her associates struggling with various social distresses, makes a fascinating story. Life in the quaint city of Halifax is pictured very attractively. The whole story is pervaded by the author's sweet and wholesome atmosphere.

How the Gardens Grew. By Sarah M. Williamson. Illustrated. 12mo, 173 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The gardens of this story are not those of the kitchen or the lawn, but of human hearts and lives. Our gardens then are the well-drawn characters of the book. How the lofty struggled with the low, the plants with the weeds in these and in the fields on which they were put, and how the former won the victory in the end, as it will do everywhere, is very well told. The style of the story is bright and vivid, gives evidence of reading and thought on the part of the author, and to many of its readers the incidents and scenes drawn from California life will be doubtless entirely new. We heartily commend the volume to Sunday-schools, and especially to the maturer young people.

In Colonial Days; A Tale of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. By L. M. N., author of "Old Bristol," "The Family of the Black Forest," and "Mildred Farroway's Fortune." Illustrated. 12mo, 413 pp. Price, $1.50.

The scene of this story is laid in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. The narrative opens in those eventful years that preceded the Revolutionary War. The mutterings that foretold its approach were already heard, and were waxing ever louder and louder. The work is, however, not a history, but the story of the Fythe family, whose members were on friendly terms with those who were doing a good work whose full results they could only conjecture.

In the Days of Massasoit. By Hezekiah Butterworth. 12mo, 301 pp. Price, $1.25.

Mr. Butterworth's well-known gifts as a writer are exercised with enthusiasm in this book because of his boyhood acquaintance with the scenes he describes and his sympathy with his heroes, Roger Williams and the Indian chiefs. Boys will be fascinated by the life of the wilderness, and all readers by the growth of a great idea—that of religious liberty. The book is profusely illustrated and handsomely bound.

Instead. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

It is the story of a young girl who had arranged to go to Europe for a three months' trip, but was prevented by circumstances over which she had no control. Instead of traveling, she read books of travel, and gained in many ways what she would scarcely have obtained from her intended trip.

In the Way. By Grace Livingston Hill. 12mo, 377 pp. Price, $1.50.

The heroine of this story is Ruth Benedict. She and her two brothers are left orphans. She has been away from home with an uncle. She feels it her duty, however, to return to her brothers. The story tells how she did this, and what her consecrated Christian action did for her and others. It ought to take high rank.

Island Story, An. By Anne Kendrick Benedict. Cloth. Illustrated. 12mo, 200 pp. Price, $1.00.

Little Millie brings with her into these pages the freshness and sparkle of the ocean surf by which she lives, and she is surrounded by all the quaint life of the rugged island which has now been seized upon by the summer resident. Fights and shipwrecks make the story interesting for the boys.

Jack; or, The Little Feathermore. By Mrs. M. Jeanie Mallary. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This is a story for boys. It follows "Jack," a waif in a city street, through his varied fortunes. Through the kind ministry of a Christian man he became a flower merchant; then an operative in a factory, and then at last established in a fortune of his own. He became a Christian man too, and successfully fought against the love of strong drink which he had inherited. The book is full of good lessons.

Jesus and the Little Ones. By Rev. E. Payson Hammond. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 45 cents.

A very interesting book for children, showing how little children have learned to love the Saviour.

Jesus' Lambs. By Rev. E. Payson Hammond. 18mo, 120 pp. Price, 40 cents.

Stories for children, teaching the young how to come to Jesus. A most excellent book to put into the hands of children.

Jesus the Way; or, The Child's Guide to Heaven. By Rev. E. Payson Hammond. 18mo, 108 pp. Price, 40 cents.

Mr. Hammond has in this book interwoven, with a clear view of the Lord Jesus Christ as the only Saviour, many interesting incidents of his late travels in the Holy Land.

Jessie's Three Resolutions. By Mary E. Bamford. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

With the story Miss Bamford weaves items of missionary intelligence that will be helpful and instructive, as well as full of deep interest.

John Brent's Field; or, Life on the Frontier. By Miss L. Bates. 16mo, 285 pp. Price, $1.25.

This story of frontier missionary life is naturally told, and is an admirable reproduction of the details of such life in our mining towns to-day.

Joshua Gianavello, "The Captain of the Vineyards of Lucerna." By Rev. Russell H. Conwell. Illustrated. 12mo, 317 pp. Price, $1.25.

The year 1655 witnessed the terrible massacre of the Waldenses that called forth the remonstrances of the Protector Oliver Cromwell and of other rulers in Europe. The cruelty and treachery of the Marquis of Pianessa produced their natural results in the valleys of Piedmont. A leader was found in Joshua Gianavello, whose deeds of daring in defense of the persecuted Waldenses were the marvel of those of his own and of later days.

Judith and Glaucia: A Story of the First Century. By Rev. Edwin McMinn. Illustrated. 12mo, 407 pp. Price, $1.50.

Judith was a Jewess, and Glaucia a maiden of Athens. They were brought by a peculiar train of events to Antioch, where they first heard the gospel, and afterward were led to Rome. They were in that city during the persecution under Nero, concealed in the Catacombs. It is a narrative to lead one to know the steadfastness and zeal of the early disciples of Christ, and to emulate their example.

Kathie's Margaret. By Lydia L. Rouse. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

Mrs. Rouse is well known by her Scotch stories, and this new one from her pen will be welcomed by the many readers of her previous books. There is even a greater pleasure in reading of life as it really is, than in following the flights of imaginative fancy. Kathie and her father, a strong, sturdy, God-fearing Scotchman, are from the humbler walks of life, and their highest aspiration is to do their duty to God and their fellows.

Kathleen; or, Trust in Darkest Days. By Agnes Giberne. Illustrated. 16mo, 316 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is an interesting story of an English home, abounding in incident and fraught with precious lessons for the spiritual life.

Kindling the Light; or, The Serampore Trio. Illustrated. 12mo, 155 pp. Price, 75 cents.

In this volume we have a clear and compact sketch of the Baptist missionary work in Hindustan, from its commencement in 1793 until the transfer of the Serampore College to the Baptist Missionary Society in 1855. "The Serampore Trio" consisted, as is well known, of Drs. Carey, Marshman, and Ward, and they labored together for a long series of years.

Kitty and the Other Girls. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 203 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The scene of this story is in New England, and the author very well depicts its life. We have its religious spirit well embodied in these young girls who organize for missionary work. Lessons of individual responsibility and Christian equality and love are well presented and enforced.

Kitty's Curl-Papers: A Fourth of July Story. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 16mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

This story of three young friends, Kitty French, Fanny Kimball, and Tina Rosenberg, is told with sprightly grace, and embodies some very useful lessons for the young. The curl-papers come in quite opportunely to solve a mystery that was exceedingly painful to Tina Rosenberg and her mother.

Lassie of Glengarry, The. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A very interesting story. The scenes are for the most part laid in the mining district of Northern Scotland. The book is gotten up in a very attractive manner, having on the cover a picture of the "Lassie of Glengarry," as we first meet her and become interested in her.

Last of the Line, The. By Miss L. Bates. Illustrated. 12mo, 318 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is a picture of labor in a church located in a poor and unfashionable quarter of one of our large cities.

Led Back. By Mrs. M. A. Denison. Illustrated. 12mo, 272 pp. Price, $1.00.

Circumstances need not wholly shape one, but as a matter of fact they very frequently do. This thought is well illustrated by this book. It is well worth reading and is full of interest. It appeared as a serial in the columns of the Young Peoples Union, and is worthy of this more permanent form in which it is now put.

Leslie Rossiter; What she was Born for. By Kate Neely Festetits. 12mo, 318 pp. Price, $1.25.

In this attractive volume we have the story of a young lady who, on completing her years of school life, had been encouraged to enter on a literary career, but after many trials of her patience she became a governess, in which position she is very successful. The story is full of well-told incidents and wise lessons.

Life and Scenes in Congo. By Rev. Herbert Probert. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This book ought to be widely circulated and read. It will help to make known that continent which in the not distant future will focalize in itself the civilizing and Christianizing forces of the world. It has two finely colored maps and six full-page illustrations.

Lilian's Stepmother. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

We may, if we choose, make the worst of one another. Every one has his weak points, every one his faults; we may fix our attention constantly upon these. But we may also make the best of one another. We may forgive as we hope to be forgiven. We may put ourselves in the place of others, and consider what we should wish to be done to us, or thought of us, in that place. Lilian's conduct toward her stepmother is actuated by exactly the contrary feeling.

Little Amy's Work; or, The Higher Law. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 408 pp. Price, $1.50.

The story of a little girl, weakly and deformed, but with a lovely Christian spirit, who finds a field of usefulness in seeking to benefit the untaught girls around her. A most excellent book for girls, and as interesting as good.

Little Jim, and Hotel Douglass. By Mrs. Susan M. Griffith. 12mo, 310 pp. Price, $1.25.

In each of these stories Mrs. Griffith has illustrated, with considerable humor, what can be done for the transformation of a country town by two or three earnest lives. Yet the two stories are entirely different except in the one feature of a victory over King Alcohol. Boys will enjoy the doings of the boy heroes.

Loyal Heart, A. By Mrs. Caroline Atwater Mason. Illustrated. 12mo, 316 pp. Price, $1.25.

The "loyal heart" of this story is Lois Fleming, bright, capable, helpful, and pure as a sunbeam. She is attractive, and true as steel in her moral principle. For her to see a duty is to perform it. This book is thoroughly well written, and indicates an acquaintance with good literature on the part of the author. It cannot help being popular among young people.

Lost and Found; or, The Story of Alison. By Mary E. Bradley. 12mo, 314 pp. Price, $1.25.

Alison, the heroine of this story, was an orphan, and was taken from the asylum to become the inmate of a thoroughly uncongenial home. She was employed as a nursemaid, and was by no means a success in the estimation of her hard and overbearing mistress. Transferred into the warm, sympathetic atmosphere pervading the home of a cousin of her mistress, she bloomed out into a beautiful and helpful girl, and at last was restored to her father, and became a favorite of fortune. The story is very impressive as to the influence upon us of our surroundings.

Marmaduke Multiply Stories. By Caroline Starr Morgan. 2 vols., 12mo, 179 pp. Price, $1.50.

In these doings of pets and toys the logic of events teaches many practical morals, while there is not a dry line in the whole. They are fairy stories based on the old counting rhyme "One, two, buckle my shoe," etc. The books are in a series especially adapted for children beginning to read. See "On Grandfather's Farm."

Master Hathorne's Family: A Story of the Early Boston Baptists. By George E. Merrill. Illustrated. 12mo, 384 pp. Price. $1.50.

The early trials of the Baptists in Boston are graphically depicted in this interesting story.

Mick Tracy. Illustrated. 12mo, 384 pp. Price, $1.50.

The author of this narrative has been personally acquainted with the difficulties which beset the "Bible Readers" in Ireland. His facts are woven together in such a way as to keep the attention of the reader unwearied to the end.

Mildred Farroway's Fortune; or, Money not Chief in Christian Work. By the author of "Old Bristol" and "The Family of the Black Forest." Illustrated. 12mo, 416 pp. Price, $1.50.

This work will be found interesting to pastors and Sunday-school teachers, as well as to scholars. It narrates, in easy, flowing style, some experiences in the life of Mildred Farroway, who, on reaching the legal age, came into possession of property left to her by her father, and had a very commendable wish to do good with it.

Miner's Daughter, The. By Miss L. Bates. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

A story of the Rocky Mountains, the scenes being laid in Colorado. The volume is full of incident, and full of incitement to good, earnest, missionary work.

Mrs. Goldworth's Charity. By May F. McKean. Illustrated. 12mo, 248 pp. Price, $1.00.

This work starts out with an account of a plain, practical, Christian sermon, one Lord's Day morning—a sermon on enlargement of the heart. The result in part was seen in the case of Mrs. Goldworth, and the story follows her, as she learns lessons on charity in its true sense, and reduces them to practice.

Miss Canary. By Chara B. Conant. Illustrated. 12mo, 247 pp. Price, $1.00.

Not a helpless feathered canary, but a sweet human one, sings her way to friends and freedom in this story, and takes a flight to a pleasant wonderland and back again.

Mrs. Marshall's Experiment. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 252 pp. Price, $1.00.

We have in this book what is really a sequel to 'Turtleback Light," although it is not so stated. The tone of the book is admirable. Many lessons of Christian fidelity are contained in its pages, and it reveals a spirit toward servants which it would advantage many other households to imitate.

Mrs. Middleton's Girls. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo. 240 pp. Price, $1.00.

Sketches the fortunes of three girls left fatherless. Their mother has a somewhat peculiar view of marriage, which is well brought out.

Merrivale Will, The. By the author of "The Family of the Black Forest," "In Colonial Days," etc. 12mo, 360 pp. Price, $1.25.

Boys will especially enjoy this story. Through a very well written account of young men and their business affairs and a most tangled mystery, runs the sweet influence of a genuine Christian woman: and this with the blessing of Providence leads to a satisfactory solution.

Nell and Nan; or, Trying to be Good. By Mrs. A. E. Maskell. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

Nell and Nan are sisters, with the restlessness common to young life. They want something to do: something in the line of missionary work; something that shall be helpful to somebody. But they begin, as most people do, by looking too far off. They find out at last that home is good missionary soil, and that to help mother is to serve the Lord. The story is well told.

Nina Bruce; or, A Girl's Influence. By Rose Hartwick Thorpe, author of "Curfew Must Not Ring To-night." Illustrated. 12mo, 319 pp. Price, $1.25.

The scene of this narrative is laid in both Michigan and Texas. The life she lived; the acquaintances made; the Christian influence of Nina; together with the peculiarities of the country and climate and customs, are all admirably described.

Nobody's Boy; or, How Good Goes On. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo. 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

No boy could well begin lower than did Joe—"Nobody's Boy." The path of his upward career was honorable and upright all the way through; and the goal attained was one within the reach of any one's earnest striving. In his prosperity the lessons of his adversity are not forgotten. The book is thoroughly healthful and stimulating.

Ocean Gardens and Palaces; or, The Tent on the Beach. By Rev. Sidney Dyer, Ph. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.50.

The author has here made the ocean unfold some of the sublimest revelations of creative energy; and the well-written pages will lead the mind to a devout contemplation of nature's God. The book is beautiful, interesting, and instructive. Its illustrations compare favorably with those of any book for the young published in this country or in Europe.

Old Academy, The; or, How the Church was Rebuilt. By Kate Neely Festetits. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

There are natures exceptionally winning. So bright are they, so natural, so fearless, that all irresistibly pay court to them and yield to their influence. Such a nature is Lulu Somerville's. There is not a particle of the "goody-goody" character about her, but all is wholesome, bright, breezy, and it will do any young girl good to come in contact with her.

Old Bristol. A story of the early English Baptists. By L. M. N. Illustrated. 12mo, 351 pp. Price, $1.50.

Old Bristol, in England, was a center of Baptist influence as far back as the days of Cromwell and Charles II. In this memorable period the scene of this charming book is laid. It is a graphic and truthful presentation of life, and especially of life among the Baptists, at that day. It is a book of very great value. The struggles of the early English Baptists are graphically depicted, and no one can read this rehearsal of them without being instructed as well as interested.

Olive's Expiation. By Mildred Scarborough. Illustrated. 12mo, 236 pp. Price, $1.00.

We are sure the reader will be disappointed neither in the ability of the author, nor in the interest which will be awakened and sustained to the very end of the volume.

On the World's Roof. By J. Macdonald Oxley. 12mo, 279 pp. Price, $1.25.

India is the land of wonders and of romance. The highest mountains are there and the strangest peoples. Mr. Oxley tells us how a lad and his father climbed the one and mingled with the other and of the adventures they meet. One young lad pronounced it the best book he ever read.

Open Ways. Indolence, Crime, Industry. By Rev. T. L. Baily. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

The title of this book tells us what it is. Before each one "open ways" are placed which he may enter and on which he may work. Timothy Jones in this book illustrates this fact, and shows the result in his career and character. The story opens amid the Allegheny Mountains, carries us through some pioneer scenes of the West, and leaves us on the Pacific coast. There is a good deal of freshness in the descriptive portions, and we are shown clearly the good to which each path leads.

Overruled; or, The Story of Mary Lane. By Mildred Scarborough. Illustrated. 12mo, 252 pp. Price, $1.00.

Circumstances have a strange power in shaping our career. And yet they themselves are shaped and controlled by God. This is the lesson of this book. Tangled threads are straightened, and cross purposes cease, and Elizabeth Lee and Mary Lane, the heroines of the story, are both the better for the way in which God leads them.

Palm Tree Club, The; or, How Three Girls Grew. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 224 pp. Price, $1.00.

The scene of this story is laid in New England, and the narrative is told in Mrs. Wilbur's well-known happy manner. The interest of the reader will be sustained throughout the entire book, and the lessons contained therein cannot fail to be beneficial, while the incidents related will prove very entertaining.

Parramore Children, The. By Mildred Scarborough. Illustrated. 12mo, 312 pp. $1.25.

This shows what may be hoped for, under the blessing of God, for constant, careful, firm, and loving control of even a specially wild quartette of children.

Parting at the Burnside, The. By Lydia L. Rouse. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

A story of the times of the Covenanters' persecution in Scotland. Many lessons can be learned from this picture of those dark days, but the principal is that when earthly props failed, the divine support became the more strongly grasped.

Patty Deane. An old-fashioned story. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a story of earnest, patient effort, whereby an orphan girl secured an education. She did not spend her time in bemoaning her lot, but improved her opportunities; and God helped her, for she helped herself.

Pearl Hanford's Summer. By May F. McKean. Illustrated. 12mo, 253 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a story of a young Christian girl who, for the first time in her life, spends a summer away from home. The temptations with which she meets, and the influence which they exert on her Christian life, are well described. Pearl's temptations are not those of gay and fashionable life. This makes the story the more valuable, showing, as it does, that even the slight change may cause neglect of prayer and of reading the word of God, and thus lead to loss of spirituality and of Christian earnestness.

Pins and Cords. By Minnie E. Kenney. Illustrated. 12mo, 268 pp. Price, $1.00.

Hope Lindsey, the principal character of this book, unconsciously became very selfish. A providential change as to a proposed trip changed the whole current of her life. It made her the light of her home, and helpful everywhere.

Priscilla; or, Trials for the Truth. A historical tale of the Puritans and the Baptists. By Joseph Banvard. Illustrated. 12mo, 400 pp. Price, $1.50.

This thrilling tale is designed to bring to the minds of the present generation the sufferings which our Baptist ancestors, two hundred years ago, endured, even on New England soil, in defense of their principles of religious liberty and scriptural practice.

Pioneer Days. The Life Story of Gershom and Elizabeth B. Day. By Mrs. M. E. D. Trowbridge. Illustrated. 12mo, 160 pp. Cloth. Price, 75 cents.

"It is hard to lay the book down. We get an everyday picture of heroic efforts made to establish our churches."—Baptist Union.

Rachel Hastings' Girls. By Sophie Bronson Titterington. Illustrated. 12mo, 300 pp. Price, $1.25.

Rachel Hastings proposed that her Sunday-school class should spend a part of the weekly afternoon in examining the condition of women in Brahmanism, Buddhism, and Mohammedanism. The growth of interest among the girls, and among the families to which they belonged, is well depicted.

Rana; or, Happy Days. By Mrs. M. O. Foster. Illustrated. 12mo, 251 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book will interest girls and boys that have not yet grown out of their teens, and the parents and grandparents will find attraction in the pictures of bygone days that it presents.

Riches Without Wings. By Mrs. Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is the story of three young women, upon whom a triple misfortune falls at once. Instead of sitting down amid the ruins of the past, dressed in sackcloth, they turned their faces toward the future, and let hope shine upon them. It is a story of sturdy faith, and "brave endeavor," and loyalty to principle.

Roger's Travels; or, Scenes and Incidents Connected with the Journey of Two Boys in a Foreign Land. By Rev. E. Payson Hammond. Illustrated. 12mo, 156 pp. Price, 75 cents.

Rosalie Wynnton; or, Link to Link. By Mrs. M. Jeanie Mallary. Illustrated. 12mo, 312 pp. Price, $1.25.

Rosalie was early orphaned, and finds a home with her uncle in New York. He is worldly, and his family fashionable and uncongenial. There her character shines forth as gold. Her patience and sweetness of character overcame all obstacles. The book cannot be otherwise than healthful and helpful.

Rolled Away. By Lydia L. Rouse. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a story of domestic life. Eleanor and Ruth Clifton are the daughters of a physician, to whom another daughter, a half-sister to the others, is born. Eleanor, the oldest daughter, turns against her, and after the death of her parents and her own sister, drives her from her home and plots against her in every possible way. Helen overcomes the obstacles, however, and the hard burden of her life is rolled away. She is privileged to forgive Eleanor, and her own daughter ministers to her lonely and desolate old age.

Roy Kennedy's Reward; or, The Way to Win. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

Nothing is more manly than a manly boy. Nothing imparts to you a more healthful impulse, nothing touches you more quickly with the inspiration of hope. Such a manly boy we have in Roy Kennedy, the hero of this story. In the quiet motherliness of Mrs. Kennedy, in the touches here and there on social questions and church work, and in the pretty little romance of Jenny and Captain Ray,—but we have almost given away what the reader had better find out for himself. All will be interested in the book.

Rushlights. By Mattie Dyer Britts. Illustrated. 12mo, 252 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a pleasant little story of life in a country school district, and is confined in the main to the limits of a single school year. The course of events is well unfolded by Mrs. Britts, and the influence of one unselfish, conscientious, and thoroughly devoted Christian life is well brought out. The book is full of lessons for the young, and will make a welcome addition to the lists of any of our Sunday-school libraries.

Southern Cousin, The. By Annie Weston Whitney. Illustrated. 12mo, 282 pp. Price, $1.25.

The lesson of the book is, that one's true pleasure, as well as true mission, in life is to be found in the helping of others.

Spicy Breezes from Minnesota Prairies. By Boston W. Smith (Uncle Boston). Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This interesting work is designed to give sketches of Missionary and Sunday-school work in Minnesota during the different seasons of the year.

Stacey's Room; or, One Year's Building. By Sarah Endicott Ober. Illustrated. 12mo, 224 pp. Price, $1.00.

Stacey's fertile brain devises many articles of use and beauty which can be formed out of old things that have been thrown aside, or out of new ones that can be bought for a trifle.

Story of the Karen Mission in Bassein. By L. P. Brockett, M. D. 12mo, 160 pp. Price, 75 cents.

A brief and interesting account of the wonderful mission work among the Bassein Karens.

Stranger in His Gates. By Mrs. Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 384 pp. Price, $1.50.

Few of the books which have been suggested by some incident connected with our great war can vie with this in the interest of the story, or the beauty of the style.

Step by Step; or, The Lord's Leading. By Alice T. Pickford. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

The special aim of this little work is to present clearly before the mind of young Christians the truth so graciously taught in the Scriptures, and so aptly expressed in the words of the familiar hymn:

He leadeth me! oh, blessed thought!
Oh words with heavenly comfort fraught!
Whate'er I do, where'er I be,
Still 'tis God's hand that leadeth me.

Summer Brother, A. By Sophie Bronson Titterington. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A recital of some of the good deeds done by that worthy enterprise, the Fresh Air Fund. The story is well told, and has a charm and brightness about it that will not only interest the reader, but will create in him a desire to do something for some of the little suffering waifs crowded together in the heated centers of our large cities.

Sunday School Rink. By May Kingston. Illustrated. 12mo, 220 pp. Price, $1.00.

This book is an earnest protest against the high pressure, secular, wasteful methods so often employed by our churches and schools. It antagonizes a phase of religious activity which many deplore.

Swing of the Sea, In the. By J. Macdonald Oxley. 12mo, 269 pp. Price, $1.00.

This story should be one of the most popular of boys' books. It starts the hero on a whaling cruise from New Bedford in the palmy days of the trade, and he shares in all the characteristic adventures of the business. His interest in a heathen harpooner prepares him for a stay in a missionary's family in one of the South Sea Islands, and the following adventures seem to be drawn from the lives of Paton and other heroes of those regions.

Tangled Threads; or, Linda's Awakening. By Mildred Scarborough. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This is the story of an orphan girl who from lack of strength and principle was led into a course of wrong-doing and concealment. This caused much trouble to her friends and suffering to herself. At last, by the sea in the early morning, her sin flashed upon her, and she was awakened to its enormity. She confessed it all, and her life grew strong and true.

Thanksgiving at Earle's Rock. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, $1.25.

The plan of this story is thoroughly ingenious and well worked out. Our young readers especially will find the story of unusual interest, and in the episode of the little weaver girl who carried all her tangles to the King, they will find the principle that will be of wonderful help through the whole of life.

Theodosia Ernest; or, The Heroine of Faith. Illustrated. 12mo, 459 pp. Price, $1.00.

The story of ten evenings spent in diligent study is embodied in as many chapters, and furnishes an entertaining, truthful, and exhaustive treatment of the baptismal controversy.

Theodosia Ernest; or, Ten Days Travel in Search of the Church. Volume II. 12mo, 491 pp. Price, 50 cents.

The second volume is a continuation of the first volume, but changes the form of discussion somewhat. The discussion in the first volume is mainly on the subject of baptism. The discussion in the second volume is on questions of the church, its government, history, officers, etc. The author endeavors to show that Baptists have always existed, and that their ideas of the church are in strict conformity to New Testament teachings.

Thread of Gold, A. By Lucie Dayton Phillips. Illustrated. 12mo, 254 pp. Price, $1.00.

The thread of gold in this story is formed by the character, winsomeness, and Christian consecration of Leslie Hope, its principal figure. Mrs. Phillips is not unknown to our readers as a writer of short stories, and in this her first longer venture she has given us a thoroughly wholesome, Christian book, which no young girl especially can read without profit.

Three Girls and Their Motto. By E. L. S. E. Author of "Walter Harley's Conquest." 12mo, 200 pp. Price, $1.00.

The story is an excellent one, especially for young Christian girls. It is most helpful in its tone and teaching, and to our mind is more true to the New Testament idea of the kingdom of Christ, which is "righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost," than are they who teach us that the kingdom is still in the future, and that we must look for its revelation by-and-by in all the pomp and circumstance of material splendor.

Three Roman Girls. A Tale of the Catacombs. By Mary E. Bamford. Illustrated. 12mo, 252 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a story of Rome during the reign of Diocletian, and connected with the terrible persecution of Christians with which his name is associated. The volume will be most serviceable, not only in giving a vivid picture of the life of those early days, but also in teaching what at times it has cost to be a Christian.

Through the Bush; or, New South Wales of Fifty Years Ago. By Mrs. Dora E. W. Spratt. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

The main interest of the book is found in its account of a trip from Sydney to Goulburn, far in the interior, which was made by our party. This account, introducing us in this way to the mode of life in that far off land, its aborigines, its exceptional vegetation, and its strange and wondrous animals, is full of entertainment, and as full of instruction. Mrs. Spratt has given us a thoroughly readable and healthful narrative, which will be popular not only with boys, but also with older people.

To-Day and To-Morrow. By Mattie Dyer Britts. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

This is a story dealing in the main with a group of young people living in and about a country town in one of our Western States. They were companions in social, school, and afterward in church life, being converted in a meeting held by the pastor. The chronicle of the sayings and doings and development of this group of young people is a thoroughly good one, and will prove of interest to our young readers.

True to the End. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. Illustrated. 12mo, 192 pp. Price, 90 cents.

A stirring tale of the Reformation in Switzerland, which traces the fortunes of those who suffered for the cause of religious liberty at the hands of Zwingli.

Turning Points; or, The Boys of Dr. Starbrook's School. By Miss Fannie Hooker. Illustrated. 12mo, 420 pp. Price, $1.50.

This is a very spirited and wholesome story of boy life in a boarding-school. Boys, whether in school or in other places, may learn profitable lessons from the narrative, while it cannot fail to interest those who have sent out loved sons to live and move in similar scenes. It has, also, salutary suggestions to parents and teachers.

Turtleback Light. A story of influence. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 239 pp. Price, $1.00.

Mrs. Marshall, a wealthy lady, in spending a summer on Turtleback Island on the coast of Maine, formed an acquaintance with Elsa and Kitty, the one the daughter of the lighthouse keeper and the other of a near neighbor, and took them with her when she returned, to render service in her home. The book presents a very pleasant picture of domestic life. These girls are Americans, educated to a good degree, and presenting a very different type of domestic servant from that to which for the most part we are accustomed nowadays.

Unknown Paths; or, Lorrie's Guardians. By Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.25.

Lorrie Graham was a young orphan girl, living with her grandfather and her Aunt Huldah. It was not a pleasant home; for while there was no lack of ordinary comforts, there were few manifestations of the affection of her relative for the orphan girl. But at length her heart was drawn toward the Lord. By paths which were to her all unknown she was led onward, and a new life was opened to her.

Up Among the Ice Floes. By J. Macdonald Oxley. Illustrated. 12mo, 250 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is another story by the author of "Bert Lloyd's Boyhood." All who read that will with joy hail this. It is not so much a story as it is an account of a voyage up into the frozen regions of the North. Most boys, we are sure, will pronounce it better than the average story; and while with a yawn they might drop that, if allowed they will sit up at night to read this.

Up Hill; or, Paul Sutherland's Progress. By Mrs. J. C. Yule. Illustrated. 12mo, 416 pp. Price, $1.50.

Paul was a weakly and exceedingly sensitive child, whose father was ill, and by no means careful to deal kindly, gently, and lovingly with the boy. Steady adherence to principle was early manifested; then came real Christian principle to rule his varied life, and the result was an earnest, diligent, useful Christian life.

Upshur Hall; or, the Power of Influence. By Dorothy Holroyd. Illustrated. 12mo, 256 pp. Price, $1.00.

This is a pleasant history of the good influence exercised by a bright, cheerful Christian girl.

Walter Harley's Conquest. By E. L. S. E. Illustrated. 12mo, 240 pp. Price, $1.00.

Walter Harley wants to be a hero. He wants something to do; but he wants it great and grand. Beneath the influence of an older and wiser cousin, he was led to modify his thought and his conception of the realm in which the heroic might be realized. He was made to see that it lay in himself, and in his home, and in his relationship to his school fellows and others.

Ward Hill at Weston. A story of American school life. By Everett T. Tomlinson. 12mo, 336 sp. Price, $1.25.

This is a vigorous story of life at a boys' boarding school, and should prove a classic on school life in America. All kinds of boys have various experiences—some severe and some comical—told in Mr. Tomlinson's popular style. The Hero's fortunes through the further stages of his education are to be followed in future volumes. The binding and illustrations are especially designed to please boys.

Ways That Win: A Tale of a Year. By Mrs. Caroline Starr Morgan. Illustrated. 12mo, 352 pp. Price, $1.50.

This story tells us of the work of a mission band, composed of girls and boys. With all the enthusiasm of their young natures, they devote themselves to the work they have proposed. They earn money, the girls by sewing and the boys by what they can do, and a fair proportion goes into the missionary treasury. Their enthusiasm is contagious.

Way Upward, The. By Mrs. Retta Andrews Pettit. Illustrated. 12mo, 304 pp. Price, $1.25.

The spirit of the book is excellent, and all who read it will see that the way upward will be determined by our using the world and not abusing it, and by a loving, faithful service of Him whose own feet walked therein. It will be seen too, that this upward way is the way of peace, and that in religion no more than in life can one successfully traverse two paths.

What a Girl Can Do. By Miss L. Bates. Illustrated. 12mo, 312 pp. Price, $1.25.

This is a very suggestive story, pointing out what may be done in putting a stop to the fashionable wine drinking that prevails in numerous polite circles.

Whatsoever; or, The Young Stalwarts. By Mrs. R. M. Wilbur. Illustrated. 12mo, 315 pp. Price, $1.25.

A narrative of life in New England, whose aim is to impress the importance of prompt cheerfulness in doing whatsoever the Lord has commanded.

While Lucy Kept House. By Mrs. Mary E. Bradley. Illustrated. 12mo, 316 pp. Price, $1.25.

Very beautiful are the lessons of humility, unselfishness, and industry taught in this book.

Wilbert Eldred; or, Is it Well With the Child? By Rev. D. F. Leach. Illustrated. 12mo, 348 pp. Price, $1.25.

The scene of this narrative is in a Dutch village in Eastern New York. Wilbert Eldred was a child nearly four years old. The little boy died; and, to the great grief of some of the members of the Lutheran Church, died unchristened. The death and funeral sermon led to earnest discussion in the village, both private and public. The arguments for and against the sacramental efficacy of baptism were warmly discussed. The result was, that at length the father and mother of Wilbert were baptized, with several others.

Wonders of Insect Life. By Prof. J. E. Willet. 12mo, 320 pp. Price, $1.75.

This is the volume for which a prize of $500 was paid, and the first of a series on the wonders of creative wisdom and goodness issued by the Society. It is a book of absorbing interest.

Year at Dangerfield, A. By Kate Neely Festetits. Illustrated. 12mo, 288 pp. Price, 1.25.

A charming story of the good times of a rosebud of a girl among a host of young cadets. There is some sadness for a background, but also plenty of fun and brightness. It will be especially grateful to boys.

Class Book for One Year. Price, muslin, 40 cents per dozen.

Class Cards for the use of Teachers. Price, per hundred, $1.00.

Class Collection Envelope. Price, 35 cents per dozen.

Gems from the Word of God. Price, 10 cents each. By mail, 12 cents.

This is a handsome Wall Roll, size 9x12 inches. It contains the date and title of each lesson of the International Series for the year, with the Golden Text printed in bold, clear type. Each page has a colored border. The cover is beautifully illuminated and printed in two colors. A copy placed in the hands of each Sunday-school scholar, with the request that it be hung in the living room of the house, will bring the lesson for the week to constant notice, and will make the entire family familiar with chosen passages of Scripture. It can be used also with good effect in the class-room. With a view to a large sale a low price has been fixed. The usual price of Wall Rolls with miscellaneous selections of Scripture range from 75 cents to $1.00 each. "Gems from the Word of God" are equally as effective, with a marked difference in price, so as to bring them within the reach of all Sunday-schools.

Order of Worship for Sunday-schools. Arranged by H. D. Miller. 12mo, 38 pp. Price, 5 cents.

These exercises for the guidance of worship in our Sunday-schools are compiled by a practical Sunday-school worker, They are designed especially for helpfulness in our smaller schools, and it is believed that they will help in giving point and method to the services in many of our Sunday-schools, and be of real practical help to many a superintendent.

QUESTION AND TEXT BOOKS.

The Society would call attention to its very large list of superior Question Books. They are adapted to different ages and capacities—from the infant scholar up to the adult pupil of the Bible class.

Bible Reader, The. 16mo, 160 pp. Price, 25 cents.

This is an excellent Reader for Sunday-schools; being selections from the Bible, in large type, setting forth Christian doctrine, and human duties.

Easy Lessons for Beginners. 12mo, 24 pp. Price, 5 cents.

These Lessons are designed to precede the Sunday-school Readers, and are exactly what their name indicates.

Easy Lessons. To help those who wish to read the Bible. Selections from the Bible, in large print. 32mo, 48 pp. Price, 4 cents.

This is the very best kind of a lesson book for young classes in Sunday-schools.

Sunday-school Reader, No. 1. 12mo, 64 pp. Price, paper, 10 cents; boards, 15 cents.

Sunday-school Reader, No. 2. 12mo, 64 pp. Price, paper, 10 cents; boards, 15 cents.

These Readers are simple, progressive, beautifully illustrated, and scriptural, and are admirably adapted for fireside and Sunday-school instruction.

First Scripture Question Book. 18mo, 128 pp. Price, boards, 15 cents; $1.50 per dozen. Paper, 10 cents; $1.00 per dozen.

This work has been prepared with especial reference to the wants of the younger classes in Sunday-schools, and for use in family instruction. It is arranged in a series of questions and answers, both expressed in few words, but perfectly clear and easy of comprehension by young children. The volume, though small, contains a distinct outline of the sacred Scriptures. It is handsomely illustrated, and is pronounced by competent judges the best book ever published.

CATECHISMS.

Baptist Catechism. A Brief Instruction in the Principles of the Christian Religion. By Benjamin Keach. Revised Edition. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, paper cover, 5 cents.

The ancient Catechism drawn up on the plan of the Assembly's Shorter Catechism, and modified to express clearer views of the New Testament ordinances, has been in use for nearly two centuries in the Baptist families of Great Britain and the United States. The present edition is in large type, without references, for the use of the youngest children.

Baptist Catechism. A Brief Instruction in the Principles of the Christian Religion. By Benjamin Keach. 18mo, 32 pp. Price, paper, 5 cents.

This is the same work as the preceding, in somewhat closer type, with the References to Scripture Proofs, for the use of more advanced children.

Baptist Catechism, The. 31 pp. Price, 5 cents. Published also in German and Spanish.

The above Catechism is the result of a prize, offered by the Society for the best work of this kind that could be produced. Of the very many offered, this, by Rev. Charles Keyser, was chosen. It was revised by an able committee, and we find it most clearly and forcibly defining our denominational doctrines. It utters no uncertain sound, and refers to Scripture to uphold every answer. The best Catechism in the denomination.

Bible Class Catechism, The. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is a thorough text book of Baptist doctrine, by Rev. Charles Henry Rowe. The answers are clear, and every one is supported by abundant Scripture authority.

Help for Children, and the Friends of Children. A plain and easy Catechism, designed for the use of Sunday-schools. By Andrew Broadus, D. D. 32mo, 32 pp. Price, paper cover, 3 cents.

The excellent compiler of this Catechism has sought to attain a degree of simplicity, brevity, and scriptural purity not before attained in catechisms for very young children. His success has been complete, as a little examination will show. Parents and teachers of Infant and Sunday-schools will find here just what they need.

Scripture Lessons for the Little Ones. 32mo, 32 pp. Price, 3 cents.

In this little book there are thirty lessons, each occupying one small page. It embraces questions and answers on some of the more prominent portions of the sacred Scriptures. The language is clear and simple, making it suitable for very young children.

A Catechism of Bible Teaching. By John A. Broadus, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 44 pp. Price, 5 cents.

It is a very clear, concise, and simple statement of the doctrines and beliefs of the Baptist denomination.

REWARDS.

Reward Tickets. Plain Tickets, consisting of Scripture verses on red, yellow, or blue Cards, at 75 cents per 1,000. Decorated Tickets, at from 15 cents to 30 cents per 100.

Reward Cards. Decorated Cards, with verses, 8 cents per package of 10. Decorated Cards, larger, 15 cents per package of 10. Decorated Cards, still larger, 25 cents per package of 10.

Our assortment is large, and always kept fresh by the addition of new designs. The plan of giving tickets for attendance, and the repetition of verses, and larger cards on the accumulation of a specified number of these tickets, has been tried, and is used successfully by some of the largest schools in the country. We can offer no complete Catalogue of prices and designs, as we constantly replace old numbers with new, and so always offer to our patrons the best to be had. If you will give us an order for a sample lot amounting to $1.00 or more, and name the proportion desired of tickets and cards, large and small, we think the selection made would be such as to lead you to repeat and increase your order.

Hammond's Picture Tracts. Packet I. Thirteen tracts of eight pages each, with illustrations. Price, 15 cents.

These tracts are composed mostly of exceedingly interesting letters from children, with comments from Rev. Edward Payson Hammond's warm heart and ready pen. We have seen nothing better calculated to interest children and bring them to Jesus.

Hammond's Picture Tracts. Packet II. Twelve tracts of twelve pages each, with many illustrations. Price, 20 cents.

These letters from children to Rev. Edward Payson Hammond, and stories by him, although intended for children, cannot fail to have an intense interest to all who love the cause of the Master.

Little Bo. A study in the Ninth of John. By Russell H. Conwell. Square 8vo, 94 pp., cloth, gilt, sixteen full-page illustrations. Price, $1.00.

This is a study of the healing of the blind man as recorded in the ninth of John. The name, of course, is an imaginary one, and was chosen, the author tells us, because it happened to strike his fancy. It is a good book for the young and for those more mature.

GRADED LESSON HELPS.

For Primary Grade.

Picture Lessons. By Mrs. M. G. Kennedy. Terms: 3 cents for one quarter, or 12 cents per year. Furnished only in sets of five and its multiples.

Beautifully printed cards in colors. They give the title and place of the Lesson, Golden Text, Lesson Hymn, Remember Sentence, and seven questions and answers. There is nothing finer or more attractive than these Lesson Cards.

Primary Quarterly. Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, Editor. Terms: Single copy, per year, 10 cents. In packages of five and upward, 2 cents per copy for one quarter, or 7½ cents per year.

This contains the Lesson Text, Golden Text, Bible Promise, Remember Sentence, Lesson Hymn, Lesson Talk, Questions on the Lesson, Picture Talk, and two pictures with each lesson; Review Talks and special services; besides other special features, such as Maps, Music, etc.

Two Years with Jesus. A Pictorial Lesson Help for Primary Classes. Mrs. Juliet Dimock Dudley, Editor. Terms: In clubs of five and upward, 2¼ cents each per copy for one quarter, or 9 cents per year.

The lessons are entirely distinct from those given in either the International series or in the Inductive series. Its regular lessons especially present the life and work of our Lord, in an interesting and instructive manner. Supplemental Lessons give the younger pupils in Sunday-schools a knowledge of the books of the Bible, in their order, Bible history, geography, chronology, etc., etc. While each lesson is from the Gospels, the Old Testament stories, prophecies, and teachings are woven in, so that pupils are taught the wholeness and unity of the Bible. The lessons are numbered but not dated, hence they may be commenced at any time.

Two Years with Jesus. Translated into Swedish. Terms: In packages of five and upward, to one address, 5 cents per copy for one quarter, or 20 cents per year.

Two Years with Jesus. Teachers' Edition. Terms: Single subscription, 25 cents a year. In packages of five or more, 20 cents a year, each. Containing the notes and suggestions given in The Baptist Teacher to accompany the series when first published.

For Intermediate Grade.

Intermediate Quarterly. Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, Editor. Terms: Single copy, per year, 10 cents. In packages of five and upward, 2 cents per copy for one quarter, or 7½ cents per year.

This Quarterly contains: 1. Lesson Talk—an explanation in familiar form into which is woven history, geography, manners, and customs, etc., an effort to interest the scholar and incite a desire for further study. The Questions are pointed, and follow the analysis of the lesson. 2. Thought Questions for Written Answers, intended to lead pupils to think and to express their thoughts. 3. The most intensely practical thought in the lesson, stated in a form likely to catch the attention and touch the conscience. 4. Home Searchings, or points to be searched out in the Bible during the week. 5. Daily Manna—a carefully selected verse for each day in the week, following out some one heart-thought of the lesson; thus carrying it literally into everyday life. 6. Blanks to be filled up—in which either book, chapter, or verse is omitted, that the pupil may find the place in the Bible and fill up the space left blank with the proper chapter and verse. 7. Illustrative Picture. This is a distinctive feature, designed as a key to open the meaning of the lesson; to point and impress through the eye some great truth, and connect it in the mind of the pupil with some familiar scene or object.

For Advanced Grade.

Advanced Quarterly. Bible Lessons. Prof. H. H. Harris, LL. D., and Z. Grenell, D. D., Editors. Terms of Advanced Quarterly: Single copy, per year, 10 cents. In packages of five and upward, 2 cents per copy for one quarter, or 7½ cents a year. Terms, of Bible Lessons: In packages of five, 4 cents a copy for one year, or $4.00 per 100 copies.

The Text, References, Home Readings, Analysis, Notes, Questions, and Questions for Written Answers are the same in these two helps. The Quarterly has, in addition: Order of Service, Maps, and a Written Review at close of the quarter.

For Senior Grade.

Senior Quarterly. Geo. E. Merrill, D. D., Editor. Terms: Single copy, per year, 20 cents. In packages of five and upward, 4 cents per copy for one quarter, or 16 cents per year.

The Senior Quarterly contains in each issue excellent engravings, maps in colors, illustrated dictionary, and special lesson features. The Outlines and Questions are adapted to the grade for which they are prepared. The Themes for Further Thought are designed to carry the pupil a little beyond the precise line of the lesson, and suggest wider views of the truths presented than are usually given in the lesson text. The Practical Lessons are very properly quite full, and will be found pertinent and valuable. Questions for Written Answers are added to each lesson.

Senior Inductive Studies. Jesus the Christ: Rev. W. G. Fennell, Editor. Extending through eighteen months. The Early Church: F. W. Ryder, D. D., Editor. Extending through six months. Terms: Single copy, per year, 30 cents. In clubs of five and upward, 5 cents each per quarter or 20 cents per year.

Junior Inductive Studies. Jesus the Christ: Rev. W. G. Fennell, Editor. The Early Church: F. W. Ryder, D. D.

Corresponding in lessons to Senior Studies, and intended to be used by the Junior classes. Terms: Single copy, per year, 15 cents. In packages of five and upward, 2½ cents per copy, or 10 cents per year.

These Inductive studies furnish an alternative course, covering two years, for such schools as do not prefer the International series. The lessons are numbered, but not dated, hence they may be commenced at any time. The lessons are in outline for the most part, hence include more verses than in the other series, and their treatment is entirely different. The Scripture text is not printed in the quarterlies. Space is provided for written summaries and for answers to test questions. The analyses are very full. Success in their use depends upon careful and thorough study.

Inductive Studies. Teachers' Edition. Terms: Single subscription, 40 cents a year. In packages of five or more, 32 cents a year, each. Containing the notes and suggestions for study given in The Baptist Teacher to accompany the series when first published.

For Superintendents.

The Baptist Superintendent. Monthly. C. R. Blackall, D. D., Editor. Terms: 25 cents per year. Subscriptions can begin at any time.

This publication affords superintendents fresh material for personal use in their work. Its editorial and contributed articles cover the great practical questions constantly recurring; its familiar talks with superintendents answer many queries; its Blackboard Outlines, Closing Talks, and plans for Special Occasions and Review, will cause steady growth in those who use them, while the numerous Practical Hints and Helps, etc., will be found of great value.

For Teachers.

The Baptist Teacher. P. S. Henson, D. D., and C. R. Blackall, D. D., Editors. Terms: Single copy, for one year, 50 cents. In packages of five or more to one address, 40 cents each per year.

For more than twenty-seven years this periodical has maintained its high standing. It contains the Text, Home Readings, Analyses, and Questions given in the "Advanced Quarterly"; extended expository Notes, Hints to Teachers, by Drs. Harris and Grenell; Lesson Topics, by P. S. Henson, D. D.; Hints for Intermediate Teachers, and also for Primary Teachers, by Mrs. M. G. Kennedy; Orientalisms of the lessons, by W. Taylor Smith, of England; Monthly Previews of the Lessons, by the Rev. Harold Kennedy; Primary Department, conducted by Mrs. Juliet Dimock Dudley; Missionary Items from the world's great field; and general articles of a high character by eminent writers, many of which present special points on the lessons. Abundant help is furnished to any teacher who desires to make thorough preparation. Whatever other helps may be used, Baptist Sunday-school teachers cannot afford to do without this excellent journal.

For Church and Home.

The Colporter. Monthly. C. R. Blackall, D. D., Editor. Terms: Single copy, 10 cents a year. In clubs of twenty or more to one address, 5 cents each for one year.

A bright, wide-awake, newsy, up-to-the-times paper, kept open until two weeks before date of issue in order to include the latest and freshest items obtainable. It deals with the home and church, gives missionary information gleaned from the wide field of the Publication Society's varied work, is evangelical in tone, devout in spirit. It ought to go into every family in the land.

DENOMINATIONAL.

American Baptist Organizations for Christian Work, Local, State, and National. By Samuel Colgate. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 3 cents.

The author of this comprehensive little work fully recognizes the obligation to carry forward distinctively Christian work, and presents very briefly the manner in which the Baptists are now aiming to do their part in it. The scattering of this little pamphlet will give clear and enlarged views on the subject, and awaken enthusiasm in the great work outlined.

Ancient Landmarks; or, Belief and Baptism before Communion. By W. T. Brantly, D. D. 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A very clear and satisfactory statement of the "reasons why our churches should adhere to the practice of inviting to the Table of the Lord only those persons who they believe are baptized and are orderly followers of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Apostolic Church Polity. By William Williams, D. D. 18mo, 71 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This book treats of the organization of the apostolic churches, their officers, members, and relations to each other.

Baptism Discovered Plainly and Faithfully According to the Word of God. By John Norcott. A new edition corrected by Charles Haddon Spurgeon. 18mo, 69 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Mr. Spurgeon tells us in his preface that this discussion of an old but ever present subject comes to us from an English Baptist who was an exile for his faith in Holland more than two hundred years ago. It has all the quaintness of the period, and scripturalness too.

Baptism in History. By J. C. Long, D. D. 18mo, 68 pp. Price, 5 cents.

If you have any doubts as to the ancient and unquestioned mode of Baptism, get this little book and read it carefully

Baptist Church Manual. Containing the Declaration of Faith, Covenant, Rules of Church Order, and Brief Forms of Church Letters. By J. Newton Brown, D. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 3 cents. Printed also in Spanish. See page 47.

This Declaration of Faith has acquired an historical reputation, and is far more widely used than any other by the Baptist churches of this country.

Baptists and Religious Liberty. By Rev. G. B. Taylor, D. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The principle for which our brethren in Virginia, as well as in New England, contended and suffered, has become the grand rallying cry of all true lovers of liberty.

Baptists in the United States. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents. This work is also printed in the German language. See page 46.

The history of the Baptists in the United States furnishes abundant proof of the faithfulness of God to his promises, and of his care for the preservation and promulgation of his own truth.

Bible in American Eloquence, The. By Rev. Thos. E. Bartlett. 16mo, 43 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

In a very interesting way Mr. Bartlett tells us how some of the great orators of our land have used the Bible in a most telling way.

Bible Reading on Baptism, A. By G. S. Bailey, D. D. 18mo, 30 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A selection and arrangement of those passages of Scripture referring to Baptism, and presenting a convincing lesson on Baptism.

Catechism on Baptism. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This work is very suitable to put into the hands of an inquirer, for his guidance; of a disciple, for the enlargement and confirmation of his knowledge of the truth; or of an objector, for the overthrow of his objections.

Christian Baptism; or, How Readest Thou? By Frank H. White. 18mo, 144 pp. Price, 15 cents.

This work presents in a brief compass more matter, and better arranged, on the subjects of which it treats, than any similar treatise of which we know.

Christian Idea of Education, The. By Henry E. Robins, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

Church in the Wilderness; or, The Baptists Before the Reformation. By W. W. Everts, D. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This little book is one of intense interest to those who have not the time or opportunity to study more deeply into our denominational history.

Close Communion. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 69 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A scholarly and courteous statement of the reasons which have led the Baptists of America to invite only Christians of their own faith and order to the Lord's Table.

Corner-stones of a Baptist Church. By Alvah S. Hobart, D. D. 16mo, 26 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet contains some familiar talks which Dr. Hobart gave to his own young people. The corner-stones are: The Church for Christians only; We Become Children of God by Faith in Jesus; the Bible a Finished Authority; The Independence of the Churches. It will be seen that the distinctive views of Baptists are comprised by these topics. The discussion of them is thoroughly interesting, and that they may be the better utilized for study, a list of questions is appended.

Consistency of Restricted Communion. By J. M. Frost, D. D. 18mo, 69 pp. Paper. Price, 5 cents.

Disciples and Baptists. By Rev. F. Adkins. 16mo, 62 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

The best discussion of the relations of these two bodies of Christians in print.

Defence of Restricted Communion, A. Rev. S. Remington. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The object of this book is to show the real point of difference in regard to what Pedobaptists are pleased to call "close communion"—to show that they themselves are not "open communionists," and could not so exist and maintain church order; also to vindicate Baptists as being scriptural in their practice.

Denomination and its Colleges, The. Three addresses by Prof. B L. Whitman, D. D., LL. D., Alvah S. Hobart, D. D., and Pres. E. B. Andrews, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 48 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Three decidedly vigorous papers on the Baptist outlook on: What the Denomination Owes to its Colleges and vice versa; What does the Denomination Desire from the Colleges? and What the Denomination Owes its Colleges.—Preachers' Magazine.

Development of Baptist Principles in Rhode Island. By Rev. C. E. Barrows. 18mo, 104 pp. Price, 10 cents.

An historical sketch, as its name indicates, and one of special interest to Baptists.

Duty of Baptists to Teach Their Distinctive Views. By John A. Broadus, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is one of Dr. Broadus' very clear, practical, and stirring discussions of important themes. Every Baptist is called to be a teacher of the distinctive truths we hold, and should be ready always to defend them.

Evils of Infant Baptism. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This subject is forcibly discussed under the following heads: I. Infant Baptism takes away from the Christian Ordinance a large part of its Meaning. II. Infant Baptism ascribes to the Ordinance an imaginary Virtue. III. Infant Baptism mars the Constitution of the Christian Churches. IV. Infant Baptism facilitates the Union of Church and State. V. Infant Baptism divides the Followers of Christ.

Final Triumph of Baptist Principles, The. By Franklin Wilson, D. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The principal thoughts contained in this pamphlet are two, namely: 1. The "counsel and work" in which we are enlisted as Christians and as Baptists are "of God," and not "of men." 2. They will, therefore, eventually triumph, whatever may oppose.

Footprints of Baptism in Europe. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 16mo, 46 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This little work gives specimens that the author has seen, and develops briefly what they teach as to the act of Baptism, and the subjects to whom it was administered in earlier days.

Holy Supper, The, in History and Scripture. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 50 pp. Price, 5 cents.

"It is decidedly the freshest and most comprehensive discussion in a compact form that we have had on this subject for many years. Dr. Hovey is learned, able, conservative, reliable."—Western Recorder.

How I Became a Baptist. By Rev. Geo. B. Rieman. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The history of the way in which the author was led to Christ is plainly and effectively told.

Immersion Essential to Christian Baptism. By John A. Broadus, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 72 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The scriptural, philological, and historical proofs are placed before the reader in simple, concise, and convincing language.

Lord's Supper, The, as Restricted to Immersed Believers. By Rev. S. T. Livermore, A. M. 32mo, 64 pp. Price, 3 cents.

It is a scholarly dissertation, clear, scriptural, written in an excellent spirit, and deserving of a wide circulation.

Lord's Supper, The, and Unbaptized Participants. By William Cathcart, D. D. 12mo, 31 pp. Price, 5 cents.

In a clear, strong way the author sets before us the nature, teaching, and participants of the Supper. It is compact, but comprehensive and convincing.

Lord's Supper, The; Its Neglect and the Causes of It. By Edward T. Hiscox, D. D. 16mo, 16 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A pamphlet which should be kept in stock by pastors to distribute to lax laymen.

Mother Church, The. By Henry M. King, D. D. 16mo, 85 pp. Leatherette, 15 cents.

This is the history of the old First Baptist Church of Providence. Incidentally it treats of the baptism of Roger Williams.

Mutual Relation of Baptism and the Communion. By Geo. D. B. Pepper, D. D. 18mo, 49 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This topic is here ably treated under the following divisions: 1. The Relation of the Ordinances to each other. 2. The true Doctrine concerning the Maintenance of this Relation. The argument throughout is clear, logical, and comprehensive, and may justly be regarded as one of the most valuable contributions ever made to our denominational literature.

No Communion with Campbellites. By A. P. Williams, D. D. 18mo, 49 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Probably no one is better able to discuss this question than Dr. Williams; and although the Campbellites hold so strictly to immersion as the proper mode of baptism, yet there are abundant reasons why they and the Baptists cannot meet on a common ground. These reasons Dr. Williams has set forth in a clear and very forcible manner.

Origin of the Baptists. By G. B. Taylor, D. D. 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A clear and well-substantiated history of Baptist descent, put into a few pages, and the very thing to rebut the assertions that the Baptists can claim no higher pedigree than Roger Williams or the fanatics of Münster.

Our Mission as Baptists. By J. H. Cuthbert, D. D. 18mo, 34 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The mission of Nehemiah and Ezra, who rebuilt the walls of the material city and temple, and revised and reformed the laws of their countrymen, is taken as a symbol of the mission of the Baptists.

Pedobaptist Church, A, no Home for a Baptist. By Robert S. Middleditch, D. D. 18mo, 54 pp. Price, 5 cents.

An argument addressed to those who are Baptists in sentiment, but who contemplate receiving immersion from Pedobaptists, or joining with them in church fellowship.

Pengilly's Scripture Guide to Baptism. Revised by the author. 18mo, 180 pp. Price, 20 cents. Published also in French and German.

If any book of human origin can be properly denominated a Scripture Guide to Baptism, this certainly deserves this title.

Plea for Principles. The Baptists and the Ordinances. By G. W. Anderson, D. D. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This little book, in a brief space, discusses the questions at issue between Baptists and Pedobaptists, and brings them to the test of well-established principles. In this lies its peculiarity and power.

Popular Objections to Baptist Principles and Practices. By J. L. Burrows, D. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A treatise that aims to remove from candid minds unfavorable impressions concerning the doctrines or spirit of the Baptists.

Position of Baptism in the Christian System. By Henry H. Tucker, D. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This treatise shows the true position of Baptism, attaching neither more nor less importance than is really due to it. The result cannot fail to be satisfactory, since every position taken is proved from God's own word. This is one of the very best pamphlets ever issued upon the subject. Over twenty thousand have been already published.

Printing Press, The, as a Power for Good. By G. J. Johnson, D. D. 16mo, 88 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Illustrated by many facts, incidents, and experiences, gathered from various sources.

Protestant Pedobaptism and the Doctrine of a Church. By Howard Osgood, D. D. 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The one way of salvation for all men—through faith in Christ—is clearly shown, and upon this are built the doctrines which should be the foundation of every church.

Reasons for Becoming a Baptist. By Rev. S. Remington. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents. This work is also published in French and German.

Few books have had a greater popularity than this, or effected more in opening the eyes of Pedobaptists, especially among Methodists, to the errors of infant sprinkling.

Relation of Baptism to the Lord's Supper. By Rev. H. L. Gear. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The author demonstrates from Scripture by a strictly logical argument that Baptism is a prerequisite to the Lord's Table.

Religious Liberty and the Baptists. By C. C. Bitting, D. D. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents.

An interesting treatise on a subject of interest to every Baptist.

Restatement of Denominational Principles. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

Dr. Hovey has given a very thorough resumé of our denominational principles, and has restated them in a form at once accurate and interesting. The principles considered are not only those peculiar to us, but those also common to all evangelical denominations. The pamphlet will be found of interest by all of those who care for doctrinal discussions.

Restrictions on the Lord's Supper; What it is not, and what it is. By Rev. Henry F. Colby. 18mo, 51 pp. Price, 5 cents. This little book is also published in German.

The author first attacks common and mischievous misconceptions of the position of the Baptists on this question, and then with well-chosen arguments, establishes the correctness of their views.

Scriptural Baptism; or, The Immersion of Believers. By Rev. W. T. Dunaway. 16mo, 86 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The author has prepared a concise, clear, conclusive, and, at the same time, a very readable work on the subject.

Scriptural Communion. By Rev. J. B. Jeter, D. D. 18mo, 70 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The Baptist idea and practice of the Lord's Supper are strangely misunderstood, and too often grossly misrepresented, making necessary a line of defence, which Dr. Jeter most admirably accomplishes.

Scriptural Terms of Admission to the Lord's Supper. By Albert N. Arnold, D. D. 18mo, 121 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This is a valuable work on the Prerequisites to Communion. It really settles the whole question.

Scripture Comfort in Bereavement. Arranged by Rev. Frank S. Dobbins. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents. Leather, 25 cents.

This, as its title indicates, is an arrangement of Scripture passages. It will serve a double purpose. For pastors it will be most convenient, and as a gift to the bereaved will be found very helpful. For the latter purpose it is bound in a cheap but neat form.

Some Inquiries about Close Communion. By Gilbert S. Bailey, D. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The inquiries are four in number: 1. Should the Lord's Supper be Restricted at all? 2. What are the Scriptural Limits of the Lord's Supper? 3. What are the Common Objections to Restricted Communion? 4. What are some of the Objections to "Open Communion"?

Statement of the Claims of the Baptist Churches of America. By W. W. Boyd, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

In language that is unmistakable, and with a force that is impressive, Dr. Boyd sets before us the position of our Baptist churches as to Confessions of Faith, form of government, estimate of the Bible, subject of church-membership, and form and relation of the ordinances. The pamphlet is not controversial.

Struggles and Triumphs of Virginia Baptists. By J. L. M. Curry, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 72 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A faithful and interesting account of the doings and sufferings of the early Baptists in this most important field.

Sufficiency of Water for Baptizing at Jerusalem, and Elsewhere in Palestine, as Recorded in the New Testament. By Rev. George W. Samson, D. D. 18mo, 64 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is an invaluable document, settling a long-mooted point in the baptismal controversy. Dr. Samson writes from actual observation and measurement.

Should There Be An Invitation? By Prof. Arthur Jones. 16mo, 16 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This little booklet contains a thoughtful discussion on a question upon which there is a divergence of opinion, as well as of usage. Whatever may be one's own thought respecting the matter, the discussion of Prof. Jones will be found informing and helpful.

Trials and Victories of Religious Liberty in America. By G. S. Bailey, D. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet records the struggles for religious liberty from 1776 to 1876. It would scarcely be possible to crowd more or more interesting information into so small a compass as we here find.

Uses and Abuses of the Ordinances. By E. H. Johnson, D. D. 16mo, 88 pp. Price, 10 cents.

What does the New Testament teach concerning the uses and the abuses of Baptism, of the Communion, and of the relations between these? is the subject of this little book. The author reaffirms the denominational position, and develops and more sharply defines what we hold on certain other points of doctrine, while he suggests cautions about matters of practice with regard to which we have no uniform and settled custom.

Virginia Baptists. By G. B. Taylor, D. D. 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The struggles and triumphs of the early Baptists of Virginia, which called forth one of the grandest exhibitions of human eloquence from the lips of Patrick Henry.

What Baptists Stand For. By Lemuel Moss, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 23 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The special excellence of this pamphlet largely consists in that it deals with current conceptions and misconceptions in relation to Baptists. The pamphlet is in Dr. Moss' very best vein. The quotations are to the point, and the comments thereon are concise, clear, and convincing.

What the Baptists Have Done for the World. By G. B. Taylor, D. D. 18mo, 28 pp. Price, 5 cents.

No Baptist need be ashamed of the record of his denomination; and when others call it in question, he can with assurance put Dr. Taylor's sermon into the hands of the objector, and he will be well answered.

What We Believe. A Handbook for Baptist Churches. By C. H. Parrish, A. B., Prof. of Greek, secretary and treasurer State University, Louisville, Ky. 18mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is a summary of the beliefs of Baptists, their mode of church organization, financial methods, relation to other denominations, missionary and benevolent societies, parliamentary rules, and suggestive duties. It compresses into a small space a large number of important items on subjects of general interest.

Why I am a Baptist. By Rev. Clarence Larkin. 16mo, 78 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The author of this little work was once a Pedobaptist; but in examining the "reason" for his hope that his practice was pleasing to the Master, was led to very serious doubts on the subject.

William the Baptist's Aunt. A Sequel and a Reply to William the Baptist. By a Baptist Woman. 12mo, 64 pp. Price, 10 cents.

We have read this little book, and like it much.—Alabama Baptist.

Young Man's Study of Baptism. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This excellent pamphlet is a study as to the meaning of two words by which the Lord expressed his will in regard to the ordinance of Baptism. His command is embodied in what is called the Great Commission. The two words referred to are simply the Greek words, baptizontes autous, "baptizing them."

PRACTICAL.

All in the Name of Jesus. By Rev. James W. Willmarth. 18mo, 33 pp. Price, 5 cents.

We have here very beautifully portrayed the principle of a Christian life.

Annihilation of the Wicked, The. By Rev. J. D. Pope. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

"The author combats the annihilation theory with great force and cogency."—Journal and Messenger.

Apostolic Preaching. By Rev. Charles A. Cook. 12mo, 24 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet contains a study of the various words which are used in the New Testament to designate preaching. The scope and significance of this are determined by their meaning. The discussion will repay careful reading.

Attendance at Church: The Duty and the Privilege. By Rev. A. E. Waffle. 18mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

In publishing this little pamphlet the Society supplied a much-needed help, so many professors neglect the house of God if they happen not to admire the preacher, forgetting that they are not thereby relieved from the duty of worshiping God.

Aunt Melissa's Question. By Rev. W. B. Crumpton. 18mo, 16 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet is intended to prompt to remembrance of Christ in the disposition of any means that we may possess. It is well written and ought to be widely read. It does not advocate the relegating of the use of our property for Christ to the making of a will, but it does insist upon a just remembrance of him therein. The perusal of the pamphlet ought to be productive of thought.

Bible in a Year in Daily Readings. 32mo, 16 pp. Price, 3 cents.

A plan for the annual reading through of the whole Bible.

Bible Inspiration: Plenary and Verbal. By W. W. Gardner, D. D., Author of "Church Communion," "Missiles of Truth," etc. 12mo, 92 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This work presents in a brief form the results of the author's careful study of the Sacred Scriptures on this important subject. The times demand something on this vital subject, and it is hoped that this short treatise may, by the Divine blessing, be useful to young preachers especially, and to Bible readers generally.

Blood of Jesus. 18mo, 122 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This has been found alike useful in arousing the careless, in leading inquirers to Christ, and in unfolding to believers the fullness and freeness of the provisions of the grace of God. The Society also prints this work in the German language. See page 46.

Callings. By C. R. Henderson, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents.

A collection of articles containing much good advice on the important subject of a "calling for life."

Can I be Assured of Salvation, and How? 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A clear and forcible presentation of scriptural answers to these all-important questions.

"Chapel Car Wheeler." In Memoriam. By his wife. 12mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents.

Christian Ordinances, The. By W. H. Brooks, D. D. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The continuance, the order, and the mode and subjects of the ordinances are well treated in this tract. Argument and Scripture citations are ably combined to set forth and sustain the scriptural teachings on these points.

Christianity Susceptible of Legal Proof. By J. M. Pendleton, D. D. 18mo, 52 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet brings forth arguments to prove that Christianity is susceptible of what acute lawyers demand as satisfactory proof in the most important cases that come before our courts.

Christ our Passover. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A clear and interesting examination of the ancient Passover in itself, and in its typical relation to Christ.

Church as an Educational Institution, The. By Rev. U. M. McGuire. 12mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents. Leatherette.

This pamphlet is based on the thought that one of the chief functions of the church is to educate its members. By systematized, persistent study it would have them trained in knowledge of the Bible and of biblical truth. The pamphlet should do good.

Contest for Wealth, and its Influence Upon the Churches. By J. F. Wyckoff. 18mo, 68 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Our author treats of Some of its Outward Manifestation; Some of its Causes, Dangers, and Lessons; and Some of its Remedies. It is well and thoughtfully written.

Conversion. A Series of Lecture Room Talks. By Geo. C. Lorimer, D. D., with an introduction by Rev. Geo. C. Needham. 18mo, 66 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The pamphlet will meet with a hearty welcome from many ministers, both for the help it will give to their own conceptions of the truths discussed and because they will find it just the thing which they will want to put into the hands of many who are seeking the light.

Convert Culture. By Granville S. Abbott, D. D. 18mo, 65 pp. Price, 5 cents. Published also in German.

The subject is one of intense interest. The book is full of wise suggestions.

Deacons—their Office, Qualifications, and Duties. By J. A. Shackelford, D. D. 16mo, 42 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The author of this pamphlet has felt that the office of deacon is not sufficiently honored by the church at large, and not sufficiently magnified by those who hold it, which is as essential as it is scriptural.

Daily Worries. By Rev. F. S. Dale. 32mo, 29 pp. Price, 3 cents.

A very practical little book, treating of the small trials and vexations which come into most lives, and form so much of our living.

Divine Healing. By Mr. F. D. Phinney. 16mo, 56 pp. Price, 10 cents. Leatherette.

This is an examination of all the Scripture passages cited by those who advocate faith healing. It is calm, fair, helpful.

Divine Law and Human Statutes Relating to the Question of Divorce. By Rev. N. B. Randall, LL. B. 12mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The author lays down as a fixed principle that the Divine law is the only secure foundation for all human action. Over against this he places various "Human Statutes Relating to Divorce," and shows how widely some of them diverge from the Divine law, and depicts the results of what he calls "this moral cancer, which is eating the life out of our God-given homes," and points out means by which the ravages of this cancer should be checked.

Doctrines of the Bible. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 68 pp. Price, 10 cents.

All the principal biblical doctrines are simply and ably explained in this little work.

Diaz, The Apostle of Cuba. By Kerr Boyce Tupper, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents.

A sketch of the life of this great missionary.

Establishment and Disestablishment; or, The Progress of Soul Liberty in the United States. By J. L. M. Curry, D. D., LL. D., author of "Constitutional Liberty in the United States," etc. 16mo, 96 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The history of the establishments in the States of our own country, and their total abolition, forms one of the most important chapters of our national history, and many of our youth, as they become acquainted with the facts that the author has woven into his interesting narrative, will heartily thank him for the task he undertook and has successfully performed. The study of this brief but graphic sketch should form a part of the education of every Baptist in our land. Pastors would do well to call the attention of their flocks, both the younger and those more advanced, to this subject and this capital treatise thereon.

Elements of Christian Character. By A. J. Gordon, D. D. 12mo, 31 pp. Paper. Price, 10 cents.

"Every word seems as gold to be sacredly treasured."—Florida Baptist Witness.

English Bible in American Eloquence, The. By Rev. T. E. Bartlett. Leatherette. 16mo, 43 pp. Price, 10 cents.

A thoughtful literary study of the debt American master-orators owe to the sacred book for apt words and impressive phrases and conceptions.

Family Government. By Rufus C. Burleson, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is a suggestive little treatise. It advocates not family "tyranny," but family training and restraint.

Familiar Chats About Books and Readings. By Prof. J. H. Gilmore. 16mo, 48 pp. Price, 10 cents.

A series of eight papers that contain many valuable hints about books and readings.

Four Theories of Church Government, The. By J. T. Christian, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The four theories considered by the author are the Papal, the Episcopalian, the Presbyterian, and the Congregational. The work is thoroughly well done. In few works are the results of wider research put into smaller compass. It is important too, since it emphasizes the authority of Scripture and the need of recognizing the brotherhood of men.

First Text-Book in Comparative Religion, The. By William Ashmore, D. D. 16mo, 22 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

"The Old Testament is the oldest book extant on comparative religion." This sentence gives the key to this pamphlet, which will be found of great interest.

Good News. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 32mo, 61 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Very beautifully and tenderly are we here told of the "good news" of salvation.

Gospel and the Age, The. By J. G. Walker, D. D. 16mo, 22 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The pamphlet is a good one with which to confront skepticism and confirm faith.

Good Will to Railroad Men. By Rev. E. S. Stucker. 12mo, 29 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A sympathetic, religious appeal to railroad employees by one who thoroughly understands the surroundings of this hardworking and important class.

Gospel Missions as Illustrated by Apostolic Practice. By J. M. Robertson, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents.

The matter of this tract has been delivered before various audiences, and has been generally desired for publication. It treats the subject of missions from a thoroughly scriptural standpoint, and argues the necessity of their support by properly constituted agencies. The reading of it will do good.

History, Geography, and Archæology of the Bible. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 83 pp. Price, 10 cents.

In the brief compass of this little work, Dr. Hovey has embodied a vast amount of information, which will be found very helpful to an intelligent understanding of the Bible.

History of Our Baptist Missions in Assam, Among the Shans, and in Japan. Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 58 pp. Price, 10 cents.

A brief account of the work at these missions, with questions and supplemental readings to help in further study.

History of Our Baptist Missions in Burma. By Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 54 pp. Price, 10 cents.

History of Our Baptist Missions in Europe and South America. By Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 44 pp. Price, 10 cents.

History of Our Baptist Missions Among the Telugus, and in Africa. By Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 44 pp. Price, 10 cents.

History of Our Baptist Mission Among the Karens. By Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 48 pp. Price, 10 cents.

History of our Baptist Missions Among the Chinese. By Mrs. S. B. Titterington. 16mo, 58 pp. Price, 10 cents.

Half Century in Burma, A. A Memorial Sketch of Edward Abiel Stevens, D. D. By Sumner Wynne Stevens. 16mo, 32 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

This booklet is a brief biography of the late Edward Abiel Stevens, D. D., who was for about fifty years a missionary to Burma. Dr. Stevens was one of our pioneer missionaries to those heathen shores where Adoniram Judson labored and suffered; and the story of his beautiful and consecrated life is told by his younger son.

Is the Bible from God? By G. S. Bailey, D. D. 16mo, 72 pp. Price, 10 cents.

In unmistakable terms Dr. Bailey shows that the Bible is from God. It is an excellent little work for our young people.

Keep Sunday. By H. F. Colby, D. D. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A practical discussion of the present problems and difficulties in the observance of a sacred day, such as Sunday traveling, Sunday newspapers, etc.

Live for Jesus. By A. S. Patton, D. D. 18mo, 64 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This little book is intended for those who have a heart to work for Christ, but do not feel that their small work can be of much consequence.

Lord's Day, the Christian Sabbath. By D. Read, LL. D. 16mo, 31 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Making of William Carey, The. By Prof. J. Harwood Pattison, D. D. 16mo, 40 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

This little book by Professor Pattison is entirely novel in its method of treatment. Certain centers of influence, such as "England, The South Seas, Northampton, Andrew Fuller, and India," are considered in their education of Carey to help make him the man and missionary he became. The booklet is full of information and is fascinating in its style.

Missionary Outlook. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 18mo, 71 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The design of this work is to present in a very brief form the recent progress and present aspect of the Foreign Missionary Work throughout the world.

Mr. Moab-Balak's Petition. By Rev. G. P. Mitchell. 16mo, 24 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A capital arrangement of matter for a temperance entertainment.

Mystery in Religion. By William Newton Clarke. 12mo, 40 pp. Price, 10 cents.

Dr. Clarke shows that while there is mystery in religion, there is also mystery elsewhere. But mystery in both exists simply because we are not great enough to comprehend it. It is a fresh, vigorous, helpful discussion.

Office Magnified, An. By B. H. Carroll, D. D. 12mo, 23 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is a re-publication in individual form of a sermon to preachers by Dr. Carroll, found in a volume of sermons published by the Society. Its evangelical tone, its earnestness, and its special message to the ministry, seemed to call for its publication in the style in which it now appears.

Origin and Interpretation of the Bible. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 55 pp. Price, 10 cents.

In clear, strong terms Dr. Hovey tells us, in this little book, of the Divine origin of the Bible.

Our Gospels. By Rev. Henry M. King, D. D. 16mo, 85 pp. Leatherette. Price, 15 cents.

A very excellent treatment. Contains just what plain people want to know. A capital discussion for our young people.

Person and Character of Christ. By Thomas Armitage, D. D. 18mo, 65 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This work on the person and character of our Lord is one of the ablest ever written. Every Christian ought to study it.

Power of the Press, The. By J. B. Hawthorne, D. D. 8vo, 23 pp. Price, 5 cents.

It shows the widespread influence for either good or evil which the press exerts; a strong plea for rightly directed exertion.

Question of Attitude, A, and a Day with Paul. By Lemuel Moss, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 40 pp. Price, 10 cents.

These are two distinct articles of distinctive merit and value. In the first, Dr. Moss presents the attitude to be sustained by the Christian student as to current questions of science and criticism. The second is a review of a day with Paul, and of the preaching that made converts.

Reminiscences of a Chapel Car Missionary. By Rev. E. S. Stucker. 16 pp. Paper. Price, 5 cents.

Reciprocal Duties of Pastors and Churches. By J. H. Stribling, D. D., of Rockdale, Texas. 18mo, 35 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is an admirable little work for distribution through all our churches, for the benefit of all pastors and church-members.

Religious Liberty in the Sixteenth Century. By Henry S. Burrage, D. D. Leatherette. 16mo, 23 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Dr. Burrage tells with rapid pen of the specific struggle in Europe for religious freedom, and the part played therein by the Anabaptists of Germany, Holland, and England.

Restricted Communion. By J. W. Willmarth, D. D. 16mo, 42 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

"The best exposition and defense of the doctrine of Restricted Communion we have ever seen."—The Congregationalist.

Robinson, E. G., D. D., LL. D. By H. L. Wayland, D. D. 16mo, 22 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

This is a brief sketch of the life and influence of one of our foremost Baptists. There are very many lessons to be learned in studying Dr. Robinson's life.

Roman Catholic or Protestant: Which follows the Teachings of Jesus Christ and of the Apostles? By Rev. Gideon Aubin. 18mo, 48 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The author, with a desire to be just, has quoted all his scriptural arguments from the Roman Catholic Version of the Douay Bible. It clearly answers the question it asks.

Secret of Abiding Peace. 18mo, 36 pp. Price, 5 cents.

The writer here gives a view of the causes leading a convert into troublesome distrusts, and then forcibly expounds the methods by which such a soul may be nourished, clothed, adorned, and trained in the new existence into which an entrance has been given.

Secret of Power; A Lesson for Christian Workers. 18mo, 31 pp. Price, 5 cents.

An impressive exposition of the truth that secret, personal intercourse with God is an essential antecedent to success in the service of Christ.

Seeking to Save: A Sketch of the Life and Work of Mrs. Geraldine Hooper Dening. By Geo. W. Anderson, D. D. 16mo, 48 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

This is a very interesting account of the life of Mrs. Dening and of her wonderful work in England.

Separation of Church and State in America. By Prof. John C. Long. 16mo, 32 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

Dr. Long ably discusses the struggle in America for religious freedom. The magnificent battle of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Virginia Baptists for the right to worship God as each may please, and which culminated in the first amendment to the Federal Constitution, is most graphically portrayed.

Sermon on Missions to Business Men, A. By Rev. H. R. Barnard. 16mo, 24 pp. Price, 5 cents.

Sin-Bearer. By Horatius Bonar, D. D. 18mo, 28 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This little work presents, in the most fervent and tender manner, the vicarious sacrifice of the Lord Jesus as the only possible way of escaping from the personal liabilities of transgression. It is an excellent book for inquirers.

State and Church in 1492 and in 1892. By Prof. Augustus H. Strong, D. D. 16mo, 45 pp. Leatherette. Price, 10 cents.

Dr. Strong takes a broad, comprehensive view of the development of the idea of religious liberty, from the awakening of Europe in the Renaissance and the Reformation followed by our own Revolution, to the time when all in our land accept the view for which at the beginning so few were found to contend.

State of Man after Death. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 87 pp. Price, 10 cents.

In this work, the author has given a clear and succinct statement of what the Scriptures teach in regard to the state of men after death.

Systematic Giving; the Church's Safeguard against Nineteenth Century Evils. By Charles A. Cook. 16mo, 120 pp. Price, 10 cents.

We have in this small volume an exceedingly comprehensive discussion of one of those important subjects that demand the serious attention of the followers of Christ in this stirring age.

Star of the East, The. By Geo. F. Hoag. 8vo. $3.00 per 100.

A Christmas service, the words and music of which are of a high order.

Systematic Giving. By Rev. James W. Riddle. 16mo, 11 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This is not an enforcement of the tithing system, but simply indicates how it may best be carried out. To give a tithe is in accord with the author's plan; and so far as sympathy with it and success in employing it are concerned, he advocates it. Whether the plan is adopted or not, the perusal of the tract will be helpful.

Scientist's Confession of Faith, A. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This pamphlet was published especially for private circulation in the Fifth Avenue Church of New York. Its exceptional merit, however, and its embodiment of a religious experience by no means rare among thoughtful people, led to its publication in the present form, and so for a wider circulation, which it is hoped will thereby be secured. The pamphlet is worthy of the study of all who are in the least troubled by religious doubts or desire confirmation of their faith. It cannot help but accomplish great good.

Talks to Baptist Young People. By Prof. Henry C. Vedder. 16mo, 59 pp. Russet Leatherette. Price, 15 cents.

1. The relations between B. Y. P. U. and Christian Endeavor. 2. The message of God to the Baptists of to-day. 3. Essentials to right missionary culture of our young people. 4. The Christian Culture Courses a prophecy.

Three Lectures on Missions. By H. H. Harris, D. D. 16mo, 108 pp. Leatherette. Price, 20 cents.

Three Questions as to the Bible. By John A. Broadus, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 69 pp. Price, 5 cents.

1. What writings are properly included in the Christian Scriptures? 2. To what extent are we to regard the Scriptures as inspired? 3. How ought the inspired writings to be treated by us? Important questions, and answered in a clear, convincing, and satisfactory manner.

Time of Christ's Second Advent. By Alvah Hovey, D. D., LL. D. 18mo, 68 pp. Price, 5 cents.

An investigation of the teachings of the Scriptures on this subject, prepared with special thoroughness.

True Biblical Criticism. By Professor J. B. Thomas, D. D. 16mo, 24 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

Any one who knows Dr. Thomas will know how strong and suggestive he is in discussing such topics as this. True criticism and false are contrasted and the difference between them most carefully and profoundly pointed out. The pamphlet is not only worthy of being read, but will also repay careful and minute study.

Two Bibles, The. By George Dana Boardman, D. D., LL. D. 16mo, 24 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This pamphlet institutes a comparison between the two forms of revelation which God has given of himself in nature and the Bible, as brought out in the nineteenth Psalm. The superiority of the latter is shown especially in that it deals with truths, while the former treats of facts, and the true way of studying this better Bible is set forth and emphasized.

Teaching of Christ Concerning the Future Life, The. By Rev. C. H. Pendleton. 16mo, 31 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

A well written tract on an important theme.

Walks and Talks with Spurgeon. 16mo, 24 pp. Leatherette. Price, 5 cents.

This is a pleasing narrative by Dr. Hoyt, telling of his close intimacy with the great preacher Spurgeon. It gives us the side not the least grateful in the portraiture of the great—the home side; the side shown in the close intimacies of life. All will want to read this little book.

Was There a Second Isaiah? By Rev. Thomas E. Bartlett. 16mo, 47 pp. Price, 10 cents.

This is a very scholarly discussion of a very important subject. Mr. Bartlett is a young man, but brings to his work a trained mind and scholarly industry and research. Any one, whatever his views may be, will be profited by the reading of this pamphlet.

Way of Salvation. 18mo, 30 pp. Price, 5 cents.

A treatise that will furnish valuable help to seekers after Jesus.

Way to Christ, The, and the Walk in Christ. By Rev. George W. Anderson, D. D. 16mo, 110 pp. Leatherette. Price, 15 cents.

A book to be put into the hands of religious inquirers, more scriptural, concise, and comprehensive than any other in general use.

Work with the Unsaved. By Rev. C. H. Moscrip. 16mo, 32 pp. Price, 5 cents.

This booklet constituted a series of papers in the Young Peoples Union. They are plain and practical, and will furnish important aid in fitting one for that face-to-face work with individuals which is so essential.

Yachow and Burma. The Escape—The Return. By Rev. Wm. M. Upcraft. 16mo, 63 pp. Price, 35 cents.

An account of the escape of a missionary party at the time of the Chinese riots.

CHURCH LETTERS, CERTIFICATES, ETC.

Certificate of Baptism. Per Dozen. Price, 20 cents.

Certificate of License. Price, 5 cents.

Certificate of Ordination. Price, 5 cents.

Church Covenant, Cards, per hundred. Price, $1.00.

Church Covenant, Leaflets, per hundred. Price, 20 cents.

Church Letter to Associations, per hundred. Price, $2.50.

Letters of Dismission, with Letters of Notification on fly leaf. Price, per hundred, $1.50; per dozen, 20 cents.

Pocket Envelopes for Tracts. One cent, or 10 cents per doz.

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES.

Embossed Envelope and Certificate. New and beautiful style, carefully printed from engraved plate, on the best quality of paper. One dozen copies in a box. Per dozen. Price, 75 cents.

Married Life. A Blessing to the Truly Married. Arranged by Mrs. Dora E. W. Spratt. 16mo, 64 pp. Price, 50 cents.

In every way a gem. It consists of a collection of passages, poetical and prose, from a wide range of authors, bearing upon the blessings of married life. The book is divided into six portions, with an ornamental sub-title page prefacing each, and suited to the pages following. Each page has an ornamental initial letter. It contains a new engraved marriage certificate of exceptional beauty. At the close of the book is space for a record of wedding guests. The book is printed on fine plate paper. It is bound in pure white with side stamp—title and spray of orange blossoms in silver. Pastors will find it superior to anything of the kind now in the market at the same price, and equal to any of the higher priced books. Its cheapness, its beauty, its choice contents, will make it a prized and popular wedding souvenir, where it is desired to give more than the ordinary marriage certificate.

dead, and quickeneth them; even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 ¶ Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 15 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But withdrawing himself, he walketh on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproveth the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 32 declareth himself to be the bread of life to believers. 66 Many disciples depart from him. 68 Peter confesseth him. 70 Judas is a devil.

AFTER these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves,

SPECIMEN PAGE OF THE FIVE CENT TESTAMENT.

Christ rideth CHAPTER XX. into Jerusalem.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.
37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;
38 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.
39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.
40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.
41 ¶ And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it,
42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.
43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side,
44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.
45 And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;
46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.
47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him,
48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Christ avoucheth his authority by a question of John's baptism. 9 The parable of the vineyard. 19 Of giving tribute to Cesar. 27 He convinceth the Sadducees that denied the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the Son of David. 45 He warneth his disciples to beware of the scribes.

AND it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders,
2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?
3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:
4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?
5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?
6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.
7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.
8 And Jesus said unto them,

SPECIAL NOTICE.

IN ORDERING.

All orders should be accompanied by remittances, unless purchasers desire to open an account. To open an account apply for terms and give references showing financial ability, promptness, and general responsibility. Such information should usually be furnished by a bank or by firms in large cities with whom you keep an account, and should be quite different from the friendly recommendation of an acquaintance. A confidential personal statement of your affairs is also desirable.

SHIPPING DIRECTIONS.

With every order give your name in full, with shipping directions, including county and State. If this is not the same as the post-office address, give that also. State whether the goods should be sent by mail, express, or railroad, and give the name of the railroad or express preferred.

EXACT TITLES.

In ordering use the full title as given in the list; we cannot be responsible for errors in shipping when the "revised" or "old" or "special" edition is not specified.

ORDER IN SEASON.

We aim to fill orders on the day received, but at the time for the opening of schools the pressure of business sometimes makes this impossible. A liberal allowance of time should be made for such detentions. Railroads cannot always be depended upon to carry goods with their usual regularity. You will, therefore, consult your own convenience and interest, as well as oblige us, if you will order early.

REMITTANCES.

We advise remittances by draft, money order, registered letter, or express, as may be most convenient.

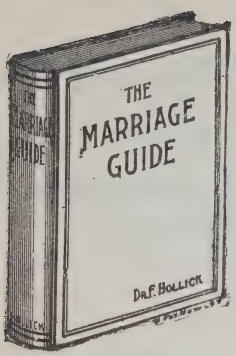
DR. HOLLICK'S WORKS.



The Marriage Guide; or, Natural History of Generation. Private instructor for Married People, and those about to marry, both male and female, in everything relating to the Anatomy and Physiology of the Generative System, in both sexes, including a full description of everything that is now known to science in the production of offspring, the cause of the difference in sex.—Parental influence.—Natural adaptation.—Philosophy of Marriage, etc., etc. The new edition, just published, contains many additional plates and much new matter, gathered during a recent visit by Dr. Hollick to France, Germany, and England. Containing 406 pages, bound in cloth.....Price, $1 00

The Male Generative Organs in health and disease, from infancy to old age. With colored plates. A complete practical Treatise on the Anatomy and Physiology of the Male Generative System, with a full description of the causes and cure of all the diseases and derangements to which it is liable. This work is also fully illustrated, both with Engravings and with Colored Plates, and an introductory chapter gives an epitome of all the new discoveries respecting the Female system and Generation. No other work at all like this was ever published. From this book a man can thoroughly know himself and how to preserve himself in health and vigor. Containing 377 pages, bound in cloth.....Price, $1 00

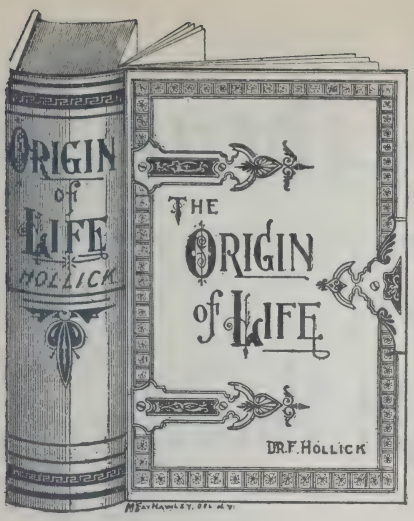
Venereal Diseases, in all their Forms. Embracing their History and probable Origin; their Consequences, both to individuals and society; and the best Modes of Treating them. Adapted for General use. The Special Topics treated upon in this book need not be here enumerated. It is sufficient to say that it explains everything relating to this important matter, and in so plain and familiar a manner that any man can, from this instruction, know how to avoid these fearful scourges or to cure himself, if need be, when afflicted. With Colored Plates. Containing 406 pages, bound in cloth.....Price, $1 00

The Matron's Manual of Midwifery. A complete practical treatise upon the Art of Delivery, and upon all the accidents and diseases that may occur during these periods. The description of all the various Positions and Presentations is on an entirely new plan, and is made both simple and intelligible. The management of new-born infants is also given in full, and the use of Ether and Chloroform during the delivery is discussed. This work contains over sixty Engravings, besides colored Plates, showing the various periods and how to ascertain them, the different positions, etc. With Colored Plates. Containing 470 pages, bound in cloth. Price, $1.00

The Diseases of Women. Their Causes and Cure Familiarly Explained. With Practical Hints for their prevention, and for the preservation of Female Health. Illustrated with Colored Plates and with numerous Engravings. If all Females possessed this book in time, there would be incalculably less suffering and disease among them than is now seen. Everything relating to female health is treated upon, from infancy to old age, and the most valuable recipes are given, together with practical directions, in the plainest manner. There is no known disease to which females are subject but what is here explained, and so that all can understand. With Colored Plates. Containing 466 pages, bound in cloth.....Price, $1 00

The Nerves and the Nervous. This is a complete popular treatise on the Anatomy and Physiology of the Nervous System, with a full description of all forms of Nervous Disease and Derangement, and how to avoid or cure them. The contents of this book are so numerous and varied that it is impossible here to enumerate them. Among a few of the topics may be named: Nervousness, Epilepsy, Catalepsy, Hallucinations, Visions, Mysterious Voices, Hysteria, Hydrophobia, Nymphomania, Ghosts, Softening of the Brain, Kleptomania, Business Madness, the Philosophy of Hobbies, Somnambulism and numerous other kindred subjects—in fact everything relating to the Brain and Nerves. Curious experiments on the Brain are related. Just published. With Colored Plates. Containing 432 pages, bound in cloth.....Price, $1 00

The above books are all uniform in size and binding, and all illustrated by appropriate Engravings and Colored Plates.



The Origin of Life. The great work on Physiology, Philosophy, and Hygienics of the Generative System. The Process of Reproduction in Plants and Animals. The Philosophy, Physiology, and Sociology of Marriage, and the relations of the sexes generally, are fully discussed, and information given upon all subjects of interest or importance to both. Every topic is Fully Illustrated by Numerous Engravings and by Colored Plates, and explained in such a way that it can be easily understood by non-professional people, and made practically useful. At the same time such extreme care has been taken, both with the subject matter and the illustrations, that the most fastidious people can find nothing to which they can reasonably object.

This is the first and only book in which the Generative Functions and the Mysteries of Life have been explained fully and scientifically, so as to be suitable to the student and man of science, and yet at the same time adapted for Popular Instruction and practical use.

The book is published in one Royal Octavo Volume of 1,000 pages, including 200 Illustrations and 40 full-page Colored Plates. Extra Cloth. Price.....$5 00

Advice to a Wife and Advice to a Mother. Dr. P. H. Chavasse. The two published in one volume. Many young women hesitate, through a feeling of delicacy, to seek even from their own mothers a proper knowledge of their own sexual peculiarities, though their future health and happiness may depend upon their possessing such knowledge. But a book may be consulted without alarming the modesty of the most delicate, provided it be honestly written for the benefit of its readers. Such is Chavasse's work, which has had on both sides of the Atlantic a circulation of nearly four hundred thousand copies. The reason of this popularity is plain, the book answers every question which a woman would like or need to have answered relative to herself as a woman from early girlhood to the change in life. The information is given in language that persons of the most moderate education can understand ; the knowledge imparted is exact, and acquaintance with it will often save the need of applying to a physician. Price.....$1 00

Jennie June's Practical Cook Book. By Mrs. J. C. Croly (Jennie June). An elegant volume of 400 pages with 47 illustrations, comprising upwards of twelve hundred choice and carefully tested recipes of all the popular dishes, the best results of modern science, presented in simple and practical form. Among the many desirable features of this work are: Useful Suggestions to Young Housekeepers; Kitchen Utensils; Recipes for Soups, Fish, Poultry, Game, Meats, Salads, Sauces and Relishes; Breakfast and Tea Dishes, Vegetables, Bread, Biscuit, Pies, Puddings, Cakes, Custards, Desserts, Cookies, Fritters, etc. There are also many valuable recipes for Preserves, Candies and Beverages, Cookery for the Sick, with chapters on the preparation of dishes for Invalids and Infants, with a special chapter on Jewish Cookery. Bills of Fare for Family Dinners and Holiday Dinners. Recipes for Ice Cream, Hints on Household Work and Management; making altogether the most complete and reliable work now before the American Public. Bound in cloth. Price.....$1 00

No. 7. GATEWAYS TO THE BIBLE. By GEIKIE, SAYCE, PIERSON, BLAIKIE, SCHAUFFLER, RICE and others.

"It would be difficult to find a better book on Bible study than 'Gateways to the Bible.'"—Christian Endeavor World.

"Almost every phase and manner of the way to study and know the Bible is treated."—Earnest Worker.

"This is a book for workers and busy ones. It is worth getting for every Sunday-school teacher."—Treasury of Religious Thought.

No. 8. THE HISTORICAL FOUNDATIONS OF CHRISTIANITY. By a Layman.

He who can doubt the divine origin of Christianity, after reading this little book, must be a very credulous person—much more so than he who is forced by logic, facts and history to accept Christianity.

No. 9. HOW TO GET ON. By B. B. COMEGYS.

Young men will be aided by this valuable work. The author's experience well fits him to be a guide to others.

No. 10. THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL MAN OF THE SOUTH. A sketch of the life and labors of the Rev. John McCullagh. By the REV. JOSEPH H. MCCULLAGH.

"Every well-written biography of a good man like this is an inspiration to others."—Christian Work.

No. 11. CATACOMBS OF ROME. Giving the most important and interesting facts touching the subterranean cemeteries of the ancient city of Rome. Illustrations.

No. 12. WEE DAVIE. By REV. NORMAN MACLEOD, D.D. Illustrations.

This story is a gem. It shows the naturalness of Dr. Macleod's style and discloses the secret of his popularity among all classes.

VOLUME II.

No. 13. FOUNDATION STONES. By REV. JOHN HALL, D.D.

Each chapter uncovers a foundation stone, upon which the strongest character-building may be reared. While intended for the young, wholesome lessons may be found in it for older persons.

No. 14. EXCUSE ME! By WILLIAM C. STILES, M.A.

The usual excuses which persons make when urged to begin a Christian life are here handled with remarkable force, incisiveness and spiritual earnestness.

No. 15. ADVICE FOR SEEKERS. By C. H. SPURGEON.

In these short addresses the usual difficulties attending entrance upon the Christian life are handled with the practical wisdom and spiritual power so characteristic of the great London preacher.

No. 16. FRIENDS AND FOES OF YOUTH. By CHARLES WOOD, D.D.

Counsel and warnings, wise, sympathetic and genial, from the pen of one of Philadelphia's most prominent clergymen, and enthusiastic Y. M. C. A. worker. Dr. Wood has for some years addressed the largest regular audiences of men that are gathered anywhere in America.

No. 17. WORD OF LIFE. By W. B. MACKENZIE.

The author, having grasped the Word of Life, here tries to hold it forth to warn or encourage, as their needs require, those who have not accepted Christ as their Saviour, guide and friend.

No. 18 (Sept. '98). COUNSEL FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS. By C. H. SPURGEON.

Ways and methods gathered out of a life of long and successful experience as a Christian worker. There are words here with power to awaken the slothful to a life of Christian effort, and to inflame the zeal of the earnest worker.

No. 19 (Oct. '98). HISTORICAL TALES FOR YOUNG PROTESTANTS.

A book of thrilling interest—to warn of the soul-destroying errors, and to establish one more firmly in those great doctrines in the defence of which many suffered and died.

No. 20 (Nov. '98). CHEER FOR DAILY LIFE. By C. H. SPURGEON.

Spurgeon's was the wisdom which comes from the winning of souls, and building them up in the Christian life. The consolations of the gospel for all the trials of life are presented with his accustomed power and attractiveness.

No. 21 (Dec. '98). STEPHEN GRATTAN'S FAITH. By MARGARET MURRAY ROBERTSON, author of "Christie, or the Way Home."

"The hero of this story is a reformed drunkard. A man of humble position, unlettered and unlearned. Yet, with a keen sense of the great recovery of himself, with faith and works strives to save others from the drunkard's doom."

No. 22 (Jan. '99). THE EVANGELISTIC WORKER.

A judicious selection of material from the experience of the most successful workers. The varied aspects of the work are well brought out, and the book cannot fail to be most stimulating and helpful.

No. 23 (Feb. '99). VISIT TO THE CELESTIAL CITY. By NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. AND OTHER STORIES.

This visit is told in Hawthorne's graphic and pointed style.

No. 24 (Mar. '99). CHILDREN OF GOD. By S. B. SCHIEFFELIN.

The writer's aim is to enforce the Bible truth of man's fallen nature and the necessity of a new birth in order to become children of God in the truest sense.

Studies of Good and Evil.

By Prof. JOSIAH ROYCE, of Harvard University. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.

The unity of this interesting and important book is derived from the author's application of his theories of philosophic idealism to relatively practical problems. He shows how his philosophical theory may be applied to the study of various issues relating to good and evil. The "problem of evil" as illustrated in Job, the case of John Bunyan, "Tennyson and Pessimism," Meister Eckhart, the German Mystic, together with various suggestive and illuminating studies of self-consciousness, and some discussions of special issues, among which is the "Squatter Riot of 1850 in Sacramento," are among the themes which are treated in a way that illustrates the intimate relation of every fragment with the whole in the universe as idealism conceives it. The original thought and acute observation of the author find most striking phases of expression.

"To those who have a taste in other lines than those familiar to the Stock Exchange, Mr. Royce's papers will prove entertaining reading. . . . The reputation of the author can not fail to attract just those readers who will know how to read his book with pleasure and profit."—Boston Transcript.

Outlines of the Earth's History.

By Prof. N. S. SHALER, of Harvard University. Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth, $1.75.

"Any one who reads the preliminary chapters will not stop until he has read the entire book. The subject is certainly one of supreme interest, and it would be hard to find any one more competent to write about it than Professor Shaler."—New York Herald.

A HISTORY OF THE WARFARE OF SCIENCE WITH THEOLOGY IN CHRISTENDOM.

By ANDREW D. WHITE, LL. D.,

Late President and Professor of History at Cornell University.

In Two Volumes. 8vo. Cloth, $5.00.

"The story of the struggle of searchers after truth with the organized forces of ignorance, bigotry, and superstition is the most inspiring chapter in the whole history of mankind. That story has never been better told than by the ex-President of Cornell University in these two volumes. . . . A wonderful story it is that he tells."—London Daily Chronicle.

New York: D. APPLETON AND COMPANY, 72 Fifth Avenue.

GREAT COMMANDERS.

A Series of Brief Biographies of Illustrious Americans.

Edited by General JAMES GRANT WILSON.

12mo. Cloth, gilt top, $1.50 per volume.

Also, limited De Luxe Edition, one thousand sets, each set numbered; special handmade paper, wide margins, uncut edges, gilt tops. Sold only by subscription.

THIS series forms one of the most notable collections of books that has been published for many years. The success it has met with since the first volume was issued, and the widespread attention it has attracted, indicate that it has satisfactorily fulfilled its purpose, viz., to provide in a popular form and moderate compass the records of the lives of men who have been conspicuously eminent in the great conflicts that established American independence and maintained our national integrity and unity. Each biography has been written by an author especially well qualified for the task, and the result is not only a series of fascinating stories of the lives and deeds of great men, but a rich mine of valuable information for the student of American history and biography.

The volumes of this series thus far issued, all of which have received the highest commendation from authoritative journals, are:

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON'S NEW BOOKS

NEW REVISED EDITION FROM NEW STEREOTYPE PLATES.

The Preparation and Delivery of Sermons.

By JOHN A. BROADUS, D.D. LL. D. New (23d) Edition, revised from the Author's Own Notes by Prof. E. C. DARGAN, D.D. Complete Index. Crown octavo, cloth, nearly 600 pages, $1.75.

Prepared by a very able teacher, who had a practical knowledge of his subject and was intimately acquainted with the literature of all parts of it, and treated the whole with devoutness, thoroughness, blended scholarship, and good sense. This new edition, with additions and with data and references brought down to the present time, will still further enhance the value of this important standard book, which has already had such a large sale. The work not only meets the wants of students and young ministers, but is very suggestive and stimulating to those of maturer age. It takes unusual pains to give suggestions for the preparation and conduct of what is called extemporaneous discourse, while doing full justice to all the methods.

The Expositor's Bible (Concluding Volumes).

THE BOOK OF THE TWELVE PROPHETS--commonly called The Minor.

By Prof. GEORGE ADAM SMITH, D.D., LL.D. Volume I. Amos, Hosea and Micah; with an Introduction and a Sketch of Prophecy in Early Israel. Vol. II. Zephaniah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Obadiah, Haggai, Malachi, Joel, Zechariah, Jonah; with Historical and Critical Introductions and Chronological Tables. Crown octavo vols. each, $1.50.

"The Book of the Twelve Prophets is a real boon to Bible students. Few interpreters of the Old Testament to-day rank higher than George Adam Smith. It is safe to say that no better expository commentary has ever been written than this volume of Amos, Hosea, and Micah. It is reverently progressive, it is critically positive and helpful, it is crowded with valuable expositions and applications, it fits into the actual needs of every earnest Bible reader." —Sunday School Times.

Descriptive Circular of the Expositor's Bible, complete in 49 vols., with special subscription terms on application.

Introduction to the Study of Sociology.

By J. H. W. STUCKENBERG, D.D., Member of the Philosophical Society of Berlin. Uniform with same author's Introduction to the Study of Philosophy now in 6th Edition. One vol. Cr. 8vo, net $1.50.

The author interprets sociology in no narrow sense, but brings it into relation with other departments of inquiry, economics, politics and ethics, as well as history, philosophy and natural science. The results of his extensive acquaintance with the foreign literature of his subject are apparent in the general breadth of view and in the valuable bibliographical notes which he appends to his own discussions.

NEW (4th) EDITION WITH NEW INDEX.

The Historical Geography of the Holy Land.

By Rev. Prof. GEORGE ADAM SMITH, D. D., LL.D. Author of Commentaries on "Isaiah," 2 vols., and "Minor Prophets," 2 vols. in the "Expositor's Bible." New (4th) Edition with new Index and Colored maps, specially prepared. 8th thousand. Octavo, cloth, 720 pages, $4.50.

No one work has ever before embodied all this variety of material to illustrate the whole subject. His geographical statements are pen pictures. We are made to see the scene No important problem is untouched. Without question it will take its place at once as a standard work, indispensable to the thorough-going student of the Bible." —Sunday School Times.

Systematic Theology—New (5th) Edition.

A Compendium and Common Place Book, designed for the use of Theological Students. By AUGUSTUS HOPKINS STRONG, D. D. LL.D., President and Professor of Biblical Theology in the Rochester Theological Seminary. One large octavo volume of nearly 800 pages, strongly bound in cloth, $5.00.

"This last edition contains just change enough to indicate that the author is a living man and a progressive thinker, well abreast of the best thought of the day and familiar with its discussion of the perplexed and difficult themes of theology. The work is very thorough. It goes all around every subject. It not only states all shades of opinion, but discusses them. It is a grand students' book, and in its various editions has now been training some of the best theologians and preachers in the American pulpit for twenty years."—N. Y. Independent.

Music for the Soul.

DAILY READINGS FOR A YEAR FROM THE WRITINGS OF REV. ALEXANDER MACLAREN. One vol., 12mo., beautifully printed on deckle edge paper, and bound in cloth, gilt top, ornamented with special design. $1.50.

"DR. MACLAREN is one of the great religious teachers of our time. The wealth of his thought, his spiritual insight, his remarkable felicity of illustration, the beauty of his style and his heart power have given his numerous published volumes a wide circulation and his name is as familiar in America as in England. It was a very happy thought to select from them a day book of devotional readings."—N. Y. Christian Advocate.

Philippian Studies.

Lessons in Faith and Love from St. Paul's Epistle to the Philippians. By HANDLEY C. G. MOULE, D. D. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.50.

"This book will be welcomed by all careful and loving students of the Bible..... No one can close this volume without feeling that he has been brought nearer to the heart and mind of the great Apostle, and without being conscious also of the very devout and consecrated spirit of the writer to whom he is indebted for so many practical and helpful suggestions."—N. Y. Churchman.

A SUMPTUOUS ART WORK.

MEISSONIER

By VALLERY C. O. GRÉARD

His Life And His Art

With Extracts from his Note Books and Opinions and Impressions on Art and Artists, Collected by his Wife. Translated from the French by Lady Mary Loyd and Florence Simmonds.

ILLUSTRATIONS, ETC.—38 FULL-PAGE PLATES in Photogravure or in Color, printed in Paris, and over 200 ILLUSTRATIONS in the text, in Black and Tint, reproducing ALL MEISSONIER'S FINEST WORKS. One large volume, royal octavo, cloth, uncut edges (in box) $12.00; ¼ crushed levant, gilt top (in box) $18.00. Illustrated Circular on Application.

"Wood engraving, half-tones and photogravure, together with colored plates, are lavished in this sumptuous edition. The sketch-book of the master, the galleries of the world have been ransacked for the purpose of giving a fair and full representation of the range and variety of Meissonier's genius. The book is almost unexampled in the quantity and quality of its illustrations, and among its most valuable and interesting pages are those which contain the thoughts and ideas of the Master as they relate to his work and the aspirations of his life. . . . Unless we are mistaken, this book will be hailed by artists and connoisseurs as the art book of the season —N. Y. Churchman.

 Limited EDITION DE LUXE in 2 vols. printed on Japanese Vellum, with a duplicate set of the Photogravure Plates on India Paper in a Separate Portfolio, price on application.

New Volume of Folk and Fairy Tales by Asbjörnsen.

FAIRY TALES FROM THE FAR NORTH. By P. Chr. Asbjörnsen. Translated by H. L. BRAEKSTAD. Authorized English translation. With 100 illustrations from drawings by the best draughtsmen. One volume, small quarto, handsomely bound in illuminated cloth, gilt edges, $2.00.

This new volume, by Asbjörnsen, containing his best and most popular Folk and Fairy Tales, is likely to prove even more popular than the first, which within a short time of publication reached a sale of many thousand copies A new life, with illustrations of the author's home, study, etc., accompany the volume.

The Book Lover's Library.

BOOK AUCTIONS IN ENGLAND IN THE 17th CENTURY. By John Lawler. 12mo, cloth, uncut edges, $1.25.

In the present volume, the author has attempted to give a somewhat full and consecutive account of the rise and progress of Book-sales in England, from their commencement in 1676 to the end of the 17th century. The volume deals very fully with the origin, method, and progress of selling books by auction; gives short notices of the owners, and of the general contents of each library, furnishes the prices (as far as can be ascertained) at which the most important books were sold, indicates the places at which the auctions were held, narrates the introduction of the auction-method into the provinces and in Ireland—gives some account of the most prominent auctioneers of the period, and furnishes other interesting items of bibliographical information connected with the subject under discussion.

THE NOVELS OF CHARLES DICKENS. A Bibliography and Sketch by F. G. KITTON, Author of "Dickensiana," "Charles Dickens by Pen and Pencil," etc. With a portrait that has not been published before. 12mo, cloth, uncut edges, $1.25.

The latest contribution to a subject which Mr. F. G. Kitton has made essentially his own should not only invite the attention of the "Collector" and bibliophile, but prove especially attractive to those who appreciate Charles Dickens's romances simply on account of the pleasure derived from a perusal of them. The intelligent reader undoubtedly finds his enjoyment enhanced by a knowledge of the circumstances under which his favorite books were produced, and in the present volume he will obtain all the information that can be acquired relative to the most important writings of a novelist whose extraordinary popularity is ever increasing. The author describes the gradual development of each of these masterpieces of English fiction. Many interesting particulars are also recorded concerning the prototypes of the more prominent characters immortalized by "Boz."

THE LITERATURE OF MUSIC. A History from the Earliest Time to the Present Day, by JAMES E. MATTHEW. 12mo, cloth, uncut edges, $1.25.

This new volume of the Book Lover's Library is a most appropriate one for inclusion in the Series. Mr. Matthew has in its pages traced the subject from the earliest times. Following it through the middle ages to its rapid development, consequent on the invention of printing, he brings it down to the more scientific days in which we live. He gives much interesting and valuable information on the literature of sacred music and of the opera. He also passes in review the principal historical works on music, and the Biographies of celebrated musicians, while the most valuable works on musical instruments, and on the scientific principles on which they depend, as well as those on the Bibliography of the subject receive due attention

Armstrong's Primer of
United States History, for School and Family Use, with (6) six new and beautifully colored maps from original drawings. 1 vol., square 16mo., cloth. 19th edition. Net, . . . 0 50

A model historical primer, full in its statements, discriminating in its selection of events, clear and direct in its style, and comprehensive in its general outline of American affairs. The value of such a book is apparent at a glance. Of large histories of the United States there is no lack, but of shorter histories there is great need. It represents an amount of work of which its brief pages give no adequate impression.

Mythology—White's Students'.

A Compendium of Greek, Roman, Egyptian, Assyrian, Persian, Hindoo, Chinese, Thibetan, Scandinavian, Celtic, Aztec, and Peruvian Mythologies, in accordance with standard authorities. Arranged for the use of Schools and Academies. By C. A. WHITE, author of "White's Classical Literature," etc. New and revised edition. 12mo, cloth, . . $1 2

A practical work, prepared by an experienced teacher, and designed for pupils who have not yet entered, or who, like the greater number of those attending our schools and academies, are not likely to enter upon a regular classical course.

Great care has been taken to avoid all taint of pagan corruption of a nature to offend delicacy, while enough information is given to insure a clear understanding of all illusions to mythology met with in ordinary reading.

New York Nation: "Those who have waited for the very best general work on Japan have now the opportunity of purchasing their full money's worth. Gathering the best of all previous scholarship and research on the subject, the author has added his own valuable contributions. . . . The text before us is more than a translation; it is a revision of the original work, and hence an improvement upon it. Every line has passed under the eye of the author. We commend the work as the best general handbook of Japan, and the most complete yet presented to the English reading public."

Smith—The Historical Geography of the Holy Land.

By Rev. Prof. G. ADAM SMITH, D.D., Author of Commentary on "The Book of Isaiah" in the "Expositor's Bible" Series. With 6 colored maps, specially prepared. Octavo cloth, 720 pages. $4 50

" . . . No one work has ever before embodied all this variety of material to illustrate the whole subject. His geographical statements are pen-pictures. We are made to see the scene. No important problem is untouched. Without question it will take its place at once as a standard work, indispensable to the thoroughgoing student of the Bible."—Sunday-School Times.

"The book is too rich to summarise . . . The language is particularly well chosen. Few pages are without some telling phrase happily constructed to attract attention and hold the memory, and we often feel that the wealth of imagery would be excessive for prose were it not that it is chosen with such appropriateness and scientific truth."—London Speaker.

Sermon Bible.

This Series gives in convenient form the essence of the best homiletic literature of this generation. As yet, the preacher desirous of knowing the best that has been said on a text has had nothing to turn to but a very meagre and in adequate Homiletical Index In this he is often referred to absolete or second-rate works, while he misses references to the best sources. The new SERMON BIBLE takes account of the best and greatest preachers, and has been compiled from manuscript reports and fugitive periodical sources, as well as from books. Many of the best sermons preached by eminent men are never printed in book form. It thus contains much that will be new to its readers.

Under every text is given

1. Outlines of important sermons by eminent preachers existing only in manuscript or periodicals, and thus inaccessible.

2. Less full outlines of sermons which have appeared in volumes which are not well known or easily obtained.

3. References to or very brief outlines of sermons which appear in popular volumes such as are likely to be in a preacher's library.

4. Full references to theological treatises, commentaries, etc., where any help is given to the elucidation of the text.

The Series under the general supervision of the Editor of the "Clerical Library," who has been assisted by specialists in each department.

It extends to 12 vols., consisting of about 400 pages, price $1.50 each, embracing the whole of the Sacred Scriptures. Full circular on application.

Now ready, 12 vols., as follows:

1st Vol.—CONTAINS GENESIS TO SAMUEL.
2d Vol.—CONTAINS KINGS TO PSALM 76th.
3d Vol.—CONTAINS PSALM 77 TO SOLOMON.

Wordsworth's value as a poet is particularly great at this present time. There is no poet who can be studied to better advantage. In these convenient volumes, songs, sonnets, and passages of familiar beauty will be, morever, re-read with new delight by those who have found in their acquaintance with Wordsworth one of the strongest and most undying consolations and most vivid influences of their intellectual life.

Rational Home Gymnastics

By HARTVIG NISSEN, acting director of Physical Training in the Boston Public Schools. 16mo. Cloth, $1.00.

No one is better qualified to prepare a work of this nature than Professor Nissen, and he has condensed the knowledge gained during his twenty years' experience as a teacher of physical culture and medical gymnastics into a concise, convenient and comprehensive manual of rational home gymnastics. The unusually complete series of illustrations (nearly 50 in number), all of which are reproduced from photographs, make the book of exceptional value. For the teacher of gymnastics and physical culture, the athlete, and the man or woman, boy or girl, who is sufficiently wise to see the benefits of sensible and reasonable exercise, no better handbook has been published.

Altogether it is a most valuable little manual, and deserves to find a place in every household. — Boston Transcript.

Probably the most scientific and practical manual on home physical training extant. Philips Andover Mirror.

The term Rational is not a misnomer. We recommend the book to all for use in the home, and teachers will find much to assist them in making their calisthenics more interesting. — State Normal Monthly.

Physicians will find the book valuable for themselves and families, and, therefore, one which they can recommend to their patients. — Annals of Gynecology and Pediatry.

Miss Theodora

A West End Story. By HELEN LEAH REED. 16mo. cloth, ornamental, $1.00.

The West End is that of Boston, and in this picturesque locality Miss Reed has vividly depicted a phase of Boston life which is fast passing away. As a character study and as a story, Miss Theodora will be found to have the power of holding the attention of all who prefer the natural and the unpretending in fiction to the sensational and the meretricious.

The charm of the local color is greatly increased by the many pen and ink sketches of characteristic West End streets and nooks by Florence Pearl England.

COL. THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON SAYS:

"Miss Reed's story of Miss Theodora might well be called like a novel once famous A Simple Tale. To the insatiable lover of the sensational it may appear too tame to be attractive, but to one who knows the regions and the traditions described it will seem a faithful and, therefore, most interesting study, tracing life back to its simplest conditions, and yet finding individuality and emotion where others might discover only commonplace."

MRS. LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON SAYS:

"Miss Theodora is a delightful picture of Boston life — the conservatism of the old regime — the success and energy of the new. The characters are so human they must be drawn from life. It is more Bostonian than any story I can think of."

MR. EDWIN D. MEAD SAYS:

"Interesting as Miss Theodora is in its plot and in its studies of character, it is even more so, if possible, in the local color which has been so well caught and preserved and in the spirit of the old West End of Boston which informs every page."

Miss Reed has written her sketch with a skillful pen. It is sufficiently Bostonian to please the fondest admirer of the city . . . it is not overdrawn and it carries well. Even in our local galleries, where there are so many story writers to contribute, it deserves a place "on the line." — Boston Journal.

FOURTH EDITION

The Right Side of the Car

A Story of Mount Tacoma, by JOHN URI LLOYD, author of Etidorhpa. 16mo. Cloth, ornamental, in a box, $1.00; limp paper covers, 8vo, 50 cents.

One of the most eloquent pieces of writing ever published. — Boston Ideas.

A triumph of artistic and typographical skill. Full of pathos and tenderness and drawn with a master's power. — Tacoma News.

The Children of the Night

A Book of Poems. By EDWIN ARLINGTON ROBINSON. 16mo. Cloth, ornamental, $1.25 net. 50 copies on vellum, $3.00 net.

It is dangerous to prophesy or even to praise too highly in the case of a volume of verse; but it is easily within the bounds of caution to say that this little book is worth reading; that its message is ennobling and stimulating, and that no one can doubt its promise for the future. It bears what is, after all, the only test that one can apply in the case of one's contemporaries, the test of a repeated reading. — The Boston Transcript.

Mr. Robinson is to be congratulated upon his remarkably able work, which is as fine as anything done in America for many years. — Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The poet Tennyson, pointing a quarter of a century ago to a copy of Miller's early poems that stood on a shelf of his library, said briefly to an American visitor: "There's power there, but crude." Among all the new American poems which have lately passed across the critic's desk there is no question which is entitled to just this praise so far as it goes. It is The Children of the Night, by Edwin Arlington Robinson. Nay, one can go farther than this; for, while the variety of Mr. Robinson's measure is as yet small, he does his work deftly and thoroughly within that plot of ground, and packs even his sonnets with such vigor and such creative imagination that the whole story is told. The Nation.

Spikenard

Devotional Love Poems. By LAURENCE HOUSMAN. Octavo. Cover design by the author. $1.50 net.

Full of peace, of reverential awe, and of a splendid Catholicity, is this new volume of poems by Mr. Housman. Breathing, as they do, of contrition and repentance, the poems lift one's spirit above the strife of the world, and leave one with the bold optimism that springs from the holy note of love.

Many of the poems are written for special days and seasons of the Church, as, for example, The Feast of the Nativity, The Feast of the Ascension, Lent, and Easter Eve.

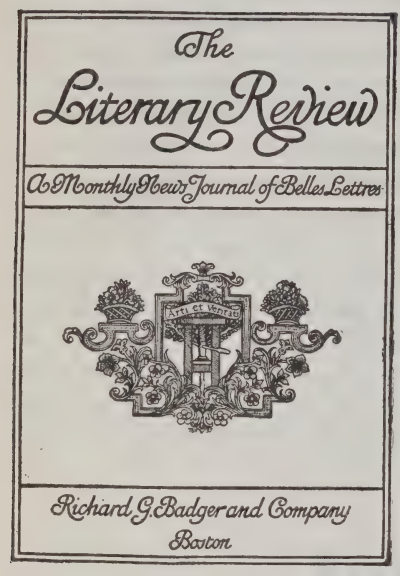
Poems

By Philip Becker Goetz. 16mo. Cloth, $1.25.

If Philip Becker Goetz continues the development which men who have been watching him have noticed in progress he will be in a few years one of the considerable poets of this country. . . . Goetz is a man of tender, human sympathies, and a man of wholesome faith. . . . He sees clearly. He has no patience with sentimentality or with a poet's posings. If he fulfils the promise of the present this little volume will in a few years be rare and valuable. — Brooklyn Eagle.

The Literary Review

A monthly news journal of belles lettres. 5 cents a copy; 50 cents a year. The trade supplied direct (3 cents a copy net. Non-returnable).



The Literary Review, though a little inclined in the tone of many of its book reviews to be a bit bumptious and hypercritical, as if because baked beans are good nothing else can be, is still one of the very best of its class of publications in this or any other country. It is a typographic gem, for one thing, quite sui generis and of uniform excellence. . . . It is full of matter of lively interest to those who read books, and possibly to those who only wish to be believed to read them. If these latter follow its guidance they are not likely to be guilty of any very serious solecisms. — The Chicago Chronicle.

The Literary Review (for April) contains an able article on the De Vinne Press and a series of reviews of new books which for sanity of judgment and literary merit are among the best that have recently been published. — The New Orleans Picayune.

The Literary Review deserves the attention of readers of current literature. It is well edited and handsomely printed. — Boston Beacon.

ADAMS—IN NATURE'S IMAGE. Chapters on Pictorial Photography. By W. I. Lincoln Adams. Profusely Illustrated by Original Photographs from Nature. Large 8vo, cloth decorated, full gilt, in a box (uniform in size, but not decoration, with "Sunlight and Shadow"). In press..... $2 50

ADAMS—SUNLIGHT AND SHADOW. A Book for Photographers, Amateur and Professional. Edited by W. I. Lincoln Adams. Illustrated by Original Photographs from Nature. Large 8vo, cloth decorated, full gilt, in a box..... 2 50

The author's little book entitled "Amateur Photography" was designed, as its subtitle suggested, to be a "practical guide for the beginner." The present volume seeks to aid the more advanced photographer. It is assumed that the reader has mastered the technicalities of photography, and now desires to make better pictures. The author has collected from "The Photographic Times," "The American Annual of Photography," and other sources, the following articles and illustrations by the best authorities on Photographic Landscape and Studio Art, including, also, some papers and illustrations of his own, in the hope that they may help, by precept and example, the photographer who desires to advance in pictorial photography.

ADAMS—AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHY. A Practical Guide for the Beginner. By W. I. Lincoln Adams, Editor of "The Photographic Times," "The American Annual of Photography," "The Photographic Instructor," etc., etc. Illustrated. Paper, 50 cents; cloth..... 1 00

A treatise for the amateur, by one whose experience of, and immediate contact with, the wants of those who are using the camera in and out of doors, especially fit him to prepare a hand-book that both serves as a guide to the ordinary work, and introduces the reader to new fields of interest.

AMERICAN CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION, THE. Held in Washington, D. C., April 22 and 23, 1896. Large octavo, boards, 258 pages..... 1 50

BARHYDT—CRAYON PORTRAITURE. Complete Instructions for making Crayon Portraits on Crayon Paper, and on Platinum, Silver, and Bromide Enlargements; and Directions for the use of Transparent Liquid Water Colors, and for making French Crystals. By J. A. Barhydt. 12mo, illustrated, revised and enlarged edition; paper, 50 cents; cloth..... 1 00

BEHRENDS—SOCIALISM AND CHRISTIANITY. By A. J. F. Behrends, D.D. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth..... 1 00

This book treats from a new point of view the problems raised by the most frequently advanced social theories of the day; their relations to the reciprocal duties of Labor and Capital, and the position of the Christian Church with reference to the social and industrial movements that are taking place about it.

BISSELL—A MANUAL OF HYGIENE. By MARY TAYLOR BISSELL, M.D., Professor of Hygiene in the Woman's Medical College of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children. 8vo, cloth, illustrated, revised edition..... 2 00

The consideration of the subject is based on the modern scientific theory of the origin of disease and the methods of prevention deduced from this. It is intended to be practical and to accord with the best American usage. It is designed to supply the want of a concise text-book both for medical students and for use in advanced schools and colleges. Its treatment includes the subjects of Air, Water, and Soil; Foods; the Hygiene of the Dwelling; Personal Hygiene; Preventable Diseases, and kindred topics.

BRANCH—NATIONAL SERIES OF SPEAKERS. By O. E. BRANCH, author of "Hamilton Speaker." I. Primary Speaker. Boards, 50 cents. II. Junior Speaker. Cloth, 75 cents. III. Advanced Speaker. Cloth..... 1 25

These contain the very freshest and most unhackneyed selection of good speakable pieces now accessible to seekers after new subjects for declamation and recitation. They are graded to meet the needs of persons of all ages.

BURR—FABIUS THE ROMAN; or, How the Church became Militant. By Rev. E. FITCH BURR, D.D., LL.D., author of "Ecce Coelum," "Pater Mundi," "Aleph the Chaldean," etc., etc. 12mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 50

A stirring story of the Roman Empire, depicting vividly the oppression and suffering of the Christians under the cruel emperor Maxentius, and the political and military movements whereby, under the leadership of a member of the great Fabian family, they attained civil and religious rights under Constantine. A thread of love and adventure runs through the quick and exciting action of the narrative and adds interest to the author's conscientiously scholarly treatment of his theme and period.

CALKINS—KEYSTONES OF FAITH; OR, WHAT AND WHY WE BELIEVE. By WOLCOTT CALKINS, D.D. 16mo, cloth..... 75

CARRYL—THE ADMIRAL'S CARAVAN. By CHARLES E. CARRYL, author of "Davy and the Goblin." With illustrations by REGINALD B. BIRCH. 8vo, cloth..... 1 50

CHECKLEY—A NATURAL METHOD OF PHYSICAL TRAINING. By EDWIN CHECKLEY. Cloth, illustrated..... 1 50

Mr. Checkley's novel book is meeting with an extraordinary reception. It has not only startled the athletic world and the schools of physical culture, but has met with cordial endorsement from the medical fraternity. The system fits into the every-day routine of life, and teaches without ordering the purchase of any apparatus or extraneous device whatever.

CHILD—A COLONIAL WITCH: Being a Study of the Black Art in the Colony of Connecticut. By FRANK SAMUEL CHILD, author of "An Old New England Town," "The Colonial Parson of New England," etc. 12mo, cloth, gilt top.. 1 25

In this book the author is at home in the field in which he has become acceptably known as an artist whose stroke is sure and whose revealing touch discloses his subject in the quaint and humorous light that often fell upon even Puritan austerity.

CHILD—THE COLONIAL PARSON OF NEW ENGLAND. By FRANK S. CHILD. 12mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 25

Mr. Child has prepared an interesting, humorous and sympathetic study of one of the most entertaining figures in the life and history of New England.

CHRISTIANITY PRACTICALLY APPLIED. A full Report of the International Christian Conference, held under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance, at Chicago, in connection with the Columbian Exposition, Oct. 8-14, 1893. General Conference, 8vo, cloth, $2.00. Section Conferences, 8vo, cloth..... 2 00

COGSWELL—THE REGICIDES. A Tale of Early Colonial Times. By FREDERICK HULL COGSWELL. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, illustrated..... 1 50

An absorbing story of Puritan New England, dealing largely with actual historical characters and events, the action centering in the flight and pursuit of Generals Whalley and Goffe, signers of the death-warrant of Charles the First. The book sheds new light on the social and political conditions of the period, and interests all lovers of historical fiction.

CO-OPERATION IN CHRISTIAN WORK. Common Ground for United Interdenominational Effort. By Bishop HARRIS, Rev. Drs. STORRS, GLADDEN, STRONG, RUSSELL, SCHAUFFLER, GORDON, KING, and HATCHER, President GILMAN, Prof. GEO. E. POST, and others. 16mo, paper, 30 cents; cloth..... 60

CUYLER—CHRISTIANITY IN THE HOME. By Rev. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D.D. 16mo, green or white or gray cloth..... 1 00

"We doubt whether there is, on this side of the Atlantic, another such master of the best colloquial English. The thirty-six talks or homilies, here printed and bound together, include themes that come home to every-day life, and the book will be found a great aid in the making of the ideal Christian home."—New York Critic.

CUYLER—HOW TO BE A PASTOR. By Rev. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D.D. (Uniform with Dr. Pierson's "Divine Art of Preaching," and Dr. Thwing's "Working Church.") 16mo, cloth, gilt top..... 75

"How to be a Pastor," places within the reach of thousands of theological students and young clergymen of the country the condensed results of the longest and most varied experience, and is available for the use of clergymen of every religious opinion, as it deals with the practical, rather than the theological side of the pastor's life.

CUYLER—GOD'S LIGHT ON DARK CLOUDS. By Rev. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D.D. 16mo, cloth, 75 cents; cloth, full gilt..... 1 00

"To thousands of disconsolate hearts these pages are fitted to carry just the comfort which they crave."—Congregationalist.

"These are words of sympathy and cheer to the desponding and bereaved—utterances clear, tender, and comforting out of a suffering heart to suffering hearts."—Presbyterian.

CUYLER—THE EMPTY CRIB. By Rev. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D.D. 16mo, cloth, gilt edges, with two steel portraits, 75 cents; cloth, full gilt..... 1 00

"Those who have lost little children by death will read this book with moist eyes."—Lutheran Observer.

"A real gem; the outpouring of a stricken parent's sorrows into the very bosom of the Saviour."—Christian Advocate.

CUYLER—STIRRING THE EAGLE'S NEST, AND OTHER PRACTICAL DISCOURSES. By Rev. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D.D. 12mo, cloth, with a photogravure portrait of the author..... 1 25

A collection of eighteen sermons thoroughly representative of the author's characteristic style and speech.

"In this volume we have this great Presbyterian divine, whose name has deservedly become a household word in America, at his best. They are strong, clear, spiritual, helpful."—Boston Traveller.

The writer's style is spicy and her views of things in the land of the Turk are expressed with vigor, originality, and independence. The illustrations are exquisitely printed half-tones delineating the monuments and life of the East. The typography is by De Vinne, the paper and binding sumptuous.

PIERSON—LIFE OF GEORGE MÜLLER. With an Appendix Containing a Collection of Sayings and Utterances of Mr. Müller. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. Cloth, illustrated ..... In press

PIERSON—SHALL WE CONTINUE IN SIN? A Vital Question for Believers Answered in the Word of God. The Substance of Addresses Delivered in Great Britain and Ireland, in 1896. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 12mo, cloth, gilt top 75

The topic of this book is St. Paul's discussion, in Romans VI., VII., and VIII. of the Duty and Privilege of non-continuance in sin. The doctrine of sinlessness is not here taught, but of not continuing in sin. The disciple's security for non-continuance in sinning is found in his Union with Christ. This Union with Christ is considered in a seven-fold aspect, and is treated in the present work under as many chapter headings, as Judicial, Vital, Practical, Actual, Marital, Spiritual, and Eternal.

PIERSON—THE NEW ACTS OF THE APOSTLES; OR, THE MARVELS OF MODERN MISSIONS. A series of lectures upon the foundation of the "Duff Missionary Lectureship," delivered in Scotland, in February and March, 1893, with a chromo-lithographic map of the world, and chart, which show the prevailing religions of the world, their comparative areas, and the progress of evangelization. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D., with an introduction by Rev. ANDREW THOMSON, D.D., F.R.S.E., Edinburgh, Scotland. Crown 8vo, cloth 1 50

PIERSON—THE CRISIS OF MISSIONS; OR, THE VOICE OUT OF THE CLOUD. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 16mo, paper, 35 cts.; cloth 1 25

"We do not hesitate to say that this book is the most purposeful, earnest, and intelligent review of the mission work and field which has ever been given to the Church."—Christian Statesman.

PIERSON—THE DIVINE ENTERPRISE OF MISSIONS. A Series of Lectures delivered at New Brunswick, N. J., before the Theological Seminary of the Reformed Church in America upon the "Graves" Foundation in 1891. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 16mo, cloth, gilt top 1 25

In this work the author sets forth a philosophy of the History of Missions. He seeks the eternal and immutable principles of mission work in the utterances of the Master himself, and tests the quality of such work by its adherence to or departure from these principles as laid down in the infallible word. He treats the subject under the Divine Thought, Plan, Work, Spirit, Force, Fruit, and Challenge of Missions.

PIERSON—EVANGELISTIC WORK IN PRINCIPLE AND PRACTICE. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 16mo, cloth 1 25

An able discussion of the best methods of evangelization, by an acknowledged master of the subject.

"It is an intensely interesting book, and will come as a stirring trumpet blast to every earnest soul it reaches."—Christian-at-Work.

PIERSON—THE DIVINE ART OF PREACHING. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 16mo, cloth (uniform with Dr. Cuyler's "How to be a Pastor" and Dr. Thwing's "Working Church.") 16mo, cloth, gilt top 0 75

The book is designed to throw out useful hints on the use of books, method in study, cultivation of habits of thought, force of style, and in general, whatever makes a thoroughly furnished minister of Christ.

"It contains the freshest thoughts of one of the leading preachers of the world, on a subject of deep interest to ministers everywhere."—Cumberland Presbyterian.

PIERSON—THE HEART OF THE GOSPEL. Twelve Sermons, delivered at the Metropolitan Tabernacle, London, Eng. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON. 16mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 25

" They stand as examples of Dr. Pierson's conspicuous ability as an extempore speaker. The sermons ring out the good old Gospel in sweet clarion tones. Dr. Pierson shows in these discourses the blessed influences of the hallowed surroundings amid which he preached them, and in them he is seen at his best, as inspired by the remarkable conditions of their delivery."—N. Y. Observer.

PIERSON—THE ONE GOSPEL; OR, THE COMBINATION OF THE NARRATIVES OF THE FOUR EVANGELISTS IN ONE COMPLETE RECORD. Edited by Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 12mo, flexible cloth, red edges, 75 cts.; limp morocco, full gilt..... 2 00

Each Evangelist furnishes some matter, found, if at all, not so fully in the other records. It has been sought to blend all the various features of the four narratives into one, without losing whatever is distinctive in each.

PIERSON—STUMBLING STONES REMOVED FROM THE WORD OF GOD. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. 18mo, cloth..... 50

In this little book many supposed difficulties of the Bible are shown not to be such in fact, and such simple rules of interpretation of a general character are laid down, as to make clear the literal truth of many passages which to some minds have previously been doubtful or only capable of the explanation that they were used metaphorically.

PIERSON—LOVE IN WRATH; OR, THE PERFECTION OF GOD'S JUDGMENTS. An address before the Mildmay Conference, London, Eng. By Rev. ARTHUR T. PIERSON, D.D. Leatherette, gilt top..... 35

This interesting theme is graphically treated by Dr. Pierson under the captions: I. The Judge; II. The Court; III. The Judgment; IV. The Execution; V. The Judged.

PITMAN—MANUAL OF PHONOGRAPHY. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. 16mo, boards, 80 cents; cloth, extra..... 1 00

PITMAN—REPORTERS' COMPANION. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. 12mo, boards, $1.00; cloth, extra..... 1 25

ROBERT—RULES OF ORDER FOR DELIBERATIVE ASSEMBLIES. By HENRY M. ROBERT. Pocket size..... 75

The standard Parliamentary authority. It has been adopted in numerous Colleges and Academies as a text-book; by College societies as their guide; by public Assemblies and organizations of every name and nature as their standard authority; by Odd-Fellows of entire States, Knights of Pythias, Masons, and other Secret Societies as their Parliamentary Manual.

ROSS—VOICE CULTURE AND ELOCUTION. By WILLIAM T. ROSS. New and Revised Edition. 12mo, cloth..... 1 25

A thorough, practical, and progressive work on the art of vocal and physical expression. It treats of calisthenics and the organs of speech, and covers the whole field of elocution.
" The nearest perfect of any book intended for the use of students of elocution."—Lois A. Bangs, Packer Institute, Brooklyn.

RUSSELL—WHAT JESUS SAYS. Being an arrangement of the words of our Saviour under appropriate headings, with a full index. By Rev. FRANK RUSSELL, D.D. 12mo, cloth..... 1 25

The exceptional value of this book lies in its so presenting the undying words of Christ, that whoever wishes to know just what utterances bear upon a given thought or suggested topic, has only to turn its pages like those of an index in order to be brought at once to the passages sought for. Every recorded word is given—sometimes under many different heads.

RYLE—EXPOSITORY THOUGHTS ON THE GOSPELS. By Rt. Rev. J. C. RYLE.
7 vols., 12mo, cloth, in a set..... 8 00
Matthew, 1 vol.; Mark, 1 vol.; Luke, 2 vols.; John, 3 vols. Each volume.... 1 25

The seven volumes are convenient in size and aggregate nearly 3,000 pages. As indicated by the title, the work is pre-eminently expository in character. In his treatment of Matthew, Mark, and Luke, the author divides the text of sacred Scripture into passages of about twelve verses each, which, taken as a whole, serve as a basis for a continuous series of short, plain " Expositions." To this method he adds, when treating the Gospel by John, the verse by verse exegesis. The practical lessons and inferences from the passages given are followed by notes, explanatory, doctrinal and hortatory, and the views of other commentators are presented from time to time.

SAMUEL—THE AMATEUR AQUARIST. By MARK SAMUEL, Aquarist to Columbia College, New York. 16mo, cloth, illustrated..... 1 00

An American Aquarium book indispensable to everyone who wishes to start an Aquarium, or who already has one. It contains complete instructions for making a new self-sustaining aquarium; requiring change of water but once a year, and tells how, when, and where to find suitable water-plants and fishes. It contains over fifty new illustrations from life, by which to identify the specimens.

SANFORD—THE ROMANCE OF A JESUIT MISSION. By M. Bourchier Sanford. 12mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 25

A charming story of love, adventure, and devotion to lofty ideals of life and conduct. The scene is laid for the most part at Fort Sainte Marie, the central station of the Missions to the Huron Indians, near the site of the present town of Midland, Canada. The time is the middle of the seventeenth century. The story abounds in picturesque delineation of the stirring, adventurous, and hazardous life of the traders, hunters, and Indians in and about the fort, and does not fail to depict with just and sympathetic veneration the sublime courage and devotion of the early missionaries.

"One of the purest and strongest pieces of historical romance that have yet been produced from the French mission materials. It mingles love, adventure, and devotion to lofty ideals in a style as elevating as fascinating. One hopes [the author] will give us other novels from the same inexhaustible mine."—Chicago Tribune.

SCOTT—THE WAVERLEY NOVELS. By Sir Walter Scott. Centenary edition. In 25 volumes, illustrated with 158 Steel Plates, and containing additional copyright notes from the author's pen, not hitherto published, besides others by the editor, the late David Laing, LL.D., with a general index, and separate indices and glossaries. Sold only in sets. 12mo, half levant, $75.00; half calf extra, $68.75; half morocco, $68.75; cloth extra, gilt top..... 31 25

SPURGEON—THE GOSPEL OF THE KINGDOM. A popular Exposition of the Gospel according to Matthew. By Rev. C. H. Spurgeon. With introductory note by Mrs. S. H. Spurgeon, and an Introduction to the American Edition by Rev. Arthur T. Pierson, D.D. 12mo, cloth, 512 pages..... 1 50

This commentary on the Gospel according to Matthew is the latest and ripest of his life's labors. It is his latest work, and has in a sense the aroma of his dying days, and is a simple, brief and charming memorial of the most effective popular preacher of his age.

STRONG—THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CITY. By Rev. Josiah Strong, D.D. 16mo, paper, 25 cents; cloth..... 50

With the same fascinating presentation of facts and figures which made "Our Country" one of the great books of the century, Dr. Strong discusses the danger arising from the vast movement of population towards the Cities and the growth of their preponderating influence in the Nation, points out the principles which may be applied successfully to the solution of the great problems of modern society and makes a ringing appeal for action.

STRONG—THE NEW ERA. By Dr. Josiah Strong, author of "Our Country." 400 pages. 45th Thousand, Library Edition, cloth, gilt top, $1.50; plain cloth, 75 cents; paper..... 35

"This volume is indeed a very strong contribution to sociological literature. It is the work of a specialist who possesses peculiar fitness for his task, and has carefully informed himself as to the correctness of the data from which his conclusions are drawn. The book ought to be read by everybody interested in the advancement of the race."—New York Observer.

STRONG—OUR COUNTRY. By Rev. Josiah Strong, D.D., with an Introduction by Prof. Austin Phelps, D.D. 170th thousand, enlarged and revised with reference to the census of 1890. 12mo, paper, 30 cents; cloth..... 60

This revision shows the changes of the last ten years and pictures the religious, social, and economic condition and tendencies of our country to-day. The present edition has been printed from entirely new plates, and enlarged by the addition of more than one-third new matter. Diagrams have also been employed to forcibly illustrate some of the more startling facts and comparisons. In its new form it adds to its original worth the merit of being the first general application of the results of the recent census to the discussion of the great questions of the day.

STUDENTS' STANDARD DICTIONARY. Designed to give the Orthography, Pronunciation, Meaning, and Etymology of over 60,000 Words and Phrases in the Speech and Literature of the English-speaking Peoples, with Synonyms and Antonyms. Containing also, an Appendix of Proper Names, Foreign Phrases, Faulty Diction, Disputed Pronunciations, Abbreviations, etc. 1,225 pictorial illustrations. Abridged from the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Dictionary of the English Language by James C. Fernald, Francis A. March, LL.D., and others. Large 8vo, 933 pages, cloth, leather back, net, $2.50; Indexed, 50 cents additional; sheep..... 4 00

"It would be difficult to find a dictionary more suitable for general popular use."—Journal of Commerce, New York.

"I have carefully examined the Students' Standard Dictionary with view to its use as a teacher's table reference. In my opinion it is the most reliable, comprehensive, and convenient dictionary for the teacher's desk yet offered to us. All new dictionaries we buy will be The Standard.—D. H. Cochran, President Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THWING—WITHIN COLLEGE WALLS. By CHARLES F. THWING, D.D., President of Western Reserve University and Adelbert College, author of "American Colleges: their Students, Work," etc. (Uniform with "The College Woman.") 16mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 00

This carefully and entertainingly written presentation of conclusions drawn from Dr. Thwing's personal experience and observation as College student and President, has a distinct value as guide and encouragement to those within College walls, and as an enlightened statement of College aims, tendencies and possibilities to their friends without.

THWING—THE COLLEGE WOMAN. By CHARLES F. THWING, D.D., President, etc. (Uniform with "Within College Walls.") 16mo, cloth, gilt top..... 1 00

"It is a thoughtful and earnest book; it is more than that: it is eminently readable. The various problems relating to women's education in all their complex relations, are treated with a clearness and a vigor as of one having authority. The matter is fresh and readable."—Cleveland Leader.

THWING—THE WORKING CHURCH. By CHARLES F. THWING, D.D. Revised and Enlarged Edition, cloth, gilt top. (Uniform with Dr. Cuyler's "How to be a Pastor" and Dr. Pierson's "Divine Art of Preaching.")..... 75

A careful treatise on the best methods of making the church organization an efficient instrument.

TODD—INDEX RERUM. By JOHN TODD, D.D. Revised and improved by Rev. J. M. HUBBARD. Quarto, cloth..... 2 50

The index is intended to supply those who are careful enough readers to make notes of what they may wish to use again, a book especially adapted to that purpose by a system of paging by letters, each page having a margin for the insertion of the word most expressive of the subject of the note. It contains 280 pages of quarto size, ruled and lettered, and in the hands of an industrious reader forms in the course of years a perfect index of his reading, as valuable as he may choose to make it complete.

TODD—THE STUDENT'S MANUAL. By JOHN TODD, D.D. 12mo, cloth..... 1 00

WEBB-PEPLOE—THE VICTORIOUS LIFE. The Post-Conference Addresses delivered at East Northfield, Mass., August 17-25, 1895. By Rev. H. W. WEBB-PEPLOE, Prebendary of St. Paul's Cathedral, London. Edited by DELAVAN L. PIERSON. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, with a portrait of the author.... 1 25

Prebendary Webb-Peploe is well known in Great Britain as one of the chief promoters of the Keswick movement, which has been so closely associated with the advance of spiritual life as to come to represent almost a new era of practical religious thought and experience.

WOODBURY—TALKS WITH RALPH WALDO EMERSON. By CHARLES J. WOODBURY. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, with a hitherto unpublished portrait..... 1 25

The poet's opinions, freely and spontaneously expressed in conversations on current thought, literature, philosophy, and criticism, and his thoughts about contemporary writers and workers. The book is at once an epitome of his philosophy and commentary upon the time and society in which he lived.

"No lover of Emerson can afford to overlook this book. He pervades it. The man himself is there."—New York Sun.

The School Bulletin

AND NEW YORK STATE EDUCATIONAL JOURNAL,

Established 1874. 24 pages, 9 x 14. $1.00 a year.

The School Bulletin is one of the five oldest educational journals in America, and the only one of them that has been under the same ownership and management from the beginning. It was the only American School journal which received the gold medal at the Paris Exposition of 1889, and it received the highest award offered at the Chicago Exposition of 1893, the diploma pronouncing it "of the greatest interest and historical value to educators of all grades". It is not filled with "methods" and spoon-food for young teachers who want their ideas ready-made, but appeals to superintendents, principals, and all teachers who regard their work as a vocation, and who want to look upon it broadly and comprehensively.

In the feature of educational news it has never had a rival. Its chronicles of what has happened in New York schools since its establishment are unmatched in educational literature, and it has taken note of whatever has happened in other States that involved general principles.

Its Current Topics give a chronicle of what occured during the preceding month with forcible terseness, and in a perspective that bring the important events clearly to the front, adding maps wherever necessary. For the instruction of classes in this branch, now commonly recognized as essential, and for preparation of teachers' examinations, the Current Topics as here presented have been declared to be the best anywhere to be found. In New York they are of especial value in preparation for the Uniform Examinations, as the Bulletin is issued every month of the year (not for ten months only), at such a date that it will reach New York subscribers just before the Uniform Examination of the month, and thus present the news fresh and up to date.

It publishes each month all the Uniform Examination questions and answers of the preceding month, with all the illustrations in drawing and other subjects. It publishes all the questions given at the examinations for State Certificates; all the circulars and legal decisions issued by the Department of Public Instruction; and has indeed two Official Departments edited and conducted by members of the Department of Public Instruction and of the Regents, respectively.

It is therefore primarily an educational journal for New York teachers, and is meant to be a journal no New York teacher can afford to be without. But teachers in other States will find it of great service, both for the intrinsic value of its contents, and for the vivid picture it gives of educational progress in the Empire State.

To Advertisers.

There are more than a hundred regular educational journals published in America, besides several times as many periodicals published in the interests of certain particular schools and colleges. To choose among all these the ones which will prove of most service to you as advertising mediums is not an easy task. Here are some reasons why your first choice should be the SCHOOL BULLETIN.

1. It is the New York State Educational Journal. There are in New York more than 33,000 public school teacher, a fourth more than in all New England, and one-half more than in Pennselvania or Ohio. The salaries of these teachers amount to Twelve Millions of Dollars a year, and nearly as much more is spent for books, apparatus, building and other expenses. These teachers and these schools can be reached effectively only through the SCHOOL BULLETIN, which has Official Departments edited by the Superidtendent of Public Instruction, and by the Secretary of the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York, through which announcements are made to the schools and teachers of the State.

2. It has a sworn circulation of Ten Thousand copies. There is a good deal of lying about newspaper circulation, but we are ready to receive advertisements upon the guarantee that no less than 10,000 copies are printed of any issue. We printed of the 12 numbers of Vol. xix., 140,300 copies, an average of 10,692 copies each number.

3. It is a well-established journal of recognized influence. Since its first issue in 1874 the BULLETIN has not changed its form, its price, its principles, or its editor. A business now amounting to a hundred thousand dollars a year has grown up from it, our list of more than 500 books for teachers being appropriately named "The School Bulletin Publications."

4. Its rates are absolutely invariable. This may not seem an advantage to bargain-hunters, but most business men prefer to deal where only fair rates are published, and those rates are adhered to. We consider the space worth to us for our own advertisements the price asked, and do not care to consider any offer at a lower rate. The BULLETIN advertising column is 12 inches long and 2 inches wide, 4 columns to a page. We allow 12 lines nonpareil to the inch. Orders amounting to 12 inches are allowed column rates.

The Standard Teachers' Library.

A Monthly Issue of Pedagogical Books which (1) Every Teacher OUGHT to have because of their VALUE; (2) Every Teacher CAN have because of their PRICE.

Superintendents the country over have written to us: "Our teachers need your books, and are making heroic efforts to buy them, but really you do not realize how much a dollar means to a country teacher. If you could only give us these books equally well printed but in cheaper binding." In response to this demand, we began in 1893 this Monthly Series, to include our very best books, of which the regular price in cloth is from $1.00 to $1.50 a volume. For this series the uniform price is FIFTY CENTS, POSTPAID. They are just as well printed, on just as good paper, and just as strongly sewn, with cloth-strengthened backs, as our regular cloth editions. The difference is that they are bound in manilla, and so can be sent by mail at pound rates, like a newspaper.

These are the best and cheapest books on teaching ever issued.

Only thoroughly approved works appear in this series, and every book has features of its own, including Notes, Illustrations, Topical Indexes, Bibliographies, etc., not to be found in editions issued by other publishers. In short our aim is to make for this series such a reputation that the fact that a book appears in it shall be sufficient guarantee, (1) that the book is one every teacher ought to own; and (2) that it is the best edition published.

Some of the books that have been most popular are the following. The price of each in cloth is appended.

THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS.

Books for the School Library.

1, Arbor Day Manual. By CHARLES R. SKINNER. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 476. $2.50.

This was compiled by the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction as an aid in preparing programmes for Arbor Day exercises, and contains choice selections on trees, forests, flowers, and kindred subjects, with 60 pages of Arbor Day music, etc., etc. It tells what trees to plant, and how and when to plant them, tells how the day is observed in different States, and gives specimen programmes. It is by far the most complete and helpful manual for its special purpose ever published, and is also available for daily use and in elocutionary exercises. It should be the first volume purchased for every school library in New York.

2. The Indian and the Pioneer. An Historical Study. By ROSE N. YAWGER. Illustrated. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 335. $3.00.

This is a most interesting account of the Indian tribes that inhabited central New York, and of the first white settlers. As a contribution to State history, it should have a place in every school library.

3. Carleton Island in the Revolution. The Old Fort and its Builder. By W. H. DURHAM. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 128, Illustrated. Price $1.00.

A valuable contribution to the local history of New York.

4. Camps and Tramps in the Adirondacks. By Judge A. J. NORTHRUP. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 302. Price $1.25. It breathes the true spirit of the words.

5. Roderick Hume, the Story of a New York Teacher. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 295. Price $1.25.

"I commenced last Sunday to read Roderick Hume. I finished it before I went to bed, and was surprised and somewhat annoyed that I had never read it before. I am free to say that it is a book which every good teacher ought to read. It will make even a good teacher a better one. I wish that every teacher in our State could read the book, especially the chapters concerning Miss Duzenberrie and her model primary school."—Hon. Charles R. Skinner, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

6. Old Stories Retold, By PAUL BINNER. With 59 original illustrations. Boards, 16mo, pp. 64. Price 25 cts.

This is for the little folks, who are often neglected in purchasing books for a library. It contains "Jack and the Bean-Stalk", "The Wolf and the Seven Young Goats", "Cinderella", "The Greedy Wolf and the Sly Fox", "The Smart Little Tailor", "The House Built of Ginger Cake", and "The Wonder Stone", with pictures that will make the child's heart leap for joy.

7. The Little Old Man. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 31. 50 cts.

"Happy are the little folks whose pictures make such an attractive frontispiece to this little book, and who have such an Uncle Charley to tell them such a nice story about the Little Old Man, and the School for Illiberal Mothers. Likewise happy are all readers, both old and young, who are permitted to share the story with them. It is just the thing for the children's hour', when the little ones are getting quiet and ready for something at once bright and helpful before they say Good Night."—Public Opinion.

The Cyclopedia of Education.

This largest and handsomest of our publications is an octavo volume of 562 pages, price $3.75. How indispensable it is to the teacher and to the school library may be judged from the following testimonials.

"It is admirable in every way. The book is worthy of a lower shelf in every teacher's library.—Educational News, June 8, 1889.

"This handsomely printed book is worth adding to the pedagogical shelf of any reference library."—The Critic, March 23, 1889.

"An elegant volume, which will find a place in the library of every teacher. The bibliography at the end of the book is the best educational check-list in the country."—R. Heber Holbrook, in Normal Exponent, May, '89.

"It is the most ambitious work of the kind yet published in English, and is, therefore, a very valuable volume for the teacher's library. Moreover, its value is increased greatly by the addition of a very extensive Bibliography of Pedagogy, both English and foreign."—Pop'r Educator, Mch. '89.

"This work occupies a distinct and peculiar field, and will be of continual value to the educator. The special aim of the editor, Mr. A. Fletcher, has been to give a clear but concise account of facts and questions belonging to educational topics. Here are a few titles which will give some idea of the scope of the work: Pestalozzi, Attendance, Analysis of Sentences, Chemistry, Technical Education, Precocity, Pedagogy, Hamiltonian Method, Hegel, Universal Language, Utilitarianism, University, Kindergarten. Under these, and many scores of other topics, there is given a mass of carefully combined information, much of which could not be found elsewhere."—Christian Union, Feb. 22, 1889.

"A handbook of ready reference on educational subjects of a high plane of scholarship has long been a desideratum in this country, and this work in a large measure supplies this want. It is a handbook of reference on all subjects of education—its history, theory, and practice. The list of contributors to the work embraces the leading educational writers of England, including such names as Oscar Browning, J. S. Curwen, Sir Philip Magnus, Arthur Sidgwick, and James Sully. These men are writers of the broadest scholarship, capable of thinking deeply on educational subjects, and what they have to say is entitled to the highest confidence of the educational world. The object dilgently kept in view by the writers of this work has been to make it useful to all who take an interest in educational questions, and especially to those engaged in teaching. With this purpose in view the object has been to present a practical view of educational facts and questions discussed. An exhaustive treatment of the great variety of subjects has not been aimed at, the end sought being to bring their pedagogic features into clear outline. Not the least useful part of the work is a 'Select and Systematic Bibliography of Pedagogy,' occupying some forty pages. The work makes a large octavo volume of 562 pages. The mechanical execution is unusually satisfactory."—Journal of Pedagogy, June, 1889.

THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS.

The Five Great English Books.

1. Lectures on Teaching, delivered in the University of Cambridge during the Lent term, 1880. By J. G. FITCH, late one of her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 303. $1.25,

Mr. Quick said: "All the essentials of popularity are combined in Fitch's Lectures on Teaching, and this is now (and long may it continue!) one of our most read educational works." We publish also at 15 cts, each Mr. Fitch's "The Art of Questioning", and "The Art of Securing Attention"—two interesting monographs that have had wide circulation and influence.

2. Education, Intellectual, Moral, and Physical. By HERBERT SPENCER. 16mo, pp. 331. Cloth, $1.00; Manilla, 50 cts.

This is incomparably the best edition of this great classic, of which Mr. Quick says, classing it with Ascham's "Scholemaster" and Locke's "Thoughts": "If a teacher does not know these, he is not likely to know or care anything about the literature of education;" and of which Compayré says: "There is scarcely a book in which a keen scent for details comes more agreeably to animate a fund of solid arguments." In this edition there are a sketch and portrait of the author, 28 pages of Notes with the principal Criticisms, and a complete Topical Analysis for Reviews.

3. Lectures on the Science and Art of Teaching. By JOSEPH PAYNE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 384. Price $1.25.

These lectures are singularly fascinating, and full analyses and indexes in this edition make it easy to collate and compare all that the author has uttered upon any topic suggested.

4. The Philosophy of Education, or the Principles and Practice of Teaching. By THOMAS TATE. 16mo, pp. 440. Cloth, $1.50; Manilla, 50 cts.

This gives the application of the Science to the Art of Teaching, and is without a rival in its clear presentation and abundant illustrations. The author is not content with giving directions. He shows by specimens of class-work just what may be done and should be done.

5. Introductory Text-Book to School Education, Method, and School Management. By JOHN GILL. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 276. Price $1.00.

This supplements the work of all the rest by practical directions as to School Management. The teacher's greatest difficulty, his surest discomfiture if he fails, is in the discipline and management of his school. That this manual has proved of inestimable help to English teachers is proved by the fact that the present edition is the 44th thousand printed.

Descriptions of School Systems.

1. Teaching in Three Continents, Personal Notes on the Educational Systems of the World. By W. Catton Grasby. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 244. $1.50.

The comparison is among the systems of America, Europe, and Australia. In his introduction to the American edition of this book, Dr. W. T. Harris says: "In this book we have the rare opportunity of seeing our Educational System as it appears to one of our large-minded cousins from the opposite side of the world. * * * In view of this trend of educational management, the very intelligent criticism of Mr. Grasby will be read with profit by all our teachers and school directors."

2. Methods of Education in the United States. By Alice Zimmern. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 184. $1.00.

Miss Zimmern was sent to the United States in 1893, by the trustees of the Gilchrist fund, and visited schools in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Haven, and Boston and vicinity, as well as Yale, Harvard, Vassar, Smith, Bryn Mawr, and other colleges. Her investigations were keen and are recorded interestingly.

3. State Education for the People in America, Europe, India, and Australia. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 176. $1.25.

This volume describes the school systems of the principal nations of the world. The articles are prepared by experts, and the titles are as follows: 1. Ancient Civilization and Modern Education in India; 2. Elementary Education in England; 3. State Education in Scotland; 4. National Education in Ireland; 5. English and Continental Systems Compared; 6. United States and English Systems Compared; 7. Education in Canada and Australia; 8. Commercial Education; 9. Education and Status of Women; 10. Technical Instruction and Payment by Results; 11. The English Code of 1890. The whole is followed by a biographical summary and conclusion.

4. Prussian Schools through American Eyes. By James Russell Parsons, Jr. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 91. $1.00.

This small volume is the most complete and satisfactory account of Prussian elementary education now accessible to American teachers, and ought to be carefully studied.—Wis. Journal of Ed'n.

5. French Schools through American Eyes. By James Russell Parsons, Jr. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 130. Illustrated. $1.00.

6. History of the Burgh Schools of Scotland. By James Grant. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 571. $3.00.

The importance in educational development of the school system of Scotland is universally recognized, and this is the standard history.

7. The History of the High School of Edinburg. By William Steven, D.D. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 610. $2.00. A companion volume to the last.

8. History of the Schools of Syracuse, N. Y. By Edward Smith. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 347. With 85 portraits, and 30 pictures of buildings. $3.00.

9. Roderick Hume; the Story of a New York Teacher. By C. W. Bardeen. 16mo, pp. 319. Cloth, $1.25; manilla, 50 cts.

10. A Day in my Life; or Every day Experiences at Eton. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 184. $1.00. An interesting description of English school life.

Helps in the History of Education

1. Essays on Educational Reformers, By Robert Henry Quick. 16mo, pp. 420. Manilla 50 cts.; Cloth $1.00.

"With the suggestion that study should be made interesting," wrote General Morgan, when principal of the Rhode Island State Normal School, "we most heartily agree. How this may be done, the attentive reader will be helped in learning by the study of this admirable book." The American Library Association recognize its literary value by including our edition of it in their list published by the Bureau of Education of books that every public library should own. An entirely new illustrated edition has now been issued, with autobiography, chapter on Froebel, 21 portraits, and 13 illustrations.

2. Lectures on the History of Education in Prussia and England. By James Donaldson. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 185. $1.00.

3. A Short History of Education. By Chancellor W. H. Payne. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 105. 50 cts.

This is a reprint of Oscar Browning's article in the Encyclopædia Britannica, with notes on Comenius and Bibliography.

4. Sketches from the History of Education. By W. N. Hailmann. Paper, 8vo, pp. 39. 20 cts.

This treats particularly of Luther, Bacon, Pestalozzi, Girard, Diesterweg, and Froebel.

5. History of the Philosophy of Pedagogics. By Prof. C. W. Bennett. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 43. 50 cts.

6. Elementary Greek Education. By Fred H. Lane. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 85. 50 cts.

7. History of the Burgh Schools of Scotland. By James Grant. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 571. $3.00. These were the original free schools of the world.

8. The History of the High School of Edinburgh, By William Steven. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 610. $2.00.

9. History of the Schools of Syracuse, N. Y. By Edward Smith. Cloth, 8vo, gilt top, pp. 347. With 85 portraits and 30 pictures of buildings. $3.00.

10. Teachers' Institutes, Past and Present. By James M. Milne. Paper, 8vo, pp. 22. 25 cts.

11. History of Educational Journalism in the State of New York. By C. W. Bardeen. Paper, 8vo, pp. 45. 40 cts.

12. Educational Publications in Italy. By Piero Barbera. Paper, 8vo, pp. 14. 15 cts. Written for the Columbian Exposition.

Quick's Educational Reformers.

Its vivacious style makes this the most entertaining of books for teachers. Dr. Wm. T. Harris says: "I have called this book of Mr. Quick the most valuable history of education in our mother-tongue." We are glad to present it in new dress, worthy of its merits.

This new edition is a careful reprint of the original London edition with the following additions:

(1) Mr. Quick's Pedagogical Autobiography, written for the Educational Review, and used here by permission.

(2) The chapter on Froebel, written by Mr. Quick for the Encyclopædia Britannica.

(3) Portraits, including the following:

Arnold	Goethe	Montaigne
Ascham	Jacotot	Pestalozzi
Basedow	Kant	Quick
Colet	Lavater	Rousseau
Comenius	Locke	Spencer
Fellenburg	Loyola	Sturm
Froebel	Milton	Tobler

(4) Illustrations, including the following:

(5) Translations of all the passages in French, German, Latin, and Greek, with which the book abounds.

These added translations are put at the bottom of the page and are indicated by numbers. In the chapter on Rousseau, the quotations in French make nearly as much matter as the English, so that the chapter might well serve for an exercise in learning French by parallel translation, after the methods of Ratich, Locke, or Jacotot.

(6) Side-heads, giving the substance of the paragraph.

(7) Additional notes, always in brackets.

(8) An index much extended.

16mo, pp. 420. Price postpaid in Manilla 50 cts.; in Cloth, $1.00.

History of Modern Education.

The History of Modern Education. An account of Educational Opinion and Practice from the Revival of Learning to the Present Decade. By SAMUEL G. WILLIAMS, Ph.D., Professor of the Science and Art of Teaching in Cornell University. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 499. With 37 Portraits. $1.50.

This is a revised and enlarged edition of what was upon its first appearance altogether the fullest and most complete history of modern education now available. It is the only adequate preparation for examinations, and a necessary part of every teacher's working library.

The titles of the chapters will give some idea of its comprehensiveness. Those in italics appear for the first time in this revised edition.

Introductory. Valuable contributions to pedagogy from ancient days. I. Preliminaries of modern education. II. The Renaissance, and some interesting phases of education in the 16th century. III. Educational opinions of the 16th century. IV. Distinguished teachers of the 16th century, Melanchthon, Sturm, Trotzendorf, Neander, Ascham, Mulcaster, the Jesuits. V. Some characteristics of education in the 17th century. VI. Principles of the educational reformers. VII. The 17th century reformers. VIII. Female education and Fenelon. IX. The Oratory of Jesus. Beginnings of American education. X. Characteristics of education in the 18th century. XI. Important educational treatises of the 18th century: Rollin, Rousseau, Kant. XII. Basedow and the Philanthropinic experiment. XIII. Pestalozzi and his work. XIV. General review of education in the 18th century, XV. Educational characteristics of the 19th century. XVI. Extension of popular education. XVII. Froebel and the kindergarten. XVIII. Professional training of teachers, and school supervision. XIX. Manual and industrial training. XX. Improvements in methods of instruction. XXI. Discussion of relative value of studies.

There are also added an Analytic Appendix, for review; the Syllabus on the History of Education prepared by the Department of Public Instruction for the training classes of the State of New York, with references by page to this volume; and an Index of 13 double column pages, much fuller than in the first edition,

The Critic calls it, "sensible in its views, and correct and clear in style." The American Journal of Education says: "It is not too much to say that for all ordinary purposes Prof. Williams's book is in itself a much more valuable pedagogical library than could be formed with it omitted."

C. W. BARDEEN, Publisher, Syracuse, N. Y.

He has shown that he is a natural historian, for his omissions are those speculations and discussions which are too often found in other histories of education, which add nothing to the value of the history, and only serve to puff out the matter. * * * With such histories as Quick's and Compayré's, Williams's will have an equal rank.—Education, Oct., 1892.

No teacher should long remain in ignorance of the growth of education and of the names and efforts of those who have through the years been shaping our system of schools. The author has been successful, we think, in selecting from the mass of matter that which is truly representative. The book is interesting in its substance and attractive in its makeup. We quote from it in another portion of the MODERATOR that our readers may form some idea of the style.—Mich. Moderator, Sept. 22, 1892.

The author has attempted to construct a clear, truthful, interesting narrative, within moderate compass. To make a wise selection from the vast amount of materials at his disposal, and to arrange it in the best form, was no easy matter. It required a broad knowledge and comprehensive grasp of the whole subject, together with sound judgment and good taste in selecting and arranging his materials. In our judgment the author has succeeded admirably in his undertaking. We commend the book most heartily.—Prof. S. J. Kirkwood, in The Post Graduate, Jan., 1893.

Dr. Williams has chosen to write the history of education in a style interesting alike to the general reader and to the teacher. Hastily running through the story of the early attempts in educational affairs he gives the greater part of his work to recounting what has taken place within this century. The author takes full cognizance of all the influences which have been exerted through the ages upon the systems of education, and with a clear comprehension of the present status of education demonstrates the results which have come from the focussing of different streams of light.—Teachers' World, Feb., 1893.

Dr. Williams has been throughout a close, discriminating student of educational systems, both in their present form, and in their vicissitudes during the past few centuries. As a result of these two forces, he now presents the students of education with an exceedingly valuable contribution towards the history of teaching and teachers. Dr. Williams has been very successful in securing a proper balance between the different men and movements Few subjects give a better opportunity for the believers in this prophet or that to extol him as the one great leader. Just now it has been Comenius, while Pestalozzi, Frœbel, and Rousseau have never lacked over-ardent friends. All of these receive fair treatment in these lectures: treatment which may not entirely meet the ideas of this student or that, yet which always ensures a clear understanding of the man and his work, and the opportunity for honest, well-founded personal opinions. It is a book which must be on the shelves of every student of education.—New England Journal of Ed'n. Oct. 20. 1892.

It is the fullest, most complete, and most satisfactory work we have on the subject.—Educational Courant, Sept., 1892.

It presents the salient features, is interesting and valuable.—Sunday School Journal, March, 1893.

Believing it to be the best book of its kind, I shall use it in my classes.—Prof. W. M. Blair, Normal Department, Salem College, W. Va., Nov. 21, 1892.

This book is better adapted to our use than any other we have found.—Principal C. C. Rounds, New Hampshire State Normal School, Oct. 12, 1892.

The volume is one of decided value, and is a miniature cyclopædia of historical facts dating from the Renaissance.—New York World, Aug. 27, 1892

Sensible in its views, and correct and clear in style, Prof. Williams's book is well worthy of a place in educational literature.—The Critic, Sept. 10, 1892.

A book worthy to take its place in the teacher's library alongside of Quick, Compayré, and Gill.—Western School Journal, Feb., 1893.

It is not too much to say that for all ordinary purposes Prof. Williams's book is in itself a much more valuable pedagogical library than could be formed with it omitted.—American Journal of Education, Sept., 1892.

Throughout the book the author shows good sense in his judgment of men and methods; and, what is no small merit in the present age, he is entirely free from hobbies.—Science, Aug. 26, 1892.

The title of this book can scarcely suggest the rich and varied interest of the materials which it includes. It sums up for us the story of educational methods and systems in all countries, from the middle ages down to the present time.—Review of Reviews, Oct., 1892.

I have received a copy of Williams's History of Modern Education, and having read three chapters I see it must be added to our library. Please send us two copies more.—Principal W. E. Wilson, R. I. State Normal School, Nov. 15, 1892.

The author's style is clear and readable, his criticisms without color, * * and the impression in our mind after perusal is that the author is not only one who knows, but one whose thoughts and conclusions are worthy of respect.—Popular Educator, Nov., 1892.

It is a wonderful book for conciseness—a veritable multum in parvo, and still the narrative style is so constantly maintained that it reads more like a story than an encyclopædia. It is both in one.—Principal O. D. Robinson, Albany High School, March 15, 1893.

The outlook over the subject is broad, the views in many instances fresh, and the interpretation penetrating. The work is especially valuable as being at once comprehensive and compact, covering the whole ground, with each movement or phase of progress given in its due proportion.—Evangelist, Oct. 20, 1892.

His method of treating the subject is eminently happy. The salient points of the history of education in that period are clearly indicated, and the ascending curve of progress is sketched through them. Dr. Williams's style is delightful. Every teacher will be at once pleased and instructed by a perusal of the book.—Public Opinion.

Biographies of Great Teachers.

1. A Memoir of Roger Ascham, by SAMUEL JOHNSON, LL.D.; and selections from the Life of Thomas Arnold, by Dean STANLEY. Edited, with Introductions and Notes by JAMES S. CARLISLE. 16mo, pp. 252. Manilla, 50 cts. Cloth, $1.00.

THOMAS ARNOLD.

Besides the biography of Ascham in full this volume contains selections from "The Schoolmaster", with facsimile of the ancient title-page. We also publish Ascham's Complete Works in four handsome volumes at $5.00.

From Stanley's "Life of Arnold" those chapters have been taken which refer to his work as a teacher, and are published without change. Thus the book gives in full compass and at a low price all that is most important in the lives of these two great teachers.

"No better reading could be selected for the teacher, none more stimulating, none more softening, than the lives of these two men, so conspicuous for their achievement as teachers."—The Evangelist.

2. John Amos Comenius, Bishop of the Moravians; his Life and Educational Works. By S. S. LAURIE. 16mo, pp. 232. Manilla, 50 cts.; Cloth, $1.

3. An Old Educational Reformer. Dr. Andrew Bell. By J. M. D. MEIKLEJOHN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 182. $1.00.

Dr. Bell was the founder of the Monitorial System that swept over England and America in the early part of this century, and was at that time the most famous teacher in the world. Prof. Meiklejohn has made his biography as entertaining as it is important in the history of education.

4. Pestalozzi: his Aim and Work. By Baron DEGUIMPS. Translated by MARGARET CUTHBERTSON CROMBIE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 336. $1.50.

5. Autobiography of Frederich Frœbel. Translated and annotated by EMILIE MICHAELIS and H. KEATLEY MOORE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 183. $1.50.

"He writes so simply and confidentially that no one can fail to understand everything in this new translation. It would be of great benefit to American youth for fathers and mothers to read this book for themselves, instead of leaving it entirely to professional teachers."—New York Herald.

6. The Educational Labors of Henry Barnard. By WILL S. MONROE. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 35. 50 cts.

7. Essays on Educational Reformers. By R. H. QUICK. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 331. $1.50.

Its vivacious style makes it the most interesting of educational histories. We publish separately at 15 cts. each these chapters: I. The Jesuits, II. Comenius, III. Locke, IV. Rousseau, V. Basedow, VI. Jacotot, VII. Pestalozzi.

Meiklejohn's Life of Andrew Bell.

An old Educational Reformer, Dr. Andrew Bell. By J. M. D. MEIKLEJOHN, professor of the theory, history, and practice of education in the university of St. Andrews. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 182. $1.00.

Teachers of this generation can hardly realize what a power the monitorial system was in the history of the first third of this century. It was the subject most debated when teachers met together and in the educational journals of the time. It was supposed to have revolutionized teaching, and in this country as well as in England and elsewhere its influence was enormous. Dr. Andrew Bell, its founder is buried in Westminster Abbey, his tablet being one of the first that meets the eye of the visitor. He left a fortune of a million dollars to educational uses, and founded the chairs of education in the universities of Edinburgh and St. Andrews.

Hitherto his biography could be obtained only in the three enormous volumes of 2,000 pages by Robert Southey; but Dr. Meiklejohn, who occupies at St. Andrews the chair Dr. Bell founded, has written this memoir, which is as sprightly and interesting as the big compilation of Southey's is dreary and dull. He tells of Dr. Bell's college life, of his going to Virginia to be a tutor; of his shipwreck on his return voyage; of the duel he fought, when, being short-sighted and excitable, he fired at the seconds instead of his opponent; of his being offered $2,500 to vote for one candidate and immediately voting for the other; of his journey to India, where he was put in charge of an orphan school for boys; of his difficulty in finding teachers, and his discovery of the plan of mutual instruction; of the enormous success that this plan met with, first in India, and afterward in Great Britain and throughout the world.

Incidentally Prof. Meiklejohn tells much of the state of education at the time Dr. Bell began to introduce his system, when in Ireland for instance, the boy who had written the best copy was ordered by the master to pull the hair of the boy who had written the worst, and so to do until they arrived at their seats in the school again. It was one of Dr. Bell's correspondents who speaks of the death of a schoolmaster in Swabia who had superintended a seminary 51 years with severity; had given 911,500 canings, 124,000 floggings, 209,000 custodies, 136,000 tips with the ruler, 10,200 boxes on the ear, 22,700 tasks by heart, 700 stands upon peas, 600 kneels on a sharp edge, 500 foolscaps, 1,700 holds of rods.

In short the volume is a vivacious and interesting history of the time, as well as the best biography of one of England's most eminent teachers.

John Amos Comenius.

1. John Amos Comenius, Bishop of the Moravians, his Life and Educational Works. By S. S. LAURIE. Reading Circle Edition. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 272. $1.00.

This edition differs from those hitherto published (1) in being indexed by head-lines, (2) in the insertion of five portraits, and (3) in the addition of a bibliography, with fifteen photographic reproductions of pages from early editions of his works. The core of the book is the account of The Great Didactic, pages 73-153, the best treatise on Method ever published, at once broad, sound, suggestive, and practically helpful. As a contribution both to the history of education and to its theories this book occupies a unique place, and is indispensable in even a small library of teachers' books.

2. The Orbis Pictus of John Amos Comenius. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 232. $3.00.

This beautiful volume is a reprint of the English edition of 1727, but with reproduction of the 151 copper-plate illustrations of the original edition of 1658. A copy of the rare original commands a hundred dollars, and this reprint must be considered a most important contribution to pedagogical literature. The Orbis Pictus was not only the first book of object lessons, but the first text-book in general use, and indeed, as the Encyclopædia Britannica states, "the first children's picture-book."

The book is a beautiful piece of work, and in every way superior to most of the fac-similes we have so far been presented with.—N. Y. World.

We welcome this resurrection of the Orbis Pictus, which has lain too long in suspended animation. The master-piece of Comenius, the prince of European educators of the 17th century, was the greatest boon conferred on the little ones in primary schools.—Nation.

The old wood illustrations are reproduced with absolute fidelity by a photographic process, and as the text follows closely letter by letter the old text, the book is substantially a copy of the rare original.—Literary World.

3. The Place of Comenius in the History of Education. By NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER. Paper, 16mo, pp. 20. 15 cts.

The Orbis Pictus of Comenius.

This beautiful volume, (Cloth, 8vo, large paper, top-edge gilt, others uncut, pp. 197, $3.00) is a reprint of the English edition of 1727, but with reproduction of the 151 copper-cut illustrations of the original edition of 1658. A copy of the rare original commands a hundred dollars, and this reprint must be considered the most important contribution to pedagogical literature yet made. It was not only the first book of object lessons, but the first text-book in general use, and indeed, as the Encyclopædia Britannica states, "the first children's picture-book."

EXTRACTS FROM CRITICISMS.

The book is a beautiful piece of work, and in every way superior to most of the fac similes we have so far been presented with.—N. Y. World.

C. W. Bardeen, of Syracuse, has placed lovers of quaint old books under obligation to him.—N. Y. Sun.

We welcome this resurrection of the Orbis Pictus Sensualum Pictus which has lain too long in suspended amination. This master-piece of Comenius, the prince of European educators in the 17th century, was the greatest boon ever conferred on the little ones in primary schools.—Nation.

Comenius's latest editor and publisher has therefore given us both a curiosity and a wholesome bit of ancient instruction in his handsome reprint of this pioneer work.—Critic.

The old wood illustrations are reproduced with absolute fidelity by a photographic process, and as the text follows closely letter by letter the old text, the book is substantially a copy of the rare original.—Literary World.

It would be impossible to find an educational work which would exercise a stronger fascination upon the minds of the young.—Am. Book-maker.

The reproduction gives an excellent idea of the work and makes a most interesting volume for reference, especially as an illustration of the customs, manners, beliefs, and arts of the 17th century.—Independent.

Every educational library must have a copy of the book, if it wishes to lay any claim whatever to completeness, and as the edition is limited, orders should be sent early. We say right here that twenty-five dollars will not take our copy unless we are sure we can replace it.—Educational Courant.

John Henry Pestalozzi.

1. Pestalozzi; his Aim and Work. By BARON DEGUIMPS. Translated by Margaret Cuthbertson Crombie. 12mo, pp. 336. Manilla 50 cts.; Cloth $1.50.

Among the best books that could be added to the teacher's library.—The Chautauquan.

It is sufficient to say that the book affords the fullest material for a knowledge of the life of the great educational reformer.—Literary World.

The most satisfactory biography of Pestalozzi accessible to English readers.—Wisconsin Journal of Education.

2. Pestalozzi and Pestalozzianism. By R. H. QUICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 40. 15 cts. A convenient summary.

3. How Gertrude Teaches her Children; an attempt to help mothers to teach their own children. By JOHN HENRY PESTALOZZI. 16mo, pp. 391; illustrated. Manilla, 50 cts.; Cloth, $1.50.

The greatest of Pestalozzi's educational works is now for the first time published in English translation. The volume contains also "The Method; a Report by Pestalozzi to the Society of the Friends of Education, Burgdorf."

Dr. G. Stanley Hall says: "Modern education almost begins with it. It describes the regeneration of a dismal hamlet by a good teacher as the principle by which nations are made great. Fichte lit his torch here and made Germany the strongest state since ancient Rome by becoming the educational state of the world, and France has now imitated her example."

4. Letters on Early Education, addressed to J. P. Greaves. By JOHN HENRY PESTALOZZI. 16mo, pp. 175. Manilla, 50 cts.; Cloth, $1.00.

These letters were first published in 1829, but have long been out of print. Their value is especially great in view of the modern movement to enlist mothers in the work of education.

5. Portrait of Pestalozzi, bust life-size, on paper 22 by 28 inches, suitable for framing. 25 cts. Uniform with those of Froebel, Sheldon, and Comenius.

6. Object Lessons; or Words and Things. By T. G. ROOPER. Leatherette, 16mo. pp. 56. 50 cts. The best book on the subject.

7. The Pestalozzian Series of Arithmetics. Based upon Pestalozzi's method of Teaching Elementary Number. By JAMES H. HOOSE. Boards, 16mo, First Year, Pupil's Edition, pp. 156, 35 cts. Teacher's Edition, containing the former, with additional matter, pp. 217. 50 cts. Second Year, Pupil's Edition, 50 cts.

Friedrich Froebel.

1. Autobiography of Friedrich Froebel. Translated and annotated by EMILIE MICHAELIS and H. KEATLEY MOORE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 183. $1.50.

Useful and interesting * * * among the best that could be added to the teacher's library.—The Chautauquan.

There is no better introduction to the Kindergarten.—Wisconsin Journal of Education, Sept, 1889.

2. Froebel's Letters on the Kindergarten. Translated from the German edition of 1887 by EMILIE MICHAELIS & H. KEATLEY MOORE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 331. $1.50.

It would be an everlasting loss if the treasures which lie in Friedrich Froebel were allowed to perish. He is a jewel, a pearl of price.—Adolph Diesterweg.

3. Child and Child-Nature. Contributions to the understanding of Froebel's Educational Theories. By the Baroness MARENHOLTZ VON BUELOW. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 207. $1.50.

It is a fit companion to the Autobiography and the two are published in the same style—a capital idea—and a royal pair of volumes they make.—Educational Courant.

Its design is to illustrate the theory and philosophy of Froebel's system. It does this so clearly and pleasingly as to give no excuse for criticism. * * * * The volume is one profitable for every mother, as well as for every teacher of children.—Chicago Interocean.

4. The New Education. By Prof. J. M. D. MEIKLEJOHN. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 47. 50 cts. Contains an account of Froebel's life, work, and principles.

5. The Kindergarten System. Principles of Froebel's System, and their bearing on the Education of Women. Also remarks on the higher education of women. By EMILY SHIRREFF. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 200. $1.00.

The Teacher's Mentor.

This volume contains four famous manuals for teachers, Buckham's "First Steps in Teaching", Huntington's "Unconscious Tuition", Fitch's "Art of Questioning", and Fitch's "Art of Securing Attention". It may be safely said that no single volume ever published will do more to assist and to inspire. It is a volume of 274 pages. Price in cloth $1.00; in manilla, 50 cts.

Of BUCKHAM'S "FIRST STEPS", the following testimony will indicate the recognized importance.

It is a work of great value to the young and inexperienced teacher. It discusses the principles of the teacher's art in a manner which is at once simple and practical, without attempting to give a metaphysical discussion of them.—President W. J. Milne, New York State Normal College.

Admirably adapted to direct and help young teachers in organizing and managing a school. It is full of plain, pointed, and practical suggestions. * * * For the use I have spoken of I do not know of its equal.—Principal F. B. Palmer, Fredonia Normal.

If there be another book to compare with it in practical usefulness we have not seen it.—Public School Journal.

A model of condensation and hard sense, and a thoroughly trustworthy guide for the beginners in educational work.—Iowa Normal Monthly.

Its chapters of suggestions on specific points make this little manual a priceless vade mecum for all inexperienced teachers.—N. C. Advocate.

It is simple, it is practical, it is suggestive, it is wonderfully minute in detail. In short, it anticipates all the difficulties likely to be encountered, and gives the beginner the counsel of an older friend.—Utica Herald.

Of HUNTINGTON'S "UNCONSCIOUS TUITION", A. E. Frye, the well-known teacher and author, says: "I wish something might be done to bring it to the knowledge of teachers everywhere. It is the first book to put into the hands, head, and heart of every young teacher. I know of no gift of equal value to bestow upon a young person undertaking the instruction of little children." The Ohio Educational Monthly says: "There is nothing finer in the whole range of pedagogic literature."

Of FITCH'S "ART OF QUESTIONING", the Christian Register says: "Mr. Fitch, who is happily inside his subject, and clear as a bell, divides teachers' questions into three kinds: those which help the instructor to measure the knowledge of his pupil,—experiment; those which compel the pupil to do his own thinking,—instruction; and those which test this result,—examination. By precept and example he shows how a teacher may develop interest, may connect new knowledge with what has already been attained, may stimulate mental action, and put a living spirit into the exercises."

FITCH'S "ART OF SECURING ATTENTION" is equally bright, interesting, and stimulating, giving the teacher just the help needed to inspire life and vigor in the class-room.

Huntington's Unconscious Tuition.

This is without question the most remarkable address upon teaching ever written in America. Delivered years ago before the American Institute of Instruction, it has been reprinted again and again, and has brought help and inspiration to hundreds of thousands of teachers. From a multitude of testimonials we select the following:

"I heard the lecture when first given, have read it several times, and have given away a good many copies. I wish every teacher in the land could read it and take in its spirit."—Charles Hutchins, Agent American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions.

We may add that this Board has purchased and sent out to the missionaries all over the world more than a thousand copies, and we have frequently printed grateful letters from these missionaries expressing the delight and help it gave them.

"I have had it in mind for a long time to write you a few words in regard to 'Unconscious Tuition' by Huntington. I wish something might be done to bring it to the knowledge of teachers everywhere. It is the first book to put into the hands, head, and heart of every young teacher. I know of no gift of equal value to bestow upon a young person undertaking the instruction of little children."—A. E. Frye, Hyde Park, Mass.

"We give much of our space this month to Dr. Huntington's grand classic. There is probably nothing finer in the whole range of pedagogic literature. We trust everyone will read it, and we are sure that many will read it more than once."—Ohio Educational Monthly.

"Surely it is a masterpiece. Sometimes when reading or hearing lectures on our obligations as teachers I have felt like crying out in despair: 'Lay no more burdens upon us! Are we not already crushed beneath the weight of responsibility!' But this paper, while it reveals with singular vividness the duty resting upon us, yet carries with it such a healthful and strengthening power that it inspires determination and hope. It presents a most exalted ideal, and neglects not to speak of the means by which it is attained. It brings commendation and hope to the few who are worthy, and has also a word of encouragement for the most of us who have made as yet little progress. Such words stir the soul to its depths with its unvoiced thoughts which breathe forth a holy, sacred influence that is uplifting and purifying. At such times our eyes are opened and we see more clearly than ever before that character is the one thing that shall endure."—E. M. N., in Ohio Educational Monthly.

Paper, 16mo, pp. 45, 15 cts. Also the second of four monographs in "The Teacher's Mentor", cloth, pp. 274, $1.00.

DeGraff's School-Room Guide.

What there is in Prof. DeGraff's method of presentation that so reaches and holds the young teacher, it might be hard to say: but he has never had his equal as an institute instructor in the inspiration he gave; and superintendents everywhere agree that where other books are bought and put away, the "School-Room Guide" is bought and kept on the desk, for daily use. Some books are recommended because it is creditable to own them; this is recommended by those who know it because it will help. It is significant that this was one of the three books selected by the Examination Board of the State of New York as one of the three upon which all Uniform and State Examinations in Methods and School Economy should be based for the year 1895, and that it was unanimously readopted for 1896.

It is just what its name implies, a real guide to school-room work.—Practical Teacher.

We do not know of any other book that contains so much help for a young teacher, or an old one for that matter, as this.—Wis. Journal of Education.

The striking point in the work is the practical sense of it. Showy methods and visionary schemes get no toleration in these pages.—The Independent.

We cannot say too much in praise of this book. It contains just the very hints that the progressive teacher needs every day. We do not think that a teacher who loves his work and desires to excel can afford to do without DeGraff's Guide.—N. C. Teacher.

It is not a mere collection of rules and formulas to be followed implicitly and automatically by every teacher alike, but is rather a series of hints and suggestions well calculated to assist the teacher to think and desire new methods for himself or herself. It were well for our schools if this book were used by every teacher.—Public Opinion.

This volume is designed to be a practical one. It contains suggestions on every subject that comes usually within the work of the common school teacher. It discusses the various methods used in teaching the different subjects and presents what is thought to be the best. The plan used in treating any given subject is to give an introduction followed by several lessons, explicit directions as to what is to be done, cautions to be observed and results to be obtained. It is just such a manual as every teacher needs. —Educational Journal of Va.

Complete Index just added. 16mo, pp. 405. Manilla, 50 cts., Cloth, $1.50

C. W. BARDEEN, Publisher, Syracuse, N. Y.

No book in our library is more highly prized than DeGraff's School-Room Guide.—Mary Allen West, Galesburg, Ill.

Simple, minute, practical, it enters more into detail than most books of its kind.—Ohio Educational Monthly.

It brings out the most interesting and philosophical methods of presenting subjects for instruction.—Intelligence, Chicago, Ill.

I think it the best work of the kind that has been contributed to our school catalogue, and shall take pleasure in commending it. Its practical discussion of methods meets a school-room want that is met by no other book known to me.—W. K. Pendleton, State Superintendent, West Va.

Whether treating of reading, arithmetic, history or any other theme, the author offers pregnant hints and suggestions that can hardly fail to be useful, especially to those just beginning to teach. One cannot read many pages of the work without seeing that it is both practical and useful.—The Critic.

We know of no other book on the subject that has attained the popularity of this one. We remember the first reading of this book soon after it was published. We do not know where else the earnest teacher could get so much of practical value within the same compass. Any teacher who can have but one book should have this Guide. It differs from others in the fact that this is a volume sure to be consulted in a moment of perplexity, while others are read and laid aside and perhaps forgotten. We like to commend a good book, and this is a good one. We want a thousand Courant readers to buy it. We do not need to advise them to use it, they are sure to do that when once they have seen it.—Educational Courant.

I have read many other books for teachers, and this is the best one I have ever seen. I have never known a teacher who had read it not to commend it highly. The book does not present theory in teaching and leave the reader in doubt as to what is to be done in practice; it tells how to teach primary reading, spelling, phonics, letter writing; how to give lessons on objects: and more than a hundred other topics, directions, and cautions are stated in a clear and concise manner. For young teachers and those who wish to become teachers it is especially valuable for high school work. I have no hesitation in saying that if a teacher can have but one book to obtain help in school work that book should be DeGraff's School Room Guide.—G. A. Lewis, High School, Syracuse, N. Y.

Few books have met with more public favor as this, there probably not being a county in the United States where it is not known and valued. For years this book has been on the desk for ready reference, while more pretentious works were laid away and forgotten. Its matter and arrangement are evidence that its popularity is deserved. The methods of instruction are carefully analyzed and directions given. There are no indulgences in discussions of abstract psychological points, as is too often the case, but plain, reasonable, yet scientific and careful presentation of the method which ought to be followed. School management is ably treated, and suggestions given which will materially lessen the labor in the school-room. —Education.

Page's Theory and Practice of Teaching.

No other American book on teaching has so much claim as this to be considered a classic. For nearly fifty years it has been regarded almost universally as the one book the young teacher would most profit by. A hundred thousand teachers have drawn help and inspiration from its pages.

It seems only just to the author of a work so successful that his book should be printed just as he wrote it. The day is past when commentators re-write Shakspere. They may annotate and explain and conjecture, but they take the text as they find it, and print their observations in another type. This book has been less fortunate. In different editions since Mr. Page's death chapters have been added, details have been changed, passages have been entirely rewritten.

This volume goes back to the book that Mr. Page published, and follows word for word the text of the only edition he ever authorized. Where the times have changed and we in them, references to present conditions are given in the notes that follow, which will be found of great value as illustrating how different in many respects is the environment of teaching now from what it was half a century ago, while yet the teacher's difficulties are largely the same, and his failure or his success depends upon the same fundamental principles. These notes are also in some part explanatory and historical, with portraits of Page, Mann, Colburn, Emerson, Potter, Wadsworth, and Olmsted. There are also a biography of Mr. Page and a full topical index for review.

In short this is so much the best edition issued, that even those who already have another edition can afford to throw that aside and use this alone.

The following are among the commendations it has received :

"This work has so long been recognized as one of the great educational classics that comment here is unnecessary, except to say that Mr. Bardeen's latest edition is especially well printed and has a fine full-page portrait of its great author.—Art Education."

"While it is one of the oldest books on teaching published in this country none of its successors surpass it in its high ideal of the teacher's life and work, which is held constantly in view. The true spirit of the teacher breathes in every line, and it is a continual source of guidance and inspiration to all who would realize the most fruitful results in this noble and responsible vocation. It should be the first book studied by every teacher, and should be his constant companion at all times."—School Forum.

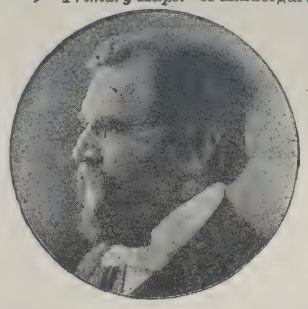
Special Helps in Primary Teaching.

1 Primary Helps. A Kindergarten Manual for Public School Teachers. By W. N. HAILMANN, Sup't of Indian Schools. Boards, 8vo, pp. 58, with 15 full-page plates. 75 cts.



Sup't Hailmann is undoubtedly the best exponent of kindergarten principles in this country. Thoroughly pervaded with the spirit of Frœbel, he is also a public-school man of long experience, as member of the Detroit Board of Education, and as superintendent of the schools at La Porte. For years it has been his purpose to harmonize all who are engaged in the work, and especially to establish a connection between the kindergarten and the public schools. This book is the fruit of his efforts in this direction. It makes the principles of Frœbel applicable in primary schools. Take for instance Chapter IV., on the use of sticks in teaching arithmetic. The general principles here laid down have been applied in many of the public schools, but the method has never before been so thoroughly systematized and perfected. There is no primary teacher who would not profit by the careful study of this work ; there is no teacher who could not herself use in her school very many of the appliances here suggested. It shows how to make work pleasant for the child and yet a factor in education, developing the artistic sense, and arousing the powers of observation, imagination, and invention.

2. Autobiography of Fredrick Frœbel. Translated and annotated by EMILY MICHAELIS and H. KEATLY MOORE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 185. $1.50.

3. Child and Child-Nature. Contributions to the understanding of Frœbel's Educational Theories. By the Baroness MARENHOLZ VON BUELOW. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 207. $1.50.

4. A Kindergarten System. By EMILY SHIRREFF. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 200. $1.00.

5. Essays on the Kindergarten. Being a selection of lectures read before the London Frœbel Society. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 175. $1.00.

6. The New Education. By Prof. J. M. D. MEIKLEJOHN. Paper, 16mo, pp. 35. 15 cts.

7. The First Three Years of Childhoood. By B. PEREZ, with an introduction by Prof. Sully. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 295. $1.50.

The most marked educational characteristic of the present decade is the study of children, which is everywhere becoming recognized as of fundamental importance. This is unquestionably the most helpful book in this direction that has been published. It is of such general interest that it is included by the American Library Association in the list of books to be contained in every library. No primary teacher can afford to be without it.

Rein's Outlines of Pedagogics.

This is a translation of the standard German text-book of the Herbartian system, and is the only complete edition. The present discussion over this system and its widening adoption make this book an absolute necessity to the teacher. Note some commendations:

"If we mistake not, this work will do more for Herbart in America than anything that has hitherto appeared. It is clear, as translated Herbart has not always been; it is inspiring as few translations of modern German pedagogics have been. Few recent professional books deserve so universal an American reading."—N. E. J. of Ed'n.

"The German original of this book was noticed in the Educational Review for April, 1891, and a very favorable judgment passed upon it. In its English dress it is heartily welcome. The translation is remarkably good, the difficult subject of technical educational terms being handled with especial skill. Mr. Van Liew has also done wisely in including in his version the portions of the first edition of the original that were omitted, largely from considerations of space, in Dr. Rein's own revised edition.

"The translator's notes are also helpful. He is particularly happy in his discussions, from the English and American point of view, of concentration and co-ordination (pp. 116, 135), and of the formal steps of instruction (pp. 146, 157). These notes will help the American teacher to a clear understanding of the essential points in the Herbartian practice.

"Persons desiring to purchase this book should bear in mind that the edition under notice is the authorized one, being brought out in this country by arrangement with the English publishers. This warning is necessary, as a firm of guerilla publishers, whose high notions of morality in education do not appear to find application in the field of business, are advertising a reprint which is both mutilated and pirated, though owing to the unfortunate condition of our copyright law they cannot be prosecuted."—Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, in Educational Review, Jan., 1894.

"Although the volume has become familiar to the educational public, I wish to express my appreciation at the appearance in English of this most worthy volume. As is claimed, it forms the best introduction to Herbartian doctrines which has yet come into my hands. The insight of Dr. Rein is penetrating, while the lucidity of his pen puts him in easy communication with the reader. Indeed, the author is clear in his exposition of Herbart, and sound in the few advances which he ventures beyond the master.—Prof. Edward F. Buchner, Yale University.

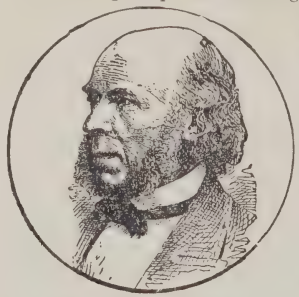
Herbert Spencer's Education.

There is perhaps no other single book that it is so indispensable for a teacher to know as this. Thus Quick says of it, in his "Educational Reformers":



"There are three Englishmen who have written so well that, as it seems, they will be read by English-speaking teachers of all time. These are Ascham, Locke, and Herbert Spencer. If a teacher does not know these he is not likely to know or care anything about the literature of education."

Joseph Payne says, in his "Lectures":

"I agree with Mr. Quick in considering it one of the most important works on education in the English language. I strongly recommend any of you to get it, and to read it with all possible attention."

Prof. S. G. Williams says, in his "History of Modern Education":

"But of all that has been written in English, during the present century, probably no pedagogic treatise has attracted more wide-spread attention, or has exerted more influence than Herbert Spencer's 'Education'. It is characterized by that clearness of exposition and felicity of illustration of which Mr. Spencer is so great a master and which never leaves one in doubt as to his opinions. Of all the pedagogic works of the century that have appeared in English, I am inclined to think that a brief examination of this will give us the fairest sample of the nature and direction of pedagogic thought."

Gilbert Compayré says, with discrimination:

"Mr. Spencer's essay, then deserves the attention of educators. There is scarcely a book in which a clean scent for details comes more agreeably to animate a fund of solid arguments, and from which it is more useful to extract the substance. However, it must not be read save with precaution. The brilliant English thinker sometimes fails in justice and measure, and his bold generalizations need to be tested with care."

It is just here that this edition differs from all others. It gives the text as published, intact, with side-heads, and a Topical Analysis for Reviews. But it adds 29 pages of notes, giving, with references to the text by page, the chief criticisms of Compayré, Quick, Joseph Payne, William H. Payne, and S. S. Laurie, thus guarding the young teacher from being misled by statements often too positive and broad. There are also numerous biographical notes, often accompanied by portraits, and historical notes when required, thus making the book one of the best illustrations of the special plan and purpose of the Standard Teachers' Library.

16mo, pp. 331. In Manilla 50 cts., in Cloth $1.00.

Williams's Outlines of Psychology.

This book gives 72 pages to Outlines of Psychology, 12 pages to Outlines of Pedagogy, 19 pages to a brief History of Education, 10 pages to How to Observe Children, 9 pages to the Literature of Psychology, 20 pages to careful Questions on the text, and 9 pages to a full Index.

The author's aim has been to make a book at once practical and helpful. It is especially fitted for normal schools and teachers' classes, for self-study, and for preparation for examination. From a multitude of recommendations received we quote the following:

Very complete, and carefully classified.—Educational Review.

Should be owned and studied by every teacher in the land.—Education.

A convenient and suggestive hand-guide for the teacher.—S. S. Times.

It should be on the desk of every teacher.—Am. School Board Journal.

A brief, pointed, and admirable working outline of psychology.—Va. School Journal.

An outline of principles logically arranged that the student of psychology may use as a hand-book.—N. Y. World.

Just such a guide as a student needs who wishes to go thoroughly into the subject.—La. School Review.

It is what its name indicates, a complete and working outline of psychology for teachers' classes, normal schools and institutes, and for private study.—New England Journal of Education.

Sup't Williams knows that numerous band, "the teachers in the trenches", and has prepared a book to their liking—one that the average teacher can understand and get interested in.—Southern School.

It is just the book to begin "reading up" from. It is not heavy and technical, but in a brief, live way the book outlines the main features of the science.—Popular Educator.

No other psychology published covers the ground it does. * * * It is the young teacher's friend, the old teacher's companion. In fact the whole thing in a nut-shell.—Am. Journal of Ed'n.

This is a very able work, and we recommend it to all interested in education or even in psychology. It shows great research and power on the part of the author. There is appended a list of works on education and psychology containing good and bad authorities, a series of questions on the subject matter, and a fine index. The whole work is very creditable in every respect.—The Catholic Reading Circle Review.

Psychology made Practical.

1. Apperception or "A Pot of Green Feathers". By T. G. Rooper. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 52. Price 50 cts.

This work is published at the suggestion of W. T. Harris, LL.D., Commissioner of Education, who says of it:

"The idea of 'apperception' is the most important fruit thus far developed by the study of the psychology of pedagogics. R. H. Quick, the eminent English authority refers in the highest terms to a short monograph on pedagogics which he had recently discovered, entitled A Pot of Green Feathers."

This book is a charming one, and simple enough to be understood by anybody.—Nicholas Murray Butler, Professor of Philosophy, Columbia college.

I appreciate the book very highly, and am perfectly willing that you should use my name in connection with it, as I heartily recommend it to every teacher. My students have really enjoyed it very much. I think I shall always have my class buy copies of the book.—Margaret K. Smith, Oswego Normal School.

2. Outlines of Psychology. By Henry G. Williams. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 151. 75 cts.

This is especially a book for teachers' classes. It gives also Outlines of Pedagogy, of the History of Education, of the New Pedagogics, and of How to Observe Children. The Questions for Review add much to its value as a class manual.

3. The Amendment of the Intellect. By Benedict de Spinoza. Translated by W. Hale White, with revision by Amelia Hutchison Sterling. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 92. $1.00.

This is the standard translation of one of the best-known works on psychology. Spinoza's theory was that we arrive at knowledge either (1) by hearing, (2) by experience, (3) by inference, or (4) by knowledge of the proximate cause.

4. Report on Pedagogical and Psychological Investigation. By Wm. T. Harris, Commissioner of Education. Paper, 8vo, pp. 6. Price 15 cts.

5. Child and Child Nature. Contributions to the understanding of Froebel's Educational Theories. By the Baroness Marenholtz-Buelow. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 207. $1.50.

6. On Memory and the Rational Means of Improving It. By Dr. Edward Pick. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 193. Price $1.00.

7. Sex in Mind and Education. By H. Maudsley. Paper, 16mo, pp. 42. Price 15 cts.

8. The First Three Years of Childhood. By B. Perez. With an introduction by Prof. James Sully. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 294. Price $1.50.

Helps in Child Study.

1. A Working System of Child Study for Schools. By MAXIMILIAN P. E. GROSZMANN, Pd.D,, late superintendent of the Ethical Culture Schools, New York. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 70. 50 cts.

This is a practical manual, giving the system actually employed at these well-known schools, with the blanks used, and many specimen reports from the files of the school. Reasons are given for the methods employed, and illustrations of the advantages derived. In a subject just now so overlaid with sentimentality by some of its advocates, it is refreshing to find a clear, sensible, practical description of work actually done.

2. The First Three Years of Childhood. By B. PEREZ, with an introduction by Prof. Sully. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 295. $1.50.

This is of such general interest that it is included by the American Library Association in the list of books to be contained in every library.

"The first four chapters deal with the faculties before birth, the motor activities from the beginning of life till fifteen months, giving full and distinct examples under each period of development. Then the first perceptions, instincts, and sentiments are taken up. From chapter vi. to chapter xii. are given the intellectual tendencies. Chapter xii. is devoted to the æsthetic, and xiii. to the moral sense. Many of M. Perez's illustrations are from children under his own observation, but to these he adds examples from the observations of other scientists and psychologists who have kept records of their children's early years. Tiedemann, Sigismund, Sabish, Darwin, Professor Preyer, M. Tayne, are among the fathers quoted. From these he borrows no theories, but gives only the fruits of their real experience. * * * * The order and the method of this book are thoroughly scientific, the language simple, and the style bright and interesting. After reading it one feels much better acquainted with the mysterious world of infancy through which we have all passed, but of which we have retained so little memory.—The Evangelist.

3. Tiedemann's Record of Infant Life. An English version of the French translation and commentary of B. PEREZ. Paper, 16mo, pp. 46. 15 cts.

This English version was made by F. Louis Soldan, superintendent of schools, St. Louis, who says: "This essay is remarkable both on account of its contents and of the influence which its publication in France has had on the study of childhood. It is a reproduction of a little work by a German writer which, I think, was written about 100 years ago, but was completely forgotten until a French translation of it appeared in 1863, in the Journal Genéral de l' Instruction Publique, by Mr. Michelan. This translation attracted much attention, and seems to have given the first impulse to a number of most remarkable monographs on the development of childhood."

The Art of Questioning.

1. The Art of Putting Questions. By W. T. YOUNG. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 65, 50 cts. The same in paper, 15 cts.

The attention to this subject required by the syllabus of instruction for training classes makes most timely the reproduction of this book, so long regarded as a standard but for many years allowed to pass out of print. The new edition is rearranged, and in many ways made more convenient and better adapted to the needs of modern schools. The most marked characteristic of the author's style is his abundance of illustrations. At the end are 57 questions for correction, with answers in which the faults of each question are pointed out, and the correct form given. This feature is of immediate practical value.

From many commendations received we quote the following:

A simple and practical essay in pedagogy.—Wis. Journal of Education.

This is a new edition of a useful little manual of suggestions as to an art which lies near the root of educational success. It has been revised by Mr. Bardeen himself.—The Independent.

The fault with the majority of pupils is that they do not think enough. Teachers are prone to make poll-parrots of them, teaching them only by rote, to repeat what is taught them, whereas all examinations and all questioning of any nature whatsoever should be such as would cause pupils to evolve information and gain knowledge. This desideratum depends on the methods of the teacher, and such desirable methods this book endeavors to inculcate.—Evening Herald, Binghamton, N. Y.

2. The Art of Questioning. By Sir JOSHUA G. FITCH, Inspector of Schools, England. Paper, 16mo, pp. 36, 15 cts.

This has long been one of the pedagogical standards recognized as of immediate practicable help to teachers. Among a multitude of testimonials we quote the following from The Christian Register:

"Mr. Fitch, who is happily inside his subject and as clear as a bell, divides teachers' questions into three kinds: Those which help the instructor to measure the knowledge of the pupil,—experiment; those which compel the pupil to do his own thinking,—instruction; and those which test the result,—examination. By precept and example, he shows how a teacher may develop interest, may connect new knowledge with what has already been attained, may stimulate mental action and put a living spirit into the exercises."

☞ This monograph of Sir Joshua Fitch's is published together with his "Art of Securing Attention", Huntington's "Unconscious Tuition", and Buckham's "First Steps for Young Teachers", all in one volume known as "The Teacher's Mentor", No. 9 of the Standard Teachers' Library. Price in Cloth $1.00; in Manilla, 50 cts.

The Teacher's Critic.

This helpful handbook for teachers is made up of the two charming little volumes by James L. Hughes, Inspector of Schools, Toronto,—"MISTAKES IN TEACHING", and "HOW TO SECURE AND RETAIN ATTENTION". They are paged continuously, and accompanied by contents and index. The help they have already given to teachers all over the country is beyond calculation, and they may still be had separately cloth-bound at 50 cts. each. But we have also added them to the Standard Teachers' Library, and they may be had bound together in one volume at $1.00 in cloth, or 50 cts. in manilla.

"MISTAKES IN TEACHING" discusses tersely in Mr. Hughes's pleasant way over one hundred of the mistakes commonly made by untrained or inexperienced teachers. It warns young teachers of the errors they are liable to make, and calls the attention of older teachers to those they are in the habit of making. These mistakes are arranged under four heads: management, discipline, method, and manner. Sup't Newell of Maryland said of it: "This is one of the most readable books of the kind that I have seen. It is evidently the fruit of much careful observation and a sound philosophy. * * For young teachers I know of no book that contains in the same compass so much matter directly bearing on their work and capable of being immediately utilized." The Ohio Educational Monthly says: "It contains more hints of practical value to teachers than any book of its size known to us," and Sup't Snow of Auburn, N. Y., "I have never seen a book of more practical value to teachers."

More than 18,000 copies have been bought by county superintendents in Iowa for use at their county institutes, and elsewhere superintendents often choose this book for their less thoughtful teachers, assured that its chatty treatment and pungent style will arrest attention and produce good results. Prof. S. N. Fellows in an article on "Normal Institutes" in the Iowa Normal Monthly said: "In the elementary work of the first year in didactics, MISTAKES IN TEACHING has been recommended. It is believed that 'the first step toward progress in any department of work is to learn to avoid the mistakes one is liable to make. Young teachers, before they begin to teach should know the rocks that lie in their course.' A hundred common and almost universal errors in school management, discipline, method, and manner, are here pointed out and corrected."

"HOW TO SECURE AND RETAIN ATTENTION" is written in the same delightfully chatty style, treating attractively and helpfully the first serious difficulty the young teacher encounters.

Minutes of the International Conference, 1884.

I purchased the entire remainder of these Minutes, and still have on hand a few sets for sale at $5.00 a set of four volumes, bound in cloth, octavo. Single volumes will be sold at $2.00 a volume. A synopsis of their contents is as follows:

VOL. I. ELEMENTARY EDUCATION, 512 pages, 27 Papers. Introductory Address, with remarks by James Russell Lowell; Conditions of Healthy Education, 3 Papers; Infant Training and Teachers, 5 Papers (one by Eleanor Heerwart); Organization of Elementary Education, 3 Papers; Inspection and Examination in Schools, 6 Addresses (one by J. G. Fitch); Physical Education, 2 Papers; Teaching of Music in Schools, 6 Papers (one by J. S. Curwen).

VOL. II. TECHNICAL EDUCATION, 648 pages, 25 Papers. Technical Teaching, 20 Papers, (by Sir Philip Magnus, Earl Fortescue, R. H. Paget, Calvin M. Woodward, etc.); Subsidiary Aids to Education, 6 Papers.

VOL. III. UNIVERSITY EDUCATION, 424 pages, 17 Papers. These are all on different aspects of the subject, by such men as Henry Morley, J. R. Seeley, Cardinal Manning, Oscar Browning, and Monier Williams.

VOL. IV. INTERMEDIATE, HIGHER, AND NORMAL EDUCATION, 471 pages, 20 Papers (three by R. H. Quick, J. M. D. Meiklejohn, and S. S. Laurie); Organization of Intermediate and Higher Education, 12 Papers (three by J. H. Rigg, H. W. Eve, and Prebendary Brereton.)

Besides these hundred papers by writers including nearly every educational man of prominence in England, and many of those on the Continent and from America, there are full reports of all the discussions in which such men as these took part: A. Sonnenschein, H. Keatley Moore, Sydney Buxton, Sir Thomas Acland, J. H. Gladstone, Sir Thomas Brassey, J. Bryce, Prof. Bonet-Maurey, B. Buisson, Auguste Couvreur,—in short the men who direct the eduational thought of Europe. So this set of books contains the most complete and authoritative statement of accepted principles of education anywhere to be found, and is a necessity to any library making pretentions to a pedagogical department.

Among those that have already purchased them are the following, besides most of the public libraries:

Colleges.—For Training of Teachers (Nicholas Murray Butler), Cornell University, University of the City of New York, St. Lawrence University, Clark University (G. Stanley Hall), Amherst College, Marietta College (Gen. John Eaton, Jr.), Ohio University, University of Nashville (W. H. Payne), University of Michigan, Muhlenberg College, Western College.

Normal Schools.—Cortland, Potsdam, Oneonta, Oswego, New Paltz, N. Y.: Trenton, N. J.; Gorham, Me.; Plymouth, N. H.; California, Indiana, Westchester, Edinboro, Pa.; Cook County, Ill.; Cedar Falls, Ia.; Winona, Minn.; Oshkosh, Wis.; Florence, Ala.

Superintendents.—A. S. Draper, Albany; W. H. Maxwell, Brooklyn; H. S. Tarbell, Providence; A. G. Lane, Chicago; John S. Erwin, Fort Wayne; Petoskey, Mich.; Des Moines, Ia.; E. H. Cook, New Brunswick, N. J.; Andrew J. Rickoff, New York.

We have forty sets left, one of which will be sent to any address by express, on receipt of the price.

g. Industrial Art Education in the United States. Pp. 15.

2. Must Greek Go? By JOHN KENNEDY, Sup't of Schools, Batavia, N. Y. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 66. 50 cts.

It's a gem. I did not have opportunity to read it till yesterday, and I do not remember when I have spent a pleasanter hour. It should be read by every teacher and by every pupil. The thing that makes it especially valuable is the broad-gauge view it takes of the subject.—Inspector CHAS. F. WHEELOCK, Canajoharie, June 18, 1894.

In this little book of 66 pages the author's reasons with clear logic and perfect fairness in favor of the retention of Greek in our institutions of learning. The language is admirable and the quotations show a rarely cultivated taste —Public Opinion.

If one takes up this book expecting to find labored arguments in defence of retaining a place for the study of Greek in secondary education, he will not only find his mistake but continue to read on and on to the end, for the pleasure he finds in the attractive, original, and alive manner in which the subject is treated. The book is a poem written with a poet's insight, and every point in the defence of the retention of Greek is made from the view point of a cultured mind, filled with enthusiasm, and expressing itself in words at once fervid and eloquent.—Primary Education.

3. The Claims of Greek. By Prof. LEES, University of Nebraska. Paper, 8vo, pp. 12. 25 cts.

Books on School Management.

1. Hand Book for Young Teachers. By H. B. BUCKHAM, formerly principal of the State Normal School at Buffalo. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 152. 75 cts.

This is emphatically a book for beginners, and it is a book without which no teacher should undertake a first term at school.

"If there be another book to compare with it in practical usefulness we have not seen it."—Public School Journal.

2. The School Room Guide, embodying the instruction given by the author at Teachers' Institutes in New York and other States, and especially intended to assist Public School Teachers in the Practical Work of the School-Room. By E. V. DEGRAFF. Eightieth edition, with many additions and corrections. 16mo, pp. 396. Manilla, 50 cts.: cloth, $1.50.

As distinguished from others of the modern standards, this is a book of methods instead of theories. It tells the teacher just what to do and how to do it; and it has proved more practically helpful in the school-room than any other book ever issued.

3. The Theory and Practice of Teaching. By DAVID P. PAGE. 16mo, pp. 448. Manilla, 50 cts.; cloth, $1.00.

Of the last two it need only be said that they were two of the three books selected by the Examination Board of the State of New York as the text-books on which all questions upon Methods and School Management should be based in the State and Uniform Examinations for 1895, and were re-adopted for 1896.

4. Introductory Text-Book to School Education, Method, and School Management. By JOHN GILL. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 276. $1.00.

The standard English authority, of which 100,000 have been sold.

5. The Management of Country Schools. By J. B. BATSDORF. Paper, 8vo, pp. 33. 20 cts.

Of especial assistance to rural teachers.

6. A Primer of School Management. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 45. 25 cts.

This is a chapter from DeGraff's School Room Guide, and will be valuable to those unable to purchase the complete book.

7. The Philosophy of School Discipline. By JOHN KENNEDY. Paper, 16mo, pp. 23. 15 cts.

"Clear and logical, and goes down to the very foundation."—Utica Herald,

8. Mistakes in Teaching. By JAMES L. HUGHES. American edition, with contents and index. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 135. 50 cts.

More than 15,000 have been used in the county institutes of Iowa, and elsewhere superintendents often choose this book for their less thoughtful teachers, assured that its pungent style and chatty treatment will arrest attention and produce good results.

9. A Quiz-Book on the Theory and Practice of Teaching. By A. P. SOUTHWICK. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 220. $1.00.

10. Dime Question Book on the Theory and Practice of Teaching. By A. P. SOUTHWICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 37. 10 cts.

Both of the last two have complete answers.

Landon's School Management.

This standard work, by Joseph Landon, lecturer on school management in the training college, Saltley, England, gives a general view of education, with some account of the Intellectual Faculties from the teacher's point of view, Organization, Discipline, and Moral Training.

It is at once scientific and practical; it gives the bearing of the facts of psychology upon the work of the teacher, and deals particularly with organization and discipline, while at the same time it contains a great many hints upon actual teaching, making it a complete and helpful manual.

The chapters are as follows:

PART I. GENERAL VIEW OF THE WORK OF EDUCATION.

1. The meaning and scope of education.
2. Three lines of educational development.
3. Some lessons to be learned from a brief consideration of sensation, perception, conception, and attention.
4. Memory in education.
5. The cultivation of the imagination, judgment, and reason.
6. The school work of the teacher.

PART II. ORGANIZATION.

1. Systems of organization.
2. The school and its appointments.
3. The classification of the children.
4. The qualifications, duties, and distribution of teachers.
5. The arrangement of time and subjects.
6. The apparatus and books.
7. Registration.

PART III. DISCIPLINE AND MORAL TRAINING.

1. The use of the emotions in education, and their cultivation.
2. General moral and religious training.
3. The government of children—school tactics.
4. Motives, and the training of the will.
5. The nature and uses of punishment.

It has been adopted as a text-book in the school of pedagogy, Syracuse university, and in many of the largest normal schools in the country. The author has positive views, and illustrates them from actual experience, so that the book gives the teacher much food for thought, as well as direct instruction. For class use and for the teacher preparing for examination, it has no equal. It is a modern book, giving the latest views of leading authorities with the author's comments, and is adapted to the school wants of to-day. The chapters upon school discipline and moral training are of especial value as being in line with the most recent thought and the most approved practice.

Helps in School Discipline.

1. Discipline as a Factor in the Work of the Schoolroom. By JAMES PYLE WICKERSHAM. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 68. 50 cts.

This address by the man so long State Superintendent of Pennsylvania is perhaps the best known and the most widely influential of all his writings. He divides his subject into four heads: (1) the discipline of force; (2) the discipline of tact; (3) the discipline of consequence; (4) the discipline of conscience. His treatment is forcible, happy, and helpful, and his illustrations of actual cases make the book entertaining as well as useful. For instance, he tells of a Maryland academy where a pig on which the principal prided himself, was placed deep in a hole which the boys had dug. The principal remarked that as the pig could not be got out he might as well be buried, and took some of the boys likely to have been concerned in the matter to the hole, provided them with shovels, and directed them to throw in dirt and bury the pig. But as fast as the dirt was thrown in the pig shook it off and trampled it under his feet, and as the hole began to fill up, the pig was still erect and seemingly without any notion of being buried. In went the dirt faster and faster, but up went the pig with it, until his white, fat back began to appear above the surface of the ground and the whole crowd, beginning to see the joke, broke into laughter and cheers, and the boys were convinced that they could not get the best of the master.

2. The Philosophy of School Discipline. By JOHN KENNEDY, Sup't of Schools, Batavia, N. Y. Paper, 16mo, pp. 23. 15 cts.

Clear and logical, and goes down to the very foundation.—Utica Herald.

3. Boys as they are Made, and how to Remake them. By FRANKLIN H. BRIGGS. Paper, 8vo, pp. 24. 25 cts.

Mr. Briggs is superintendent of the State Industrial school in Rochester, N. Y., and gives here the results of long experience in dealing with bad boys.

4. Mothers and Sons, or Problems in the Home Training of Boys. By E. LYTTLETON, headmaster of Haileybury College. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 171. $1.00.

The author thinks that the end in view in education should be Christian manliness, and he talks simply and clearly on the questions of food, money, leaving home, choosing a profession, ideals, etc. It is a book by which teachers as well as parents may profit.

Books on Methods of Teaching.

1. On the Province of Methods of Teaching. By J. H. HOOSE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 376. $1.00.

Col. Parker calls this "the best book for study ever written by an American". Commissioner Wm. T. Harris says: "I consider your position to be eminently sound, and your views everywhere thoughtful and suggestive of thought, and as such a work I hope to see it in the hands of all the teachers of our land." F. Louis Soldan says: "The author has given us a most valuable work, which will introduce the student to a deeper insight into the history of education."

2. The School Room Guide, embodying the instruction given by the author at Teachers' Institutes in New York and other States, and especially intended to assist Public School Teachers in the Practical Work in the School-Room. By E. V. DEGRAFF. 16mo, pp. 396. Manilla, 50 cts.: cloth, $1.50.

As distinguished from others of the modern standards, this is a book of methods instead of theories. It tells the teacher just what to do and how to do it; and it has proved more practically helpful in the school-room than any other book ever issued.

3. The Theory and Practice of Teaching. By DAVID P. PAGE. 16mo, pp. 448. Manilla, 50 cts.; cloth, $1.00.

Of these two last books it is perhaps enough to say that after being adopted in 1895 by the State of New York as the text-books upon which the uniform examinations for teachers were based, they were re-adopted for 1896, showing how thoroughly practical and helpful they had proved.

4. The Teachers' Institute; or Familiar Hints to Young Teachers. By WM. B. FOWLE. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 258. $1.00.

This standard work gives methods in all the common subjects, with lectures on the uses and abuses of memory, the monitorial system, the opening and closing of school, emulation and discipline, etc.

5. Methods of Teachers' Institutes, and the Theory of Education. By SAMUEL P. BATES. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 75. 75 cts.

A well-known book, with many suggestions that are still valuable.

6. Methods in Common Branches. A book for the Common School Teacher. By C. B. VAN WIE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 197. 75 cts.

This treats of Method in Education, and Methods in Arithmetic, Language, Geography, U. S. History, Physiology, Practical Talks, etc. It is practical and directly helpful.

For Methods in special subjects see our catalogue-pages on Helps in Teaching Arithmetic, Higher Mathematics, Geography, History, Elementary Language, English Grammar, Foreign Languages, Literature, Reading, Penmanship, Physical Science, Physical Culture, etc.

Books for Teaching Arithmetic.

1. Short Cuts in Arithmetic, containing a large selection of abbreviated Processes, Geometrical Problems, Curiosities in Mathematics, etc. By Prof. Hudson A. Wood, Ph.D., Stevens School, Hoboken, N. J. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 149. Price 75 cts.

The sale of "Lightning Calculators" has been immense, because, despite their empirical character, they have contained some quick processes that were practicable. We are therefore glad to offer the public a scholarly work containing all these processes that have real value, but presented in admirable form with abundant illustration. In teaching arithmetic it should be borne in mind that the quickest accountants are the surest, and that any help a boy gets in rapidity is a direct lift towards success in business life. Besides, such help is the best of all incentives to interest in the class. No teacher of arithmetic should fail to procure, master, and use this book.

2. First Steps Among Figures. A drill book in the Fundamental Rules of Arithmetic. By Levi N. Beebe. Cloth, 16mo, 3 editions. Pupils' Edition, pp. 140, 45 cts. Oral Edition, pp. 139, 50 cts. Teachers' Edition, including all in both the others, with additional parallel matter, Index and Key, pp. 336, $1.

These books give the only practical exposition of the Grubé Method, now so generally believed to produce the best results with beginners.

3. Pestalozzian Arithmetics. By James H. Hoose, Ph.D. (a) Teachers' Manual and First-Year Text-Book of Primary Arithmetic. Boards, pp. 217, 50 cts. (b) First-Year Text-Book. Boards, 16mo, pp. 135, 35 cts. (c) Second-Year Text-Book. Boards, 16mo, pp. 236, 50 cts.

This is a practical exposition of the Pestalozzian Method. It is diametrically opposed to the Grubé Method, and good teachers should be familiar with both.

4. The 30 Possible Problems in Percentage, with 100 illustrative examples, By W. H. Bradford. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 34. Price 25 cts.

5. Latitude, Longitude, and Time, with 100 illustrative examples, By J. A. Bassett. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 23. Price 25 cts.

6. Metric Tables and Problems, with 175 Problems and Answers. By Oscar Granger. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 23. Price 25 cts.

7. The International Date-Line, or Where Does the Day Begin? By Henry Collins. Paper, 16mo, pp, 16. Price 15 cts.

8. A Manual of Mensuration, for Use in Common Schools and Academies. By H. H. Hutton. Boards, 16mo, pp. 150. Price 50 cts.

9. Intermediate Problems in Arithmetic for Junior Classes; containing more than 4000 Problems in Fractions, Reduction, and Decimals. By Emma A. Welch. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 172. 75 cts. Key to Part II., pp. 30, 50 cts.

10. Review Problems in Arithmetic. By Mrs. Jennie B. Prentice. Paper, 16mo, pp. 93. 20 cts. Key, pp. 20. 25 cts.

11. The Uniform Questions in Arithmetic from June, 1892, to Jan., 1896, with Answers. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 60. 25 cts.

12. The Regents' Questions in Arithmetic, containing the 1293 questions given from 1866 to 1882. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 93, 20 cts. Key, pp. 20, 25 cts.

13. Dime Question Book No. 13, Arithmetic, with Answers. By Albert P. Southwick. Paper, 16mo, pp. 39. 10 cts.

Benton's Happy Method in Number.

The Happy Method observes the two general principles of education, first, that of self-instruction, and second that of pleasurable mental action. It is well known that the teacher who can systematize will do the best work with the least wear upon her own nervous system and that of her pupils. What primary teacher has not been tried and discouraged at the difficulties experienced by her pupils in comprehending the values and principles of numbers? Who has not met the perplexed upturned little face with a feeling akin to despair? With such experiences came the query, why can not numbers be systematized? Why not find out just how many combinations there are to learn, and not study them as though they were infinite? Why cannot some method be worked out that shall enable a pupil to learn these combinations accurately? Such is the purpose of this book.

"This little volume is the outgrowth of real experience. It is in many respects an original presentation. The law of strong contrast is observed throughout, giving clear conceptions of the various processes. It is a modification of the Grubé method and a blending of the kindergarten and regular primary work. The logical arrangement—accompanied with objective work for the hand, makes the lessons a process of self-evolution—securing a vividness and permanency of impression which every primary teacher will appreciate. The teacher guides—the pupil does the work. It is strong in its adaptation for board-work for the teacher and seat-work for the pupil. The results are acuracy, continuity of thought, and love for the study. The illustrations and plans suggested will be found helpful, no matter what method is being used. Especially valuable in schools for the feeble-minded and for the blind. No teacher who follows the exceedingly lucid explanations of the 'Happy Method' can fail to have good classes at the end of the first and second years. She is told all that she has to do, and then is shown by illustrations how to do it. One seldom sees a book so full of helpful details."—Primary Teacher, June, 1898.

"We can confidently recommend this little volume to teachers of the 1st and 2d grades as being the best of its kind."—Educational Review, April, 1897.

"Text-books for young children are made now as much like fairy-stories as possible. These lessons in numbers, with their varied illustrations, are calculated to lure the child into learning something useful while he thinks he is only enjoying himself looking at pictures and counting dots and other things."—Kindergarten News, March, 1897.

"The book is thoroughly practical, and should be in the hands of every teacher."—Arizona Educator, Feb., 1897.

"It seems to furnish the kind of work primary teachers are always eager to get."—Wisconsin Journal of Education, May, 1897.

Arithmetic by the Grubé Method.

1. First Steps among Figures. A drill book in the Fundamental Rules of Arithmetic. By LEVI N. BEEBE. Cloth, 16mo, 3 editions. Pupils' Edition, pp. 140, 45 cts. Oral Edition, pp. 139, 50 cts. Teachers' Edition, including all in both the others, with additional parallel matter, Index, and Key, pp. 326, $1.00.

These books give the only practical exposition of the Grubé Method, now generally admitted to produce the best results with beginners. It has been used ten years in the primary schools of such cities as Norwich, Conn., and Auburn, N. Y., and for many years every student in the Albany State Normal School has been directed to purchase a copy to take with him for his subsequent use in teaching.

From a multitude of testimonials we copy the following:

"We are still successfully using Beebe's First Steps. It has many admirable qualities."—Sup't N. L. Bishop, Norwich, Conn.

"I think it especially excellent for a system of graded schools, where uniformity of teaching is essential. It develops in practical shape an idea that I have long sustained as to the proper method of teaching arithmetic." Sup't B. B. Snow, Auburn, N. Y.

"I have recommended Beebe's First Steps as the best work in primary arithmetic. . . . The book is received with much favor, and is very helpful to me in my work."—Prof. A. N. Husted, State Normal School, Albany, N. Y.

"I am much pleased with the book, and wish every primary teacher to have a copy."—Sup't J. M. Frost, Hudson, N. Y.

"By vote of the Board of Education a copy of the Teachers' Edition was placed on the desk of every primary teacher in the city.—Sup't Edward Smith, Syracuse, N. Y.

"I consider Beebe's First Steps the best work of the kind that I have ever seen, and I take every opportunity to recommend it."—Mary L. Sutliff, Haiku, Maui, Hawaian Islands, Feb. 9, 1888.

2. The Pestalozzian Series of Arithmetics. Teachers' Manual and First-Year Text-Book for pupils in the first grade. Based upon Pestalozzi's method of teaching Elementary Number. By JAMES H. HOOSE. Boards, 16mo, 2 editions. Pupils' Edition, pp. 156, 35 cts. Teacher's Edition, containing the former, with additional matter, pp. 217, 50 cts.

This is a practical exposition of the Pestalozzian Method, and has met with great success not only in the Cortland Normal School, where it was first developed, but in many other leading schools, as at Gloversville, Babylon, etc. It is diametrically opposed to the Grubé Method, and good teachers should be familiar with both, that they may choose intelligently between them.

This work was prepared in 1835 under the supervision of Dr. C Mayo in the first English Pestalozzian school, and has particular value as representing directly the educational methods of the great reformer.

The Pestalozzian Arithmetics.

1. Teachers' Manual and First-Year Text-Book of Primary Arithmetic. Based upon Pestalozzi's method of teaching Elementary Number. By JAMES H. HOOSE, Ph.D. Boards, pp. 217, 50 cts.

2. First-Year Text-Book of Primary Arithmetic. Boards, 16mo, pp. 135, 35 cts.

3. Second-Year Text-Book of Primary Arithmetic. Boards, 16mo, pp. 236, 50 cts.

This is a practical exposition of the Pestalozzian Method, and has met with great success not only in the Cortland Normal School, where it was first developed, but in many other leading schools, as in Gloversville, Babylon, etc. It is diametrically opposed to the Grubé Method, and good teachers should be familiar with both, that they may choose intelligently between them.

The author states the principles of this system as follows:

"The Pestalozzian system of Number proceeds on the theory and practice of introducing to the pupil a minimum variety of objects, and of giving to him a maximum amount of practice upon a few forms. The forms are those which constitute mathematics; they are as general as mathematics are general; learned once, always useful.

"The system recognizes the difference between processes in arithmetic, and the reasoning required in so-called practical examples. The mastery of a process (addition, multiplication or subtraction) is a language, is an expertness, is a facility in procedure: it is acquired by practice, repetition; it is habit, which is power acting in a particular form. Practical examples introduce relations which are discovered by the logical aptitudes of mind. The child masters easily a form of operation, a process; this mastery gives the pupil ambition; this ambition to test in a greater degree his powers, constitutes his interest in his work; his interest stimulates his courage. The pupil is trained in this manner in his moral character. The very uniformities in the system are sources of strength to the child, the same as the uniformities of action in learning the keyboard of the piano are elements of mastery in learning to play the instrument."

The Word Method in Number.

These cards need only to be seen in order to be introduced at once, as the principle is already familiar and accepted. The numbers are all printed in type like that here shown. The importance of using script figures for this exercise cannot be overestimated.

The same figures are reversed upon the opposite side of the card so that as the teacher lifts the card he knows the sum of the figures on the other side.

As soon as the pupils commence reading, they should have lessons in number, and the first lesson should be in combining single figures. In this so much practice should be given that the pupil when adding will learn to look upon the combination $4\frac{1}{2}$ as itself "13," not as "4 and 9 are 13," just as we learn to look upon cat as an entire word — not as c-a-t, cat.

Equal readiness should follow in subtraction, until combinations of two figures are as familiar as combinations of letters in words.

At first add familiar objects, passing afterwards to abstract numbers; write the simplest combinations on the blackboard, as they are on the cards, and write the answer in the proper place. Repeat this a few times that the method of writing numbers for addition may be learned. Then use the cards for drill, adding new cards from time to time, as new combinations are developed. Do not introduce new cards too rapidly.

At every exercise, review all cards previously used; answers should be given immediately on presenting the cards. Use the cards selected for a particular exercise miscellaneously, so that no answer can be guessed from the preceding. Pursue the same plan in subtraction and multiplication.

In subtraction when the smaller number is above, pupils will readily add ten to the minuend, and give the remainder in the usual manner.

Success will be certain if new combinations are introduced only after those already presented are thoroughly learned. Reviews should be constant.

From scores of testimonials received we select the following:

"Will you send me one-half dozen cases of Sanford's Number Cards? I have many inquiries for them. Some of our visitors have been lavish in their praise of our work with the cards. Two of these sets are given away to try the card work. This makes fourteen packages of the cards I have ordered. After a few days, when our class drills more, send Prof. Sanford down and we will show him more than he advertises."—B. G. Clapp, principal Union School, Fulton, N. Y., May 2, 1889. "During several years at the Potsdam Normal we used Sanford's Number Cards with great success in our primary and intermediate departments. We found them excellent for quick work. Please send me three sets for our primary and preparatory departments here. A teacher who has once used them cannot afford to be without them."—E. H. Cook, Ph.D., headmaster Rutgers College grammar school, Jan. 31, 1890. "I have frequently advised teachers to buy Sanford's Number Cards, because I know from my own experience that they are very valuable in aiding the teacher to fix in the pupils' memory the results of the elementary processes with numbers."—Wm. J. Milne, LL.D., Ph.D., president New York State Teachers' College, Feb. 5, 1890.

> 439. A man's salary is $1500 a year. He pays $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of it for rent, $16\frac{2}{3}$ per cent for provisions, and $33\frac{1}{3}$ per cent for all other expenses. How much does he save?

text-book, or in any class, or by superintendent or school-commissioner when visiting schools, to test the pupils rapidly. There are 250 cards, white on one side and buff on the other, each with a question on the front and another on the back. They are all numbered, and a key with the answers for the teacher's use accompanies every box. Price 50 cts.

From many recommendations of this system of giving out problems we quote the following:

These questions afford in the school-room a varied and definite exercise without the expense of a book in the hands of each pupil or waste of time in dictation. Suppose five minutes can be spared at the close of the recitation in arithmetic; the teacher hands a card to each member of the class as they file by her on their way to the blackboard, each pupil works his problem, places his name and number over the problem, and returns the card to the box. The teacher glances at the key (to which no pupil has access), marks the problems, and dismisses the class within the allotted time. It is believed that in no other way can so much and so varied practice be given with so little labor. If superintendents, commissioners, and others should wish to conduct examinations, these questions afford an inexhaustible resource. For purposes of examination these questions will be found more complete, fair, and suited to the purpose than can be found elsewhere. There is not a single catch question in the series. They are practical in character and will be found helpful in schools.—The Teacher.

When I reach my hand back to the shelf where we keep these problems I can see eyes sparkle all over the class.—Principal W. L. Race, Oneida.

This mode of preparing questions is certainly ingenious. It will save much time spent in writing questions on the blackboard. The cards can be passed around, and after being used can be returned.—Ohio Ed'l Journal.

As might be inferred from their source these questions are of the very best character. Teachers and superintendents of schools will find them exceedingly useful for examinations.—New England Journal of Ed'n.

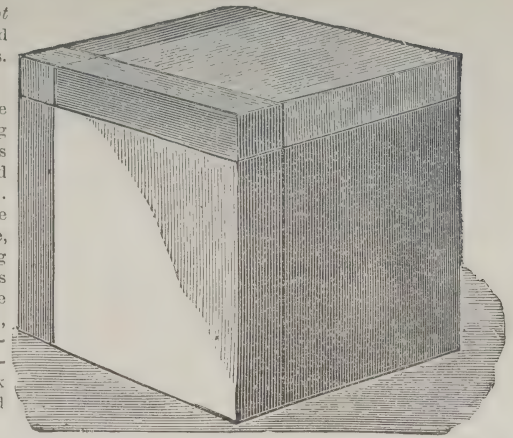
Useful Appliances in Arithmetic.

1. Cube Root Blocks, carried to three places. In box, $1.00.



This device for teaching cube root is now considered indispensable. Our blocks are unusually large, measuring three inches when the cube is completed, and the additions are of alternate black walnut and maple.

2. Fraction Play. A box of 52 cards, each containing a different fraction, and so played as to win through skill in adding and subtracting fractions. 25 cts.

It is really enjoyed by children, who thus learn easily in sport what they would struggle impatiently over as a task.

3. A Fractional Apparatus. By W. W. Davis. A box of eight wooden balls, three and one-half inches in diameter, seven of which are sawn into 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, and 12 parts respectively, while the eighth is left a sphere. With Manual, price $4.00. Manual alone, Paper, 16mo, pp. 43. 25 cts.

4. Numeral Frame, with 100 balls, $1.25; with 144 balls, $1.50.

5. The Word Method in Number. By Henry R. Sanford. 45 Cards, 3¼ x 5¾ inches, in Box, 50 cts. For rapid work. Send for special circular.

6. The Bulletin Number Fan. 11 x 15 inches. $1.00. Send for special illustrated circular.

7. 500 Every Day Business Problems in Arithmetic. By A. M. Edwards. On Cards, 1⅛ x 3½ inches, in Box, with Key, 50 cts.

These problems are printed on slips of card-board, one problem to each slip, so that a single box will answer for an entire school. Answers are given in the accompanying Key for the teacher's use.

8. Honesty Cards in Arithmetic. By H. C. Bristol. 50 Cards, 3 x 4½ inches, in Box, with Key. 50 cts.

These cards give a different problem to every pupil in the room without additional labor on the part of the teacher.

Helps in Higher Mathematics.

1. Algebra for Beginners. By O. S. Michael. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 120 75 cts.

The study of algebra is usually made a single year's work succeeding arithmetic, which is supposed to have been completed before algebra is begun. As a consequence, abstract reasoning has often been replaced by rote-work according to certain rules of which beginners seldom appreciate the principles. This book is meant to take the place of arithmetic before the latter has been fully completed, for a portion of the year. The language has been made popular and free from technical phrases, the steps from concrete to abstract reasoning have been made easy, and much practical work is given for exercise. More than usual prominence has been given to the translation of arithmetic into algebraic language, and vice versa. If its methods are followed, the more abstract portions of arithmetic, like evolution, will prove of greater interest and value. All algebra teachers will find much in this book that is simplifying and helpful.

2. Practical Geometry Test Papers. By Wm. Smith. Package of 100, 8½ x 10. $1.00.

These are working problems and theorems, with only the figure and the directions placed before the pupil. This is the kind of work now given in most examinations, and a special drill in it will be found invaluable. The teacher who has retained the methods of twenty years ago does not realize how thoroughly modern teaching is committed to sight-work. At Harvard the examinations every year tend more and more to work the pupil has not before seen. "We want to know what you can do: not what you have done," is the word everywhere. In no study is this more marked than in geometry. The teacher who uses only the problems and theorems of the text-book will send out pupils who will be at a disadvantage when put beside those drilled on papers like these.

3. A Manual of Mensuration. By H. H. Hutton. Boards, 16mo, pp. 168. 50 cts.

The treatment of mensuration in most series of arithmetics is so meagre as to leave many practical problems untouched. Even where much attention is given to the subject, a fuller treatment will be found of much importance. This manual covers every kind of problem likely to arise in school work, and will be found a useful part of the teacher's equipment.

4. Latitude and Longitude, and Longitude and Time. By J. A. Bassett. Manilla, 16mo, pp 42. 25 cts.

This is a comprehensive discussion, with over 100 illustrative questions and problems. By its use what is usually one of the most hazy elements of a pupil's knowledge of physical geography may be made one of the clearest.

5. The International Date-Line, or Where does the Day Begin? By Henry Collins. Paper, 16mo, pp. 15. 15 cts.

A conclusive treatment of a subject often debated.

Helps in Reading and Speaking

1. Old Stories Retold. By PAUL BINNER. With 59 Original Illustrations. Boards, 16mo, pp. 64, 25 cts.

This is the first of a series of books for supplementary reading, and will be found unusually interesting to children. It contains seven of the old-time favorites that have entered into the heart and the literature of the world, given in entertaining language, while the pictures will make the child's heart leap for joy. Send for a copy.

2. The Hamilton Declamation Quarterly. Edited by Professors OREN ROOT and BRAINARD G. SMITH, of Hamilton College. Per number, 30 cts. Per year, $1.00. Vol. I, now ready in cloth, 16mo, pp. 337, $1.00.

This is a collection of pieces not simply compiled, but edited for use, after the style that has made Hamilton College famous as a school of oratory. The fresh and varied character of the selections makes the numbers excellent for supplementary reading.

3. The Sentence Method of Teaching Reading. By GEORGE L. FARNHAM. 3d Edition, from New Plates. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 50. 50 cts.

As the word method was a step above the alphabet method, so the sentence method is a step beyond the word method. "The unit of thought is the sentence," and if the child considers the words as units in learning to read, he must unlearn his habits of reading in order to read naturally. Mr. Farnham shows how much more easily children will learn to read, and how much better they will read, where this method is employed. The book is in general use all over the country—in Col. Parker's Cook County Normal School, among others. It is especially valuable for teachers' institutes.

4. A Practical Delsarte Primer. By MRS. ANNA RANDALL-DIEHL. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 50 cts. Simple, and contains a series of twelve admirable charts.

5. A Manual of Elocution. By JOHN SWETT. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 300. $1.50. Simple and sound, with abundant practice.

6. Manual of Parliamentary Practice. By W. H. GORE. Cloth, 16mo, pp, 112. 50 cts. Send for special circular.

7. Arbor Day Manual. By CHARLES R. SKINNER. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 475. $2.50.

This was compiled as an aid in preparing programmes for Arbor Day exercises, and contains choice selections on trees, forests, flowers, and kindred subjects, particulary adapted for reading-classes.

8. Memory Gems. By GEO. II. HOSS. Paper, 16mo, pp. 40. 15 cts.

9. Memory Selections. By CHARLES NORTHEND. 24 manilla cards in a Box. Three series, Primary, Intermediate, Advanced. Each, 25 cts.

10. The Table is Set. A Comedy for Schools, from the German of Bendix. By WELLAND HENDRICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 30. 15 cts.

11. A Glimpse of Grammar-Land. A Farce. By M. FRANCES BROWN. Paper, 8vo, pp. 24, 15 cts.

This is perhaps the mort amusing and appropriate play for a school-exhibition ever written. It is interleaved, and contains the music in full.

Helps toward Correct Speech.

1. Verbal Pitfalls: a manual of 1500 words commonly misused, including all those the use of which in any sense has been questioned by Dean Alvord, G. W. Moon, Fitzedward Hall, Archbishop Trench, Wm C. Hodgson, W. L. Blackley, G. F. Graham, Richard Grant White, M. Schele de Vere, Wm. Mathews, "Alfred Ayres," and many others. Arranged alphabetically, with 3000 references and quotations, and the ruling of the dictionaries. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 223. 75 cts.

Perhaps the happiest feature of the book is its interesting form. Some hundreds of anecdotes have been gathered to illustrate the various points made. These have the advantage not only of making the work entertaining, but of fixing the point in the mind as a mere precept could not do. The type indicates at a glance whether the use of a word is (1) indefensible, (2) defensible but objectionable, or (3) thoroughly authorized.

2. Orthoëpy Made Easy. A Royal Road to Correct Pronunciation. By M. W. HALL. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 103. 75 cts.

Everyone remembers the queer shibboleths of culture in the paragraph beginning "A sacrilegious son of Belial," that has been the rounds of the newspapers. This book is made up of 38 such exercises, all of them ingenious and many of them amusing, each followed by a key to the difficult words. Bishop Vincent says: "I take great pleasure in testifying to the exceeding value of the little volume; 'Orthoëpy Made Easy.' The book is a sensible, practical text-book for the purpose intended. I congratulate you on having produced it, and I wish you success in its wide circulation."

3. Practical Phonics. A comprehensive study of Pronunciation, forming a complete guide in the study of elementary sounds of the English Language, and containing 3000 words of difficult pronunciation, with diacritical marks according to Webster's Dictionary. By E. V. DEGRAFF. Cloth. 16mo, pp. 108. 75 cts.

"The book before us is the latest, and in many respects the best, of the manuals prepared for this purpose. The directions for teaching elementary sounds are remarkably explicit and simple, and the diacritical marks are fuller than in any other book we know of, the obscure vowels being marked, as well as the accented ones. This manual is not like others of the kind, a simple reference book. It is meant for careful study and drill, and is especially adapted to class use."—New England Journal of Education.

4. Pocket Pronunciation Book, containing the 3,000 words of difficult pronunciation, with diacritical marks according to Webster's Dictionary. By E. V. DEGRAFF, Manilla, 16mo, pp. 47. 15 cts.

5. Studies in Articulation: a study and drill-book in the Alphabetic Elements of the English language. Fifth thousand. By J. H. HOOSE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 70. 50 cts.

"Dr. Hoose's 'Studies in Articulation' is the most useful manual of the kind that I know of. It should be a text-book in every Teacher's Institute."—A. J. Rickoff, formerly Sup't of Schools at Cleveland and at Yonkers.

6. Hints on Teaching Orthoëpy. By CHAS. T. POOLER. Paper, 16mo, pp. 15. 10 cts.

7. Question Book of Orthography, Orthoëpy, and Etymology, with Notes, Queries, etc. By ALBERT P. SOUTHWICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 40. 10 cts.

Manuals of Parliamentary Rules.

1. Manual of Parliamentary Practice. By W. H. GORE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 112. 50 cts.

It is an excellent compendium.—N. Y. World.

In form and arrangement this is a model of its kind.—Teachers' World.

This is a little book that it was well to make. * * * Perhaps the best purpose the book will subserve will be as a book of reference in disputed cases. To such reference-use, an admirable table of motions and their applicability or non-applicability, an alphabetical arrangement of topics, a full-faced bringing out of the salient thought of each paragraph, and a citation of the best authorities in a few mooted points—all conduce. In brief, a handy book to go with and stay by the parliamentarian or presiding officer. —Principal W. K. Wickes, Syracuse High School, in the School Review.

While it is true that the rules of procedure in modern deliberative assemblies are drawn from the laws and customs of the Parliament of England, yet it is proper that in this country they should be given the national coloring which comes from the modifications introduced by our Houses of Congress. Prof. Gore has given in his little manual the rules of parliamentary practice as thus modified, and has introduced other improvements which make it especially well adapted for its purposes. In the front of the book is a tabular summary of the motions that may be made, with an order of sequence and statement of the subsidiary motions that apply. This table is similiar to that found in other publications, but is more extended and better suited for quick reference. The body of the book contains the rules of parliamentary practice arranged alphabetically. This enables one to find the rule desired more readily than with the use of an index as in the ordinary arrangement, since the book indexes itself. Another and important improvement is made by printing in faced type the essential matter of each paragraph, and often a glance at a page will give the sought-for facts without the delay of a more detailed reading. The advantage of this cannot be over-estimated. Altogether, the book is so convenient in size, so excellent in content, and so happy in arrangement, that it will be a gladly welcomed aid in deliberative assemblies.—Public Opinion.

2. A Chart of Parliamentary Rules. By W. A. BLAKELY. Parchment-paper, pp. 4. 25 cts.

This contains a Chart which shows the relation of any Motion to every other Motion, and also answers at a glance 2,427 Questions in the practice of Parliamentary Law. It gives also Comments on the different Motions, with additional notes and explanations, the manner of stating certain Questions, and one or more forms for making the various Motions used in deliberative assemblies.

It gives more information, in smaller space, in more convenient form, and at a cheaper price, than any other manual issued. In fact, as U. S. Senator Stewart says, "It is the entire subject in a nutshell, and will save laborious research through volumes of parliamentary law, for which few have the leisure or the means at hand."

Helps in Physical Culture

1. Home Exercise for Health and Cure. Translated from the German of D. G. R. SCHREBER, M. D., by C. R. BARDEEN, assistant in histology, Johns Hopkins University. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 91, 45 Illustrations, 50 cts.

The teacher's work is confining, and leads to special physical defects. These are recognized in this manual, which provides "perscriptions", or combinations of exercises to meet certain needs. The exercises are for men and women alike, and there is not a teacher in America but would profit by them.

"An interesting manual which not only does not require a gymnasium, but even dispenses with Indian clubs, wands, and dumb-bells. The original treatise has had a wide circulation in Germany. It suggests the principles of the Delsarte system."—Atlantic Monthly.

"It is certainly a most practical little book, more than usually interesting on account of the exact physiological effects described as the object of each exercise."—The Educational Review.

2. A System of Physical Culture, prepared expressly for Public School Work. By LOUISE PREECE. Cloth, 4to, pp. 388, $2.00.

This system is used in more American cities than any other. It contains 183 photographs from life, besides many other illustrations, and concludes with pantomime work which will be found of great value in preparing for exhibitions.

3. A Practical Delsarte Primer. By ANNA RANDALL-DIEHL. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 66. 50 cts.

4. The Song Gymnast. Cloth, small 4to, pp. 110, 50 cts.

This contains three series of calisthenic exercises for schools: Elementary, Advanced, and Exhibition exercises, all with music, careful directions and abundant illustrations, some hundreds of figures being given. It is the most practical and available collection ever issued.

5. Calisthenics and Disciplinary Exercises. By E. V. DE GRAFF. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 39, 25 cts.

6. An Essay on the Neglect of Bodily Development of American Youth. By A. REINHART. Paper, 8vo, pp. 15, 25 cts.

7. Physiology Cards, for Students and Teachers. By C. S. PALMER. 70 cards, 2½x3½ inches, in Box 50 cts.

These cards contain questions with full answers, and directions are given so as to impart this important subject by means of a game.

8. Anatomical Manikin. By CARL V. HENNIG. Manilla, 8vo, pp. 18, $1.00.

Helps for Public Exercises.

1. The Arbor Day Manual. By CHARLES R. SKINNER, Superintendent of Public Instruction. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 475. $2.50.

This was compiled as an aid in preparing programmes for Arbor Day exercises, and contains choice selections on trees, forests, flowers, and kindred subjects, with 60 pages of Arbor Day music, etc., etc. It tells what trees to plant, and how and when to plant them, tells how the day is observed in different States, and gives specimen programmes in full. It is by far the most complete and helpful manual for its special purpose ever published, and is also one of the best collections ever compiled for general elocutionary exercises. It should be in every school library. The music pages may be had separately at 25 cts.

2. The Hamilton Declamation Quarterly. Edited by Professors OREN ROOT and BRAINARD G. SMITH. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 337. $1.00.

This is a collection of pieces for speaking, not simply compiled, but edited for use, after the style that has made Hamilton College famous as a school for oratory. Send for index, and note the freshness and modern interest of the subjects.

3. Memory Gems. By GEO. H. HOSS. Paper, 16mo, pp. 40. 15 cts.

4. Memory Selections. By CHARLES NORTHEND. 24 manilla cards in a box. Three series, Primary, Intermediate, Advanced. Each 25 cts.

5. The Table is Set. A Comedy for Schools, from the German of Bendix. By WELLAND HENDRICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 30. 15 cts.

Nothing is in greater demand than little plays for school entertainments, with few characters and requiring no scenery, and yet thoroughly bright and entertaining. This play will be found to meet all requirements.

6. A Glimpse of Grammarland. A Farce. By M. FRANCES BROWN. Paper, 8vo, pp. 24. 15 cts.

This is perhaps the most amusing and appropriate play for a school-exhibition ever written. It is interleaved, and contains the music in full.

7. Dialogues from Dickens. Arranged by W. ELIOT FETTE. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 335. $1.50.

These are as follows: A Merry Christmas; The Cricket on the Hearth; The Battle of Life; The Two Clubs; Pursuit of Knowledge; The Proposal; Mr. Micawber's Gauntlet; Scenes in the Fleet; Mrs. Weller's Will; A New Acquaintance; Some Valuable Advice; Jealousy; A Wictim o' Connubiality. Full stage directions are given, and the variety of subjects is so great that something entertaining may be found for almost any occasion.

Helps in Oral Teaching

1. How to Teach Natural Science in the Public Schools. By W. T. HARRIS, LL.D., Commissioner of Education. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 66. 50cts.

Nothing better on the subject is accessible in so compact a form.—The Critic.

It remains to-day, after the lapse of nearly a quarter of a century, the best plan for teaching science ever made.—Teachers' World.

Of all the valuable discussions in Dr. Harris's St. Louis reports, one of the most frequently quoted is, How to Teach Natural Science. Thoughtful teachers will welcome the tasteful dress of this new edition.—Educational Review.

It is a book which members of school boards as well as teachers in public schools would do well to read. Commissioner Harris believes that the elements of the different sciences can be studied to advantage at an early age, and that it is a pity that these most useful branches should be placed so far on in the school course that the great majority of pupils never reach them. He advocates setting aside one hour per week throughout each of the seven years of a district school course for such work, and has sketched a course by which each of the subjects is gone over three times in the seven years, each time in a more advanced and thorough manner.—W. Z. Bennett, in Post-Graduate and Wooster Quarterly.

2. Oral Training Lessons in Natural Science and General Knowledge. By H. BARNARD. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 136. 75 cts.

This book gives instruction in the form of elliptical answers, to be answered by the class either singly or in concert. Words to be written on the board are indicated by small capitals, and the work of the teacher is laid out so plainly that the beginner can hardly mistake, while older teachers will find constant suggestion. The work has long been a standard.

3. Object Lessons, or Words, and Things. By T. G. ROOPER. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 56. 50 cts.

The lesson on the Duck has no equal for interest and suggestiveness.

4. A Graded Course of Instruction for Public Schools. By W. H. WELLS. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 200. $1.00.

This includes a careful course in oral lessons, with directions, analyses, and references to books from which information may be obtained.

5. Limits of Oral Teaching. By JOHN W. DICKINSON. Paper, 16mo, pp. 24. 15 cts. The standard treatise on this subject.

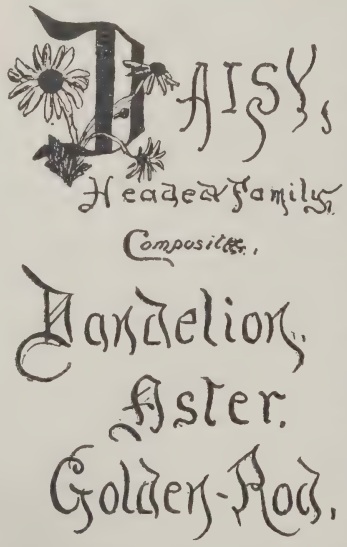
Flores, a Botanical Game.

Of all the series of games that we have published for school and family use this is much the handsomest. Every card is individually engraved, as shown in the specimen here given, and they are printed on enamelled cards with round corners and the usual playing-card back of a handsome acorn pattern.



The game is played as follows, very much like "Authors":

Any number of persons may play.

The cards are first shuffled and then dealt, singly, four to each player, the remainder of the pack lying face downward upon the table.

The object in playing is to get as many "sets" as possible, there being four cards in each set all known by the Common Family name.

The player on the left of the dealer begins by calling from any other player for any card of a family of which he already has one or more; should the player called upon have the card asked for (all cards being known by the name at the top), he will give it to the one calling therefor, who will continue to call for cards wanted, from the same or any other player, until he is unsuccessful, when he takes a card from the top of the pack and the next player proceeds in the same manner. As fast as sets are completed they are placed face downward in front of the players, and the one having the greatest number of sets when the cards have all been drawn wins the game. The skill consists in remembering the calls made as showing the location of cards wanted to add to or complete sets, and the educational profit is in learning the relations of the flowers to one another in families.

Will be found both interesting and profitable as a help.—New England Journal of Education.

It will prove to be an interesting and instructive game, and one that parents and teachers can use with profit.—Teachers' World.

Helps in Elementary Language.

1. Outline Work in Elementary Language. By AMELIA MOREY, preceptress of the Potsdam Normal School. Cloth, 16mo, illustrated, pp. 139. 50 cts.

This book will be welcome as showing the methods now pursued in this great school in the study for which its teaching has been especially remarkable. It gives young teachers almost the advantage of a normal course in this subject, and older teachers an opportunity to compare their own methods with those here used.

2. Graded Lessons in Language. By A. M. EDWARDS. Six numbers, each 5½ x 8½, 80 pages, with printed subjects and directions upon one side and ruled writing-paper for the exercises upon the other. Per sample set or per half-dozen of any number, 50 cts.

These exercises are carefully graded, and constitute a complete course for supplementary work in language for all grammar grades. "Oral Lessons" precede each "Written Exercise". This induces clearness and accuracy of expression and neatness of penmanship. The exercises can be used in connection with any text-book, and will be found a great assistance in teaching any system of penmanship.

3. Elementary English. Prepared with reference to the Regents' Examinations in the State of New York. Leatherette, pp. 67. 35 cts.

This follows directly the new syllabus of the Regents in English, giving all the words of which derivations are required. It is simple and practical.

4. Pictures in Language Work. By E. W. WEAVER. Paper, 16mo, illustrated, pp. 40. 20 cts.

The use of pictures has become so general that these suggestions for their use will be found valuable. The present is a new and greatly improved edition.

5. Question Book of Letter Writing, with full Answers. By C. W. BARDEEN. Paper, 16mo, pp. 17. 10 cts. Small, but full of practical suggestion.

6. Composition and Criticism. By A. W. EMERSON. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 82. 40 cts.

This is a manual for the aid of teachers and pupils in essay work, with 1,000 composition-subjects grouped according to the grade of the pupil.

7. A Dictionary of Etymology of the English Language, and of English Synonymes and Paronymes. By JOHN OSWALD. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 804. $2.00.

Of particular value now, owing to the attention to etymology every day becoming more marked.

8. The Readable Dictionary, or Topical and Synonomic Lexicon. By JOHN WILLIAMS. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 394. $1.25.

This contains several thousand of the more useful words in the English language classified by subjects and arranged according to their affinities of meaning, with accompanying etymologies, definitions, and illustrations. Its use will at once enrich one's vocabulary and give exactness to one's use of words. It has long been a recognized standard.

—THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS.—

Helps in Teaching Grammar.

1. Grammatical Diagrams defended and improved, with directions for their proper construction and application. By F. S. JEWELL. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 207. $1.00.

There are many systems of diagramming, but they are all based more or less directly upon this standard treatise, the most thorough work upon grammatical analysis ever written. No teacher of grammar can afford to be without it.

2. Exercises in English Syntax. By A. G. BUGBEE. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 87. 35 cts. Key, pp. 36, 35 cts.

This differs from other handbooks of sentences for class-drill in that it does not print wrong sentences to be corrected,—a practice now generally condemned, because incorrect forms should never be put before the child's eye,—but leaves blanks in the sentence to be filled by the pupil from a choice of expressions given, thus impressing in the most effective way the right usage and its reasons. It is of special assistance in preparation for Regents' examinations, which always include much work of this kind. Thus:

1. "His wealth and ..... bid adieu to each other." Use him or he.
2. "..... art most in fault." Use thou or thee.
3. "..... and ..... were chosen." Use her or she, and he or him.
4. "..... do you think was there?" Use who or whom.

The New England Journal of Education says: "Teachers are well nigh as anxious for exercises in English syntax as they were before the crusade against teaching that subject. It would be difficult to desire the work essayed better done than in this monograph. It aids the teacher in all the standard work of the class; it suggests scores of things that the teacher wonders he has not tried for himself. America is to be congratulated upon having such an array of ingenious men in the school-room, and publishers like Mr. Bardeen, who knows how to find them, and how to use them."

3. 3,000 Grammar Questions, with Answers based on Brown's Grammar, with cross-references to the grammars of Murray, Greene, Clark, Kerl, Quackenbos, Weld & Quackenbos, Hart, Fowler, Swinton, Reed & Kellogg, and Whitney. By HENRY KIDDLE, formerly Sup't of Schools, New York City, and editor of Brown's Grammar. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 200. $1.00.

These are the Regent's questions from the beginning to June, 1882, with answers by the man who was regarded as the best living authority. Those who wish to be certain on grammatical questions will do well to keep this book at hand. Its cross-references make it easy to adapt the answers to any system used.

4. Normal Language Lessons. By S. J. SORNBERGER. Boards, 16mo, pp. 81. 50 cts. Prepared for use in the Cortland Normal School.

This is a work on elementary grammar, based on the sentence and taking up the parts of speech and syntax. It may be used with any text-book.

5. Dime Question Book No. 14, Grammar. By ALBERT P. SOUTHWICK.

Other books in this useful series are No. 9, Rhetoric; No. 15, Orthography and Etymology; and No. 20, Reading and Punctuation; each 10 cts.

Authors' Birthdays, First Series.

This contains the articles that appeared in THE SCHOOL BULLETIN during the year 1897 on

POE	IRVING*	HAWTHORNE*	BANCROFT*
LONGFELLOW*	WHITMAN	HOLMES*	BRYANT*
T. B. READ	H. B. STOWE*	COOPER	WHITTIER*

These articles were written with a single purpose—to furnish public exercises to be used in schools, each of which shall make upon every pupil present a distinct impression of the author named, his life, his character, his writings, and his distinctive place in literature. That they have served this purpose in hundreds of schools the letters that come to us from every direction testify. This volume gives them a more convenient form, and makes them a desirable side-help for literature classes.

The book contains besides other illustrations portraits of the following authors:

Agassiz	Cooper	Parkman	B. Taylor
M. Arnold	Emerson	E. P. Peabody	Tennyson
Bancroft (2)	Hawthorne	Poe (2)	Verplanck
Browning	Holmes	Read	Whitman (3)
Mrs. Browning	Irving (2)	Ruskin	Whittier
Bryant (2)	Longfellow (2)	Scott	Wordsworth
Burns	Lowell	C. E. Stowe
Coleridge	S. J. May	Mrs. Stowe

It contains Irving's Rip Van Winkle entire, with Darley's 7 illustrations, and the following complete poems:

Poe	The Closing Scene	Bryant
Annabel Lee	Bring me the juice	To a Waterfowl
The Bells	Drifting	The Death of the Flowers
Longfellow	Sheridan's Ride	Robert of Lincoln
The Rainy Day	Whitman	June
Resignation	Prayer of Columbus	Whittier
Footsteps of Angels	Song of Praise to Death	In School Days
Read	Song of the Hermit Thrush	Ichabod!
To H. W. Longfellow	O Captain! my Captain!

It is thus fitted to be of service both for class and general exercises.

16mo, pp. 359. Manilla 50 cts.; Cloth $1.00.

The Second Series of these articles appears in the monthly numbers of THE SCHOOL BULLETIN for 1898, in the following order:

Bayard Taylor	Motley	Thoreau	Cable
Lowell*	Emerson*	E. S. Pheps-Ward	Aldrich
Howells	Saxe	Parkman	Joel Chandler Harris

 Life-size bust portraits of any of those starred in either series will be sent post-paid for 25 cents each.*

The Civil Service Question Book.

Are you tired of teaching? Do you sometimes wonder whether you could do anything else if you tried? Have you now and then thought that it would be well to have some other employment to look to, in case you felt that you had taught long enough? It is our business to publish books for teachers, books that will help them in their work and keep them in it. But there are circumstances that would make a government position desirable for some teachers, especially for young men and women who want to use the libraries and other helps in large cities. The pay is liberal, the hours are few, and once obtained the place is secure. These are all temptations to the idler, but they are opportunities for the student. Under the Civil Service law the road to such a position is simple.

100,000 PLACES are now filled exclusively by appointments dependent on examinations. No favoritism is possible. You do not need the influence of Congressman or politician. You have only to learn when the next examination is held, apply for the necessary papers, present yourself, and answer the questions asked. The appointments are made from OPEN TO WOMEN as well as to those who stand highest, and are men. All the particulars as to these examinations, how to find out the places and dates where held, and how to apply, are given in this volume, which gives also 943 specimen questions in Arithmetic, 575 specimen questions in Geography, 400 specimen questions in English Syntax, 100 each in American History and Civil Government, with full treatises on Book-Keeping and on Letter-Writing. To $1,000 AND HIGHER prepare for competition for places at these subjects are the principal subjects required. Any one who can answer the questions here given, to all of which full and complete answers are added, is ready to enter the next examination.

Hon. John B. Riley, late Chief Examiner of the State of New York, says of the book: "I am pleased with your Civil Service Question Book. It will not only be of service to those intending to try the Civil Service Examinations, but teachers or others who are obliged to prepare questions for examinations in common English branches will find it a great convenience."

The American Bookseller says: "The handy little volume called The Civil Service Question Book is a kind of happy thought in these days of C. S. examinations. In it the nervous and anxious seeker of a billet in the government service will find an ample selection of the kind of questions which he will be asked. If he can answer these, he will be able to answer any other likely to be asked."

The New England Journal of Education says: "It is worth as much to the teacher in his class, as to those aspiring to government positions. It is rarely that any book can be found with so many valuable and so few unimportant questions."

16mo, pp. 282. In Manilla 50 cts; in Cloth $1.50.

Books for Teaching Geography.

1. A Brief Geography of the Empire State. With 25 outline maps on uniform scale, 5 relief maps, and 125 illustrations. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 120. 75 cts. Outline maps of New York for pupils' use to accompany it, 15 cts. per pad of 50.

Primary Education says of this book: "The work has several unusual features. The series of outline maps is designed to make prominent one thing at a time. * * * There are also the unusual maps of Mineral Springs, Indian Reservations, and of Charitable and Correctional Institutions. The book is intended for the use of pupils as young as fifth grade. * * * The illustrations embrace the unequalled natural attractions of a State famous for its beauty of waterfall, mountain, and landscape. These illustrations are of excellent quality and tastefully arranged, and will be enjoyed by everybody who turns the leaves of this unique book, whether they belong to the Empire State or to some other part of our broad country. The book is full of unexpressed State pride, and the school children of New York will feel richer in their State inheritance after their study of this concentrated record of the facts, resources, and history of a State always justly proud of its past and present. * * * It is a credit not only to Publisher Bardeen's enterprise but to his love for his State and his recognition of the grade and quality of his State constituents, that he has seen and felt the occasion to bring out a book of this nature."

2. The Oswego Method of Teaching Geography. By AMOS W. FARNHAM. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 127. 50 cts.

Dr. Sheldon, principal of the Oswego Normal, says in the preface: "The plan, the order of arrangement, the exclusion of unnecessary details, all seem to me very commendable. And I take pleasure in endorsing it as an embodiment of my own idea as to the method of teaching geography."

3. Descriptive Geography taught by means of Map-Drawing. By EVA D. WILKINS. Boards 4to.

(a) Map Drawing Book of the Continents, pp. 66. 75 cts.

(b) Map Drawing Book of the United States, pp. 89. 75 cts.

(c) Teachers' Edition for both the above, pp. 129. $1.50.

4. Topical Geography, with Methods and Supplementary Notes. By IDA L. GRIFFIN. Leatherette, 12mo, pp. 142. 50 cts.

5. Oral Instruction in Geography. By EMMA L. PARDON. Paper, 16mo, pp. 29. 15 cts.

6. A School Geography of Pennsylvania. By J. W. REDWAY. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 98. 35 cts. Indispensable to Pennsylvania teachers.

7. A Globe Manual for Schools. By FLAVIUS J. CHENEY. Paper, 16mo, pp. 95. 25 cts. Few teachers grasp the possibilities of globe-instruction.

8. The International Date Line. By HENRY COLLINS. Paper, 16mo, pp. 15. 15 cts. This is final authority on a subject often little understood.

9. Latitude, Longitude and Time. By J. A. BASSETT. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 42. 25 cts. Makes simple one of the most difficult subjects.

—THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS.—

Geography Question Books.

1. Topical Geography Questions. By A. M. EDWARDS. 16mo, pp. 212. Cloth, $1.00: manilla, 50 cts.

This is the new edition of Edwards's Geography cards, printed in book form. It gives all Mr. Edwards's questions arranged by topics, that have proved so popular in card-form, and adds to them, arranged separately under each topic, all the questions in geography given at the Regents' examinations of 1893-4, 1894-5, 1895-6, three full years. This is the only form in which the Regents' questions for these years may be had separately, and the only volume in which the Regents' questions have ever been arranged topically. The advantage cannot be overestimated of having these recent Regents' questions, so highly valued for their selection and their form, topically arranged. For Regents' schools they are of course indispensable, but in all other schools they will be found the best questions ever printed.

The same questions may be had printed on cardboard of six different colors for $1.00.

2. The Regents' Questions in Geography from the beginning to 1882. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 70. 25 cts. Key, 25 cts.

Of this collection of 1987 questions in geography more than a hundred thousand have been sold. Many cities and villages use it as a regular text-book for review, finding it the best possible preparation for any kind of examination.

3. The New York Uniform Questions in Geography, from 1892 to date. With full Answers. Manilla, 16mo, pp. 80. 25 cts.

The care with which all the Uniform questions are prepared, that they may be fair and comprehensive, is well known. The geography questions are among the best of the series, and are well adapted for class use; while for self-preparation they have the great advantage that the answers immediately follow the questions for each examination, so that they may be readily consulted.

4. Dime Question Book, No. 19, Physical and Political Geography. By A. P. SOUTHWICK. Paper, 16mo, pp. 40. 10 cts.

This includes both physical and political geography, and gives full answers to the questions, adding notes, queries, etc. It is especially useful for giving to a geography class questions of a different charrcter from those in the text-book, thus arousing interest and suggesting investigation.

5. Review Questions in Geography. By Mrs. JENNIE B. PRENTICE. Paper, 16mo, pp. 48. 15 cts.

In this book the questions are arranged topically. No answers are published. It has proved an excellent book to put in the hands of pupils, and is regularly adopted as a text book in many of the best schools.

6. Review Lessons in Geography. By J. H. CRAIN. Paper, 16mo, pp. 60. 25 cts.

This contains 692 questions, miscellaneously arranged, and of all degrees of difficulty. It is a sufficient test for any kind of examination.

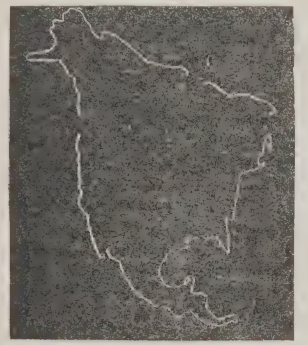
Helps in Teaching Geography.



1. Outline Blackboard Maps. By Sup't GEORGE GRIFFITH, Utica. 8 Maps, 27 x 34, on four sheets of tar-board, slated on both sides. $8.00.

These maps include the five Continents, the United States, the State, and a blank for the County. The outline is permanent, while the pupil is to locate before the class whatever are the main features of the day's lesson. Among their many uses these are suggested:

(1) The pupil while locating or describing any river, city, etc., draws it upon the map. If a mistake is made it is erased without erasing the outlines. (2) Reviews or examinations are made by having the pupil show on one of these maps all he knows of the country. The teacher glances at the result, erases mistakes, and has the pupil replace correctly. All is erased, and another pupil is set at work while the class proceeds with the regular lesson. (3) By different colorings the elevations or any physical features of different sections are easily and quickly shown. In the same way a geological map may be made. (4.) Historical maps may be quickly sketched, showing only the features needed.

2. Relief Maps. By BURGI Brothers. Switzerland, (a) 11x17½; $3.50; (b) 23 x 34, $10.00, (c) Palestine, 19 x 32, $10.00, (d) United States, 48 x 42, $100.00.

These are beautifully made and colored, showing physical as well as political features. Many teachers think geography should be taught only from relief maps, and all agree that they are of great utility.

3. Geographical Cards, with Topics and Questions, (a) Part I. Physical Geography and North America, 100 cards, 3¼ x 5¼ inches, 50 cts.; (b) Part II. The Rest of the World, 100 cards, 50 cts., or, (c) Complete, 200 cards, $1.00.

These cards are intended to accompany any text-book in Geography. The topics and questions emphasize a necessity for thorough knowledge of commercial relations, exports, imports, routes of travel, expense of transportation: in fact, the cards deal with the Essentials of Geography, omitting that which is of little or no importance. The topics are suggestive rather than exhaustive. ☞ A set of these Cards will save the teacher many needless hours of study and research, by preserving classified memoranda in compact form.

4. Geographical Game. "Our Country" for Home and School, 100 cards, 2¼ x 3¾ inches, 50 cts. Will double the pupils' interest.

5. Outline Topics Cards in Geography. Per package of 12 cards, 5½ x 6 inches 15 cts. Topics for the Continent on one side, for the State the other.

Globes, Maps, and Charts.

1. The American Globes. We have sold these globes for fifteen years, and know them to be the best in the market. The three styles most popular are made with a heavy metallic base like that shown in the cut, and in three styles, either plain, or with meridian like that shown in the cut ("half mounted"), or with meridian and horizon both ("full mounted"). The prices are as follows:

Size.	Plain.	Half M.	Full M.
6 inch.	$ 2.50.	$ 4.00.	$ 6.00.
8 inch.	5.00.	7.00.	10.00.
12 inch.	8.00.	10.00.	15.00.
18 inch.	25.00.	30.00.	35.00.

2. Johnston's Wall Maps. These are of three sizes. 27x34 inches, costing $1.50 each; 42x50, costing $3.50 each; and 63x72, costing $8.00 each. Spring rollers are added at an extra cost of $1.00, $1.50, and $2.50 respectively.

The Common School Series (42x50 inches) includes (a) Hemispheres, (b) North America, (c) South America, (d) United States, (e) Europe, (f) Asia, (g) Africa. Others sometimes substituted or added are (h) World, Mercator's Projection, (i) Eastern Hemisphere, (j) Western Hemisphere.

We can furnish also in the 40x48 size: (k) England, (l) France, (m) Italy, (n) Spain, (o) Central America, (p) Orbis Veteribus Notus, (q) Italia Antiqua, (r) Græcia Antiqua, (s) Asia Minor, (t) Orbis Romanus, (u) De Bello Gallico, (v) Canaan and Palestine, (w) Bible Countries, (x) United States, historical.

3. T. Ruddiman Johnston's Maps, 40x48, in sets only, including Hemispheres, North America, South America, United States, political, United States, historical, Europe, Asia, and Africa, 8 maps. Cloth, $10.00 per set.

Edwards's Geography Cards.

These cards, of which a specimen is here given, may be used with any text-book, and are meant to supplement it by giving questions for the pupil to look up either from reference-books in school, or at home. Especial attention is given to commercial relations; productions, exports, imports; routes and cost of travel, distances, time required, etc.—in short the practical side of geography. It has been found that pupils using these cards acquire new interest in geography, and are led into habits of investigation. They are great time-savers for the teacher, as a single box of cards answers for the entire class. The blanks upon each card give space for additional questions that are important in any locality. Thus on the card given, a teacher in Kalamazoo, Mich., might write: "What is the distance from Kalamazoo to Chicago? to Detroit? In which city do Kalamazoo people do the more trading? Why?", etc. A set of these cards will save the teacher needless hours of study by preserving classified memoranda in convenient form.

ILLINOIS

Describe Illinois. Educational institutions; famous men; historic account. What is Chicago termed? why? Give a full account of the growth and prosperity of the city. Describe the stock yards; grain elevators; industries. Give an account of journeys from Chicago to Fargo, Duluth, Omaha. Name the different routes one may take, comparative expense, time required, advantages and disadvantages of each.

The cards are printed on cardboard of six different colors, the red (1–40) giving general questions upon the continents, the blue (41–92) upon the States, the yellow (93–123) upon Canada, Central and South America, the buff (124–165) upon Europe, the pink (166–188) upon Asia, Africa, and Oceanica, and the light blue (192–200) general questions of travel.

They are put up in two boxes, Part I containing the cards from 1–100, and Part II those from 101–200, and are sent post-paid at 50 cts. per box.

Edwards's Geography Game.

This consists of 100 cards each with five questions printed on one side, as in the sample shown.

—4—

WHAT city manufactures more jewelry than any other city in the Union?

Providence.

WHAT city is the eastern terminus of the Erie Canal?

Albany.

IN what state are the most valuable zinc mines on the continent?

New Jersey.

WHICH state is called "Bay State"?

Massachusetts.

WHAT state borders Iowa on the north?

Minnesota.

Any number of persons may take part. The dealer distributes one card at a time around the circle from the left to right until all have three cards. He then places the pack face downward on the table. The player at the left of the dealer, whom we will call A, asks the player at his left hand any question from any card in his hand. If the player can answer it he takes the card and turns it face down on the table to begin a book. If he does not answer the question, it goes around the circle to the left, until it is answered, or all have had a chance. The one who answers it gets the card. No one can try more than once, and the person who asks the question must not answer it, even if nobody else does. If nobody answers the question, A keeps the card in his hand, the next player takes his turn at asking, and so on.

When any player has asked a question and given up the card to the one who answered it, he must draw another from the top of the pack, so that each player holds three cards in his hand all the time. If any player finds that he has a card from which nobody can answer any question, he may reject the card and draw another. When the player has won four cards he calls it a book. The number of books to win a game depends on the number of players. If two or three persons are playing, four books constitute a game. When there are four or five players, three books make a game.

IN A LARGE COMPANY OR AT SCHOOL, the players may choose sides as at a spelling match. Let one be appointed questioner. He selects two leaders who choose the players alternately. They take their places on two sides as they are called. The questioner mixes the cards and places them on a table with the faces downward. He then picks up the top card and asks one of the leaders a question, and the game is conducted as in spelling down.

The cards come put up in a neat box, and are sent postpaid for 50 cts.

Books for Teaching History.

1. A Working Manual of American History for Teachers and Students. By Prof. Wm. H. Mace. 16mo, pp. 297. Cloth, $1.00; manilla, 50 cts.

(1) It outlines the subject to 1870, showing phases of institutional life so as to reveal the organizing principle in each. (2) It gives abundant reference by volume and page to the leading authorities, making the book usable when time is short and books are scarce. (3) It gives original material for study at first hand, sets original problems, makes history real, and causes students to think.

2. Topics and References in United States History. By Geo. A. Williams. 16mo, pp. 181. Cloth, $1.00; manilla, 50 cts.

The references are to magazines and to works written in popular style, with the idea that the first object is to awaken interest in the subject.

3. An Outline Study of United States History. By Harlow Godard. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 136. 50 cts.

It gives (1) an outline of leading events; (2) directions for studying each topic; (3) a list of books for reference; (4) a review at the close of each period.

4. A Thousand Questions in American History, with full Answers. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 247. Price $1.00.

This work shows rare breadth of view and discrimination, dealing not merely with events but with causes, and with the side-issues that have so much to do with determining the destiny of a nation.

5. Helps in Fixing the Facts of American History. By Henry C. Northam. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 298. Price $1.00.

6. Brief Views of U. S. History. By Anna M. Juliand. 16mo, pp. 69, 35 cts.

7. Dime Question Books, No. 5, General History, and No. 6, United States History and Civil Government. By Albert P. Southwick. Paper, 16mo, pp. 37, 32. 10 cts. each.

8. Chronological Tables. A Synchronistic Arrangement of the Events of Ancient History. By Arthur C. Jennings. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 136. $1.00.

The range is from the foundation of Rome to the birth of Christ. In tables i-iv the student may see at a glance what political events in Palestine or the eastern monarchies occurred at the same time with those of Greek and Roman history. In tables v, vi he may see what stage each country had reached at any period in science, legislation, and literature.

—THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS—

Hendrick's Brief History of the Empire State.

The success of this work may be judged from the fact that the last Regents' report giving the text-books used shows that the number of schools in which Hendrick's History is used has increased from 98 in 1891-2, when first published, to 162 the next year, 189 the next, 231 the next, and 268 in 1895-6, the last reported, while two others are used altogether, and these only in 2 schools. Since the Regents give two counts to New York history, and the Department of Public Instruction gives nearly half the questions in American history to New York history, principals are not slow to see that the trend in history as in geography is toward beginning at home, and making first well-known that which is nearest. Here are some testimonials:

Entered 50 in New York history; passed 42, or 92% of class. Think the book first-class for the purpose.—Principal J. A. Bassett, Richfield Springs.

We use your History, 40 in the class. It is the best supplementary Reader I ever saw.—F. L. Gammage, Headmaster St. Paul's School.

Hendrick's book was used as a supplementary book in one of our grammar classes with very great acceptance. The teachers report great interest on the part of the pupils, and express the opinion that the book is admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was designed. It was by all odds the most popular reading book placed in the hands of the class.—Principal E. N. Jones, Plattsburgh Normal, while superintendent at Saratoga Springs.

Two things especially impress me in perusing this work, viz.: the importance of this knowledge to the school children of New York State, and the means of acquiring the same, made attractive by the clear and concise style of the author.—Commissioner Oscar Granger, Tioga county, N. Y.

What a fine work the "History of the Empire State" is! I hope to see it in every school, for it is exactly such knowledge that will prove most instructive to the children of our State.—A. H. Wilson, School Commissioner, Fayetteville, N. Y.

Mr. Welland Hendrick, a teacher of history, finding the need of a brief history of New York State, set about to supply the deficiency. The result of his labors in compilation, arrangement, and condensation is a very satisfactory text-book. In a compact manual of eighteen chapters he outlines the story of the Empire State. The descriptive matter is well furnished with wood-cuts, portraits and maps. In an appendix a number of well framed questions are given for each chapter, making the work doubly useful for the scholar and teacher. There is also an index. * * * It is really quite refreshing to find the maker of a text-book of the history of New York going at it properly, instead of hieing at once, as is usual with the compiler, to Washington Irving, and taking him seriously. Mr. Hendrick shows the sturdy qualities of the first settlers of New York, pays high tribute to the merits of the Hollanders, does justice to Leisler, emphasizes the story of liberty, gives due proportion of space to the events leading to the Revolutionary and later wars, and to the triumph of peace. The last chapter treats of the era of centennial celebrations.—The Critic.

Topics and References in American History.

By GEO. A. WILLIAMS, Ph. D., Instructor in Brown University.

This is an entirely new edition of this popular manual, with many additional references, and reaching from the earliest times to the administration of McKinley. The references are largely given to magazines and to works written in popular style, rather than to standard histories, in the belief that the main point on the start is to awaken an interest. If the work is taken up topically with this little book as a guide to study and reading, "that hateful history" may become the most delightful of studies.

From testimonials of the former edition we select the following:

It seems to me well prepared and likely to be very useful.—Martin B. Anderson, late president Rochester University.

I think your "Topics and References" is an admirable little manual for use in our academies and union schools. In fact it would be very useful for any student of American history. It is full, accurate, and free from all political bias.—Ebenezer Dodge, late president Colgate University.

I have looked over your Topics with genuine pleasure, and I see that you are doing your work in the right way. There is so much of humdrum work that such a method is an inspiring relief from the ordinary text-book methods.—Charles K. Adams, president University of Wisconsin.

Thank you for the little book, which seems to me uncommonly well done. It is the fulfilment of my strong desire to see in various directions such a humanizing influence brought to bear on the teaching of history in our schools.—Col. Thos. W. Higginson, Boston, Mass.

I take a personal satisfaction in all such works as yours, for I was one of the first to adopt the new view of United States history of which your work is a type. It is hardly necessary to say that I admire your book. I had had it sent to me before by one of the Messrs. Holts' agents as a model of what such a book ought to be, and I entirely agree with him.—Prof. Alex. Johnston, Princeton College.

We do not say it in the interests of the author or publisher, but for the benefit of the profession, that we know of no outline of historical topics that will compare with the above for completeness or arrangement and general suggestiveness to the teacher. Not only are the topics stated in historical and logical order, but copious and definite references to standard historical and literary works are given in connection with each. All teachers and students of history should have a copy of this work.—True Educator.

The first sentence in the preface of Mr. Williams's little pamphlet contains the secret of the general excellence of the publications of this publisher: "The main purpose in printing this little hand-book has been to save time in my own classes that would otherwise be consumed in copying." Most of Mr. Bardeen's books are born in the school-room, not in the study. That is a good place for a school-book to be born in.—School Gazetteer.

16mo, pp. 181, interleaved for notes. In Manilla 50 cts.; in Cloth, $1.00.

Cards and Charts for Teaching History.

1. Historical Cards, with Topics, Questions, and References on the most important events in General History, 200 cards, 3¼ x 5¼ inches, in box, $1.00.

These cards are designed for use in the High and College Preparatory Schools.

On each card is a topic, with subdivisions and questions. On the back of each card reference is made to all the leading histories used in the schools of the country. Thousands of references are cited. Space has been left on each card for additional questions and references.

The cards may be used in daily recitations and reviews. In addition to the many Histories cited, a large number of books are referred to under the head of "Interesting Reading." Different colors are used for the several Historical Epochs.

2, Historical Cards, with Topics, Questions, and References on all the important events in United States History. 200 cards, 3¼ x 5¼ inches, in box $1.00. Or,

Part I. Prehistoric Period, Period of Discoveries and Explorations, Period of Settlements, Period of the Revolutionary War. 92 cards, in box, 50 cts.

Part II. Constitutional Period, which includes the Periods of the Development of the States, the Civil War, Reconstruction, and more recent events, General Review, Civil Government. 108 cards, in box, 50 cts.

On each card there is a topic, with subdivisions and questions. On the back of the cards reference is made to fifteen School Histories, giving the page or pages in each on which the subject is in any way treated. Nearly 5,000 references are cited. The cards may be used with any United States History. The topics and questions are so arranged that the pupils, in reciting, must necessarily express themselves in their own language, rather than that of the book. Much time is saved the teacher in having the topics prepared. Different colors are used for the several Historical Epochs.

3. A Chart of United States History, By NOAH T. CLARKE, Ph.D. One page, 9x12. Each 5 cts.; per dozen 50 cts.

This chart gives a birdseye view of the entire history of our country. No more practically helpful review has ever been published.

4. Conspectus of United States History to the time of Garfield. Cloth, 81x91 inches, on rollers. $2.00.

5. Conspectus of the History of Political Parties and the Federal Government to 1880. By WALTER R. HOUGHTON. Cloth, 4to, pp. 85, with colored charts, $5.00. Or chart alone, mounted on rollers, $1.00.

6. Syllabusses of American History. By WELLAND HENDRICK. Paper, 8vo, pp. 4. Each 5 cts. Per dozen 50 cts.

Published four times a year, for the Regents' Examinations.

Edwards's History Cards.

These cards of which a specimen of the final summary in the General History set is here given, may be used with any text-book, and are meant to supplement it by giving questions for the pupil to look up either from reference-books in school, or at home. On the back of each card reference is made to the leading text-books of history, citing thousands of references. There are also references to many other books, under the head of "interesting reading". The references alone are worth many times the cost of the cards.

.....

There are three series of these cards, as follows:

United States History, Part I, 92 cards, 1597 references, 50 cts.

United States History, Part II, 108 cards, 1561 references, 50 cts.

General History, 200 cards, 3036 references, $1.00.

The colors of the cards indicate the periods. Thus in the General History, the pink (1–10) deal with ancient history; the green (11–45) with Greece; the yellow (46–93) with Rome; and the buff (94–200) with mediæval and modern history.

In the United States History, the yellow (1–24) deal with explorations; the green (25–49) with the settlements; the pink (50–92) with the Revolutionary war; and the buff (93–200) with subsequent time, including 100 questions in civil government.

Edwards's American History Game.

This consists of 100 cards, each with five questions printed on one side, as in the sample shown. The cards are uniform with those of Geography Game, and the manner of playing is the same. The variety of questions is unusual, so that interest is easily maintained. As the answer is given to every question, the cards become not only a test but a means of instruction. Here are some of the questions:

—76—

WHAT is the only war recorded in history in which all the victories were on one side, and were gained in every instance against a larger force?
Mexican War.

OF what President was Nathaniel Hawthorne an intimate friend? Franklin Pierce.

WHAT nation presented to America Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World?
France.

WHO was Secretary of the Treasury during the Civil War.
Salmon P. Chase.

WHAT republic applied for admission to the United States during Grant's administration?
San Domingo.

What president never cast a vote or held a civil office until elected president? Taylor.

Which was the larger before the Revolution, New York or Boston? Boston.

What was captured from Santa Anna at the battle of Cerro Gordo? His cork leg.

Of whom did General Grant say "I rank him with Napoleon, Frederick the Great, and the famous commanders of history? Philip H. Sheridan.

In what battle was a tablecloth raised for a white flag? Surrender of Detroit, 1812.

Who of President Hayes's cabinet was a member of the opposite party? Postmaster General Key.

To whom did Franklin say, "We must all hang together or we shall all hang separately?" John Hancock.

The cards come put up in a neat box, and are sent postpaid for 50 cts.

Instruction in Citizenship.

1. Civil Government for Common Schools, prepared as a manual for public instruction in the State of New York. To which are appended the Constitution of the State of New York as amended at the election of 1894, the Constitution of the United States, and the Declaration of Independence, etc., etc. By HENRY C. NORTHAM. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 268. 75 cts.

The new edition gives all the changes made by the amendments to the Constitution adopted in 1894, with many new maps and much additional matter. The sale of this book in New York greatly exceeds that of all other books on the subject taken together, and every pains is taken to maintain its character as the most usable and useful manual published.

2. The Same, prepared for the State of Missouri. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 151. 75 cts.

3. A Chart of Civil Government in New York. By CHARLES T. POOLER. Sheets 12x18. 5 cts. The same folded for the pocket, in cloth covers, 25 cts.

4. 500 Questions in Civics. 150 cards, 1½x4 inches, with Key 50 cts.

These questions are printed on slips of strong colored card board, two questions on a card. The questions are not confined to the Constitution of the United States, but include many pertinent questions on other important subjects. They are designed for general or class use in high, grammar, and rural schools, and are equally applicable to every State in the Union. They have especial value as an easy introduction to the subject where it has not hitherto been taught, since one box answers for an entire school.

5. 500 Pertinent Questions in Civics, with Answers. Paper, 16mo, pp. 54. 15 cts. The same as No. 4, but in book form.

6. A Manual of School Law. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 300. Manilla, 50 cts.; cloth, $1.00.

This book has been for twenty years the only recognized text-book on the subject. The present edition was wholly re-written in 1896, and brings the subject up to date. It includes the author's "Handbook for School Trustees", and adds all the questions in school law given at uniform examinations from the first to March, 1896, with full answers as published by the State Department corrected to date according to changes in the law, making it the best of helps in preparing for examination.

7. Laws of New York relating to Common Schools, with Comments and Instructions, and a digest of Decisions. Leather, 8vo, pp. 867. $2.50.

8. The Powers and Duties of School Officers and Teachers. By ALBERT P. MARBLE. Paper, 16mo, pp. 27. 15 cts.

9. First Principles of Political Economy. By JOSEPH ALDEN. Cloth. 16mo, pp. 153. 75 cts.

Ex-President Andrew D. White says of this book: "It is clear, well arranged, and the best treatise for the purpose I have ever seen."

10. The Ready Reference Law Manual. By E. E. KNOTT. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 281. $2.00. It is not meant for lawyers, but for all.

——THE SCHOOL BULLETIN PUBLICATIONS.——

500 Pertinent Questions in Civics.

These cards, of which a specimen is here given, may be used with any

> 283. What is the duty of the Committee on Ways and Means in the House?—(110)
>
> 284. Why is there no Committee of Ways and Means in the Senate?—(133)

text-book, or in any class, or by superintendent or school-commissioner when visiting schools, to test the pupils rapidly. They have proved of great service where the subject of civics is not regularly taught, for suggesting topics to be discussed in school: they have a wide use for this purpose among political equality clubs. The cards are given out either to be answered at the time or to be taken home for study, and an individual interest is awakened that no formal instruction could arouse. There are 250 cards, with two questions on each card. A Key accompanies each box, and the questions themselves give references by page to Northam's Civil Government for a full treatment of each subject. Price per box 50 cts. The questions and answers may also be had in pamphlet form for 15 cts.

Besides the 330 questions in civics, there are 138 questions on business of eminently practical character, and 32 on the fundamental principles of parliamentary law, all dealing with points that every one ought to be familiar with, but of which many are ignorant.

Thus: 180. How are "letters patent" secured? 334. Must the words "for value received" appear on the note? 345. What is an "accepted draft"? 351. Compare a note and a draft. 352. Compare a draft and a check. 387. Is a contract executed on Sunday valid? 388. Is a contract written with a lead pencil valid? 436. Why must a wife join with her husband in the conveyance of property? 450. Can a minor make a will? 476. How should a motion with an amendment to an amendment be managed? 485. How is an appeal from the decision of the chair managed?

There are few people so well informed as not to get much benefit from these questions. The University Extension Bulletin says: "It is an interesting sign of civics activity when such books as the School Bulletin publications in civil government become popular. This has many qualities attractive both to student and citizen. It is a catechism in the principles of business and political life."

Movement Method in Penmanship.

1. The Natural Movement Method in Writing. By CHARLES R. WELLS. Nos. 1 and 2, 84 cts. a dozen; Nos. 3, 4, 5, 96 cts. a dozen.

This system of penmanship has now come into such general use that it has a host of imitators. Agents everywhere are saying, "Our new series has all the essential features of the Wells system." Don't believe it. There is only one Wells system, and there is no other series that gives or can give its distinctive features. A man cannot become a Diogenes by living in a tub, and a series of writing-books cannot appropriate our copyrighted features by calling itself a "movement series". Get the Wells series, and the Wells series alone.

The Wells Method if used as directed may be depended upon to produce the following results:

1st. To develop and discipline the natural arm-action so as to produce the type movements, and through them the type forms of all letters; also to secure correct habits of position, pen-holding, etc.

2d. To test successfully the acquired movements by the use of properly prepared exercises or copies, and incidentally to correct all errors in formation.

3d. To establish and maintain such conditions as shall induce each pupil to teach himself to write carefully with the arm movement while doing his lesson work, and thus to fix the habit of accurate writing at all times.

4th. So to establish the habit of arm-movement business writing, that it will eventually become automatic.

In the public schools of Syracuse, where the method was first introduced, Prof. Wells spent thirteen years testing, perfecting and applying the plan of teaching. The remarkable results shown here have attracted wide attention, and in the many places where the method has been voluntarily introduced not a single case of failure has been reported.

Sup't Geo. W. Phillips, of Scranton, Pa., where the system was introduced in Sept., 1893, writes: "It is simply immense! This system will not work a change; it is a revolution in the art of writing." For similar testimony, write to Sup't A. B. Blodgett, Syracuse, Sup't C. W. Cole, Albany, or Principal James M. Milne, Oneonta Normal. It is not a question whether the best schools will adopt this system, but when they will adopt it. The school that takes it first is that much ahead of its neighbors.

2. Manual of the Movement Method in Writing. By CHARLES R. WELLS. Paper, 4to pp. 44. Illustrated. 25 cts.

If you want to learn about the system, send for this manual. Toledo has bought 225 copies, Scranton 225, Newtonville 100, Somerville 75, Toronto 50, etc.

Helps in Teaching Drawing.

1, The Uniform Examination Questions and Answers in Drawing from August, 1892, to June, 1896. 16mo, pp. 221, with 303 illustrations. Manilla, 50 cts.; cloth $1.00.

The change in the character of the drawing questions since Miss Rice became one of the institute faculty and has had charge of this subject, has been marked. There is no better preparation for the uniform questions than a careful study of this book, which the abundant illustrations make attractive as well as useful.

2, 1000 Questions and Answers in Form Study and Drawing. By JOHN W. BALL. Leatherette, 16mo, pp. 67. 40 cts.

This contains the questions given in the Uniform Examiuations up to April, 1891, grouped by subjects.

3. Practical Lessons in Object Drawing, designed for the self-instruction of teachers. By VIALA P. HOTCHKISS. Leatherette, 12mo, pp. 82. 50 cts.

This contains 97 illustrations, and is meant to be within the grasp and use of every teacher, including those who have had no opportunity for other instruction. It includes light-and-shade, coloring, and sketching from nature.

4. Color Instruction. Suggestions for a course of instruction in Color for Public Schools. By LOUIS PRANG, MARY DANA HICKS, JOHN S. CLARK. Cloth, 12mo, pp. 195. $1.00.

This is the only available text-book in this subject and is beautifully illustrated, with colored charts.

Books for New York Schools.

1. A Manual of School Law. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 300. Manilla, 50 cts.; cloth, $1.00.

This book has been for twenty years the only recognized text-book on the subject. The present edition was wholly re-written in 1896, and brings the subject up to date. It includes the author's "Handbook for School Trustees", and adds all the questions in school law given at uniform examinations from the first to March, 1896, with full answers as published by the State Department corrected to date according to changes in the law. As school law is hereafter to be required in all teachers' examinations, 2d and 3d grades, as well as 1st, this book is absolutely indispensable to every teacher, and hence has been put in the Standard Teachers' Library.

2. Laws of New York relating to Common Schools, with Comments and Instructions, and a digest of Decisions. Leather, 8vo, pp. 807. $2.50.

This is what is known as "The Code of 1888", and is the final authority upon all disputed questions.

3. A Descriptive Geography of the Empire State. By C. W. BARDEEN. Cloth, 8vo, pp. 126, with 25 outline maps on uniform scale, 5 relief maps, and 125 illustrations. 75 cts.

The advance orders for this book exceeded any that have before been received for any of our publications. Its most marked characteristic is its appeal to the eye. Its illustrations are abundant and typical, and its 25 outline maps on uniform scale, each making prominent one thing at a time, commend themselves at sight. No New York school can afford to be without it.

4. A Brief History of the Empire State, for Schools and Families. By WELLAND HENDRICK, A.M. Cloth, small 4to, pp. 201. 75 cts.

This book has proved one of our great successes, more than three hundred schools having officially adopted it. This subject has been made a part of the Regents' course of study, with special questions in the examinations, and the Department of Public Instruction gives it five counts at the examinations for State certificates. Whether used as a history, or as a supplementary reading-book, it has given universal satisfaction.

5. Civil Government for Common Schools, prepared as a manual for public instruction in the State of New York. To which are appended the Constitution of the United States, and the Declaration of Independence, etc., etc. By HENRY C. NORTHAM. Cloth, 16mo, pp. 220. 75 cts.

This book no longer needs description, as its use is almost universal. The present edition gives all the changes under the new constitution.

6. A Chart of Civil Government. By CHARLES T. POOLER. Sheets 12 x 18. 5 cts. The same folded for the pocket, in cloth covers, 25 cts.

7. History of Educational Journalism in New York. By C. W. BARDEEN. Paper, 8vo, pp. 45. 50 cts.

Northam's Civil Government.

What ground shall a text-book of civil-government cover? Shall it deal with theories or shall it deal with facts? The answer is simple—in this subject as in all others, the facts should come first. This is the inductive method—the method of the 19th century. When the facts are familiar, then the theories may be considered, but it is ridiculous for a class of youngsters to be discussing the theory of representative government before they know which officers are elected at town-meeting.

To give facts is the special province of Northam's Civil Government. The first 24 pages are kept in type, and the names of the officers are in every edition revised to the date of issue. For this reason the book is purchased by lawyers and supreme-court judges because the information may be depended upon. When the present State Superintendent was a member of assembly, in 1878, he ordered 50 copies for himself and his friends; whereupon the democratic leader ordered 62 copies for himself and his friends. Even in schools that use other text-books, the wise teacher invariably keeps Northam's upon the desk, and depends upon it for her facts; and she finds when examination comes that it is what they have learned from Northam that enables her pupils to pass.

It begins with the school-district; then passes to the town, giving the provisions of the new town law, just gone into effect; and passes on to the village, the city, the county, the State, and the nation, making frequent comparisons and giving tables that keep clear to the pupil the correspondences and the differences in the various offices. It deals clearly with the judiciary, making the various steps of litigation distinct. It gives a series of 12 maps of the State, each illustrating a single feature. And finally it gives the latest revisions of the State and the national constitutions.

"At the commencement of last term I introduced Northam's Civil Government into a class of 28 pupils, more than half of them girls. At the close of the term I invited in our lawyers, politicians, and prominent citizens to witness the examination. After we had gone through the regular exercises, I called on some of the prominent lawyers to question the class, and they did so, minutely and thoroughly. When they got through, the testimony of these lawyers was that they did not think there were ten people in the county outside the legal profession, and very few in the profession, who could have sustained such an examination so well. As for the book itself, I have never used any text-book on any subject in which I could get up such enthusiasm. The children were proud of the information they got, and their parents were proud too. The people say that in the five years I have been at Owego, I have done no other one thing of so much importance to the village. They all agree that it would be a great deal better to have less Latin and Greek, if it were necessary in order to have more of such instruction as this."—Principal A. J. Robb, Owego, N. Y.

Bardeen's Roderick Hume.

The Story of a New York Teacher. Pp. 319. Cloth, $1.25; manilla, 50 cts. This is one of the 22 best books for teachers recommended by Chancellor W. H. Payne in the New England Journal of Education for Nov., 1893. It is also one of the books described by W. M. Griswold in his "A Descriptive List of Novels and Tales dealing with American Country Life."

Roderick Hume took possession of me, and the book was finished in one sitting that lasted beyond the smallest hour. I have joined the crowd in your triumphal procession. The characters are as truly painted as any in Dickens, and the moral is something that cannot be dodged.—Professor Edward North, Hamilton College.

My confinement at home gave me an opportunity to read it carefully, which I have done with great delight. I can certify that it is true to life. I have had experience in country and village schools as well as in the schools of the cities. The picture is true for all of them. I know too well how self-interest, jealousy, prejudice, and the whole host of meaner motives are likely to prevail in the management of school affairs anywhere. That the people should know this and yet entrust the management of their schools to men who are most likely to be influenced by personal considerations is strange indeed.—My memory brings to mind an original for every portrait you have drawn.—Andrew J. Rickoff, former Sup't of Schools, Cleveland, O.

Teachers cannot fail to be greatly benefited by the reading of the book. Roderick's address to his pupils is a compendium of the best points in the highest kind of school management. Miss Duzenberrie's victory and Vic Blarston's closing remarks ought to teach lessons of warning to many teachers who are even the most in earnest about their work. Mary Lowe is a beautiful model of a teacher, and no one will be surprised that Roderick should make her his helpmate instead of his assistant. It is a capital story, and we recommend it strongly to every Canadian teacher. Each one should get a copy for himself, as he will wish to read it more than once. —Inspector James L. Hughes, in Canadian School Journal.

In the columns of The Bulletin, in 1878, appeared a serial story which attracted the attention of educators in all parts of the country. It was entitled Roderick Hume, and was professedly "the story of a New York teacher." It was written with the specific view of portraying certain phases of the modern graded school. The narrative was not designed as a satire, though a vein of humor ran through it all; nor was it to be taken as an autobiography, though the author's own experiences were more or less interwoven with it. The interest of the story increased from month to month, and widely extended the reputation of The School Bulletin and its editor. Letters received from all parts of the country revealed, in fact, a phenomenal interest in its outcome. * * * Subsequently it appeared in book form, and it has since held a unique place in American literature.—The Schoolmaster in Comedy and Satire, p. 453.

Bardeen's Common School Law.

The revision of 1896, entirely rewritten, not only brings this standard text-book up to date, but adds much new matter, including a chapter on Rules and Regulations and the relations of teachers to the trustees and the superintendent. It is based on the New York consolidated school law as amended to date, but it gives references by page to the latest editions of the laws of all the other States and Territories with more than 500 of the latest judicial decisions in this country and in Europe. For normal schools and training classes the book, of course, is indispensable; and since School Law is one of the subjects required in uniform examinations in New York of all grades, the book is indispensable to teachers here, as well as without rival for the teachers of other States.

The first thing a teacher wants to know about such a book is whether it can be depended upon. The highest authority in the country, the Harvard Law Review, speaks as follows in the number for December, 1896:

"This admirable book, first published in 1875 and for twenty years the only text-book on the subject for general use, has now for the first time been entirely rewritten. In its present form it is of general interest, and, it would seem, of practical necessity to the teacher. Part I, which has to do with school officers, is based almost entirely on New York law, but Part II, which relates particularly to the teacher, is a safe guide throughout the country both in school and in court. * * * The author cannot be too highly commended in that avoiding the common error of trying to draw hard and fast lines, he contents himself with illustrating by copious and apt quotation of legal decisions the various views possible on disputed points, and the application of such rules as admit of definite statement."

The following are other testimonials from standard legal authorities:

It seems to us that the work must be invaluable to trustees, as well as teachers, because innumerable questions concerning proper school rules, their enforcement, the line between proper and improper authority on the part of teachers, the subjects of punishment, expulsion, wages, and kindred topics, are gone into.—New Jersey Law Journal, Oct., 1896.

The book contains a very complete tabular analysis of its contents, as well as a list of references to Superintendents' Decisions in the State of New York, and to statutes of the various States. It will undoubtedly be useful to both lawyers and teachers.—Am. Law Register and Review, Oct., 1896.

This compact little book has been invaluable to the teacher, school officer and lawyer. Of the new edition it is sufficient to say that it will be even more useful than former editions.—Lancaster Law Review, Aug. 3, 1896.

The decisions of the courts in different States are very fully noted and cited. The book will prove very useful to the lawyer, as well as a work of much importance to the school officer and teacher.—American Lawyer, Aug., 1896.

16mo, pp. 276. Cloth $1.00; Manilla 50 cts.

It is indispensable to the New York teacher, and valuable to any one.—Educational Review.

It will interest parents as well as teachers. It is an admirable treatise, concise and clear.—New York World.

The book has stood comparatively alone as a text-book and authority for twenty years.—The Evangelist.

It is a book needed at the present time of active interest in the affairs of common schools by the majority of intelligent citizens.—The Outlook.

The author recognizes that among the teacher's first acquirements should be an accurate knowledge of his legal rights. No teacher can spend fifty cents to better advantage than in procuring a copy of this book.—Normal Teacher.

It is carefully arranged, conveniently indexed, and covers all the common questions which are apt to come up before school boards for a decision. It should find its place upon the shelves of every school board office.—Am. School Board Journal.

"Common School Law for Common School Teachers" is the title of a legal treatise well known in the United States to all whom it concerns. It would seem that a similar work, treating of the legal rights, duties, and status of English schoolmasters is much needed.—London Schoolmaster.

It might be read with profit by any teacher, particularly the chapters on school government and discipline; it ought to be studied by every teacher in the Union, and it is indispensable to a teacher of New York State.—Western Advertiser, London, Ontario.

The title of this book suggests its usefulness. Mr. Bardeen has done his work well. School questions are in many districts constantly arising. In this book can be found answers to many such questions. * * * Occasionally, however, the teacher is not at fault, and he must defend his rights. This book will show what they are.—Ohio Educational Monthly.

For school officers and teachers there is no more valuable book than C. W. Bardeen's Manual of Common School Law, a new and thoroughly revised edition of which has just been issued. The book contains in the briefest manner possible the decisions of the courts of all the States of the Union on all matters that relate to school affairs, and by tables a topical analysis shows the duties of school committees and teachers. Every teacher should own this book; it will save him much annoyance, much trouble, many dollars. It perfectly defines his rights and duties.—The Teachers' World.

The revision of Bardeen's School Law is a practical text-book and well worth a place in every teacher's working library. It is progressive, well up to date, and sufficiently comprehensive. The author has kept well in mind the needs of the average teacher in his preparation for the State examinations, and a careful study of the contents of the book will successfully prepare him to meet any of these tests. It comes within the reach of every teacher however limited his salary.—W. H. Benedict, Elmira, President New York Grammar School Principals' Association.
